HE HUNG HIMSELF.

An Inmate of the City Jail Takes His Own Life.

People passing the city jail this morning were horrified to see the body of a man hanging against the inside railing of the cell. Closer inspection disclosed the fact that he had committed suicide by hanging, using part of a bed quilt for a rope. The cloth was knotted under the left ear and his feet just reached the floor, both hands tightly grasping the upright bars of cell. The man had been dead some hours when found.

The suicide was placed in the jail on Wednesday evening by Chief Brockway who discovered in conversation with him that he was of unsound mind. He asked Mr. Brockway the time of day and being told it was noon he answered that there must be some mistake as he intended being in eternity by that time, and claimed his residence was in the hereafter. It was found that his name was Henry Bower and that he lived in Minneapolis before coming to Brainerd. He was a German, 26 years old and single, having no relatives in this country. He came to Brainerd June 7th and worked ten days for the Northern Mill Co. When Chief Brockway arrested him he begged him for his revolver with which to kill himself.

Bower was to have been examined before the probate court this afternoon as to his sanity. An inquest will be held this afternoon.

Things are Moving.

Yesterday Mr. McCoy, the gentleman who has the contract for taking down the old mill at Gull River and erecting the new one at Brainerd commenced operations at the former place with a large force of men and the work will be pushed with all possible speed. At the Northern Mill Co.'s grounds at Rice lake a scene of activity is visible, the surveyors are running out the company's lines and the land is being cleared. The track from the brick yard will be extended to the mill site at once. There will be no cessation of work now until the work is entirely completed and everyone is satisfied that the contract will be carried out and that more benefit will be derived by the city and county than the most sanguine expected.

Council Proceedings.

The Council met in regular session on Monday evening. All present except Aldeman Lagerquist.

Reports of the clerk of the Municipal court and chief of police, for month of May, were read and approved.

The special committee, appointed to appraise work done by finance committee, recommended that the city council allow them the sum of $100 to be divided between said finance committee.

On motion the following bills were allowed.

City pay roll,	$634 15
Electric light pay roll,	233 33
Street pay roll,	235 50
J. J. Howe & Co.,	225 62
Judges and clerks of election,	75 00
Other small bills,	354 22

Motion made and carried that the fire committee be authorized to put in a new floor in hose house, build a shed to cover hook and ladder truck, and to examine tower.

Moved and seconded that the matter of examining and overhauling Dresskell's fire alarm system be left in the hands of the fire committee, they to report at the next regular meeting.

The matter of arranging for a place to dump garbage was left in the hands of the health, sewerage and police committee.

Application of Crowley & Holt for liquor license was read, bond approved and license ordered issued.

Applications of Jerome Kelleher, J. A. Denis, S. Wilson, and L. W. Chase for pool table licenses were granted.

Applications of M. Maloney for a two-horse day license was read and license granted.

Ordinance No. 100, relating to streets, railways and motors, and granting the right to construct them, to J. N. Nevers, Henry Spalding, and H. J. Spencer, was read.

Motion made and carried that Ordinance No. 100 be laid over until next meeting.

Motion made and carried that the fire committee be authorized to procure paint to paint inside of hose house.

The matter of support for the city band was left in the hands of the finance committee.

Council adjourned.

Notice of Water Consumers.

You are hereby notified that Rule No. IX, governing the use of lawn sprinklers and hose for sprinkling lawns and gardens, and all other purposes, shall and must be strictly observed.

Rule No. IX.—"Hose for sprinkling, washing windows, front, rear and sidewalks shall be used only from the first of May to the first of November, prior to six o'clock in the morning, and from six to eight o'clock in the evening. If water is used through hose at any other hours, the supply will be cut off without previous notice, whether said water is controlled by meter or not."

Heretofore this rule has been disregarded to some extent, but in the future, it will be strictly enforced, and all of the company's employes are instructed to shut the water off when found running out of hours.

TO MAKE A PRESIDENT.

The National Republican Convention in Session.

Nominating Speeches Being Made This Afternoon.

The names of James G. Blaine and Benj. Harrison have both been placed before the convention.

McKinley is the dark horse.

The national republican convention has been in session in Minneapolis since Tuesday and up to to-day only the preliminaries have been arranged. The report of the committee on credentials was accepted and adopted last night, and the convention is now getting down to business. Nominating speeches are being made, but it is not likely that the next president of the United States will be nominated before to-morrow. The following bulletins from convention hall have been received:

12:53—Cheering for Blaine increasing all over hall.

12:56—Reed of Maine is on his feet waving flag, enthusiasm increasing, crowd has gathered behind Reed and are cheering at top of voices.

12:59—Many delegates on chairs waving hats and shouting, cheering has completely drowned band.

1 p. m.—The audience has caught up the refrain "Blaine, Blaine, James G. Blaine," and are crying it in unison.

1:03—Cheering for Blaine continued and dies down only to be renewed with increased vigor.

1:08—Demonstrations for Blaine began 25 minutes and seems as vigorous as at first.

1:09—Chairman rapping for order.

1:12—Order restored.

1:13—Mallison, (colored) of Mississippi, took platform to second Blaine.

1:28—Depew referred to McKinley; great demonstration all over house.

1:50—Depew said "Who will be given credit for great acts of administration?" Some one in audience called out "Blaine." Great applause.

2:01—Harrison men confidently assert that he will be nominated on first ballot.

2:07—Warner Miller takes platform to second Blaine.

2:35—"It said if nomination falls to McKinley, Whitelaw Reed will be selected for second place; and if Harrison, Morton will be also.

The roll of states on the first ballot is being taken as we go to press at 4 o'clock.

These are Delegates.

The annual convention of the State Fireman Association will take place this year at Rochester, Minn., on June 14th and 15th. The following are the delegates elected from the different companies in this city:

Hose Co. No. 1—J. Bukar and Jas. Boley.

Hose Co. No. 2—C. A. Wilkins and L. H. Stallman.

No. 3—Ed. Breheny and T. F. Mooney.

No. 4—Mike and Peter Peterson.

Hook and Ladder Co.—C. D. Johnson and F. A. Farrar.

"Should small cities have partially paid departments," is the topic that has been assigned to the Brainerd department for discussion.

H. C. KENDALL has been selected as Duluth's candidate for the republican nomination for congress in the Sixth district. Mr. Kendall's principal opponent will undoubtedly be Judge Searles of St. Cloud.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Stands at the head of all blood medicines. This position it has secured by its intrinsic merit, sustained by the opinion of leading physicians, and by the certificates of thousands who have successfully tested its remedial worth. No other medicine so effectually

CURES

Scrofula, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh, and all other blood diseases.

"There can be no question as to the superiority of Ayer's Sarsaparilla over all other blood-purifiers. If this was not the case, the demand for it, instead of increasing yearly, would have ceased long ago, like so many other blood medicines I could name."—J. P. Dickerson, Druggist, 13 Chatham st., Charlestown, Mass.

"Two years ago I was troubled with salt-rheum. It was all over my body, and nothing the doctors did for me was of any avail. At last I took four bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was completely cured. I am sincerely recommend as a splendid blood-purifier."—J. S. Burt, Upper Keswick, New Brunswick.

"My sister was afflicted with a severe case of

SCROFULA

Our doctor recommended Ayer's Sarsaparilla as being the best blood blood-purifier within his experience. We gave her the medicine, and a complete cure was the result."—Wm. G. Jenkins, Decatur, Neb.

"I was cured of Scrofula by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—John C. Berry, Deerfield, Mo.

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made and dated November 19th, 1889, by Jacob Yess and Zel Yess, his wife, mortgagors, to The American Freehold Land Mortgage Company of London Limited, mortgagee, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Crow Wing, and State of Minnesota, on the 19th day of November, 1889, at four o'clock p. m., in book "U" of mortgages, on page 430, conveying and mortgaging the following described property, situate in the County of Crow Wing and State of Minnesota, viz:

The West one-half of the South-east quarter, and the North one-half of the North-east quarter of Section Seventeen (17), Township Forty-three (43), Range Twenty-one (29).

No action has been instituted at law to recover the amount secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. There is claimed to be due thereon and is actually due on said mortgage at the date of this notice, the sum of Six Hundred Fifty five dollars ($655.51) Dollars, which includes Five Hundred and Fifty (550) Dollars principal, Seventy and 18-100 (70.18) Dollars interest, and Thirty-five 33-100 (35.33) Dollars taxes paid by and mortgagee, in and for the taxes for the years 1890 and 1891.

And, whereas, it is stipulated in said mortgage, that in default of payment of principal or interest, or any part thereof, when due, the whole principal and interest of said note and mortgage might declare the whole sum secured by said mortgage due and payable at once; and, whereas, default has been made in the payment of the interest, and said mortgagee has elected to declare the whole sum due.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, That by reason of said default, and by virtue of the power of sale in said mortgage contained, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, and said mortgage duly recorded, the said premises described and covered by said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary, will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt, interest and taxes, and Fifty (50) Dollars attorney's fees as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and of said disbursements allowed by law.

Which said sale will be made by the Sheriff of said County of Crow Wing, at Brainerd, Minnesota, at the Front door of the Court House in the City of Brainerd, and State of Minnesota, on Saturday, the 23rd day of July, 1892, at ten o'clock on the forenoon of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from date of sale as provided by law.

HARVARD is to have a new athletic field of 114 acres within a few minutes' walk of the college. It is to occupy the low ground across the Charles river, opposite the Longfellow residence.

SIR HENRY PONSONBY, Queen Victoria's private secretary, receives $10,000 a year and house rent. Pretty fair wages for writing cablegrams of thanks in response to congratulatory message whenever a grandchild is born.

THE Princess Louise is making a bust of her royal mamma, for exhibition at Chicago. Let us hope the Queen herself will visit the Exposition, that we may compare the Princess's work with the original.

THE net profit of the Monte Carlo gambling casino last year is placed at $5,000,000. There may be a suggestion in it for the management of the Chicago fair. That is about the size of their need.

HENRY M. STANLEY'S wife is a direct descendant of Oliver Cromwell, and although she may be pardoned a little pride in that fact she has great cause to be grateful to the kind providence which prevented her from looking like her red-nosed and warty ancestor.

MARK TWAIN has a brother in Keokuk, Iowa, who has quite a local reputation as a wit and humorist. Mark should pay him a long visit with a view to furbishing up his own stock of pleasantries, which, it must be confessed is somewhat shopworn and frayed.

THERE has been talk of electing Professor A. S. Hardy, already of Dartmouth, as President of that college; but he will not be able to accept the office having decided to leave Hanover and take a new professorship at West Point.

IT is claimed that the plump loveliness of the Turkish ladies is due to eating butter flavored with rose leaves. This is a very pretty pretense, even if it is too unctuous to be true. Anyhow, rose leaves are a decided improvement upon oleomargarine.

SOMETIMES these munchausen correspondents overreach themselves. The last one says of two stage-struck Illinois girls, who bolted from home with a 10-cent opera troupe, that they were "both very bright," so we know it's all a "fake."

IT may be questioned whether extreme politeness under all circumstances is advisable. A Chicago burglar who tarried to exchange compliments with the mistress of a house he had looted has been arrested in consequence of his attention to the rules of etiquette and jugged.

THE St. James' Gazette doesn't seem to have a high opinion of the United States of America. It is very sad, but we shall try to survive the shock occasioned by the announcement. The St. James' Gazette, it should be stated, is the ablest and most discriminating paper on this or any other planet.

DIAZ was a brigand and revolutionist, and for his crime he was made president of Mexico. Pablo Munoz, of Garza's band, was, in the same business, and for his crime he has been sentenced to eighteen months in a United States prison. So much for the difference between success and failure.

THE Hindoo Prince soon to visit England, the Gaikwar, of Baroda, is one of the most progressive rulers in Hindostan. He does not want costly buildings merely for show, but spends his money preferably on schools, railroads and drainage. His personal character is good, and he is philanthropic in his instincts.

GOV. NORTHEN of Georgia has issued a proclamation denouncing a recent triple lynching in that state and emphatically declaring that he will exhaust the resources of his office in protecting all classes of citizens, regardless of race or condition. It is a sorry state of affairs which makes that sort of declaration necessary, but more power to him!

THE Czar of Russia likes mushrooms, and is well pleased when he can gather them himself in the spawn frames of the palace gardens. But he knows nothing of the pleasures of being out in the early dawn of a misty morning, when he would have to ramble around the dew-drenched pastures and get more damp in his boots than mushrooms in his basket.

THE Brazilian war vessel Solimoes, which was lost off the cost of Uruguay with 123 lives, was a monitor of the old type. She was what the sailors during the American civil war used to call a "metallic coffin." The new vessels of the monitor type are more buoyant, and therefore less likely to go to the bottom with all hands. Only four persons escaped from the Solimoes when she sank.

RIGHT REV. O. M. WHITTAKER, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church for Pennsylvania, favors the Sunday newspaper declaring that it is an essential link in the chain of intelligence, and has practically driven the low-grade Sunday weekly from the field. It is easy to understand why Mr. Whittaker is a bishop. He has a large, level and well balanced brain.

COMPLAINT is made that under a proposed law to prevent the circulation of obscene newspapers through the mail, the postmaster general is given a discretion so wide and a power so absolute that he holds all newspapers at his mercy. No such law should pass, but there seems to be something that ought not to be in the conduct of newspapers that could fear such a law.

THE OPENING DAY.

Routine Report of the First Day's Proceedings of the Big Convention.

Hon. J. Sloat Fassett Unanimously Selected Temporary Chairman.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 7.—At 12:37 p. m. Hon. John S. Clarkson, chairman of the Republican national executive committee, dropped the gavel and declared the convention in order for business.

The convention was opened with prayer by the Rev. Dr. William Brush, chancellor of the university of South Dakota. The convention rose and Dr. Brush addressed the throne of grace as follows:

O, thou that ruleth the universe and dost preside over the destinies of nations and men, we invoke thy presence as we now approach thee in prayer. Thou art the source of all our blessings. Thou art infinite and we are finite, and in view of the disparity between thee and ourselves, we are emboldened to approach the Throne of Grace and ask for the blessings that we need. O, God, regard us graciously as we now present ourselves as worshipers preparatory to the opening of the business of this representative body. Command thy blessing to rest upon all here assembled. Bless those in official relations. Bless the constituences they represent. O, God, grant that this body may be loyal to the principles of thy word, loyal to nationality. May all partisanship be held in abeyance in the presence of greater good. O, Lord, may there be such a disposition to surrender local prejudices and preferences as to be united in one grand principle and policy to conserve the greatest good of this great nation. Thou hast been with this nation in all its past career, in its incipiency, in the successive processes of evolution. O, God, thou hast been with us in dark crises. And thou hast preserved the nation amid perils; and we thank thee that thou hast thus preserved it as the representative nation of all the nations of this globe.

Now, we ask thee, O Lord, as we pause on the threshold of this representative body and occasion, to vouchsafe grace to every individual, and may the greatest harmony be evolved from seeming antagonisms and discords; and may the great good of the nation be subserved. We ask thee that party and platform may be subordinated to the principles of thy word. May we recognize the great universal law that righteousness exalteth a nation and that sin is a reproach to any people. O, God, it is the changeless law, it is the irreversible decree that thou wilt preserve a nation which is loyal to thee and the principles of thy word. Guide in our deliberations. May the best results be evolved. Be with us and guide us and our nation in its future pathway as in the past, only more gloriously. We ask it in the name of Christ our redeemer. Amen.

THE CALL.

It Is Read by Hon. M. H. De Young, Delegate From California.

The call was read by Hon. M. H. De Young of California as follows:

To the Republican Electors of the United States: In accordance with usage and instructions of the Republican national convention of 1888, a national convention of delegated representatives of the Republican party will be held at the city of Minneapolis, Minn., on Tuesday, the 7th day of June, 1892, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the president and vice president to be supported at the next national election, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before it. The Republican electors in the several states and territories, and voters without regard to past political affiliations who believe in Republican principles and indorse the Republican policy, are cordially invited to unite under this call in the nomination of a national ticket.

Each state will be entitled to four delegates at large, and for each representative in congress at large two delegates, and each congressional district, each territory and the District of Columbia two delegates. The delegates at large shall be chosen by the popular state conventions called on not less than twenty days' public notice and not less than thirty days before the meeting of the national convention. The congressional district delegates shall be chosen at conventions called by the congressional committee of such district in the same manner as the nomination for a representative in congress is made in said district, provided that in any congressional district where there is no Republican congressional committee, owing to redistricting the state under the new congressional apportionment, the Republican state committee shall appoint from the residents of such district a committee for the purpose of calling a district convention to elect district delegates. The territorial delegates shall be chosen in the same manner as the nomination of the delegates in congress is made. The delegates from the District of Columbia shall be chosen at a convention constituted of members elected in primary district assemblies held under the call and direction of the Republican central committee of the District of Columbia. Said committee shall be chosen one from each assembly district, upon the first Tuesday of January, 1892, at the hour of 7 o'clock p. m., at the place of meeting in each district to be designated by general roll call, with not less than ten days' notice to the chairman of the Republican central committee of said district. An alternate delegate in each district to the national convention to act in case of the absence of the delegate shall be selected in the same manner and at the same time as the delegate is chosen. All notices of contests must be filed with the national committee in writing, accompanied by printed statements of the grounds of contest, which shall be made up. Preferences in the order of hearing and determining contests will be given by the convention in accordance with the date of filing such notice and statement with the national committee.

JAMES S. CLARKSON, Chairman.

J. SLOAT FASSETT, Secretary.

FASSETT CHOSEN.

The New Yorker Unanimously Elected Temporary Chairman.

At the conclusion of the reading of the call, Hon. James S. Clarkson arose and said:

I am instructed by the Republican National committee to recommend for your temporary chairman, Hon. J. Sloat Fassett of New York.

A vote being taken, Mr. Fassett was elected unanimously and took the chair amid great applause. Mr. Fassett spoke as follows:

Mr. Chairman and fellow Republicans: For the distinguished honor which you have conferred upon me, I am very grateful. I approach the duties of presiding officer with extreme diffidence and am sustained only by a reliance upon your generous forebearance and co-operation. It is eminently fitting that a Republican convention should be held in a temple erected for the display of the products of protection to American industries, and, in this beautiful city of Minneapolis, at once the joy and the pride of the giant West. This city, which just about equals in age the Republican party, with its prosperous mills and factories and work-shops and its generous and happy homes, abounds in object lessons, teaching, clearer than in any words, the sound wisdom of Republican doctrines when epitomized in facts.

We are met to exercise one of the highest privileges of our citizenship. As trustees of 7,000,000 voting Republicans, gathered from every state and territory in the Union, it becomes our duty to formulate for the inspection of the people the beliefs and purposes of our party relative to all the living and political questions of national importance, and to choose the man for leader under whose guidance we feel we shall be most sure of establishing those beliefs in the form of laws. We are here struggling to win currency under favorite leaders, but as co-members of one great party, looking to select from the shining roll of our honored great men that type of statesman which shall be regarded as the soundest and most complete embodiment of the cardinal doctrines of our party. There isn't a Republican in this convention whose heart does not hum with ardor for triumph in the impending campaign. We are all eager for success. We are here to make the necessary preliminary arrangements, and we all propose to make them in the right way and in the right spirit. If there is ever a time when it is proper for Republicans to differ, it is precisely on such occasions as this, when they are met together for the express purpose of reaching ultimate unity, through the clash and contest of present differences. In the wide-reaching and delicate business of agreeing upon the standard bearers for a great party there is abundant opportunity for honest men to hold and express honest differences of opinion, and the more earnest the men and the more honest the opinions the more determined will be the contests and collisions, and the more complete the final unanimity. The air is always sweeter and purer after a storm. It is our right now to oppose each other; it will be

OUR DUTY TO UNITE TO-MORROW.

Our differences should end at the convention doors and will end there. When this convention shall have concluded its labors we shall have but one choice, and that the nominees of this convention; but one purpose, their election. The nomination does not end the campaign—it begins it. The campaign which is to be made will not be the campaign of the candidates, by the candidates and for the candidates, but of all the party, by all the party and for all the party, in the interests of the whole people.

With malice towards none, but with affection and respect towards all, each of us, according to his light, as God gives him to see the light, should subordinate all merely local and personal considerations to an earnest endeavor to secure the best interests of the Republican party throughout the entire sisterhood of states. None of our trusted leaders are weak men; all them are strong. Some may be stronger than others. If, as each delegate views the field, there is some one man whose figure seems to him larger, whose stature higher, whose fame and following more commanding, whose name more inspiring than that of any other man, then the pathway of each delegate should be broad and easy. The eyes of all the Republicans at home, and the eyes of all our adversaries everywhere, are intently fixed upon this convention.

A NATION IS WATCHING US.

our enemies to criticise, our friends to ratify. The responsibility is enormous, but you will meet it wisely. The Republican party has never yet made a mistake in its choice of candidates. It will not make a mistake here. All over this broad land the bonfires are set to be lighted, the flags ready to be unfurled, and the Republicans at home are waiting to shout in approval of your choice. The history of our party since 1856 is the history of our country. There is not a single page but shines brighter for some act or some word of some great Republican. Count me over our chosen heroes whom we are teaching our children to love, emulate and revere and you will name Republicans—Lincoln, Seward, Grant, Sherman, Garfield, Logan, Harrison and Blaine. These are a few of our jewels, and we may proudly turn to our Democratic friends with the defiant challenge, "Match them!" These men became great and remained great through their belief in and advocacy of the ennobling and inspiring doctrines of the Republican faith. Name me over the great masterpieces of constructive and progressive legislation enacted since the civil war, and one by one their authors and finishers

WILL BE FOUND REPUBLICANS.

I have not the time even to catalogue the long list of good works undertaken and performed. You are all familiar with the story. The irrepressible conflict undertaken and concluded; slavery abolished; public credit re-established; the constitution and the Union restored and reconstructed; the old flag washed clean of every stain and new stars added to its glory; the wide West thrown open to easy access and settlement; the policy of protection to American labor and American industries established, developed and vindicated; the markets of the world opened by the persuasive logic of reciprocity to the products of the American workshop and the American farm—until to-day the nations of the earth are paying tribute to the sagacity of our legislation and diplomacy in millions upon millions of increased purchases, and Lord Salisbury has been driven to the significant confession that even in England free trade has proven a disappointment. Rivers and harbors have been opened to commerce; the white hulls of our new navy are plowing the waters of every sea; peace has been maintained at home and respect secured abroad. And so the list might be extended and expanded, while your patience might endure to listen, while our political adversaries, though perpetually opposing every measure of our new Republican policy, are compelled to admit the wisdom of our course and to confess that we have been right and they have been wrong. They have just exhausted in the Fifty-first congress one year of congressional life in vain assaults upon three items in a tariff bill made up of 800 items. At this rate of progress they would have to be trusted for about 800 years in power before we could see upon lines agreed upon by our conflicting Democratic friends. But we cannot hope to win merely upon the recital of the achievements of our past, brilliant as they have been, any more than our adversaries can hope to succeed upon platforms of glittering promises. The past is chiefly useful to us in so far as it demonstrates the vitality of the party to redeem its pledges and its ability to govern in a broad and enlightened way a free and progressive people. Our pledges have been kept, all save one, and I greatly mistake the temper of the Republican party if it will ever be contented until that pledge is made good. Our manhood and honor is pledged to continue the contest for a free and honest ballot until this vexed question is settled in the right. That a free people should cast a free vote and have it honestly recorded, and returned is the dream and determination of the Republican party and the despair and nightmare of Democracy. It is the pride of the Republican party that it never yet has committed an assault upon the freedom of the party. The entire vocabulary of political lines has grown out of attempts to describe assaults of Democracy upon the freedom of the ballot and fair play in the exercise of the elective franchise. And the individual words have been made intelligible by Democratic practice. No question has ever been permanently settled and never will be finally determined until it is settled in the right; and until every citizen, white or black, east or west, north or south, can approach the ballot box with absolute security and have his vote counted with absolute honesty none of us can rest assured that

A TARIFF REFORM

OUR LIBERTIES ARE SAFE.

Unless the votes of all men are safe, the vote of no man is safe. It is not the negro alone who is disfranchised. It is every American. The contest before us assumes all its difficulties from the fact that we enter the presidential race handicapped by the certainty that in an electoral college of 444 members 156 votes are now already absolutely secured in advance to the Democratic nominee, and those 156 votes come from the South, which is kept permanently solid through a perpetual breach of the guarantee of the constitution of the United States. Sometimes we are told that the mission of the Republican party is ended. We have met our destiny and fulfilled it. But the destiny of a progressive party is never fulfilled in an advancing and expanding national life. So long as there remains a wrong to be redressed, so long as there remains a right to be enforced, so long as all the privileges of citizenship are not freely enjoyed under the guarantee that the constitution gives to all citizens of this Union, just so long will there be a mission for the Republican party. So long will there be a great work before us and each Republican may exclaim:

"I live to greet that season
By gifted men foretold,
When men shall live by reason
And not alone by gold;
When man to man united
And every wrong made right,
This whole world shall be delighted
As Eden was of old.
I live for every cause
That lacks assistance,
For every wrong that needs resistance,
For the future and the distance
And the good that I can do."

REED RESPONDS.

The Maine Congressman Induced to Make a Short Speech.

Chairman Fassett's reference to ex-Speaker Tom Reed of Maine was received by the delegates and the galleries with a round of applause. The round face of the ex-speaker was descried on the platform at the rear, and the convention gave out a hearty call for his appearance at the front. Mr. Reed shook his head negatively. Taking advantage of the incident, Chairman Fassett said:

Your reception of that name shows that peerless aggressive Republicanism appeals to every Republican. His strong arm drew order out of chaos and established the doctrine that representatives in congress are there to do business and that congress accomplished more affirmative constructive legislation in the fourteen months of their session than our Democratic friends had accomplished in the preceding fourteen years.

Chairman Fassett resumed his formal speech, and at its close the convention yelled for a speech from the man from Maine.

REED TALKS.

After two or three refusals indicated by a shake of the head, Mr. Reed gave way to the tumultuously expressed desire of the body, and coming to the front responded as follows:

Mr. President and Fellow Citizens: I want to add in the presence of this vast audience my hearty expression of feeling in the future of the Republican party. Its past needs the endorsement of no man; that has the endorsement of history, for the deeds of the Republican party are history itself. And while we are prevented from pointing with pride to the achievements of our party on account of our tenderness for the Democracy, nevertheless we sit here to-day rejoicing that our past history shows that from our birth until now, our character has been such that it is a guarantee of the magnificent future which we are to have. It is true we have done great things, but it is equally true that we have no right to rest upon them. Our past is glorious, but our future ought to be more so. It is true that we have given to this great country a wonderful physical prosperity. It is true that wealth has been poured into the laps of all our people, by the great system which we believe in and which we have carried out; but I say to you to-day that there is a nobler future even than having given prosperity to a country before the Republican party, and that nobler future is to give to every citizen of the United States liberty of thought and action. Wealth and prosperity are noble, but human liberty is magnificent.

Mr. Reed took his seat amid great applause and then cries for McKinley were heard.

Gov. McKinley from his seat among the delegates shook his head in response to the look of the chairman, but in recognition of the continued call of his name he arose in his place and bowed his acknowledgments. Cries were then heard for Ingalls and Foraker, who also declined to speak.

The chairman stated that there was no coercion in a Republican convention, and directed the convention to proceed with the regular order of business.

READING CLERKS.

The Temporary Organization Completed in Short Order.

Mr. Clarkson—Mr. Chairman: The national committee have instructed me to recommend the following further officers for the temporary organization: Reading clerks, Charles F. Haney of Minnesota, James H. Stone of Michigan, John S. Kenyon of New York, H. S. Oliver of North Dakota, Charles Curtis of Kansas, Charles Partridge of Illinois, Thomas H. Mills of Wisconsin, W. E. Riley of Kentucky. Official stenographer, Theodore C. Rose of New York, James F. Burke of Pennsylvania.

Chairman Fassett—Gentlemen of the convention: You have heard the names recommended as temporary officers of this convention. Those of you who favor that recommendation of the committee please signify by saying aye. Those opposed, no.

The vote being unanimous the chair so announced.

THEY WANT TO VOTE.

A Delegation From the Indian Territory Demands Recognition.

J. S. Hammer (Indian Territory)—Mr. Chairman, the Indian Territory delegation represents 180,000 Republicans here from the Indian Territory, and the national committee has seen proper to give us seats on the floor, but declines to give us representation, and we now appeal to the convention for representation, with the right to vote.

The Chairman—The national committee recommended that the representatives from the Indian Territory be admitted to seats without votes. Until that recommendation is changed the chairman will have to declare the gentleman out of order until after the reports of the committees on permanent organization and credentials. Alabama will be called again.

The Chairman—The chairman desires to announce to the convention, and to those gentlemen who have been appointed members of the various committees, that immediately upon the adjournment of this session these gentlemen are asked to meet in committee rooms, which have been prepared in the rear of the stage. Each room has been appropriately marked, and if you will meet there immediately upon the dissolution of this meeting for the purpose of organization you will facilitate the work of the convention. The chairman wishes further to say that he has been asked to present to the convention a memorial from the Federal Suffrage association. He begs leave to suggest to this association that they introduce their memorial to the permanent meeting of the convention, when it will be referred to the committee on resolutions; or, if introduced now, it will be referred without debate or reading to the committee on credentials. I will ask the reading clerk to make certain announcements of letters and telegrams and submit them to your further pleasure.

The clerk read the list.

The Chairman—What is your further pleasure?

William Murrell, an alternate delegate from New Jersey, addressed the chair.

The Chairman—The chair desires to ask of the convention that as each delegate asks recognition he state his name and delegation.

Mr. Murrell—I am the alternate at large from New Jersey, Murrell. I desire, in order to prevent confusion hereafter, to get the chair's ruling on a point. I was elected an alternate for the Hon. John I. Blair from the state at large. That patriotic, distinguished and venerable Republican is not here, unfortunately. There is another Republican from New Jersey, equally as good a Republican as I am, who is now sitting in the seat of Mr. Blair, attempting to represent—

The Chairman—The chair must rule that this discussion is not now in order. It is a matter to bring before the committee on credentials.

Mr. Murrell—According to the rules, as the roll is now made up I am on the roll as an alternate and I ask the chairman, am I entitled to the floor? If not I will withdraw.

The Chairman—Out of order at present.

Senator Spooner (Wisconsin)—I move that the convention now adjourn until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The Chairman—The chair refers the gentleman from New Jersey to the committee on credentials. He has no standing in the permanent organization until that committee reports for him or against him. Senator Spooner moves that the convention now adjourn until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning. Are you ready for the question?

The question was put and carried in the affirmative.

ANXIOUS TO VOTE.

The Woman's Suffrage Association on Hand With a Lengthy Memorial.

No convention is complete in these enlightened days without the woman's suffrage movement coming to the front for agitation, and the Tenth Republican national convention is no exception to the rule. The following memorial has been presented to the convention, and a delegation has asked for a hearing before the committee on resolutions:

Respected Members of the Republican Convention: We come representing the Federal Suffrage association, a society composed of influential men and earnest women, organized to secure for every citizen of the United States "full, complete and perfect representation." We ask the great Republican party, with its political machinery, its grand leaders and its inspiring history to put itself on record as willing to maintain the dignity of United States citizenship and to establish the right of equal representation for all.

I need not remind you that this cannot be accomplished while more than half the citizens are disfranchised, nor yet while citizens, both native born and naturalized, are out-voted and governed by aliens, men who as yet have nothing at stake in the country, who do not speak our language, whose names are neither on our tax rolls nor on our census lists, and whose only claim to rule is based on a residence of six months or one year in some frontier district.

You know better than I the deplorable condition resulting from our indiscriminate and unjust suffrage laws, and no one has more fitly characterized it than your own great representative, Mr. Ingalls, when in the senate of the United States he described our Republic as in immediate and terrible danger from "ignorant, degraded, debased and spurious suffrage—suffrage contaminated by the sewage of decayed nations, suffrage impure and corrupt, apathetic and indifferent in the great cities of the North." But it is not spurious suffrage alone that threatens us; it is legal suffrage; it is the diverse, inconsistent, absurd and unrepublican qualifications for the voter, prescribed by the different states, that is depriving citizens of their sovereignty and putting in peril republican institutions.

IF THE SUFFRAGE IS CORRUPT,

what have we that is secure? The vote is the germ-cell out of which by development, combination and extension all our legislative bodies and the varied and complexed departments of our government are formed. When the purity of the ballot or the security of the voter in its use is threatened, our representative government is attacked in its most vital point. If the suffrage is corrupt national life is corrupt and rotten to the core; if it is debased our freedom is lost, for it is by votes that freemen rule. No other rights can be protected if the right of suffrage is lost, and upon maintaining the suffrage inviolate depends the liberties of the individual citizen and the permanency of the government.

You may not have considered that by drawing the voting line at sex you give the balance of power to the lower classes, while the state is deprived of some of the best thought and disinterested patriotism of our age. The inconsistency, the injustice, the folly and the danger of enfranchising the poor house, the jail and the liquor saloon, while you disfranchise the church, the school and the home, is too apparent to need argument. No government can long survive that prefers as voters the ignorant and the vicious to the intelligent and conscientious. Our representative government is in peril, and the Republican party is asked to save the nation. Will you do it? Already your party has in part committed itself to suffrage reform, for at your last national convention you adopted a platform which affirmed "the supreme and sovereign right of every lawful citizen to cast one free ballot in public elections and to

HAVE THAT BALLOT DULY COUNTED."

Will you not now so define the word citizen that the whole world shall understand that you advocate the right of all lawful citizens of the United States regardless of sex and nationality, to protect themselves, their homes and their country, by the ballot? When suffrage is made one of the inalienable rights of the citizen, citizenship will be crowned with honor, for it will mean the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," and the power to protect these at the ballot box. Grander than the boasts of the Roman citizen, "I was free born" will be the proud endowment of the person who can say: "I am a citizen of the United States, and as such I rise above all superficial and accidental distinctions of birth, condition, nationality or sex. I am a child of God, endowed with all the liberty of the human being."

Will the Republican party to-day announce itself as the standard bearer of equal representation for all United States citizens, and taking as your own the motto of Wallace, "God arms the patriot," make way for the establishment of a true republic? By taking your stand for justice to all you will plant yourselves upon principles that are everlastingly true and abiding. You will take your position as the advance guard of progress and reform, and you will prepare for victory at the polls in November, 1892. In proof of this I can bring you a certified endorsement of woman's suffrage, by one hundred posts of the G. A. R., the Trades and Labor Assembly of Chicago, the unions of Federation of Labor throughout Illinois, the lodges of the F. M. B. A., the Farmers' Alliance and the Industrial union, the Knights of Labor, in all to whom you cannot afford to be indifferent; also several millions of women, gathered in the various woman's suffrage, temperance and other reformatory organizations, who, though they have no votes, have influence, enthusiasm and eloquence, and all these are needed in a political campaign. The party that has the women is the party that will succeed.

Consider, also, that all the smaller parties, Prohibition, People's, Labor, etc., include a large number of voters who are there because of their endorsement of these principles of human equality. And the party that has for its rallying cry, "Equal rights for every man and woman citizen on the continent" is the party that will rouse the people and gain the victory. God grant that it may be the Republican party. Taxation without representation is tyranny to-day the same as in the early history of our country. The successful party of the future is the one of just and humanitarian principles, because God and the angels are contending for the right. The golden rule has a wonderful meaning, and we ask for its recognition. We do not appeal to your compassion, we do not ask for favors; we simply appeal for justice, and that for the sake of your own success and the safety of the nation.

EX-SENATOR M. B. CASTLE,
Sandwich, Ill., President.

IN FORAKER'S HANDS.

The Ohio Man Chosen Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions.

Gov. Foraker of Ohio was chosen chairman of the committee on resolutions, and after looking over the list of members when he reached his hotel, made the appointments of the sub-committees as follows:

Tariff—H. W. Oliver, Pennsylvania; J. G. Gear, Iowa; J. Bourne, jr., Oregon; David R. Pierce, New Hampshire; George Denny, jr., Kentucky.

Silver—Lucius Fairchild, Wisconsin; John P. Jones, Nevada; Joseph G. Cannon, Illinois; J. Q. A. Brackett, Massachusetts; Henry M. Teller, Colorado.

Elections—Newton Hacker, Tennessee; James P. Platt, Connecticut; Edmund Waddill, Virginia; A. S. Fowler, Arkansas; Charles Austin, Michigan.

Foreign Relations—George A. Knight, California; C. F. Libby, Maine; John A. Hutchinson, West Virginia; Edmund O'Connor, New York; W. B. Heyburn, Idaho.

Miscellaneous Matters—O. E. Learned, Kansas; James H. Wilson, Delaware; C. F. Griffin, Indiana; Frank J. Harris, Rhode Island; Edward C. Ericson, South Dakota.

M'KINLEY CHOSEN:

Ohio's Governor Will Be the Permanent Presiding Officer.

Gov. McKinley this year will not be in the position which Republicans have grown to expect to see him hold in national conventions, viz., that of chairman of the platform committee. The reason is to be found in the fact that he has a position of higher rank—permanent chairman—to which he was elected at the meeting of the committee on permanent organization last evening. It was a cut and dried affair, none of the members caring to bring out a candidate against the tariff expert. Mr. McKinley was put in nomination, several members made complimentary speeches and then he was declared the choice of the committee by acclamation. His selection is due to the fact that he was conceded to be a man eminently fair, and while in favor of the nomination of President Harrison the anti-administration forces had no objection whatever to him, and it was they who suggested his name. There was no ground on which objection could be urged to him, even if there was a desire on the part of any one to object, and thus there was avoided another contest over the presiding officer of the convention. Mr. McKinley is regarded as a good parliamentarian. His voice has suffered somewhat from the effects of the severe campaigns through which he has gone, but he will doubtless be able to make himself clearly audible to all present. The announcement will be made at the meeting of the convention to-morrow. The other details of the organization were then perfected, and the minor temporary officers were confirmed in their appointments.

CYCLONE IN IOWA.

Railroad Depot and Other Buildings Wrecked at Emmetsburg.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Special, June 8.—A telegram was received here to-day stating that a cyclone at Emmetsburg destroyed the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern depot and several other buildings there. The wires are down and no particulars are obtainable.

FOR M'KINLEY.

A Letter in His Favor Said to Have Been Written by Sherman.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The press this morning has a special dated Minneapolis, June 8, 1 a. m., which says that Senator Sherman has written a letter favoring McKinley. Mr. Sherman's letter is said to be in the hands of the biggest supporters of Harrison. McKinley is under his wing. This is regarded as significant. This declaration from one of the great statesmen of the land is simply an announcement that they have got to show up a man to beat Blaine.

Advertising in the Sky.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The newest horror is not Deeming nor the Paris anarchists. It is considerably worse than either. An esteemed scientific contemporary says that genuine sky signs can now be installed for the enterprising advertiser. By a simple arrangement of mirrors, reflecting glasses and lights a sort of gigantic lantern can be set up, by which images can be thrown upon the clouds. You will be able to advertise your wares in letters 100 feet long on the skies so that they will be visible over a dozen counties.

As if this truly awful prospect were not enough, we are told that these sky signs can be made luminous, so that they will blaze all night. Heine, in one of his rhapsodies, said that he would like to snatch a burning pine from its Norway mountains and write with it the name of "Agnes" in letters of fire on the skies. But he would probably not have cared to adorn the firmament with a blazing description of somebody's patent trouser stretcher or a glowing picture of a lady wearing the latest thing in hygienic corsets.

A Blaine Voice from California.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican state central committee resolutions were adopted unanimously expressing the opinion that 95 per cent. of the Republican of California are for Blaine and indorsing him for the presidential nomination. Resolutions also urged the California delegation at Minneapolis to cast a solid vote for him and to use all honorable endeavors to secure his nomination. A copy of the resolution was forwarded to the California delegation by telegraph by Hon. W. F. Fitzgerald, chairman of the state executive committee.

CONGRESS

Proceedings of the House and Senate.

SATURDAY, MAY 28.

SENATE.

Not in session.

HOUSE.

The legislative appropriation bill was reported to the house today. The most important feature, and which, without doubt, will lead to a bitter contest in the house, is that abolishing the Utah commission.

The total appropriation made by the bill is $21,682,752—$1,670,286 less than the estimates. The appropriation for the current fiscal year was $22,141,974, being $458,122 more than is recommended in this bill.

MONDAY, MAY 30.

SENATE.

Not in session.

HOUSE.

Not in session.

TUESDAY, MAY 31.

SENATE.

Pettigrew's bill granting the right of way to the Watertown, Sioux City & Duluth railway through the Sisseton reservation was reported favorably.

Pettigrew introduced a bill to make Sioux half-breed scrip assignable by the half-breeds or their legal representatives. The bill provides for confirming title of lands located with half-breed scrip.

Kyle presented an amendment which is to be offered to the sundry civil bill appropriating $15,000 for a fish hatchery in South Dakota.

Senator Davis's bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to fulfill certain treaty stipulations with the Chippewa Indians passed the senate today. A sum of $117,302 is appropriated. The relief is for the Chippewas of Lake Superior and the Mississippi.

Mr. Sherman delivered a speech in opposition to the bill for the free coinage of silver, he spoke for two and a half hours and at the close of his speech the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The postal appropriation bill came up today and Mr. Lind of Minnesota offered an amenement to increase the sum for rent, fuel and light for postoffices of the third class from $500,000 to $616,000. The amendment was lost.

The house adopted a resolution revoking all leaves of absence except those granted on account of sickness, and directing the sargeant-at-arms to telegraph absent members that their attendence is necessary for the transaction of business.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1.

SENATE.

Davis introduced a bill providing that the pension law of Jan. 27, 1890, shall apply to persons who enlisted for 90 days with 15 days from the date of the muster-in of any 90 days organization.

The senate noted today, at the close of Mr. Sherman's two-days speech on the silver question, that no vote should be taken on that measure until after the Minneapolis Convention.

HOUSE.

The house, in committee of the whole, voted down a proposition increasing by $300,000 the appropriation for the free delivery service.

A joint resolution passed today authorizing and directing the president to proclaim a general holiday commemorating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, Oct. 12, 1892.

THURSDAY, JUNE 2.

SENATE.

Mr. Stewart spoke in favor of the silver bill to-day.

Senate bill to provide for holding terms of courts in the district of Montana was taken from the senate calendar and passed. Also senate bill to provide for two additional associate judges of the supreme court of the territory of Oklahoma. Also senate bills creating two additional land districts in Montana and to amend the statue relating to appeals to the supreme court.

The resolution offered by Mr. Turpie, calling for the correspondence with Hayti, Columbia and Venezula in regard to reciprocity, was considered by the senate.

HOUSE.

In the house Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, reported the agricultural appropriation bill and it was ordered printed and recommitted.

In committee of the whole the house agreed to an amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill of providing for an additional appropriation of $200,000 for the Star route service.

A feature of the bill-making appropriations for the support of the agricultural department for the fiscal year of 1893, reported by Chairman Hatch to the house today, is that section providing that the monthly crop report issued on the 10th of each month shall be confined strictly to a statement of the percentage totals by states and full total without comment, or argument and that it shall be submitted to the secretary of agriculture, who shall officially approve the report before it is issued or published.

SATURDAY, JUNE 4.

SENATE.

Not in session.

HOUSE.

Not in session.

MONDAY, JUNE 6.

SENATE.

The senate passed most of the day listening to a speech by Mr. Vest on the free wool bill, during which he discussed the silver question, the tariff and reciprocity in his usual style, and fired many rhetorical shafts at the Republicans. No business was transacted.

HOUSE.

Among the measures passed were the anti-option bill, the resolution placing the river and harbor bill and the naval appropriation bills in conference, the resolution for the purchase of a site and the erection of a pedestal for a statue to Gen. Sherman, bills admitting New Mexico and Arizona as states and finally the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

A Poor Contrivance.

Mamma—"You are not satisfied with your new doll? Why, it creeps and says 'mamma,' and opens and shuts its eyes, and I don't know what all."

Wee Pet—"It's fingers doesn't move, an' its tongue doesn't wag, an' it never frows up."

A Sensible Girl.

He timidly,—"Now that we are engaged, I—I presume I may—may kiss you as much as I please, mayn't I?"

She encouragingly,—"Yes, indeed. Make the most of your time, dear. There's no telling how long an engagement will last nowadays, you know."

An Alger Club Coming.

DETROIT, Mich., Special,—The Michigan club's big excursion train, bearing nearly all of Michigan's delegates and alternates to the Minneapolis convention, together with the Alger club, Michigan club members and their friends, left to-day. A party of fifty also left for Minneapolis, under the auspices of the publication entitled "Under the Oaks at Jackson, 1854 and Since," which is designed to be a complete history of the Republican party. The party will lodge in tents near the Convention hall. Accommodations will be had for 100 people and many leading Republicans of this city have arranged to be their guests.

May Hang Him.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Special—Foley, the white man accused by the negro Jackson of being the instigator of the latter's assault upon Lena McMahon last night, was arrested to-day while trying to get out of town. The officers had difficulty in getting him safely to jail, and the jail is still surrounded by an angry crowd. The town is excited and last night's lynching is generally approved. Miss McMahon is in a critical condition.

A Daring Stage Robbery.

BILLINGS, Mont., Special—The Billings and Great Falls stage was held up by masked men yesterday and the treasury box and mail sacks taken after one horse was shot. The passengers were not molested and were allowed to proceed with the remaining horse. The robbery occurred on Painted Robe hill, nine miles south of the Muscle Shell river. A sheriff's posse was dispatched from Billings on the arrival of the coach.

Their Plans Frustrated.

CHICAGO, Special,—A plan to blow up the McGregor boiler factory by dynamite has been discovered by the police. The plot seems to have been deeply laid from the information which has come into the hands of the authorities. Striking workmen were at the bottom of the scheme. A large amount of dynamite has been discovered.

RETAIN YOUR SENSES.

COULD YOU IF YOU WERE CONFINED IN AN ASYLUM.

Some Interesting Facts From a Prominent Scientific Man Who Has Had a Most Valuable Experience.

Chicago Journal.

We sometimes see in the papers a thrilling account of where a perfectly sane person has been confined in an asylum. Think of it, reader! How long would you retain your senses if you were confined with a number of lunatics, night and day, and yet think of the physicians in charge of these patients who are compelled, day by day and year by year, to live among them. What wonderful opportunities they have for studying characteristics and vagaries; what a wonderful chance for learning the miseries of life and how best to overcome them.

We are brought to these reflections by a conversation lately had with Dr. J. C. Spray, of 163 State Street, Chicago. For nearly ten years Doctor Spray was in charge of the Jefferson, now Dunning Institute, at Dunning, Ill. This tremendous institution contained about twelve hundred patients in the Insane Department, and fifteen hundred in the Infirmary. Among this large number of persons there were a vast number of physical ailments. Dr. Spray, speaking about it said:

"I traced the great cause for most of the mental and indeed physical disorders very carefully, and while some authorities make an estimate that seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with some form of kidney disease, I do not think that the rate is so high, taking all ages into consideration. Before middle life it is less than seventy-five per cent. but after middle life it is, I should think, fully that percentage."

"This is something terrible, Doctor. Few people can certainly be aware that so large a percentage exists?"

The Doctor thought a moment and then said: "It is a fact not generally recognized that where a person has diseased kidneys and the organs fail to perform their functions of removing the waste and the impurities from the system, it soon produces melancholia. As a result our asylums are filled to overflowing, while if the people would strike at the root of the matter and see that their kidneys were in good order, there would be fewer patients in the asylums. I have noticed that a large portion of all paresis cases had kidney difficulties."

"What have you found, Doctor, to be the standard and most reliable remedy in such cases?"

Dr. Spray spoke with great confidence. He said: "Having so many cases to treat, I tried various remedies, and after a long and exhaustive trial, finally decided that Warner's Safe Cure was the best, most effective and most reliable remedy. I found it specially reliable in cases of incipient Bright's disease. It is certain to stop it, and even in the advanced conditions it allays the disease, and to my surprise at first, cured many cases. Before structural changes set in, it is certain to cure, if properly administered."

"Has your experience while at the asylum, Doctor, been confirmed in your general practice since leaving it?"

"Yes. I have occasion to use the Safe Cure almost daily. Whenever I find traces of albumen in the urine of a patient, I prescribed the Safe Cure, and in nearly every instance where I notice indications of nervous torubles, I analyze the urine, and almost invariably find that it is caused by some affection of the kidneys. I now have a patient to whom I am giving the Safe Cure, and find that it is having the desired effect. Some time ago a gentleman came to me, who had been examined for life insurance, and traces of albumen were found. I advised the use of the Safe Cure, and he passed the examination without difficulty after having used it."

"I understand, then, Doctor, that you attribute a large percentage of the ills of life to some disease of the kidneys, and that you have found the remedy of which you speak the most effective in such cases."

"Yes, I have no hesitation in saying that Warner's Safe Cure has my unqualified endorsement. I use it constantly, and would not do so unless I thought it possessed curative qualities."

The high standing, wide experience and great success of Dr. Spray make his words exceedingly impressive. Their sincerity cannot be questioned, and their truthfulness is absolute. Impressed with this fact, and realizing the importance of the same, I have transcribed his words in full and give them herewith.

CONCERNING CLINICS.

A Woman Rents Her Throat to Young Doctors.

"Here is the picture of a woman who, in her way, is undoubtedly the most remarkable woman in the world," a physician remarked, handing over a photograph of a woman of perhaps fifty, with strong features, and a large black patch over her right eye, neatly dressed and holding in one hand a little bag.

"What is her name?"

"Frau Gelley."

"I suppose you will insist on the question, Why is Frau Gelley remarkable?"

"Because she has the most tolerant throat of any known woman in the world," he explained. "You can pass probes to all parts of both her throat and larynx without causing any spasms of the muscles, what in ordinary language is called gagging. You can place buttons in various parts of her larynx and remove them again, and she will suffer no discomfort. Why this should be so nobody knows. The most eminent throat specialists in the world have examined her and found no reasons for it. Her vocal chords are as pearly white as those found in a typically normal throat. She is a curiosity or freak, but that is only the least curious things about her, perhaps, from the lay standpoint, for she uses her throat as a means of livelihood. She visits the various clinics of Vienna, and rents her throat out for a gulden an hour to young doctors who wish to gain skill in manipulation. In that little bag she carries her own instruments, and will permit a doctor to use no others. You take a probe in hand, and she says to you: 'Touch the right vocal cord.' You try and fail. She knows it in a minute and says: "Ah, but Herr Doctor, that is the epiglotis that you touched.' Then she takes the probe herself, and, telling you to look, she touches the vocal cord. She, mind you, has to do it by instinct for she, of course, can not see down her own throat, while you have the aid of a mirror. Thus she carries a young doctor through lessons in touching all the various parts of the throat and larnyx that, as a specialist, he must learn to touch. She is a thoroughly up in the anatomy of the parts as any professor; in fact, she has come to look upon herself as one of the professors. She expects the same respectful treatment, and will put up with no less. She has been offered a high price to go to Berlin, but her patriotism will not allow her to leave Vienna. Nobody, by the way, has ever found out why she wears that patch over her right eye."—New York Sun.

THE EARTHQUAKE EMOTION.

It Is a Sort of Scare That Is Likely to Stick to a Man.

It is a curious fact that the earthquake scare is the one danger to which we can never become accustomed by familiarity, says a San Francisco paper. The oftener we feel it the more we become demoralized. I cannot better illustrate this than by a story told me by Col. Baily Peyton, U. S. minister to Chili in 1852 and city attorney of San Francisco in 1856.

To a pair of friends in 1856 he said: "Boys: it's of no use talking; we can become accustomed to all dangers no matter how imminent, by familiarity, except the danger of earthquakes. The more you feel 'em the more you don't like 'em and the worse you hate 'em. I have heard the whistle of bullets and the roar of cannon in battle and never dodged. But my experience in Chili, took starch out of me. I had been but a few days in Santiago, the capital of Chili when I visited the leading store on the plaza in that city. While standing behind the counter, in an instant, without any premonition the proprietor and twenty clerks simultaneously leaped the counter and rushed out of the front door.

"I looked at them in astonishment and said to myself: 'Are they crazy? What's the matter with them?' Slowly they returned to their places. I asked them what was the matter. They replied: 'El temblor! Didn't you feel the temblor?' To me it was a trifle. Two weeks later I was giving a swell dinner to the diplomatic corps in Santiago. In the midst of it came a temblor, a very lively one, and every man of the party leaped from his seat and rushed for the door or the window. I said to myself: 'Of all the cowards I ever met with these people exceed.'

"But, boys, I hadn't been in that country more than three months before no quarter horse in Tennessee could beat me in a break for the front door when one of those temblors made his appearance. You can stand bullets and cannon balls, but the temblors will fetch you."

Presenting Arms to a Cat.

Some fifty years ago a very high English official died in a fortress in India at a place that is one of the centers of Brahmanic orthodoxy, and at the moment when the news of his death reached the sepoy guard at the main gate a black cat rushed out of it. The guard presented arms to the cat as a salute to the flying spirit of the powerful Englishman, and the coincidence took so firm a hold of the locality that up to a few years ago neither exhortation nor orders could prevent a Hindoo sentry at that gate from presenting arms to any cat that passed out at night.

A Great Head.

Wife, preparing for a dinner party "Hubby, dear, I think I have too little meat for twelve persons."

Husband: "Then I'll step out and invite a thirteenth; that will spoil the appetite of the lot."

On Its Last Legs.

LONDON, Special—The last session of the present parliament virtually closed to-day. The desire of a section of the cabinet strongly supported by Mr. Chamberlain and the cabinet party, to pass the Irish local government bill, so that they would be able to go before the constituencies with their Irish pledges redeemed, has failed to prevail against electoral exigencies. The formalities of the dissolution of parliament are certain to occur before June 25.

Accidentally Killed His Sister.

OTTUMWA, Iowa, Special. —Yesterday Ernest Ross of South Ottumwa, aged thirteen, accidentally shot and killed his little sister Cordiala, aged ten. In the absence of his parents he procured an old rusty pistol; and in foolishly toying with it caused the above result. She lived in great agony until to-day, when, calling her brother to be she asked him to kiss her good bye, and then death released her.

Body of an Unknown Man Found.

BRAINERD, Minn., Special, Special,—The body of a man supposed to be John Peters was found floating in the water at Gull river rapids to-day. Peters had a time check from the Northern Mill company dated Nov. 8, 1891, in his pocket, and it is supposed he was drowned at about that date and his body has been in Gull lake all winter. There was also a draft from the First National Bank of Lincoln, Neb., on a Chicago bank. He is unknown here.

BELCHERVILLE, Texas was visited by a disastrous cyclone. It destroyed the residence of J. D. Bowie, injuring himself and several of the family. G. N. Simmon's residence was torn to pieces, the occupants escaping with injuries. George Elliott's house was wrecked, his wife being probably fatally hurt. Twenty other residences and the academy are destroyed.

CHARLES BRIGHT and Billy Wise, lightweights, fought to a finish at Greensburg, Pa. Wise was giving eight pounds away and was out-fought at all points.

JOHNNY REAGAN is following John L's style and says a $5,000 purse is not enough for him to fight.

A Perfect Baking Powder.

The constantly growing demand for Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, the standard cream tartar powder for forty years, is due to two causes.

FIRST:—The extreme care exercised by the manufacturers to make it perfectly pure, uniform in quality, and of highest raising power.

SECOND:—The recent investigations exposing the fact that certain other brands of baking powder contain ammonia and still others that were found to contain alum. These unscrupulous manufacturers are being found out, and the consumers are giving them a wide birth.

Nothing is left to chance in the manufacture of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. Chemists are employed to test every ingredient as to purity and strength. Hence: its marvelous purity and uniformity. Each can is like every other. It never dissapoints. BEST is ALWAYS the CHEAPEST.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

A WESTERN FISH STORY.

It Discounts Its Eastern Relative in Point of Size and Veracity.

One of the party of lumbermen who had recently visited this coast was telling of the wonderful things he had seen in this and adjoining states while with the party, says the San Francisco Call.

"When we were on the way out," said he, "we made up our minds to watch the Californians, for we were led to believe from the big stories we had heard that they were given to stretching the long bow, but to their credit be it said that everything we heard was verified, even to the taking of 126,000 feet of lumber from a single tree. But they told us a story which they were unable to verify; still we believe in the view of the correctness of everything else that they told us.

"It was this: One winter according to the raconteur, there was such an unusual run of salmon in the Sacramento river that in forcing their way up stream they ran against and broke several piles that supported a rail-road bridge and it sagged in the center, making it unsafe for a train to pass over it. It was near train time, and the salmon, noticing the damage they had done, got together, piled one on top of the other, raised the bridge to its proper level, and held it up until the train passed over it safely.

Good Luck and Bad Consequences.

An excellent Kansas lady, Mrs. Monahan—we know she is excellent because she is ninety-four years old—according to a cable dispatch from London, has won by a suit in the court of chancery from the English government two millions of dollars' worth of property in the shape of 1,700 acres of land near Limerick Ireland, and a sheep ranch near Melbourne, Australia. This property was seized by the government of Great Britain in 1798. Its recovery will be a good thing for Mrs. Monahan and the numerous relatives she is reported to be blessed with.

It will also, no doubt, prove a Godsend to that large and active tribe of American and other lawyers who subsist upon the imaginary claims of residents of this country to immense estates aboard to fabulous sums in the custody of the Bank of England. —From The New York Telegram.

Mice Put to Work.

A Scotchman one evening recently sat looking at some mice. An idea struck him. He decided to set the little thieves to spinning yarn, and it was probably a very astonished pair of mice that found themselves a few days later working a small tread-mill in a cage like those in which rats and other small animals are kept, but without the slightest idea that they were paying for their board in this way.

An ordinary mouse can twist over 100 threads on reels every day, although to do this he has to run ten and a half miles.

He is not going to have any plumcake though, now that he has gone into honest business, nor even cheese, only a penny's worth of oatmeal every five weeks. This does not seem very generous board to be paying for hard work but it makes a fine profit for his employer.

Napoleon's Stinging Compliment.

At one time before the Franco-Prussian war, when Napoleon III was visiting London, amateur theatrical were arranged for his entertainment. A Mr. Brown, who took a principal part in the entertainment, prided himself on his knowledge of French. During the evening he was one of the cast in a French comedietta, and immediately after that played the part of an Englishman who spoke broken French. During the latter sketch Napoleon laughed frequently, and when Mr. Brown was presented to the emperor at the close of the evening he was complimented in this ambiguous manner: "Your bad French was as good as your good French. Allow me to congratulate you." Naturally Mr. Brown retired a little mystified.

Queer Find in a Tree.

Some extraordinary finds have at times been made within the trunks of trees. A woodman, for instance, when engaged in splitting timber for rail posts in a wood in Scotland discovered in the center of a large wild cherry tree a living bat of a bright scarlet color, which he foolishly allowed to escape from superstitious fears that it was a "being not of this world." The tree showed a small cavity in the center, where the bat was inclosed, but it was perfectly sound and solid on each side.

A Kiss in Boston.

He—may I—I—have a kiss, Mehitable?

Miss Mehitable Beaconhill, from Boston,—If you see proper to bring about a paroxysmal contact between the labial apendages of the superior and inferior maxillaries I shall not object.

Blood Poisoning

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. Her husband spent hundreds of dollars without any benefit. She weighed but 78 pounds, and saw no prospect of help. At last

Mrs. M. E. O'Fallon. she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says, "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 pounds eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

Swift's Specific.

The old-time simple remedy from the Georgia swamps and fields has gone forth to the antipodes, astonishing the skeptical and confounding the theories of those who depend solely on the physician's skill. There is no blood taint which it does not immediately eradicate. Poisons outwardly absorbed or the result of vile diseases from within all yield to this potent but simple remedy. It is an unequaled tonic, builds up the old and feeble, cures all diseases arising from impure blood or weakened vitality. Send for a treatise. Examine the proof.

IT RESPECTS THE LAW.

The Lottery Company's Good Faith.

[Washington telegram to Globe-Democrat.]

The New Orleans Postmaster, Capt. S. M. Eaton, is a little smooth-faced man, honest and shrewd. He is a great friend of Warmoth, but he has backed up the Postmaster-General's efforts vigorously in the fight on the lottery.

The year before the warfare began Mr. Eaton says the Lottery Company bought at the New Orleans office $103,000 worth of stamps and stamped envelopes. For that same year the total revenue of the office was $416,000. So it appears that the Lottery Company contributed within $1000 of one-fourth of the entire revenue of the office.

By the action of the department in enforcing the anti-lottery law passed by Congress this postal revenue from the lottery company became a dead loss. Last year's receipts by the New Orleans office reached a total of $352,000. The day before Capt. Eaton started to this conference the lottery company posted in all its branch offices in New Orleans a notice to this effect:

"The supreme court of the United States having decided the anti-lottery postal law to be constitutional, it is hereby ordered and directed that no one in the employ of this company shall mail a letter which in any way refers directly or indirectly to the business of the lottery. It must be understood that this company will aid in the enforcement of this law."

"I think that this notice is honest and sincere," said Capt. Eaton, "and the company means just what it says."

Signor de Clair, a street fakir who enticed Lillian Fielding from her home at Ashland some time ago, arrived at Marshalltown with the girl the other night. The police rescued the girl but her abductor escaped. The girl will be held by the authorities until she receives money with which to take her home. She tells a pitiful story of inhuman treatment.

Transcripts of suits for damages against the Santa Fe railway aggregating $57,000 have been filed in the federal court at Keokuk. The actions were begun in the district court at Fort Madison, and are as follows: Nelson Douglas, for injuries, $12,000; estate of William H. Benbow, for his killing, $20,000; and estate of Henry Gallap, for his death, $25,000.

Sixty-two business houses of Mason City were closed one afternoon recently, on account of the religious awakening sweeping over this city. During the past few days there have been 250 conversions and the work seems only began. Evangelists Munhall and Birch assisted by Drs. Parsons, Patterson, Millakan and Johnson are conducting the work.

When Charles Block opened the grave of his wife in Hazlewood cemetery near Montezuma he found the coffin full of water and his wife's remains petrified to solid stone. It took five men to lift the coffin out of the grave. The woman's flesh was fair and her hair black and glossy as in life. A bunch of roses in her hand had become solid stone. The body had been buried eight years.

A WESTERN FISH STORY.

It Discounts Its Eastern Relative in Point of Size and Veracity.

One of the party of lumbermen who had recently visited this coast was telling of the wonderful things he had seen in this and adjoining states while with the party, says the San Francisco Call.

"When we were on the way out," said he, "we made up our minds to watch the Californians, for we were led to believe from the big stories we had heard that they were given to stretching the long bow, but to their credit be it said that everything we heard was verified, even to the taking of 126,000 feet of lumber from a single tree. But they told us a story which they were unable to verify; still we believe in the view of the correctness of everything else that they told us.

"It was this: One winter according to the raconteur, there was such an unusual run of salmon in the Sacramento river that in forcing their way up stream they ran against and broke several piles that supported a rail-road bridge and it sagged in the center, making it unsafe for a train to pass over it. It was near train time, and the salmon, noticing the damage they had done, got together, piled one on top of the other, raised the bridge to its proper level, and held it up until the train passed over it safely.

WHY I AM A REPUBLICAN.

COL. BOB INGERSOLL GIVES HIS REASONS.

The Democratic Party an Enemy of American Progress—Summary of Legislation Enacted By Republicans in the Interest of the Farmer.

I am opposed to the Democratic party, and I will tell you why. Every State that seceded from the United States was a Democratic State. Every ordinance of session that was drawn was drawn by a Democrat. Every man that endeavored to tear the old flag from the heaven that enriched was a Democrat. Every man that tried to destroy this nation was a Democrat. Every enemy this great Republic has had for twenty years has been a Democrat. Every man that shot Union soldiers was a Democrat. Every man that starved Union soldiers, and refused them in the extremity of death, was a Democrat. Every man that loved slavery better than liberty was a Democrat. The man that assassinated Abraham Lincoln was a Democrat. Every man that sympathized with the assassin—every man glad that the noblest President ever elected was assassinated was a Democrat. Every man that wanted the privilege of whipping another man to make him work for him for nothing and paid him with lashes on his naked back was a Democrat. Every man that raised bloodhounds to pursue human beings was a Democrat. Every man that impaired the credit of the United States, every man that swore he would never pay the bonds, every man that swore he would never redeem the greenbacks, every maligner of his country's credit, every calumniator of his country's honor was a Democrat.

I am a Republican. I am a Republican because the Republican party says this country is a nation, and not a Confederacy. I am here in Indiana to speak, and I have as good a right to speak here in Indiana as though I had been born on this stand—not because the state flag of Indiana waves over me. I would not know it if I should see it. You have the same right to speak in Illinois; not because the State flag of Illinois waves over you, but because that banner, rendered sacred by the blood of all the heroes, waves over me and you. I am in favor of its being a nation. Think of a man gratifying his entire ambition in the State of Rhode Island.

PROTECTION TO CITIZENS.

The Democratic party says the Government cannot march its troops into the South to protect the rights of the citizens. It is a lie. The Government claims the right, and it is conceded that the Government has the right, to go to your house while you are sitting by your fireside with your wife and children about you, and the old lady knitting, and the cat playing with the yarn, and everybody happy and sweet—the Government claims the right to take you by force and put you into the army; take you down to the valley of the shadow of hell and set you by the ruddy, roaring guns and make you fight for your flag. Now, that being so, when the war is over and your country is victorious and you go back to your home, and a lot of Democrats want to trample upon your rights, I want to know if the Government that took you from your fireside and made you fight for it,—I want to know if it is not bound to fight for you. The flag that will not protect its protectors is a dirty rag that contaminates the air in which it waves. The Government that will not defend its defenders is a disgrace to the nations of the world. I am a Republican because the Republican party says, "We will protect the rights of American citizens at home, and if necessary we will march an army into any State to protect the rights of the humblest American citizen in that State."

THE DIFFERENCE.

There is room in the Republican air for every wing; there is room on the Republican sea for every sail. Republicanism says to every man: "Let your soul be like an eagle, fly out in the great dome of thought, and question the stars for yourself." But the Democratic party says: "Be blind owls; sit on the dry limb of a dead tree and only hoot when your leaders tell you to." In the Republican party there are no followers. We are all leaders. There is not a party chain; there is not a party lash. The man who does not love this country; the man that does not love liberty; any man that is not in favor of human progress, that is not in favor of giving to others all he claims for himself, we do not ask him to vote the Republican ticket. You can vote as you please; and if there is any Democrat within hearing who expects to die before another election we are willing that he should vote a Republican ticket simply as a reconciliation on his death-bed.

Free labor, love, affection—they have invented everything of use in this world. I am a Republican. I tell you, my friends, this world is getting better every day, and the Democratic party is getting smaller every day. We have got the first free country that ever existed. And right here I want to thank every soldier that fought to make it free. Every one, living and dead. I thank you again and again and again.

VOTE RIGHT.

Now, my friends, I want you to vote the Republican ticket. I want you to swear that you will not vote for any enemy of human progress. Go and talk to every Democrat that you can see. Get him by the coat collar; talk to him. Hold him like Coleridge's Ancient Mariner, with your glittering eye. Hold him; tell him all the mean things his party ever did. Tell him kindly; tell him in a Christian spirit as I do, but tell him.

I want you, every one, to swear you will vote for the glorious Republican party. I tell you we must stand by the country. It is a glorious country. It permits you and me to be free. It is the only country in the world where labor is respected; let us support it. It is the only country in the world where the useful man is the aristocrat. The man that works for a dollar a day and goes home at night to his little ones, takes his little boy on his knee, and he thinks that boy can achieve anything that the sons of the wealthy man can achieve. The free schools are open to him; he may be the richest, the greatest, the grandest; and that thought sweetens every drop of sweat that rolls down the honest face of toil. Vote to save that country.

FARM LEGISLATION.

Summary of the Legislation Enacted and Policies Adopted by the Republicans in the Interest of Farmers.

Democratic and Alliance orators and papers do not call attention to some of the Republican legislation which has proven beneficial to the farmers. Here are some of the things they omit when discussing and cursing the Republican party:

The Homestead act, secured by Republicans over Democratic votes and vetoes, giving to the settlers of the West and North-west over 1,000,000 farms and 132,000,000 acres.

The agricultural colleges and stations, including 52 farm schools and colleges, 54 agricultural experiment stations, and 26 farmer's institutes.

The National Cabinet Department of Agriculture, devoted to the interests of the American farmers both at home and abroad.

The home markets for diversified and profitable agriculture provided by protected manufactures in every city in the Union; an increase of factory families and farm-product consumers amounting to over 1,000,000 since 1880.

The foreign market for farm products, secured by Republican reciprocity and Government meat inspection, in five European states and in most of the states and islands of Latin America.

The National Interstate Commerce act regulating railways; for the prevention of railway discrimination and combination, and securing of fair transportation rates and privileges.

The Republican Anti-Trust law which in one year has caused the dissolution of the whisky and oil trusts, and is likely to lead to the suppression of the twine and sugar trusts.

The oleomargarine legislation; the proposed lard, pure food and anti-option bills, for the protection of farm products against fraudulent competition and speculation.

The increase of national circulation from $435,400,000, or $13.85 per capita, in 1860, to $1,600,500,000, or $24.74 per capita, in 1892; and the accompanying decrease of interest rates from one-half to three-fourths.

The enlargement of the free import list from 18 per cent. in 1857 to 53 per cent. in 1891—2, and the saving of $100,000,000 in unnecessary revenue taxes on sugar, coffee, tea, molasses and binder twine.

The almost trebling of the exports of bread stuffs, under the McKinley tariff, during the year just closed, and a general decline in the cost of all manufactured necessaries.

The decrease of Canadian imports of farm products; the establishment of sugar-beet, flax and hemp culture and manufacture; the encouragement of irrigation and timber culture, and the development of waterways for the cheapening of transportation.

OUR GLORY!

The Home Market and Home Production the Glory of a Nation.

"England has the markets of the world," says the free trader. Yes, but O, God, at what a fearful cost! The massacre of Sinkat and the siege of Tokar are a part of the price paid for her trade with India. For trade England buries her diplomats in African jungles. For trade she harasses Turkey. For trade she bombards Alexandria. For trade she stains the ocean with the blood of her bravest and at the point of the bayonet pushes her goods where vice and disaster makes want, or carnage supplants industry. The Republican party is for home production and domestic exchange between our own States. This exchange in the United States to-day is five times as great as that of any other equal number of people on earth and our condition is superior to England in every respect. The American flag is and will be recognized, saluted and honored upon every sea, not because it is out hunting the "Markets of the world" but because it floats over a surplus that existed after a people had been fed, clothed and warmed.

REPUBLICAN RECIPROCITY

Will make a new market for seventy-five million dollars' ($75,000,000) worth of American products within five years. That is the sort of practical statesmanship the people understand and want.

What Protection Is Like.

Protection is like a good book; once in your hands you want to hold on to it.

Protection is to workingmen what flowers are to bees; it enables them to store away the fruits of their labor for future emergencies.

Protection is to labor what a solid abutment is to a bridge; a safe and sure foundation on which to rest.

Protection is as necessary to the growth, development, and elevation of labor, as the sunlight is to flowers.

Protection is no respector of persons; it even extends its blessing to Democrats.

Protection is like a king; it confers dignities; it dignifies labor.

Protection is like a mother; it gives nourishment to industries.

Protection is like sun warmth; it cheers and gladdens the hearts of the poor.

Protection is like a valuable jewel; once you have it in your possession you do not like to part with it.

An Englishman's Opinion of the McKinley Tariff Law in the United States.

It takes an impartial Englishman to give the average American "reformer" points as to the workings of the American system of Protection and Reciprocity.

Col. Howard Vincent, Member of Parliament for Sheffield, on returning from his recent visit to Canada and the United States, expressed the following opinion of the effects of the McKinley bill, in answer to the question of a reporter:

"Can you give me any information about the working of the McKinley tariff?"

"I can tell you this; I believe it to be a tremendous success for America, and to be doing a great deal to give American wages to American workingmen.

"Then you do not believe it is going to be repealed?"

"Not for a minute. The Democrats are completely changing their tone, and openly declaring that they are no longer advocates of free trade."

What It Means.

"A tariff for revenue only," is the Democratic doctrine. Now, what does that mean? It means a duty on such articles as are not grown or manufactured in this country, or so low a duty on such as are, as to allow foreign articles of the same kind to compete in our markets with the home product. Tea, coffee, India rubber, and sugar are the leading articles on which a duty should be laid to secure a tariff for revenue only. How would the people like that kind of a tariff?

Afraid of It's Shadow.

Mr. Irvine Dungan, a Democratic congressman from Ohio, thus sizes up the present Congress: "I am becoming convinced that this is a cowardly Congress. It is becoming very tiresome to me. It ought to get up and do what the people expect it to do, and not be afraid of its shadow." But think for a moment, Mr. Dungan, think for a moment, as you turn your eyes to the past, what a dreadful shadow that is.

A Natural Query.

"Why are you in the Democratic party?" asked a Republican of his neighbor.

"Because it is the poor man's party," was the reply.

"Well, why in thunder don't you try to get better men in it?" and the Democrat went away to study over the question.

From the Old Times.

Teacher—"Who was Cæsar talking about when he said the man was fit for treason, stratagem, and spoils?"

Likely Scholar—"I ain't sure, but it sounds like he was talking about some Democrat or other."

In the most benighted sections of Democratic Missouri, where negroes are still sold on the auction block as vagrants, the majorities in favor of free trade are tremendous. As might be expected, the free trade idea of labor is the popular one in such localities.

When the Democrats have to deal with a minority of their own they don't stop with counting a quorum or any mild measures of that sort, but proceed to wipe the floor with the refractory element.

VERY BAD BOYS.

A Tragic Episode in a Boston Kindergarten.

A certain kindergarten, says the Boston Transcript, is blessed with the attendance of a very original youth named Richard. He is a very honest little boy, and highly respected by his parents, but the other afternoon when he came home he acknowledged frankly to his mother that a punishment had been inflicted upon him at the kindergarten.

"Why, what have you done?"

"Well, you see," he answered, "Johnny and I got tired of being good, and we made up our minds that we would just get our heads together and holler out the very naughtiest word we could think of both together!"

The mother was inexpressibly shocked. Johnny was another very nice and well-bred boy. But she managed to ask—

"Well, what did you say?"

"We just screamed out 'Bedbug!' as loud as we could!"

"Probably," says the Transcript, "this tragic episode has never had its duplicate in the history of kindergartening."

How Garfield Was Scared.

Secretary Foster has been telling some queer secrets about ex-President Garfield, with whom he was on terms of the closest intimacy. As illustrating his fear of the newspapers a summer night incident at Willard's hotel in Washington is recalled when a party of Mr. Garfield's intimate friends got together in one of the upper rooms facing newspaper row and began playing a game of cards with a ten-cent ante. It was hot, and the whole party had their coats and vests off and their sleeves rolled up to their elbows. The windows were wide open, and by the gaslight anybody could look in on the game from across the street. Suddenly a messenger boy came to the door with a message, which read thus: "Immense excitement on newspaper row. A big crowd is watching your little game. Pools are being sold on the result, and the boys are sending dispatches out over the country concerning it." The message was read aloud, and it scared Mr. Garfield half out of his boots. Of course it was a bogus message, but it was hard to make Mr. Garfield believe it was not genuine, and it spoiled all his fun that summer evening.—Chicago Times.

The Newest Boston Drunk.

The latest craze in Boston, it is said, is the compound oxygen drink, and several establishments there are doing a rushing business in catering to this new form of dissipation. They are patronized by men and women—mostly the latter—of the highest social standing. The sensation produced by the inhalation of compond oxygen is described to me by those who have tried it as science of medicine or pharmacy that equals its delights. Big quaffs of it that fill the lungs' air cells are said to set all the nerves of the body a-tingle and the brain in a delicious whirl. The effect lasts all the way from five minutes to an hour, according to the person, and is said to have no apparent deleterious results except a peculiar mental collapse, from which the dissipator doesn't recover for several hours. While under the strange influence of the stuff, one feels completely lost to the world and oblivious to everything terrestrial. That is the reason it is called the compound oxygen drunk. —From The New Orleans Picayune.

MISTOOK THE MAN.

Naturally, Therefore, Matters Were Pretty Lively for Awhile.

"Read something the other day about a case of mistaken identity," said E. H. Shaw to an Indianapolis Journal man.

"I had one once myself."

"Anything remarkable?"

"Well, yes; it made an impression on me that lasted a good while. Several years ago, when I was much frisker than I am now, I boarded at the St. Charles Hotel on Illinois street. It was then kept by a man named Hart, who had formerly been a professional wrestler.

"Hart took a great deal of interest in me, and every now and then would grab me to show how easily a man could be drowned if one only knew how. He would come up, reach around my neck, lift my chin so that I would be at his mercy, and then ask 'How's that?'

"One day I was walking along Virginia avenue, near Washington street, when I saw Hart standing on the sidewalk talking to another man. His back was turned towards me, and I thought to myself, 'Shaw, here's your opportunity.'

"I walked toward the unsuspecting man, brought my hands down on his shoulders with all my might, and, lifting my knee at the same time, raised him from the sidewalk as I asked, 'How's that?'

"Here Mr. Shaw stopped to wipe the beaded perspiration from his brow.

"Go on with the story," said an interested listener.

"Well, there was an awful fight right there, and I was in it, or thought I was for a little while. The man was mad all the way through, and wouldn't give me any chance to explain.

"He got through finally, and then I told him I was mistaken in the man; that I had thought it was Mr. Hart. I didn't ask his pardon; that was quite unnecessary after what had occurred. That's the most remarkable case of mistaken identity of which I have any knowledge."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured,

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Pity the Sorrows of a Poor Old Man

Or woman bowed with the infirmities of age, and more particularly lumbago. But more practical, more friendly than pity is this sound piece of advice to such persons, as well to all delicate people and convalescents: Try a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest sustaining tonic which people of declining years and the feeble generally can adopt. Kidney and rheumatic troubles and lumbago, which are peculiarly incident to age, are counteracted by this superb corrective, which also removes indigestion, malarial complaints, biliousness, lagrippe.

The state Republican convention will meet in St. Paul, July 28.

Announcements for Sunday, June 12.

SUBJECTS:—

MORNING—"Walking Circumspectly."

EVENING—"Thirst of the Human Soul Satisfied."

Hours of worship, 10:45 a. m. and 8:00 p. m. Sunday school, 12 m.

Prayer meeting, Thursday evening, 7:45.

The public generally, and visitors in our city, are most cordially invited to all our services, and we will be happy to greet you. Ushers at the door.

Local News Notes.

Four acting dogs in "Avenged."

Miss Ethel Fulton is visiting friends in Staples.

Gus Williams' humor, like old wine, improves with age.

Mrs. E. J. Fulton is visiting friends in Minneapolis this week.

Lawyer Hall has removed his law office to room 9 in the sleeper block.

Purchase seats NOW for Gus Williams' engagement.

Dr. Roberts, of Little Falls, was in the city on Sunday renewing old acquaintances.

The Brainerd Gun Club will commence their regular shoot for the season next Wednesday morning.

"Avenged" is a strong comedy drama that has met with great success on the road.

Miss Ella Longman and Mrs. M. J. Sullivan, of Des Moines, Iowa, are the guests of Mrs. W. H. Mantor.

Large numbers of our citizens took advantage of the cheap rates and visited Minneapolis during convention week.

Mrs. Robt. Caughie has gone to Minneapolis to visit friends and relatives for a few days.

"Avenged" Co., carries all their own scenery and mechanical effects.

You will cry and laugh by turns with Gus Williams in Keppler's Fortunes.

E. O. Webb has gone to Milwaukee where he has accepted a situation as a traveling salesman for a hardware house.

Mrs. W. W. Campbell, of Ada, Minn., is in the city, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. N. H. Ingersoll.

The theatrical success of the season is "Avenged."

As predicted people are paying their taxes at a lively rate since the bond proposition was carried. Treasurer Frater reports that he is constantly kept busy.

Gus Williams always writes his own songs and makes his own fun. He is copied, but never copies.

Mrs. J. C. Atherton and Miss Maggie Atherton left last night for Bismark, N. D., where they will visit friends and relatives.

"Avenged" is full of new songs, dances and specialities.

Thursday evening, June 16th, at the opera house, Gus Williams in "Keppler's Fortunes."

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms at 3 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon. All ladies who are interested in the work are invited.

There are more legitimately funny situations in "Keppler's Fortunes" than in any other comedy on the stage.

Owing to necessary repairs being made on the interior of the M. E. church this week, all services except Sabbath School are withdrawn for the coming Sabbath.

The Salvation Army on Tuesday appeared on the streets for their evening parade in full force all decorated with flowers and red, white and blue streamer, the occasion being the visit of Staff Captain Pebble to this post.

WHERE—Opera House. WHO—Orson Clifford. WHAT—"Avenged." WHEN—June 14th. P. S.—"Avenged" is the strongest comedy drama on the road.—Boston Herald.

Ladies' and Gents' fine Balbriggan underwear, all sizes, cool and comfortable for the hot days, at the very lowest prices, at J. F. McGinnis & Co.'s.

A. P. Farrar and Judge Fleming are at Gull Lake to-day looking after repairs needed at that place on country bridges.

A party of gentleman friends were entertained by S. F. Alderman and C. E. Chiperfield at the residence of the former on Friday evening last.

T. A. Hildreth, state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will be in the city on Sunday and will address the union meeting in the park. All will be pleased to see him among us once more.

Mrs. Dr. Roberts and Miss Alma Covey went to Brainerd this afternoon and will visit for several days with Mrs. Roberts' parents in that city.—Little Falls Herald.

Children's Day will be observed at the Congregational chuch Sunday. In the morning the pastor, Rev. I. L. Covey will preach a children's sermon, and in the evening there will be a concert exercise appropriate to the day.

The ladies of the First Congregational church will give a supper at the Y. M. C. A. rooms next Wednesday evening, June 15th. Strawberries and ice cream will be served with or without supper during the entire evening. The public generally Misses Emily and Anna Murphy, teachers in our public schools, left on Wednesday evening for their home at Richland, this state, to spend their summer vacation.

J. F. McGinnis & Co. have placed in their store a bargain counter, and have marked a line of ladies' and gents' fine shoes and slippers, odds and ends of broken stock which they will close out at 50c. on the dollar. Call and see them.

As will be seen by the proceedings of the county commissioners in this issue that body has taken steps to improve the roads and bridges and will do all that is in their power with the funds at their command. We do not think there is a resident of the county who will not favor the move.

Major Charles Ruffee, who has been recommended for appointment to the position of agent at the White Earth reservation, has had experience in the handling of Indians, and has been uniformly successful in his contact with them. It is probable that he will be appointed to the position.—Lumberman.

County Attorney C. A. Lindbergh was at Brainerd yesterday looking up the title to some land in Crow Wing county, but failed to find any trace of it on the records. It is owned by a machinery company, and taxes have not been paid on it since 1888, nor had anyone been notified. Rather loose way of running things we think. —Little Falls Herald.

Ray Jones, treasurer of the Northern mill, left Tuesday for Brainerd to assist in celebrating the victory of his company in being voted a bonus to assist in building their new railroad. It is fortunate that Mr. Jones has an enviable reputation for sobriety, as according to Mr. Glass the company has been endeavoring to reach him by telegraph, but up to Thursday noon without success.—Lumberman.

Tickets will be sold by the N. P company for the National Democratic Convention to be held at Chicago June 21st, at one lowest first-class fare for the round trip. On sale June 19th to 25th inclusive, limited to continuous passage in each direction with final limit of July 6th, and will not be honored from Chicago for return passage prior to June 24th, 1892.

The body of the man reported in last week's DISPATCH as having been found in Gull river proved to be that of John Peters. On his body was found a time check from the Northern Mill Co. for $32, dated Nov. 9, 1891, and it is supposed that he quit work at that time and started down river but fell through the ice and was drowned. He also had a Chicago draft for $14 endorsed by a man in Lincoln, Nebraska, in his pocket. He was buried in Evergreen cemetery by the county authorities as he was not known here.

Several drivers arrived this morning from the Little Pine drive of Scribner & Carl. The report that the country above Brainerd is afloat caused by the high stage of water in the Mississippi and an immense log jam fifteen miles in length which has formed in the Mississippi. At Miller's mill near the mouth of the Big Pine the people have been driven back to a ridge 80 rods from the river and a bridge which during the usual stage of water is several feet above the stream was when they crossed over four feet under water. —Daily Transcript.

The religious services at the Presbyterian church last Sabbath were of an unusually interesting and impressive character. In the morning, after the sermon by the pastor, a number of persons were received into the church, after which there were six infants and three adults baptized, then followed the administration of the Lord's Supper, and a brief Sunday school session. In the evening, after the address by Miss Bella M. Hood, which closed her evangelistic labors with the church, there were several more persons received, making the whole number, including those who united on Saturday night, twenty-eight persons, four of whom joined by letters from other churches, and twenty-four on profession of faith. These additions to the Presbyterian church greatly strengthen this hitherto weak society, and give it an impetus along the line of spiritual and denominational work. This excellent Christian lady has not only been successful in leading many to a profession of religion and union with the church, but also in inducing cold hearted ones in the church to deeper piety and more fervent devotion to Christian work. She will long be remembered with earnest and tender affection, and be welcomed to return again for similar efforts at some future time.

Notice.

There will be another meeting of the World's Fair Auxiliary of Crow Wing county at the Y. M. C. A. parlor next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All ladies interested are requested to be present as business of importance is to be transacted.

MRS. T. J. SHARKEY, Secretary.

K. P. Memorial Day.

Tuesday, June 14th, is the day that has been set aside by the supreme authorities of the Knights of Pythias to commemorate the memory of deceased brothers, and in accordance with the request of the White Cross Lodge and Division No. 7, U. R. K. P. of this city will on next Tuesday afternoon march to Evergreen cemetery and after appropriate services decorate the graves of all deceased brothers who are buried there. On Sunday evening preceding the lodges will attend St. Paul's church in a body where appropriate services will be held.

On Tuesday evening an entertainment will be held at Castle hall to which all Knights and their friends are invited. Rev. E. G. Sanderson, of Duluth, chaplain of the First Minnesota Reg't, U. R. K. P., will deliver the address.

We understand that the ladies of Blossom Temple No. 6, Pythian Sisters, have been invited to attend in a body and participate in all the exercises.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. J. J. Frost desires the DISPATCH to extend his heartfelt thanks to the friends and neighbors who so kindly and generously extended their aid to him during his recent sad affliction.

JOHN ROBINSON'S SHOW.

A Generous Monopoly.

Monopolies are almost exclusively organized upon the basis of giving the people the least possible quantity and charging them the biggest possible price for it. In plain words, this is swindling. Envious inferiority sometimes calls our "Greatest Show on Earth" a monopoly. Well, so it is; but mark well in what a different sense and upon what different principles. It gives the public a great deal more, and of a better quality, for the least possible price than was ever given or any one else can give. This is the broad, honest and generous basis upon which we are monopolizing the business of traveling shows. The field is a big one. Let others do likewise, if they want to or can.

A visit to this great show, vastly augmented by the addition of the masterpiece of the master mind of American artists, viz: King Solomon, his Temple, and the Queen of Sheba, replete with sacred realisms, historical accuracies, biblical events, colossal processional features, bewitching ballets, sacrificial ceremonies, and the splendors and glories of the court of Solomon, the seer, the patriarch, and grandest and greatest of ancient kings, will prove one of the most interesting and enjoyable events of our day.

An Important Enterprise.

Concerning Brainerd's new mill industry the Minneapolis Lumberman says:

The proposition to issue $100,000 in bonds in aid of the railroad to be built by the Northern Mill company was almost unanimously voted by the city of Brainerd. In Brainerd only two or three votes were cast against it, and fifteen of the sixteen outside precincts voted in its favor. The proposition carries with it the removal of the mill now at Gull River to Brainerd and its reconstruction upon an enlarged scale. This work will be done at the end of the sawing season, and in the meantime the work of building the railroad will go on. The enterprise is an important one to Brainerd. It will give that city another first-class saw mill managed by experienced and capable men who now control a large amount of timber. But the removal of the mill from Gull River promises to make the village of that name only a tradition, as whatever of existence it enjoyed rested only on the mill itself.

Ties for the New road.

John LaFond, of this city, has been awarded the contract of furnishing 50,000 ties for the new Brainerd and Northern Minnesota railway to be used in constructing that portion of the road between Brainerd and the present southern terminus of the road. Mr. LaFond begins work immediately on getting out these ties, having advertised for 50 men for that purpose. We understand that Wm. Gergen has also been awarded contract to get out 14,000 ties to be used at the northern end of the line.

Union Services.

There will be union services of all the churches next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the City Park. All are cordially invited, and singers are especially invited on the platform. The usual services at the Y. M. C. A. at that time are withdrawn. Everybody bring Gospel Hymns No. 5.

A Chinese Actor.

A real Chinaman from the Royal Theatre of Hong Kong interprets the character of One Lung in the latest success, "Avenged," which Manager Alexander has succeeded in securing for one night on June 14th.

The "Big 9" is showing a splendid stock of boots, shoes, slippers and ties for this season. Our black tennis shoes are nobby. Call and see them. R. F. Walters, Sixth street
