NOT A SICK DAY

For Over Thirty Years!

RESULT OF USING

AYER'S PILLS

"Ayer's Cathartic Pills for over thirty years have kept me in good health, never laying half a sick day in all that time. Before I was twenty I suffered almost continually—as the result of constipation—from dyspepsia, headaches, neuralgia, or boils and other eruptive diseases. When I became convinced that nine-tenths of my troubles were caused by constipation, I began the use of Ayer's Pills, with the most satisfactory results, never having a single attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife, who had been an invalid for years, also began to use Ayer's Pills, and her health was quickly restored. With my children I had noticed that nearly all their ailments were preceded by constipation, and I soon had the pleasure of knowing that with children as with parents, Ayer's Pills, if taken in season, avert all danger of sickness."—H. Wetzstein, Byron, Ill.*

Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Whereas, Default has been made in the conditions of a mortgage, given by Halsey J. Spencer and Lillian J., his wife, mortgagors, to Fannie E. Smith, mortgagee, dated the 20th day of April, 1892, recorded in Register of Deeds of Crow Wing County, Minnesota, on August 21th, 1894, at 31 o'clock a. m., in Book "J" of Mortgages, on Page 204, on which there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, $267.0, besides $126.10 taxes paid August 16th, 1895, on the mortgaged property, and no action or proceeding has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof;

And, Whereas, said mortgage was duly assigned by the said Fannie E. Smith to S. Robinson by deed dated April 20th, 1895, and recorded in said Register of Deeds April 20th, 1895, at 10 o'clock M. in Book "K" of Mortgages, Page 611, said way, by assignment, dated August 20th, A. D. 1895, and recorded in said Register of Deeds, on the 20th day of August, 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m., in Book "K" of Mortgages, on Page 324, duly assigned by said S. Robinson to Fannie E. Smith;

Now, Therefore, Notice is Hereby Given, That under a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and the statute in such case provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises by the Sheriff of said County, at public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Brainerd, Crow Wing County, Minnesota, on the 7th day of October, A. D. 1895, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to satisfy said mortgage, taxes, and costs of sale, including attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage.

The premises to be sold, are situated in said County, and described as follows:

The East half of Lots 31, 32, 33 and 34, of Block Number 3, Lots 13, 14, 15 and 16, in Block 25, in the town of Brainerd. Lots 17, 18, 19 and 20, of Block 37, in Brainerd, according to the Town of Brainerd sec. Lots 31 and 32, of Block 16, and Lots 21, 22, 23 and 24, of Block 17, in the Second Addition to the Town of Brainerd. Lots 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36 and 37, of Block 2, and Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, of Block 3, in Addition to the City of Brainerd, according to the plat of said Town and Addition of record in the General Record of Deeds.

Probate Notice.

STATE OF MINNESOTA, County of Crow Wing. } In Probate Court, Special Term, July 25th, 1895.

In the matter of the estate of H. W. Simons, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of D. H. Stevens, administrator with the will annexed, of the estate of H. W. Simons, deceased, representing, among other things, that he has fully administered said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing his final account of his administration, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate to the persons entitled thereto by law:

It is ordered, That said account be examined, and petition heard, by this Court, on Monday the 19th day of August A. D. 1895, at 10 o'clock a. m., as the probate office in the County Court House in said county.

And it is further ordered, That notice thereof be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order once in each week, for three successive weeks previous to said day, in the Brainerd Dispatch a weekly newspaper printed and published in said county.

Dated at Brainerd, Minn., the 25th day of July, A. D. 1895.

By the Court:
MILO COLE McFADDEN, Judge of Probate.

The thumb is an unfailing index of character. The Square Type indicates a strong will, great energy and firmness. Closely allied to the Spatulated Type, it shows a combination of advantageous and beneficial qualities. Both of these types belong to the busy man or woman; and Demorest's Family Magazine presents especially for such persons a whole volume of new ideas, conceived in a small space—with a record of the whole world's work. Demorest's Family Magazine is read by half a million Central Type individuals for refinement, culture, and a love of music, poetry, and fiction. A person with this type of thumb will thoroughly enjoy the literary attractions of Demorest's Magazine. The Conical Type, combined with the Square Type, shows a will and fed very pleasure in the magnificent oil-etchings of Raphael, reproduced from the original painting by De Lungre, the most celebrated living flower-painter, which will be given away with the October No. of Demorest's Magazine free. The Conical Type of thumb is a rare one, and cannot be distinguished from the original. Besides this, an exquisite oil or water-color picture, I purchased in each month, will be given away, and the subscription price is reduced to one dollar a year. Demorest's Family Magazine presents the finest specimens of the world's art works of the highest order. The Philosophic Type of thumb of the thinker and inventor of ideas, what will pay, is represented in those developments, given in Demorest's Magazine, in every department of human interest, which cover the entire artistic and scientific field, including science, fact, fancy, and fad of the day. Demorest's is simply a Model Family Magazine, and may long be cherished as such. Only one dollar a year, including a pattern worth $2.00, and you will have a fresh Magazine in one, of Mme. W. Jennings Demorest, Publisher, 15 East 14th Street, New York. Though not a fashion magazine, its perfect fashion department is invaluable on family and dress matters, and is a most attractive interest to those beautifying the Feminine Type of Thumb, which indicates in its small size, slenderness, soft nail, smooth, rounded tip, those traits which belong exclusively to the gentler sex, every one of whom should be a Demorest subscriber. Be it understood with the matter, neither a question nor a doubt, that every dollar that saving Thumb has put into its saving money by finding in its Magazine everything to satisfy the literary tastes of the whole family.

How's This for a Record.

Sherwood's Cough Syrup has been manufactured and sold in Brainerd for over 20 years on a positive guarantee and not a bottle has been returned

It now looks as if the N. P. receivership will shortly be terminated by the courts.

The late grand jury could find no one to indict. Few people realize what a moral community Brainerd has become.

Over six weeks have been consumed in getting a jury in the Durant murder case. The people out there must all be quite intelligent.

The coming state fair will eclipse all preceding ones in the magnificent display of agricultural products, and in other respects. Don't fail to attend.

It looks very much as if the arrest of Mrs. Perkins, of Minneapolis, for the murder of Mrs. Hawkins, is a case of malicious persecution by life insurance companies to escape paying death liabilities.

Judging from the report of the grand jury published elsewhere in this issue, the city lock-up must be in a bad sanitary condition. The city authorities should see that the matter is remedied at once.

The Minneapolis Times has just issued a supplement which it styles "Northwestern European Edition," which must be very complete judging from its size. It contains over 100 pages of matter, giving facts and figures to show that the northwest is the most enterprising and productive spot on earth.

Grover Cleveland wants a third term it is reported. It has been generally believed that he has a very exalted opinion of himself, but no one really thought him so conceited as to think that he could get what was denied the illustrious hero Grant, and the long line of illustrious men who preceded him in the office. Grover's head, evidently, is badly swelled.

Chickamauga.

Thirty-two years ago—Sept. 19-21, 1863—"Old Rosy" and his army of the Cumberland, who had been following Bragg from Murfreesboro since the preceding January, were treated to a surprise on the banks of Chickamauga Creek. Rosecrans knew that his enemy, who had evacuated Chattanooga in haste, was somewhere in the hilly country to the south, and planned to fall upon him from several directions and compel a surrender of the whole rebel army. What Rosecrans did not know was that Longstreet's corp of veterans from Virginia were already re-inforcing Bragg, and when he found it out the Union army was making good time away from a lost field. Had it not been for "Pap Thomas" and the Fourteenth Corps our boys might not have stopped at Chattanooga that night. Many are yet living who were among the visiting tourists there then, though most of the leaders have passed away. This month there will be a great gathering of ex-soldiers at Chattanooga to assist in the dedication of monuments on the Chickamauga battle field. The most distinguished of the old soldiers on both sides will be there. A low rate is made by the railroads—open to all—and never will you have a better opportunity to visit this historic battle ground, now in the hands of the government as a reservation park, dotted with monuments to show points of note. Tickets should be purchased of your home agent via the Burlington Route, which has the best accommodations, and offers two routes—via Chicago or via St. Louis. For maps, rates, time-tables and any information, address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Farmers' Institute at the State Fair.

The Farmers' Idstitute at the State Fair promises to be a drawing card this year. The fact of having the product of every department on the grounds to illustrate the work makes a feature in farmers' institutes that every progressive farmer takes an interest in seeing.

Dr. Curryer, Ass't Supt., Mankato, says the tented city is rapidly filling up, and this fact alone shows that our state fair is on the eve of becoming what it should be, viz: the annual gathering of the best of our products as an exhibition of what we can do and learn from each exhibition, and the method of it production. Every locality in the state should send a few of its most progressive farmers to the state fair this year for what can be seen and learned through this institute, besides it will be an encouragement for all our future state fairs in this work. As long as there is tent room it should be taken advantage of for best results.

Every farmer attending the state fair should call at Farmers' Institute "headquarters" and leave his name and address to aid farmers' institute work in his locality hereafter.

Providence

Has given Minnesota bountiful crops this year. An exhibit of them will be made at the State Fair at Hamline. Don't fail to take advantage of the opportunity and visit the State Fair via the Northern Pacific.

A MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY

Will Crow Wing County Agricultural Exhibit at the State Fair Be Next Week.

Prize Pumpkins, Potatoes, Cabbages, Grains, Fruits, Etc., Until You Can't Rest.

Probably the finest agricultural exhibit ever collected in Crow Wing county or any other county in the state, left here today for St. Paul to be put on exhibition at the state fair as a result of Crow Wing county's productiveness and the skill and enterprise of her farmers and gardners. Several days were occupied in collecting the exhibit, and everything was properly labeled and placed on exhibition in the store room in the new Lagerquist block just as fast as received. The work of labeling and arranging was performed under the direction of A. R. Cass, one of our most prosperous farmers, assisted by Mrs. H. Theriot, of this city, who seemed to be the right persons in the right place. The room was constantly thronged with citizens who called to inspect the display, and they were amply rewarded, as the constant expressions of pleasure and delight heard on all sides indicated. The articles were arranged in sections, all products from a town being placed in one section, and in this manner one had an opportunity to see at a glance how the exhibits of the different towns compared. However, they were all so fine, that there did not appear to be much difference. Bay Lake, as usual, had the best exhibit of fruit, but the gardeners of the city, we think, had a little the best display in the way of vegetables.

There were several very fine individual collections, notably those made by J. A. Bixby, of Oak Lawn, and Messrs. Brockway, Betzold and Phillip O'Neil, of this city, and G. A. Hunt, of Bay Lake. The best exhibit of flowers was made by Mrs. Shontell, of Brainerd, but Mrs. J. A. Wilson, of Crow Wing, had a fine exhibit, as did also her daughter, Miss Belle, and Mrs. G. A. Hunt, of Bay Lake. The best, in fact, only exhibit of ripe tomatoes, was made bp A. G. Emmons, of Long Lake, and it was a "dandy." It contained a cluster of twelve tomatoes, of the early Michigan variety, on one stem, which was conceded by all who saw it, the best ever seen. W. A. Prentice, of Ft. Ripley, had an exhibit of apples that deserves special mention. It contained a small twig broken from the tree bearing twelve large apples. The tree from whice this was taken, Mr. Prentice informs us, has been planted only six years, and has borne fruit four seasons. This does not look as if Crow Wing county was too cold to raise apples, as some people have claimed. J. J. Stearns' exhibit from Davenport, contained samples of timothy and clover raised from seed furnished by the state and planted in May, that could not be beaten anywhere. Geo. McCulloch, overseer of the poor farm, had a fine display of all kinds of agricultural products. The best exhibit of corn on the stalk was furnished by John Theriault, of Davenport. The stalks were fifteen feet high, and each contained two fine, full-grown ears. There were other equally as fine displays by different individuals, but time and space prevents us from making any special reference to them, yet we can't refrain from speaking of the fine beans raised by Farmer Losey, in the Second ward. They were prominently displayed, and deservedly so, for they are all right, as the writer knows to his satisfaction, having sampled them, owing to Mr. Losey's kindness. The following is a list of those making exhibits:

BRAINERD.

M. K. Swartz—Fine sweet corn and Early Rose potatoes.

A. E. Losey—Beans and tomatoes.

Mrs. K. S. Paine—Collection of dalias.

Beware!

Of Setting Forest and Prairie Fires.

Office of State Forest Commissioner, St. Paul, Minn., May, 1895.

Under the act of the legislature of Minnesota for the preservation of forests and for the prevention and suppression of forest and prairie fires, approved April 18, 1895.

The following are liable to a penalty not exceeding $100 or imprisonment not exceeding three years:

Any person refusing, without cause, to assist fire wardens in extinguishing forest or prairie fires.

Any fire warden who neglects to perform his duties.

Any person who wilfully, negligently or carelessly sets on fire, or causes to be set on fire, any woods, prairies or other combustible material thereby causing injury to another.

Any person who shall kindle a fire on or dangerously near to forest or prairie land and leave it unquenched, or who shall be a party thereto.

Any person who shall use other than incombustible fire wads for firearms, or carry a naked torch, firebrand or other exposed light in or dangerously near to forest land,

Any person who shall willfully or heedlessly deface, destroy or remove this or any other warning placard posted under the requirements of the above mentioned act.

The recent Geographical Congress in London was of the opinion that geography ought to have a place in the studies at colleges and universities. It is a good suggestion, for, as a matter of fact business men have occasion to look up geographical facts every day of their lives. Some curious studies in the phonograph have recently been made by scientists in Europe. As the marker runs over the wax cylinder the investigators have traced the vibrations photographically on glass plates, thus obtaining the curves of the tones peculiar to each vowel. The decline of the wine product of France from 660,000,000 in 1895 does not disturb the increasing importation of French wines to this country, but it certainly shakes the faith in the purity of the 400,000 dozen bottles that are now required to meet the American demand for French wines. Some of the imported wines are our own grape juice doctored and not improved, and others are intimately related to the American dried apple. If all their secrets were known the importation of wines would take a tumble.

FRAKER IS CAUGHT.

THE KANSAS INSURANCE SWINDLER FINALLY RUN TO EARTH.

After a Search Lasting Two Years He Is Arrested Near Tower, Minn., Where He Had Been Living in the Woods.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 4. — George Fraker of Topeka, Kan., the man who was supposed to have been drowned in the Missouri river two years ago, was captured in the woods near Tower, Minn., yesterday.

Fraker's life was insured for $58,000, and the heirs brought suit in the Kansas courts to recover. The case went to the supreme court and was one of the most famous insurance cases of the country. The insurance companies were defeated in the final decision, it being rendered last month.

The case is one of great interest because of a reward of $20,000 which was offered for his capture. Fraker is a physician, and up to the latter part of 1893 was physician to the St. Elmo hotel, the leading hotel in Excelsior Springs, a famous health resort near Kansas City. Together with seven or eight companions the doctor went fishing on the Missouri river one day, and after dark, while in company of Geo. Harvey, James Triplet and Jake Crowley, a negro, he disappeared and was seen no more. These three parties afterward swore positively that they witnessed his drowning while rowing in a leaky boat, but after a strict search his body could not be recovered. Some three or four months previous to this he began loading up with life insurance, taking $10,000 in the Kansas Mutual Life of Topeka, $15,000 in the Hartford Life and Annuity, $15,000 in the Providence Savings Life of New York and $8,000 in the Benevolent Society of New York, a total of $58,000.

Immediately after his disappearance the insurance companies held a conference and discovered that while the doctor's income was only about $1,800 a year his premiums amounted to $1,000 annually. Besides this, George Harvey and James Triplet, who swore to having witnessed Fraker's death, were men of bad character, Harvey being arrested only the other day in Eastern Missouri on a charge of having committed burglary in New Mexico. Triplet was a well known character in the Indian territory, and was said to have been drowned a short time ago.

Before going on his fishing excursion, Fraker had drawn all his money from the bank, saying that he was about going to California to bring home the orphan children of his deceased uncle. Forty-thousand dollars of the insurance money was payable to his brother-in-law in trust for these children. After a thorough investigation all the companies except the Equitable refused to pay the claims, whereupon James E. Lincoln, the executor of the will, brought suit in the district court at Liberty, Mo., which was afterward transferred to the United States circuit court at Kansas City. Robert T. Herrick was appointed jointly to conduct the case for the companies and was assisted by eminent legal talent. In the latter part of 1894, after an intensely sensational trial, lasting two weeks, the jury, acting under positive instructions of the court, returned a verdict for the defense.

A new trial was granted on technical points, but in February, 1895, judgment was given for the full amount and a stay of execution granted for six months, until Aug. 12, 1895. On that date the full amount was paid to the executor and the companies withdrew their offer of $20,000 reward.

Herrick obtained a clue in the latter part of 1894, which he has patiently followed ever since, until about a week ago, when he learned the whereabouts and assumed name of the doctor. Thursday night he arrived in Tower, together with John Wilkinson, chief of police of Topeka, to assist in taking Fraker back. They learned that Dr. Fraker went by the name of Schnell and lived with a young man in a woodman's hut fifty miles west of Tower, on the Itasca county road. A warrant was secured in Tower and Sunday morning, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Archie Phillips, they started in a rough wagon over still rougher roads for the place, taking along provisions for five days, giving out that they were to look after some timber lands.

About twelve miles from Tower Deputy Phillips, who was acquainted with Fraker under his alias of Schnell, saw his companion in a shanty, and on inquiring where the doctor was, learned that they had just moved to this place, and that Fraker was out hunting. On examining the shanty, a trap door was found in the floor with a considerable excavation underneath, looking rather suspicious. The young man was handcuffed and guarded and Phillips proceeded on the road. About two miles further a man with a gun on his shoulder was met, who was instantly recognized as the supposed dead man, Fraker. Herrick engaged him in conversation, when suddenly Phillips seized his arms and Wilkinson put the handcuffs on him. Fraker thought he had been arrested for killing game out of season, as Phillips was also game warden. When the warrant was read to him he was thunderstruck, but admitted his identity at once. He was brought to town at once, together with his companion, who hails from Wisconsin and seems to be an innocent party.

The prisoner is a well-built man of about five feet six, forty years of age, with short black whiskers. In conversation he stated that he had expected his relatives to get a portion of the insurance money and himself some also. He had been greatly benefited, he said, by the waters of a spring where he stopped, and that about made up his mind to buy the place, intending to make it a water cure resort. He would have spent $20,000, he said, in improving the place.

A FLYING YACHT.

A Ton of Dynamite Explodes on Gen. Campos' Boat.

There is a rumor here that the Spanish steamer Villaverde, chartered by Gen. Campos as his private yacht, has been blown up at sea. She went from here to New York ostensibly to go into dry dock to be cleaned and painted. She left New York on the 20th inst. to return to Havana. It is said that she had on board a ton of dynamite, being brought by Gen. Campos to be used in the campaign against the insurgents. This dynamite exploded with terrific force, so the story goes, tearing the ship to fragments.

Collette Charged With the Murder.

Butte, Mont., Special.—A coroner's jury to-day declared that the skeleton found in the mountains near the city a few days ago was the remains of Joseph Lavalle, the cattleman disappeared fifteen years ago, and that he was murdered by Napoleon Collette, who was at one time arrested for the murder but acquitted. A witness testified that he heard the quarrel between Lavalle and Collette, and that the former begged for his life. The witness said he feared to tell what he knew for he feared Collette. The latter's whereabouts are unknown.

CARNEGIE ON IRELAND.

The Millionaire Manufacturer Hopes for a Pacific Solution.

London, Sept. 4. — In a long letter from Andrew Carnegie, which is published in the Times to-day, he urges that the paper exert its influence to bring about a pacific solution of the Irish question. Such a course, Mr. Carnegie says, would probably command support in Canada, Australia and all the large cities populated by our race abroad. Mr. Carnegie then says that the language of the call for a convention of Irish-Americans at Pittsburg, Pa., shows the despair and disappointment of men who see in the advent of the Conservative party of Great Britain to power no hope for justice for Ireland. The letter then gives Mr. Carnegie's views in favor of home rule at considerable length, and concludes with saying:

"The question is not only a British one, but, unfortunately, an American one as well, casting its baneful influence over our politics."

KILLED IN A DRUNKEN ROW.

A Minnesota Farmer Murders His Hired Man.

Glenwood, Minn., Sept. 4.—Yesterday, in a drunken row, Elliott Erickson, a farmer living six miles south of Kensington, in Mora township, struck his hired man, Gust Carlson, on the head with a bar of iron, from the effects of which he died early this morning. The row occurred at Erickson's house, where there was a keg of beer on tap all day, and of which both had been partaking freely. The trouble grew out of a few words in regard to their nationality. Erickson is a Norwegian and Carlson a Swede. A few light hits were exchanged, when Erickson secured the iron and hit his companion the blow which caused his death. Erickson is a married man, about forty-five years old, and Carlson was a single man. Erickson was arrested and will be brought to town for his hearing. This has been the third murder in the county in five years.

Satolli in St. Paul.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 4. Mgr. Satolli, accompanied by a distinguished party of Catholic clergy, arrived in Duluth on the steamship Northwest late yesterday afternoon. He was met at the dock by all of the Catholic societies in uniform and attended by brass bands. Bishop McGolrick and all of the local priesthood and a number of distinguished Catholics from the Twin Cities, by whom he was escorted to the parochial residence. The visitors were then driven in carriages around the boulevard and returned to the bishop's residence for dinner, following which was a public reception, attended by several hundred Duluthians. The party departed at 11:20 for St. Paul.

St. Paul, Sept. 4.—Mgr. Satolli arrived here early this morning to attend the dedication of the Hill seminary.

Pure baking powders are one of the chief aids to the cook in preparing perfect and wholesome food. While those are to be obtained of well-established reputation, like the Royal, of whose purity there has never been a question, it is proper to avoid all others.

CARRIED CONTRABAND.

Interest in the Allianca Affair May Be Revived.

Madrid, Sept. 4.—The Polish count, Hobkirk, whose statement regarding the action of the American steamer Allianca in Cuban waters some months ago, has created considerable excitement here, declares that Capt. Crossman, of the Allianca, confessed to him that his vessel carried contraband of war, adding that as he was in Cuban waters, he must depend upon the superior speed of the steamer to avoid being overhauled.

Peacemaker Shot.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 4.—While endeavoring to prevent Fred Chapman from beating his wife to-day William Davis was fatally shot by the enraged husband.

Two Suicides.

Huron, S. D., Sept. 4.—While temporarily insane Mrs. A. J. French, wife of a prosperous farmer and among the early settlers of this county, shot and killed herself at her home, twelve miles northeast of this city, Saturday night. She was thirty-eight years old and leaves a husband and six children.

Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 4. — Henry Fulton, a prominent resident, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. He was forty years old and leaves a family.

Macon, Ga., Special.—An excursion train on the Southern railway, carrying the Knights of Pythias excursion from this city to Indian Springs for a picnic, left the track between Holton and Hope's Ferry. The baggage car and two coaches turned over. J. A. Kennedy of this city and Mrs. Hancock of Americus, Ga., were killed and almost every person in the two coaches was hurt more or less seriously. Several of them are likely to die. There is no way of accounting for the accident, as it is stated the track was in perfect condition.

Dr. Adams Bound Over.

Watertown, S. D., Special.—Dr. E. C. Adams was bound over to the circuit court on the charge of manslaughter because of the death of Mrs. Pendergast, upon whom Adams committed abortion. He admits the charge, but claims it was necessary to save Mrs. Pendergast. He was unable to secure bail. Adams is now coroner of the county and has been for years. He is a prominent physician and has the reputation of being one of the best surgeons in the state.

Favor the Ladies.

Cincinnati, Special.—The Cincinnati M. E. conference in session at Hamilton, Butler county, to-day, voted on what is known as the proposed Hamilton amendment to the rules of the general conference. This amendment restricts delegates to male members. The vote stood: For the amendment, 0; against it, 124; refusing to vote, 24. A motion to amend the rules so as to admit women as delegates to the general conference was carried, years, 133; noes, 0; not voting, 6.

Chang Promoted.

Shanghai, Special.—Li Hung Chang has been appointed imperial chancellor by an imperial decree in place of viceroy of the province of Chi Li, which office he formerly held.

MANY ARE INJURED.

BAD ACCIDENT ON A RAILROAD OF LONG ISLAND.

An Excursion Train Standing at a Station Is Run Into by a Wildcat Engine Going at a Terrific Rate and the Car Is Telescoped.

Brooklyn, Sept. 4.—An appalling railroad accident occurred near Woodlawn station of the Sea Beach railway in which fifty people were injured. While train No. 3, drawing seventeen cars which were crowded almost to suffocation by excursionists was standing at the Woodlawn station, a wild-cat engine came thundering along on its wake and crashed into the rear car, telescoping it. The car was full of passengers, most of whom came from New York. Many people saw the engine tearing along and jumped from the train and thus saved their lives.

A colored porter yelled to the passengers to jump. The runaway engine dashed into the rear car, smashing it into kindling wood and burying men, women and children beneath it. There was a mad rush of surging humanity from the train. Scarcely half a dozen people kept their heads or were able to render assistance to the injured. Patrolman Kelly, who was on duty at the station, turned in several ambulance calls and five ambulances from the surrounding hospitals promptly responded. In the meantime the woodwork of the wrecked car caught fire and was soon ablaze. Four cars were completely destroyed before the train hands were able to uncouple them and four cars were telescoped by the collision. Most of the injured were taken to hospitals and several will probably die.

The severely injured are Joseph Roe, Abraham Levy, New York; John Blake, Navesink, N. J.; William Gregory, Jersey City; Lizzie Weff, August Sudderstrom, Moritz Frankel, Joseph Roeman, Lewis Held, Joseph Freedman, Joseph Lewinson, C. Seyamarin, Charles H. Woods, wife and child, Miss L. Montclair, George H. Hammond, New York; William W. Keep, Brooklyn; Edward H. Freeland, Newark; James Hueston, Kearney, N. J.; Joseph Frink, August George, Gustavus Milling, Emil Setefk, Henry Kruger, Charles H. Merchant, Nellie Burlton, New York.

The police authorities, who have Engineer Frank Janson and Fireman Arthur Ross, of the runaway engine, under arrest, say that Engine No. 6, while chunting on the track was in danger, while going backward, of collision with another engine. The engineer thinking it impossible to avoid this collision, reversed the lever and jumped from the engine, followed by his fireman. The engine, however, jumped forward almost immediately and started down the tracks at a terrific rate of speed, resulting in the disaster.

In every receipt calling for baking powder better results and more wholesome food will be obtained by the use of Royal than any other, because of its greater leavening strength and absolute purity.

THE PEARY RELIEF.

News of the Expedition Up to July 15.

St. Johns, N. F., Sept. 4.—The first news from the Peary relief expedition since its departure was received to-day. It came by the American schooner John E. Mackenzie, returning from the Greenland halibut fishery. The Mackenzie met the Kite with the expedition at Holsteinburg on July 15. At Holsteinburg the Kite took aboard Prof. Dyche, one of the members of the expedition, and sailed again the same evening. Very little ice was reported south of Greenland waters. The crew of the Mackenzie think the Kite will have no difficulty in reaching Whale sound, where Peary's headquarters are located. The return of the relief party is expected about the end of this month.

A Mysterious Case.

Lyons, N. Y., Sept. 4.—The body of a lady was discovered, lying face downward on her hands and knees in less than four feet of water in Black brook, a small tributary of Clyde river, to-day by a colored boy who was passing over the bridge. The body was identified as being that of Miss Mary Reisdarph, daughter of George Reisdarph, a carpenter living near the hamlet of Merango. She had visited Lyons on Saturday, and was seen yesterday afternoon by neighbors five miles from here on her way to Lyons on foot, which would necessitate crossing the creek. It is said that she attended church in this village last evening. Indications are divided between suicide and foul play. The case is mysterious in every respect.

To Test the Law.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 4.—In the twenty-first round of the Clark-Cavanagh contest the contest was stopped by the police. Both principals and James B. Bates, the referee, were arrested and are in jail. This is a case to test the validity of the state law regarding prize fights. Application for a writ of habeas corpus will at once be made to the court of criminal appeals, the tribual of last resort. Should the court declare there is no law against glove contests an application will be made to the supreme court for a mandamus compelling the state controller to issue a license for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest.

Patterson Sworn In.

Winnipeg, Sept. 4.—Hon. J. C. Patterson was sworn in as lieutenant governor of Manitoba at Ottawa to-day. The feeling of opposition to him has died out here.

Attacked His Neighbor.

Eden Valley, Minn., Sept. 4.—Prof. M. Lewis attempted to shoot John Brick, a farmer, and now languishes in Litchfield's jail. Brick asked Lewis for pay for some potatoes and Lewis grew so angry he shot him. Many believe Lewis to be crazy. His wife left him after his murderous attack on his neighbor.

News was received at Dayton, Ohio, to-day of the death of Charles Anderson, ex-governor of Ohio, at Kuttawa, Ky.

The Twentieth Victim.

Milwaukee, Special.—The man who was to have the distinction of being the last workman to leave the new half-million-dollar intake tunnel prior to its being turned over as complete in its construction, reached the top at 3 o'clock this afternoon, slipped and plunged to the bottom, a distance of 165 feet. His name is James McGrath, and he lived at Sarnia, Canada. His was the twentieth life sacrificed in the five years that it has occupied to build the tunnel under Lake Michigan.

Another Death Results.

Wapakoneta, Ohio Special.—Andrew Eiferd, one of the strikers wounded here by Van Skiver in the riot last Tuesday, died to-day. Van Skiver, who was badly beaten by the strikers with clubs, was removed to jail today under the charge of murder. Voorhees, a striker in the riot, was also sent to jail charged with attempting to kill Contractor Meyer, who was heavily fined on a charge of profane and abusive language.

Freight Thieves.

St. Paul, Special.—At an early hour this morning a large box containing valuable furs was thrown from a Great Northern freight train between St. Anthony Park and Hamline, where it was discovered by Officer Arnold, of the Prior avenue police station, where it now remains for identification. No clue to the thieves has yet been discovered.

Raleigh, N. C., Special.—Secretary of State Octavius Coke, after an illness of five weeks, died to-day. He had been gradually sinking for several days and his death was not unexpected.

Sanitarium Burned.

Iowa Falls, Iowa, Special.—The Siloam Springs Sanitarium hotel was burned last evening, the building and contents being completely destroyed. Loss about $5,000.

BOODLE IN CHICAGO.

Sensational Charges Made Against City Officials.

Chicago, Sept. 4.—Property owners on Fifth avenue, one of the streets upon which the various elevated railways of the city propose to construct a union loop for the use of all the roads, have started out to make a big fight against the companies. They made application in the federal court to-day for a restraining order against the roads and their application fairly bristles with charges against city officials of various kinds and in different branches of the service. W. D. Kent, commissioner of public works, is specifically charged with being the agent of the Northwestern elevated railroad in securing the passage of the ordinance permitting the construction of the loop, and with having worked in various ways against the protesting property owners. A majority of the members of the city council are accused of having been bribed to pass the ordinance. The charge against the aldermen is general, but the filers of the application say that it can be made specific and is easy of proof.

A general charge of forgery of signatures is made, and specific charges are made against a score of persons of having signed for property of which they are not owners. The elevated road people are charged with having purchased these signatures at from $50 to $100 per front foot.

The charge against the aldermen is that those receiving the bribes are "persons unknown," but it is known they constitute a majority of the city council.

Among those whose signatures for frontage is said to be false is that of the Newberry Library, whose directors are charged with signing for seventy-nine feet when they own but fifty-two. One of the principals behind the application for a restraining order is the Blodgett estate of Grand Rapids.

Prof. Haines, Chemist to the Chicago Board of Health, says he has found the Royal Baking Powder the purest and strongest, and superior to all others in every respect.

THE BATTLES OF 1870.

The German People Celebrate a Stirring Period.

Berlin, Sept. 4. — Emperor William was astir early to-day and inaugurated the second day of the festivities in connection with the celebrations of the battles of 1870-71, by personally decorating with branches of oak leaves the four corps standards. The first regiment of the Guards were drawn up in front of the castle to witness the ceremony. At 8:30 o'clock the emperor set out for the parade ground to review the German-American veterans. The weather was beautiful and the city had put on its gayest attire. Large crowds thronged the streets, which were most elaborately decorated with flags and bunting. Leading manufacturers and merchants had vied with each other in contributing to the brilliancy of the display. All the public buildings in the city were decked in the most elaborate manner. The decorations of Unders der Linden and Friedrichstrasse were especially profuse. The Brandenburg gate was covered with laurel wreaths hanging from which were streamers of dark crimson velvet, bearing the inscription in gold letters: "How events have shaped themselves under God's guidance."

SPRING VALLEY RIOTS.

A Negro, Two Aldermen and Several Other Persons Indicted.

Princeton, Ill., Sept. 4.—The grand jury of Bureau county to-day returned an indictment against Martin Demalgro, mayor of Spring Valley, charging him with complicity in the recent race troubles at that place, and a warrant for his arrest has been placed in the hands of Sheriff Clark. Fifteen other persons were also indicted on the charge of being members of the mob. There are four counts in the indictments against the mayor, and the principal charges are that he refused, after notice of the intentions of the mob had been given him, to go before the rioters and in the name of the state command them to disperse. The penalty for and of these charges is removal from office or a fine of $1,000 or both. Numerous other indictments returned charge Mayor Demalgro, Ald. Hicks, Ald. Rivera and thirty-five other persons of Spring Valley and Seatonville with operating saloons on the Sunday of the riots and on other Sundays in violation of the state law.

Fusion in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Sept. 4.—Members of the state executive Populist committee are meeting here to-day to consider the fusion with the state prohibitionists. Nothing tangible has been proposed further than if it is brought about free silver will be the principal issue. They do not take kindly to this for their fundamental object will receive little attention in the coming campaign.

Under False Colors.

St. Louis, Sept. 4.—According to H. L. Green, deputy supervisor of building an loan associations, many national associations are doing business in this state under false colors. He proposes to stop this by enforcing the present law by which all national associations doing business in the state shall be compelled to publish a statement showing their financial condition.

The Stand Fell.

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 4. — During the labor day exercises here, just after the speakers had finished their addresses, the stand on which they stood gave way. Thirty persons went down to the ground with a crash. Three young ladies were seriously injured and may not recover.

Another County Heard From.

Denver, Sept. 4.—J. W. Hummel of Sandwich, Ill., has written to a friend in this city suggesting the possibility that F. J. Gregory and his nine-year-old daughter, who disappeared from their home in Kearney, Neb., March 6, 1894, may have been victims of H. H. Holmes. Gregory had $10,000 in his possession when he left home. He formerly worked at Holdredge, Neb., for J. W. Bennett, a real estate dealer in this city. There is no evidence that Gregory ever had any business relations with Holmes.

Witchita, Kan., Special.—Wichita has two sets of patrolmen in some of the beats of the city. One set is Prohibition and the other set is anti-Prohibition. The old policemen who were discharged demand their back pay, and the commissioners not having money to pay them the police said they would not quit work until a settlement was made with them. Heretofore the police were paid from the saloon revenue, and that failing on account of the enforcement of the prohibition law, there are no funds.

Mysterious Shooting.

Bluffton, Ind., Special.—Joseph Harrington, a well known resident of Elkhart, was mysteriously shot and killed and Mabel Moore received a flesh wound in the Indiana house this morning. The woman was the mistress of the house and claims that burglars did the shooting after stealing $500 in money and jewelry. Harrington and the woman had been quarreling during the night, and owing to this fact the latter was arrested on the charge of murder.

Shot His Wife and Himself.

Battle Creek, Mich., Special.—To-day Jack Wilson, a hack driver, shot his wife and then killed himself. Because of non-support Mrs. Wilson left her husband last June. To-day Wilson went to her rooms, dragged her from the house and shot her twice as she ran. The first ball missed her, the second struck her behind the left ear and came out of her eye. He then put the revolver to his right temple and fired, killing himself instantly. Mrs. Wilson cannot live.

Too Much Excitement.

Albion, N. Y., Special.—During an exciting Republican caucus to-day George Sprague, a prominent citizen of this place, dropped dead.

LIKE THUNDERCLAPS.

The improvements which W. H. Soulby has lately added to the microphone, or "sound magnifier," makes it one of the most marvelous mechanical contrivances of the age. The special construction of this instrument is of no particular interest to anyone except experts, but what is told of its wonderful powers as a magnifier of sounds well as the scientific and unscientific wel las the scientific and unscientific readers of "Notes for the Curious." After the instrument had been completed with the exception of a few finishing touches, Soulby found it absolutely necessary to keep the door of his workshop tightly closed so as to admit no sounds from the outside, otherwise the inarticulate rumblings given off by the "ejector" would have become unbearable. Even with closed doors the cap had to be kept constantly in place on the receiver to keep the instrument from sending forth a roar, which previous investigation had proved to be a combination of sounds produced by watch-beats, breathing, the hum of flies, etc.

A fly walking across the receiver of the instrument made a sound equal to a horse walking across a bridge, and when Mr. Soulby laid his arm across the box, the blood rushing in his veins gave forth a sound which much resembled that made by the pump of a large steam engine. The playing of a piano in a house across the street was, when ejected from Soulby's machine, like the roar of an avalanche, and the washing of dishes in the kitchen of a house across the alley made a sound which the inventor of the machine said was "a burden to his soul." When anyone entered the room, walked about, coughed, touched a table or the door handles, the shriek which issued from the ejector was most painful to hear.

Hundreds of uses have been suggested for the microphone, the most practical being those of blood circulation and lung tests.—St. Louis Republic.

THE POLECAT.

The Bite of One Species of It Produces Hydrophobia.

"Is the skunk a dangerous animal? I should say so," remarked Mr. E. P. Glaze of St. Louis, at the Hotel Page. "I know very many people will be surprised at the assertion, but there is one species of this unpopular tribe that is as much to be dreaded as rattlesnakes as I learned one year while sojourning in Western Texas. One night in midsummer a party of us were camping out on the prairie of Llano county, when we were awakened by the screams of a colored boy who had been taken along to cook for the outfit. He said that something had bitten him, and examination showed that his head was pretty badly torn. There were unmistakable evidences of a skunk in the vicinity, and there was no doubt that it had done the deed.

"The sequel is that, a few days later, the boy died a most horrible death of hydrophobia. I learned that it was not a rare thing for the bite of these miserable little cats to produce the dread ailment, and several well authenticated cases of it occurred before I left the state. Some people think that hydrophobia finds its origin in these animals."—Washington Post.

Elephants and Their Ailments.

"Elephants are very rarely the victims of serious illness," said the old animal trainer. "On rare occasions when something is wrong with them there seems to be little that can be done for their relief except to allow them absolute rest. On one occasion, when one of the big beasts was looking worn and thin after a hard season's work, carrying the saddle every day, two quarts of pure whisky were given her with the best results. The stimulant seemed to brace her up immediately and has been used with similar success in other instances. I remember a queer misadventure that befell one of the elephants during the summer of 1894. There was a loose board in the partition that separated the elephant's quarters on the elephant car from the little room at the end where the keepers slept.

"The floor of the little room was covered with straw mattresses and one Sunday, while the men were away, the elephant reached her trunk through the hole in the partition and before she was detected ate up an entire mattress. The next day the animal was taken violently ill, going into convulsions and making a terrible disturbance. The cause of the trouble was not discovered until one of the keepers remembered that he had concealed in the mattress five pounds of plug tobacco, which had gone down the elephant's throat along with the straw. The oldest elephant in the country is seventy years old. There is a wide misapprehension in regard to the ages of elephants. Elephants are not as a rule much longer lived than men and women. I doubt if they ever attain a greater age than 150 years."

Other Suns than Ours.

If our sun could be as far removed from us as are the seven stars, it would hardly be visible in an opera glass, yet there are sixty or seventy such groups as the pleiades in sight every night, each group being composed of scores of suns larger and more brilliant than that which makes life in our world possible.

Alcyone is a sun 1,000 times more brilliant than our "orb of day," and Electra and Maia are each 500 times larger than Old Sol. Several of these immense sun groups (taken collectively and not reckoned on the basis of individual members) are believed to be as much as 40,000,000,000 miles in diameter. If this calculation is not at fault, it would take light seven years to flash from one extreme of such a group to the other.

Golden Rod.

Look for the first golden rod in or near swamps. It blooms in the rich, damp earth some time before the blossoms appear on the dry roadsides. There are eighty different varieties in the United States. The flat-top is often taken for tansy. The dusty variety with bright yellow flowers, is found in fields, the blue-stemmed sort in woodlands. The sweet-smelling species is easily recognized by its bright satiny, and fragrant leaves. The silver rod is interesting, and not so much known as its golden sister. It bears a whitish flower and it belongs to the same family. In flower language golden rod means encouragement.—New York Times.

Saving the Fragments.

Chemistry, like a thrifty housewife, economizes every scrap. The horseshoe nails dropped in the streets are carefully collected and reappear as swords and guns. The main ingredient of certain ink was once the broken hoop of an old beer barrel.

The chippings of the traveling tinker are mixed with the parings of horses' hoofs and the worst kind of woolen rags, and these are worked up into an exquisite blue dye which graces the dress of courtly dames.

A Looker-On in Gotham.

Mrs. Meadow—I don't would there is so much poverty in the city. I seen the cause of it all the other day when I was there.

Neighbor—What did you notice?

Mrs. Meadows—Idleness. Never saw such idleness. 'Bout half the people was loafin' on the corners lookin' at the thermometers, and the other half was rushin' round huntin' fer standin' room near some other thermometer.—New York Weekly.

In For It Anyway.

Mother—I am not whipping you because you went in swimming, but because you told me a story about it.

Boy (blubbering)—Well, if you didn't want to whip me anyhow, what did you ask me about it for?—Harrisburg Telegram.

CAUSED BY VACCINATION.

(From the Journal, Detroit, Mich.)

Every one in the vicinity of Meldrum avenue and Champlain street, Detroit, knows Mrs. McDonald, and many a neighbor has reason to feel grateful to her for the kind and friendly interest she has manifested in cases of illness.

To a reporter she recently talked at some length about Dr. William's Pink Pills, giving some very interesting instances in her own immediate knowledge of marvelous cures, and the universal beneficence of the remedy to those who had used it.

"I have reason to know," said Mrs. McDonald, "something of the worth of this medicine, for it has been demonstrated in my own immediate family. My daughter Kittie is attending high school, and has never been very strong since she began. I suppose she studies hard, and she has quite a distance to go every day. When the small-pox broke out all of the school children had to be vaccinated. I took her over to Dr. Jameson and he vaccinated her. I never saw such an arm in my life and the doctor said he never did. She was broken out on her shoulders and back and was just as sick as she could be. To add to it all neuralgia set in and the poor child was in misery. She is naturally of a nervous temperament and she suffered most awfully. Even after she recovered the neuralgia did not leave her. Stormy days or days that were damp or preceded a storm, she could not go out at all. She was pale and thin and had no appetite.

"I have forgotten just who told me about the Pink Pills, but I got some for her and they cured her right up. She has a nice color in her face, eats and sleeps well, goes to school every day, and is well and strong in every particular. I have never heard of anything to build up the blood to compare with Pink Pills. I shall always keep them in the house and recommend them to my neighbors."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are considered an unfailing specific in such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. In men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price (50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50—they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Conversation at Dinner Table.

Talking is one of the best of all recreations, and a woman who understands the art possesses a most useful and enjoyable accomplishment, writes Amelia E. Barr in the Ladies' Home Journal. No dinner table is well appointed without good talkers; and the basis of interesting conversation is reality. After a course of London dinners Sir Walter Scott said: "The bishops and the lawyers talked better than the wits," that is, the wits talked for the sake of talking and the church and the law had something to talk about. Yet specialties and hobbies are not admissible at a dinner table, and a woman who can only talk on her own fad has no business in society. She ought to write a pamphlet or go to the lecture platform, for any conversation at the dinner table that is a strain on the attention or the patience of a becomes a bore; indeed, one of the chief elements of pleasant company is a readiness to talk or to be talked to on any rational subject.

Very Sorry.

He had been worshiping her for months, but had never told her, and she didn't want him to. He had come often and stayed late—very late—and she could only sigh and hope. He was going away the next day on a holiday, and he thought the last night was the time to spring the momentous question. He kept it to himself, however, until the last thing. It was 11:30 by the clock, and it was not a very rapid clock.

"Miss Molly," he said, tremulously, "I am going away to-morrow."

"Are you?" she said, with the thoughtlessness of girlhood.

"Yes," he replied. "Are you sorry?"

"Yes, very sorry," she murmured. "I thought you might go away this evening."

Then she gazed at the clock wistfully and said good night.—Philadelphia Times.

Rosie's Explanation.

The teacher told the children how a wise man once said that we have only one mouth and two ears, so that we may listen and hear twice as much as we speak. Afterward, to see how much of the instruction was remembered, she asked:

"Why is it that we only have two ears and one mouth, Frances?"

"Because we would not have room in our face for two mouths, and we would look too crooked if we had one ear."

"No, that is not the reason. You know, do you, Rosie?"

"Yes, ma'am. So that what we hear may go in one ear and out the other."

A Horse of Another Color.

"It is something," mused the poet, "to have an imagination that scorns the bondage of earth and soars untrammelled through the cerulean infinity."

He paused to jot the phrase "cerulean infinity" in his note book, hoping to make use of it at some future time.

"But—"

He gazed wistfully into the window of a cheap restaurant where the white-robed cook was industriously turning sinkers, "to have the price of a plate of ham and beans in your pockets is another thing."

He sighed meekly and once more mingled with the hurrying throng.—Truth.

Rosamond's Return.

Rosamond noticed that a grave, inquiring look came into the doctor's face at the first glance he cast upon the patient, and all the time he was feeling his pulse, he gave her the same eyes off him; and in spite of his assumed indifference, Mr. Medlicott was not unaffected by it.

"Well, what is it, doctor?" he asked, smiltingly.

"Nothing very serious at present; will speak with somebody immediately, which you must not neglect to take exactly according to the prescription," was he reply.

"What is the matter, doctor?" she inquired eagerly.

"Well, from the symptoms, I should say fever was impending; but it is strictly carries on the disease—it may avert it.

Rosamond felt very much alarmed; she told the secretary what the doctor had said, and he seemed to share in her fears.

The next morning Mr. Medlicott was better, the pulse was weaker; the pillow had gone out of his eyes and the fluid was in his cheeks.

But the next day there was a slight change in the symptoms, and so it went on for a week, one day worse and another.

Mr. Medlicott, a man of large experience and unbounded skill, was puzzled.

The furred tongue, the high pulse, the dry skin, but with over all symptoms of fever, yet the diagnosis was not complete.

Day by day Mr. Medlicott's strength was sinking beneath this mysterious malady, and within a few or six weeks of its first development the once strong, wiry man had become a nervous, irritable, fretful, and shadow of the one of his former self.

Some time before he was able to be up attending his office. Fortunately, his managing clerk was a man in very very respects fitted to undertake the business, and he had no anxiety on that score.

Not rising until late, he spent all his time in the library, sitting in an easy chair lounging, or dictating letters or talking with his secretary.

Indeed, influence is too weak a word to describe the strange power that this man, this comparative stranger, had come a exercise over the once sturdy, shrewd lawyer.

He had contrived to make himself so indispensable to Mr. Medlicott's existence that the latter looked up to him, depended upon him as a child upon its nurse; but he was done so subtly, so unobtrusively, that it never irritated, never humiliated the invalid with a sense of his own helplessness.

CHAPTER VI.

Suspicions.

"One morning after, when Rosamond was waiting in the hall to ask the doctor's opinion, she heard Mr. Grant entered the dining room and followed him to follow him. As soon as she had followed he inquired the doctor, "Is he worse?" she asked, with a quick, anxious look.

"Nay; much the same," he answered; "and I wish I could give you a opinion, which I want you to answer to the best of your knowledge. I mean that, as he is, I do not expect any, yet I must not answer them at haphazard, you, first of all, who gives Mr. Medlicott his food?"

"I always take it to him myself; the maid brings it to the library, and I am so sensitive about about his changed appearance that I do not like my full upon his face, and she saw a glimpse how much he had altered since she had been away. He looked worn, and haggard, and pale.

"This was a fine idea of his that she could not help remarking upon it.

"You are not well?" she said.

"Oh, yes, I am very well," he answered, irritably, and immediately sensibly ashamed of his pettishness. "

Several claims against the board were allowed, and the proposition to establish instruction in bookkeeping in the high school was voted down. The text book committee reported adversely to raising the grade of the high school, which was adopted.

In J. M. Elder's office can be seen an exhibit of potatoes raised from one hill that can't be beat. The potatoes were raised by J. A. Chase, a farmer in Oak Lawn township, and are of the Late Rose variety. There are 17 potatoes in all, weighing over 19 lbs., and will more than fill a peck measure. They are intended for the Exhibit Car, which the N. P. railroad is fitting up for exhibition throughout the eastern states.

Mrs. Hattie Castlemain was arraigned in the municipal court this morning charged with stealing $20 in money from Nettie Furgeson. It seems that both the ladies above mentioned were stopping with a Mrs. Holmes who lives in the old school house in East Brainerd. On Wednesday evening Mrs. Castlemain came down town and purchased a ticket for Chicago, and boarded the 8 o'clock train going to Staples. She had not left the house long when Miss Furgeson discovered that her trunk had been relieved of $20 in cash, and at once suspected Mrs. Castlemain. The authorities were at once notified, and a telegram was sent to Staples to arrest her on the arrival of the train, which was done. Deputy Megquier went up yesterday and brought her back and lodged her in jail. Her trial was set for next Wednesday morning.

Court Matters.

District court has been in session in this city since last Tuesday morning and will probably last until the middle of next week. So far only two cases have been tried, Fred Wilson vs. R. J. Hartley, and Henry Spalding and Michael Jones vs. B. & N. M. Ry. Co. In the former case a verdict was found for the defendant, and in the latter the jury is still out.

The case of J. W. Copeland vs. John Bubar, is on trial as we go to press.

The grand jury had a very short session, in fact, it is the first body of the kind that has cleared up its business in one afternoon and found no indictments in many years. The following is the report made to the court:

To the Honorable Judge of the District Court of the 15th Judicial District:

We, the grand jury, have visited the county jail and the city lock-up, and find the county jail in excellent condition. The city lock-up we found in a bad sanitary condition, with dirty, filthy cots, unfit to be slept on, and we recommend to the court that the proper authorities be requested to remedy the matter at once. To procure new iron cots, and to have the place thoroughly cleaned and repaired and kept so.

TRIED TO STOP HIS PAY.

Some of the Aldermen Evidently Don't Like Chief Barron.

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held last night, at which an effort was made by some of the aldermen to get rid of Chief of Police Barron by cutting off his salary, but the motion to that effect was lost by a tie vote. There have been no charges preferred against Mr. Barron and no reason was stated for trying to dispose of him in this way. The matter occasioned considerable surprise, although rumors of such action have been in circulation several days. The following is a report of the proceeding of last night's meeting, at which all aldermen were present except Purdy and Bartlett.

Reports of the clerk and chief of police and street commissioner for month of August were read and accepted. Reports of clerk and chief show 39 arrests during the month, and amount of fines collected $350.70.

City clerk's report of electric light collections show 745.60 received from that source.

On motion several small claims against the city were allowed.

The street committee was instructed to purchase a blade for street scraper.

Resolutions adopted by the fire department were read and referred to fire committee, with instructions to draw up suitable recommendations to forward to Mr. Tighe. The matter of fire telephone was also referred to fire committee.

Motion was made and seconded that the chief of police's salary be cut off at once, and that the city clerk be instructed to notify him at once.

The motion was lost on a tie vote, Ald McMaster, Jas. Gardner, Geo. Gardner and D. D. Smith voting aye, and Ald. Peterson, Reinthal, Adair and Larson voting nay.

Communication from Ambrose Tighe concerning water work matter was read and filed, and the matter of renewing insurance on electric light plant was referred to electric light committee to report at next meeting.

Petition of Con. O'Brien for a permit to erect a two story frame building on block 39 was referred to the fire committee.

The chief of police was instructed to send an officer to the 4th ward twice a week to ring the curfew bell, and Sam Elliot was allowed $2 for said service, but that they be discontinued. The chief was also instructed to have the officer in the 3rd ward ring the curfew bell, and Ed. Breheny was allowed $2 for said service and notified to discontinue the same.

A certified copy of the report of the grand jury in regard to the condition of the city lock-up was read and referred to the mayor.

The health officer was requested to lay off the sanitary police.

Communication from True & Price in regard to claim of J. J. McDonald against Chief Barron was referred to police committee. Council adjourned.

Grand Concert.

A splendid musical and literary entertainment will be given at the First Congregational church on Wednesday evening next, Sept. 11th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of that organization. A glance at the following programme will show that it is going to be one of the richest treats ever enjoyed by the music-loving public of Brainerd. The proceeds will go towards paying church expenses, which, in itself, is a worthy object, and should draw a large attendance. But the entertainment itself will be worth several times the price of admission, and the spacious church should be packed to overflowing. Following is the

PROGRAMME:

1. Solo, Duet and Chorus, Good-Bye, Old Cabin Home .... White — Colored Artists, Ladies and Gentlemen.
2. Duet, Peace be to this Sacred Dwelling .... Smith — Mrs. Edwards, Mabelle Davis.
3. Guitar Solo .... Selected — Prof. N. D. Flores.
4. Solo, Caller Herrin' .... Lady Nairne — Maud Davis.
5. Recitation .... Selected

Mrs. D. E. Slipp and Mrs. S. F. Alderman entertained their lady friends at an afternoon coffee on Tuesday, at the residence of the former lady at the corner of Fourth and Juniper streets. The house was elaborately decorated with potted plants and cut flowers and presented a beautiful appearance. It was a most enjoyable occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Johnson, on Fifth street south, were pleasantly surprised at their home last Friday evening by a large number of friends from the Swedish Lutheran church. Rev. F. M. Eckman presented to them on behalf of their friends a gift of some over $40. Much sickness has of late visited the Johnson family and their friends would in this way help them "bear their burdens." Refreshments were served by the visitors and it was almost midnight before the unexpected "call" was over.

Mrs. G. S. McPherson gave a progressive euchre party to her lady friends, at her home on Kingwood street, Wednesday afternoon, which was a very pleasant and enjoyable occasion. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants and presented a very pleasing appearance. Nearly a hundred invited guests were present. The first prize, a handsome jardiniere, was won by Mrs. B. A. Ferris, and the second, an olive dish, by Mrs. T. J. Sharkey, and the booby prize, a large red beet, adorned with a yellow ribbon, by Mrs. Kelly.

Death of J. A. Walker.

R. F. Walters yesterday received a letter from Miss Brucie Walker, of Milwaukee, stating that her father had died at 10:45 on Tuesday night at their home in that city, where they have lived since last spring. This will be sad news to many friends of Mr. Walker in this city. Mr. Walker lived here for many years, serving the N. P. company in the capacity of ticket agent. He was removed to Detroit some years ago when the offices of ticket and freight agent here were consolidated, where he worked for the company until last spring, when he received a stroke of paralysis, which left him unfit to perform any labor whatever. He then removed to Milwaukee, where his daughters, Misses Laura and Brucie Walker were teaching, and made his home with them. He had the respect of all while living here, and his death will be mourned by all who knew him.

Deaths.

Elmer Mackay, a 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mackay, who live on Pine street in Southeast Brainerd, died on Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, of cholera infantum.

J. B. Herrington, of Fargo, N. D., a brother-in-law of Engineer Willis, died at his home in that city on Tuesday, of Bright's disease. His remains were shipped to this city for burial today. They were met at the 12:45 train by Pap Thomas Post, deceased being an old soldier, and escorted to Evergreen Cemetery, where services were conducted by Rev. Opie.

We have some Misses' and Children's Shoes that are solid goods, but old styles, which we offer at one-half price.

A Good Company.

Marie Wellesley's Players continue to hold forth this week at the opera house where they have been entertaining large audiences nightly. While none of the members of the company are particularly bright stars, they are all clever, hard working, pains-taking actors and actresses, hence give better performances than if there was one or two brilliant people and all the rest dummies, as is too frequently the case. Their pieces are all well mounted, splendidly staged and well costumed, which adds greatly to the merits of the plays. Last night they repeated that dramatic gem, "On the Suwannee River." Tomorrow a matinee will be given when "Comrades" will be produced for the delight of the little ones. The bill for tonight (Friday) will be the celebrated drama entitled "A Noble Outcast," and on Saturday evening they will present "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The Boys Come Back.

Brainerd's ball club returned home on Tuesday after an absence of three weeks, during which time they played twenty games, winning seventeen and losing three, a record unequalled in the history of the national game. Two out of the three games lost was because of sickness. They came home much earlier than expected, because of a lack of pitchers, Halloran having left the team unexpectedly, and as a result Frank Howe was worn out with overwork. However, their tour, as long as they were in good shape, was one succession of victories, of which they can justly feel proud. The boys played four games at Mankato, winning two and losing two. Following is the score:

Brainerd	0	0	0	0	3	0	3	0	x	—6
Mankato	1	0	0	0	1	0	0	1	2	—5

The second game brought defeat, and judging from the score, was not as well played on either side. The following was the score:

Mankato	0	5	3	1	0	0	0	0	1	—10

The third game also resulted disastriously for the home club, as the following score will show:

Mankato	1	1	0	0	3	0	0	0	2	—7

The fourth game, however, the boys played in their old form and won easily. The Mankato boys were shut out until the last inning, when a hit allowed them to make their one lone run. Following is the score:

Although each club got two games apiece, our boys really had the best of it, for the aggregate score for the home team in the four games is 25, while Mankato only scored 23 runs. Every other club the boys played with were beaten "out of sight," and the Mankato boys would have received the same treatment had the boys been playing in as good form as usual.

Ball Games.

On Saturday and Sudnay the sport-loving people of this city will have an opportunity to witness two of the finest games of ball ever played here. At that time the home team will cross bats with the Minnesota Packer's nine, who recently defeated the St. Paul Picketts, and the Picketts had Denzer, the St. Peter cyclone, in the box. The Packers have also defeated the Spauldings, of St. Paul. Judging from the above record the Champions will have to play ball in their best form, or they will meet with defeat.
