PLOTS LAID BARE.

Frightful Explosion Under a Train in a London Tunnel.

Nearly Forty Passengers Injured.—Agent of the Terrorists.—Intensifying Rumor in England.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—At 8 o'clock p. m. another explosion occurred near the Praed street underground station of the Metropolitan railway. On the first alarm a strong cordon of police was summoned to preserve order, to keep the way clear, and to convey the wounded people to hospitals.

Passengers on the train at the scene of the explosion say there was a sudden darkness, a report, like a cannon, and then sudden darkness, the gas lights from the front to the rear of the train being put out. Glass was broken and splinters of wood flew about the cars, cutting and wounding many passengers. Above the din were heard the shrieks of the injured and panic-stricken people. All this occurred in a moment, and for a while confusion reigned supreme. The train, which was crowded, contained principally country visitors returning from the fisheries exhibition. After leaving the station the train traveled steadily ahead, although the concussion smashed nearly all the lamps in the Praed street station and caused much damage to the permanent way.

Almost simultaneously with the Praed street affair, a violent explosion occurred in the underground railway between Charing Cross and Westminster stations. Windows and signaling stations in the tunnel were shattered. At Charing Cross the glass roof of the station partially collapsed. The shock is described as being like that of artillery. The effects were similar to those of the Praed street explosion. Carriage lamps, windows, etc., were smashed. All traffic was suspended for a while. Although both explosions are matters of the greatest mystery, they are generally thought to have been of Fenian origin.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—An extra of the Pall Mall Gazette, confirming a statement that the authorities had been anonymously informed that an attempt would be made to destroy the train on which the duke and duchess of Connaught will travel to Dover from London, on their way to India, caused a great sensation. The chairman and general manager of the Southeastern railway has issued special instructions to the employes to be on the alert to prevent any interference with the train, and have devised elaborate precautionary measures for the safety of the duke and duchess. A large force of police has been stationed at the Cannon street, Charing Cross and London bridge stations, and gangs of plate-layers watch the entire track. These precautions were taken in consequence of an anonymous letter warning the privy council of the proposed attempt to wreck the train.

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—The lord mayor of Dublin, on his arrival, was escorted through the principal streets by a mounted guard. At one time during the march a riot was imminent, but, after one outbreak, the Orangemen abstained. For a moment, however, matters looked serious. Some one fired a shot, and it acted like a signal, and the procession was halted with a bang from the roofs, a fusillade of pistol shots taking place on both sides of the way. The lord mayor will probably ride, but beyond that the procession to-day was dull. Several of the Orange leaders have been arrested. The Nationalists marched the hotel and in the evening Mr. Davitt, the lord mayor, delivered his lecture on "Transportation" to a large and appreciative audience. No attempt was made to interrupt the proceedings.

DANZIG, Nov. 4.—A terrorist named Protowski was arrested at Dirschau, charged with having, on the several conspirators absent to attend the murder of Bismarck. He confessed that he was a nihilist, and had been selected by the other compatriots to perform the deed.

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—Prince Bismarck is in no wise annoyed by the reported plot to kill him. He regained his former strength. His complaint, however, that he no longer possesses the capacity for work which he formerly had.

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—The German press generally regard Protowski, who states that he was sent by the Russian Nihilists to kill Prince Bismarck, as an impostor or a lunatic.

LONDONDERRY, Nov. 3.—Several hundred factory women are on a strike because the proprietor refused to discharge a man in the factory who moved that the proposition of Londonderry rescind the resolution granting permission to the lord mayor of Dublin to lecture in the city hall. The women paraded the streets crying, "God save Ireland." They were attacked and stoned by a mob, which they fought desperately. The police finally dispersed the mob.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A disorderly crowd from Londonderry states that a man handed a parcel to a dock policeman, requesting him to deliver it to another constable. The parcel was placed in the dock yard and exploded.

Barb Wire Litigation.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The Washburn & Moen Manufacturing company filed a bill in the United States circuit court against the National Wire company and I. F. Ellwood to compel it to keep a contract for manufacturing barbed wire. It is charged that on January 1, 1883, the complainant issued a license to the National wire company to manufacture 2,000 tons of Monarch wire, of a specified gauge, under certain patents owned by complainant, the payment of three quarters of a cent on the pound to be made to complainant by the manufacturer. The bill charges that the defendant has refused to pay the royalty, and the Ellwood company has refused to furnish the wire, and prays for an injunction.

Fire.

CHICAGO, Oct. 31.—Fire broke out at this place and soon got beyond control and reached the store of Sperry Bros., containing over 60 pounds of giant powder, which exploded, hurling buildings, timber, and fire in every direction, and totally destroying the entire business portion of the town. Loss, over $50,000; insurance, one-third. A number of people were badly injured and badly stunned. One person was fatally injured. The people of Garfield are in a great plight. Not only are the majority of them burned out, but they are without food or clothes for the winter.

Close Call for a Hearse.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 4.—About 10 o'clock a freight train was passing over that portion of the Pan Handle bridge which is below Carson street, when two cars jumped the track. Fortunately the train was stopped before the cars were piled over each other, the roofs of the houses underneath, but both tracks were blocked for several hours, delaying the traffic of the road entirely. Incoming trains from the west filled the tracks for over a mile.

THE LINCOLN MURDER

The Question Unsettled as to Who Killed Ezra Burns.

LINCOLN, Ill., Nov. 3.—It can not be said that the verdict of the coroner's jury, that "Missouri Burns came to her death by means of a wound on the throat caused by a sharp instrument in the hands of some person to us unknown," causes general satisfaction. It was not what was expected. Probably the people of this section thought that Mr. Carpenter would be mentioned as having some connection with the crime warranting his detention because they believed pretty generally that he was in some way implicated, and they thought the jury would be influenced by public opinion and the popular demand that he be held without bail. One of the leading agriculturists of the county declared to a correspondent that the belief in Carpenter's guilt is general and that it will not do to turn him loose. The remark was full of significance.

The theory that an abortion is at the bottom of the affair is strongly corroborated by the disclosure of the contents of a letter written by Zora Burns to Thomas D. Dukes, her fiancee lover, on the day she left St. Elmo for Lincoln the last time. After indulging in considerable extended sentiment, the girl informs Dukes that she is about to start for Lincoln to do some sewing for a family, and that while she remains there she intends to submit to an operation upon her throat that may result fatally. She writes that if he does not hear again from her to consider her dead. This letter reached Dukes' Indiana home while he was in this city attending the session of the jury. It was put in evidence before a secret session of the jury, and even its existence was denied by the officials. The strength it gives to the Bloomington detectives' theory occasions further and more exhaustive search for the place where the girl spent Saturday night and Sunday.

LINCOLN, Ill., Nov. 5.—The first steps in the preliminary hearing of Orrin A. Carpenter, charged with the murder of Zora Burns, were taken by the attorneys of the defense, who filed an affidavit for a change of venue before Squire Rudolph and to prevent the case being sent to Squire Maltby, the nearest justice, they supposed him as a witness. The state's attorney served notice that if that game was played, he would subpœna every justice in the city, and in the able argument recited the prick of the defense. Squire Rudolph sent the papers to Squire Maltby, who immediately proceeded to the court house to try the case. The court-room was packed, large crowds were in the streets, and the excitement was everywhere intense. It fairly borders on a mob without a leader. A short consultation was held by the attorneys and officers, and a continuance to next Monday morning was agreed upon, which was duly announced to the disappointed multitude. This move was for the best, and Carpenter felt relieved when he was returned to jail.

CIVIL RIGHTS CAMPAIGN.

Another Meeting in Washington Addressed by Ingersoll.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 5.—The colored men are endeavoring to make their organization to agitate for a civil-rights constitutional amendment effective. The club or league organized last Monday, which was addressed by Col. Robert Ingersoll, the substitution for being devoted to the objects of the league. Ingersoll's speech was like his former one. He made the same point against the supreme court. He said he was told by a lawyer who heard his decision read that there was a passage in it stating that there were physiological reasons why the races should not be equal, but that this was stricken out in the decision as filed.

Fred. Douglass, in introducing Col. Ingersoll, made a short speech, in the course of which he said he had been misrepresented, and it had been repeatedly stated that he had denounced the supreme court. This was false. He had denounced the decision. This was the essence of his position. Efforts had been made to create the impression that the civil rights bill was a social rights bill. There was nothing to found this upon, notwithstanding the efforts of The New York Times and The Chicago Tribune to make it appear so.

A gentleman in the audience said Fred Douglass charged these journals with being traitors to the cause of liberty, but the reporters heard no such language.

Disappearance of a Pretty Music Teacher.—Her Premeditated.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 3.—Miss Stella Rundell, a music teacher of this city, has mysteriously disappeared, and nothing can be found out about her whereabouts. She was last seen with Mrs. Margaret Lyman, at No. 30 Hallock street, and left there to give her usual music lesson. During the day she said to one of her friends that she would be obliged to change her boarding place, as a married brother of Mrs. Lyman was paying her too much attention. During the conversation she said: "I am in a hurry, as I feel that some one is following me, and want to get home before dark. I feel as if I was going to be murdered. It is foolish, I know; but I can't help it." Just as she left the room on the street at her boarding place, but the Lymans assert that she did not reach home that night. In the morning her room was found just as she left it the day before, and all of her clothing remains there still.

Retirement of Sherman.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 3.—Gen. Sherman has formally tuned over to Gen. Sheridan the office of commander-in-chief of the army, and, entering on his first general order, one of farewell and the other of greeting, fills the brief official report has nothing new in the line of military movements.

It appears from the report that the army consists of 2,749 officers, and 23,333 men.

The Pension Lawyers.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 3.—Secretary Teller says the letter of his recent order will be to bar all attorneys who have been suspended from pension office to continue practice before the office until their cases have been examined definitely, either by reinstatement or conviction, before the secretary of the interior.

Duluth had a very tame election, casting only 3 votes, many of the people not knowing that such a thing was going on until they meandered into the saloons for their mid-day appetizers, and finding them closed they naturally retired, the cause.

Two men were arrested on a charge of false swearing and placed in the county jail. When they do cases of this nature they had the decency to wear false whiskers, but finding commission has, instructed the health inspector to see all efforts to isolate the cases.

An accident at the Pennsylvania steel works throws 1,000 men out of employment for a week.

Dynamite in the Miners' Association.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 6.—Great dissatisfaction has existed for some time among members of the miners' amalgamated association, some of the miners' delegates even being tinged in opposition to the Knights of Labor. The Monongahela bill miners have refused to pay assessments of the association, and it is said others will follow their example.

An Address to Parliament.

CORNWALL, Ont., Nov. 30.—Mr. Cartwright, the well-known Fleming iron-master, proposes to send for members of parliament from his borough of Kirkcaldy, Scotland.

POLITICS IN VIRGINIA

Riot at Danville Between Negroes and Whites with Fatal Results.

DANVILLE, Va., Nov. 6.—As anticipated, the election excitement here has culminated in a bloody riot, in which five negroes and one white man were killed and a number of whites and negroes hurt. As nearly as can be ascertained the trouble originated from a trivial cause. A big meeting of citizens was in progress and resolutions were passed denouncing Mahone. A negro who mixed in the crowd, several of white bystander from the sidewalk. The white man pulled, what he presently said the negro apologized. Then a colored policeman remonstrated with the negro for apologizing, and took his part. Both parties fell to blows, pistols were drawn, and firing began. In the melee two whites were killed and several wounded. The white youth, Walter Holland, son of a prominent tobacconist, was shot through the head and mortally wounded. The mobs became general. The shooting lasted for half an hour, and at that time the chief of police, Chief Jones, and the mayor of Danville, and drove them off. The firing drew crowds to the scene, and the mayor at once ordered out the militia to quell the fight. The negroes, however, retired to the black quarter of the town before the soldiers arrived. The whole city was roused by the noise, and the wildest excitement prevailed. One company of militia at once cleared the streets and something like order was restored.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Nov. 6.—A mayoralty election was held in this city to-day, and while it was in progress a report of rioting and firing at Danville was received. Excitement ran high, and a number of policemen were armed with guns and stationed at the polls. The election passed off quietly, however, and the result is not known.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 6.—The effect of the Danville trouble will be to still further consolidate the anti-Mahone vote. In Danville whites and blacks go fully armed. A local merchant of Danville remarked that he just as soon thought of going down town without his shirt collar as without his pistol. Three hundred revolvers were sold in one week in Richmond alone. There has been a pressing pistols and cartridges, their friends in Halifax county, and in a good many instances, despite the violation of the postal law concerning carrying the mails, have been use to carry boxes of percussion cartridges. In Hanover, where Jones is working upon the passions of the negroes, everybody is also under arms. The hardware dealers in the city of Richmond ordered a week ago, and have been compelled to order large supplies in order to fill the demand.

In South Boston, Halifax county, the white citizens held a meeting and elected a committee of fifty, which divided the city up into beats to be regularly patrolled until after election, the action being deemed necessary on account of the threats of negroes to burn and sack the town. The negroes are largely in the majority in these places. They have been furnished by the democratic leaders with arms. The hardware dealers in the city of Richmond ordered a week ago, and have been compelled to order large supplies in order to fill the demand.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 6.—It is stated here that Senator Mahone has telegraphed to Gov. Cameron, of Pennsylvania, to state militia throughout Virginia on election day. The governor has said, replied that as the militia was composed almost entirely of Democrats they would not obey the orders if issued. Upon this information being received, Mr. Gorham and Mr. Hatton called on the president, and requested that United States troops be stationed at points on election day when trouble is feared. What action the president will take in the matter is not known. The story, though generally credited, cannot be confirmed, owing to the disclaimation of the parties to talk.

The Brunswick Canal.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—The Illinois and Mississippi canal commission met in the city to-day, reorganized by electing John C. Dore, president, and Thomas Worthington, secretary. Dore were delivered by Senator Cullom, Mayor Harrison, Congressmen Springer and Henderson, John C. Dore, William Bross, C. Bonney, and several others. It was resolved that the government ought to conduct a waterway from lake to the Mississippi in the interest of cheaper transportation for the products of the Northwest, and an executive committee was appointed to take charge of the raising of such funds as were necessary for the preservation of the movement for securing the construction of the canal. Senator Cullum and Congressmen Springer, Henderson and Aitt, of Illinois; J. H. Murphy, W. P. Hepburn, of Iowa, promised support of the measure in congress.

The Chinese Mail.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 3.—Postoffice Inspector Sharpe is in receipt from San Francisco of telegrams informing him that the Tacks, from China, on her last trip brought over concealed in merchandise over 3,000 letters for Chinese residents of the city, for regular postage, on which would have amounted to over $300. Mr. Sharpe says he has no doubt but that four-fifths of the letters received by the Chinese in the country are smuggled in this way.

The Prisoner's Fast.

HARTON, Pa., Nov. 3.—Peter C. Small, the fasting prisoner, continues to have shooting pains in his head, eyes and stomach, and when he arises about 10 o'clock does so in a half-stooped position. His pulse is irregular also on two consecutive days. He regrets having undertaken a fast, and intends to have many visitors, especially ladies.

Ground to Fragments.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Maria Joice met a horrible death. Mrs. Joice, a woman on the big Annex at South Chicago, attempted to cross a moving freight train when he fell between the wheels and was ground to pieces. Portions of his body were found lying at intervals distant from the scene of the accident.

Ejecting Gov. Sprague.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 3.—A strip of trespass and ejectment has been entered by Governor Sprague to vacate the house which he has been occupying with his family for some time. This property was recently sold at auction by order of the trustees.

Anarchy in Afghanistan.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 5.—The latest accounts from Afghanistan show that the country is in a state of complete anarchy; the exchequer is without funds, the troops are demoralized, and the situation is a mere plaything in the hands of the Ghilzais.

Suicide of a Lawyer.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 5.—A. B. Johnson, a prominent lawyer and well-known Republican, suicided by shooting.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—The sensational contest in Ohio as the hottest ever known. The election count to have drawn out the hostility of all the Democratic leaders, and it is now thought that after a complimentary vote is given him in January, Henry B. Payne will be taken up. Other candidates are Allen G. Durbin, Wood and George W. Morgan, Judges Bowley and Geddes, and Hon. John W. Bookwalter.

Matthew Arnold's First Lecture.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Matthew Arnold at Chickering hall delivered the first of his series of lectures in America, his subject being "Numbers." His voice was low and seemingly affected and many persons left the house because they were unable to hear.

CROPS AND CASH.

Report of Failures—Trade, Crops, Business in General.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 31.—A trade dealer has completed his estimate on the probable yield of the corn crop of the United States for the year 1883. The report shows a total production of 1,321,100,000 bushels, or a slight increase over last year. The United States agricultural department reports the total crop of 1883 to be 1,617,025,100 bushels. The crop of corn this year will probably be the largest ever raised in the United States, with the exception of 1880. That year the country produced 1,717,435,000 bushels.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The business failures throughout the United States and Canada during the last seven days, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., of the Mercantile agency, number 175, against 216 the previous week, and 245 the week before.

Failures for the same seven days last year, 198; for the corresponding week of 1882, 190; for the corresponding week of 1881, 160; more than the same week of 1881 compared with the preceding week, the Middle states had 52, a decrease of 6; New England states 21, a decrease of 5; southern states 31, a decrease of 2; western states 62, an increase of 4; Pacific states and territories 9, a decrease of 1; Canada and the provinces had 37, a decrease of 3. The principal firms reported embarrassed were the R. P. Boyce Stove and Hollow-ware company; Authers manufacturing company, rattan goods; Lovejoy & Drake, hardware manufacturers; Spruth, Feldmann & Wall, straw goods manufacturers; Hilliard, Kent, Smallwhich, and Simon Luttenbach, shirt manufacturers; New York; Culver, Page, Hoyne & Co., manufacturing stationers; Chicago; Frank & Hunter, hides, St. Louis, and the Knife Falls Lumber company, St. Paul, Minn.

Fire.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A fire started in a timber yard in the east end of London, which was promptly subdued, and, it was supposed, entirely extinguished. The flames broke out afresh and accompanied by a brisk wind, defied the efforts of the firemen to check their progress. Twenty-five engines and 400 firemen are now engaged in a fierce battle with what threatens to become the most extensive conflagration seen in London for many years.

GLASGOW, Nov. 6.—A fire which started in the warehouses of Wylie & Lochead, on Buchanan street, Saturday night, was subdued about 6 o'clock the next morning. The flames were confined to the block in which the fire originated. The loss will exceed £2,000,000. Several lives are reported to have been lost, and one body has been recovered. Thirteen persons seriously injured and burned have been taken from the burned buildings.

The Missing Mary Churchill Found at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 6.—Miss Mary Churchill, the missing St. Louis girl, has been found here, she having been employed in the insane hospital for six weeks past in the laundry department, going under the name of Jennie Brown. Her conduct being exemplary in every respect. She is 18 years old, and declined to see reporters; but to others she told that when she left St. Louis it was for the purpose of erning her own living and ultimately going on the stage.

The Great Savannah Fire.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Nov. 5.—Thousands of people have visited the scene of the great fire. The burned district includes a territory half a mile long and one-eighth to one-quarter mile wide. Nearly 2,000 people are homeless and are being fed by charity. All of them are very poor, and most of them are negroes. About 325 houses were burned, most of them being little wooden tenements. Only a large warehouse, one foundry and a few of the latter class of dwellings were destroyed. The loss is probably a little more than $50,000. It is reported, and is probably true, that the remains of nine negroes have been found in the ruins.

Effect of Cheap Literature.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—Two school-girls, neither over the age of 16, went into a well known "palace of special virtue," in this city, for the purpose of entering upon a disgraceful life, but in some way the police authorities received a "pointer," that is how immediate arrest and return home. The girls were tired of school life, but they professed to say that their minds had been poisoned by reading cheap literature of the dime-novel sort. Both were members of good families.

John Jarret on Tin Plate.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 6.—John J. Jarrett, late president of the amalgamated association, has opened an office in this city as general agent of the United States Tin Plate association. He stated that a reduction on tin plate of 2½ cents per pound, which will allow it to be manufactured in the country, has been made for foreign prices. He claims that $50,000,000 of capital could be employed in the industry, which would give work to 25,000 men.

It is Town Talk.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 6.—George N. Davis, a leading lawyer at the Louisville bar, has of regular postage, on which would have amounted to over $300. Mr. Sharpe says he has no doubt but that four-fifths of the letters received by the Chinese in the country are smuggled in this way.

THE MARKETS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—On 'change to-day the market opened higher under speculative influence, but toward the close quietness set in and part of the advance was lost. Wheat sold higher; No. 2 for December sold at 90¾@90⅞, and closed at 90¾c. No. 3 spring sold at 82c, being 1c over previous sales at 81¾@82c, closing at 82c. Other sales: No. 2 red winter at 90¾c; No. 3 red winter sold at 87@87½c, and closed at 87½@87¾c. Receipts were much larger, but most of the increase was lost at the close. Mess pork for January sold at $11.10@11.12½, and closed at $11.05@11.07½. Lard for January sold at $6.82½@6.85, and closed at $6.82½@6.85. Boxed meats were steady and unchanged at 7.35. Prime Butter was firm and steady; choice table grades at 27@28c per lb for creamery, 24@25c for good to prime dairies, and 22@23c per lb for poor to fair stock; ogg were scarce and firm at 24c per dozen for fresh packed stock, in supplying the trade 23@25c per doz and packed at 22@23c; potatoes were selling well for early rose when fine at 60@65c per bu, but only fair to good mixed lots were slow at 55@60c, with nearly all in poor and in no way desirable.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Wheat—Opened 1@1½c higher and firm; trade quiet; prices nominal; No. 3 red November, $1.03@1.03½; December, $1.03½@1.04; January, $1.04@1.04½; February, $1.05@1.05½; March, $1.06@1.06½; May, $1.09@1.09½. Eighteen thousand Indians in Montana occupy thirty million acres of the best land of that territory.

The records of north pole expeditions have, it appears, given us an erroneous idea of the climate in the far North. Lieut. Ray of the Point Barrow station says that the terrors of the Arctic winter have been much exaggerated. So far the warm-blooded lieutenant will be able to carry people with him, but when he goes on to say that he would rather serve near the pole than in Florida, he gives people a first-class chance to double either his judgment or the quality of his humor.

Federmeyer and Guerrero, who are trundling wheelbarrows across the continent for a purse of $2,000, started from San Francisco on the 7th ult. Their time of starting was entered on their books there, and their books are to be stamped in every postoffice that they pass. The two will travel together to Cheyenne, and then each will take whatever route he may choose.—They expect to report at the New York postoffice about the middle of March next.

S. J. Hudson of Belvedere, Ill., who came to Waupun recently with two children in search of his runaway wife, found her masquerading in male attire under the name of Frank Dubois. She was living with Gertrude Fuller, having been married to her early last spring by Rev. H. L. Morrison, at the home of the bride's mother. Her disguise had not been suspected, but many thought Frank Dubois had many characteristics of a woman, as under this name she had solicited odd jobs of painting, and was making sufficient to support them both.

Edward Richards, 49 years old, an inmate of the National Soldiers' Home, has been asleep 29 days.—He went to northern Wisconsin on a furlough in September and was engaged as nurse by the sheriff of Bayfield county, who one day found him asleep. He could not be awakened and was brought on to the Soldiers' Home in a comatose condition. He is regularly fed by attendants and swallows anything put in his mouth. When helped up by attendants he can walk, is sensitive to touch on the bottom of his feet and draws up his limbs when tickled. In the early part of the present year Richards slept from Feb. 28 to March 16. He was once sent to the insane asylum and has frequently had cataleptic fits.

The returns from the November elections show that the Republican party in the Eastern States has pretty generally held its own, in some cases doing better. Massachusetts has been recovered and Butler defeated by about 20,000 majority. The Democrats have elected their State ticket in New York, with the exception of Maynard whose chances are in doubt. Their average majority will not be over 15,000. The legislature is thought to be Republican. The Connecticut legislature has also been secured. New Jersey shows a Democratic victory and Maryland ditto. Pennsylvania returns are thus far insufficient to make an estimate from. Virginia has been recovered by the Democrats, thus marking the fall of Mahoneism. On the sum up the Republicans have won the legislatures that elect senators in two States, have recaptured Massachusetts, and have got New York in good shape for victory in 1884.

Engulphed Alive.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—There was a terrific explosion at 8:30 o'clock this morning in the Montfield colliery at Lancashire. One hundred and ten miners were in the colliery, and only six have thus far been rescued.

LATER.

At noon twenty persons had been rescued, some badly hurt. It is impossible to estimate the number of persons killed. Parties searching for the missing miners traversed a distance of three-fourths of a mile before reaching the scene of the explosion.

According to the Railroad Gazette there was during the month of September a total of 150 accidents, in which 44 persons were killed and 183 injured; an increase of 5 accidents, of 10 killed and of 47 injured, as compared with the month of September last year. The month shows more accidents than any previous month this year except January, when there were 168 reported, and February, in which there were 184. The number of killed and the number of wounded also were exceeded in January, February and July. The nine months of the present year to the end of September, showed a total of 1,339 accidents, 364 killed and 1,331 injured; a monthly average of 137 accidents, 40 killed and 148 injured. The month of September was above the average considerably in all respects.

Sandwich Islands Possibilities.

The native race in the Sandwich Islands is rapidly approaching extinction. This fact cannot be classed under the head of calamities.—Indeed, there is no cause for regret in the knowledge that inferior races are steadily and inevitably giving place to the superior. There is nothing even pathetic in the spectacle of this realization of the law of the survival of the fittest, when that realization comes through natural and peaceable processes and is not aided by force and slaughter. But in the case of the Hawaiian group another question arises: What shall become of those islands politically in the near future? They constitue a natural outpost in the Pacific ocean for the commerce and the defense of the American Republic. They should never be permitted to pass under the control of any other power. It is not necessary for our purpose that they should be technically annexed to the territory of the Union; for they can serve our needs about equally well under a government of their own which shall be in all respects friendly to us. If it shall become a question, either soon or late, between the planting of the American flag over Honolulu and the transfer of the Sandwich islands to some one of the European nations, there should not be, and there will not be, a moment's hesitancy as to the course to be pursued by the United States of America. Meantime it is not surprising that a considerable party in that country is already favorable to early action in the direction of a closer union between our own government and that of King Kalakaua. This petty monarch is already practically surrounded by Americans as his aids and advisers. There are none among his native subjects who are competent to assist him in the discharge of the governmental functions enjoyed by him. With the king's death the question will be brought to the front, whether the dynasty he represents shall continue, or whether there shall be a change that will place the Sandwich Islands still more under American influence and in harmony with American interests.—The government at Washington ought to understand that the American people will tolerate no policy that looks to the surrender of this South Pacific sentinel station to the domination of any other country, and it is not impossible that the time is near when it will be necessary to exercise some vigilance, courage and promptness to prevent accidents in the southwest.

STATE NEWS.

The New York Times has the following observations in support of the view that the American wheat market is likely to be a rising one the present season: "In the United States we raise grain not only for our own people but also for the nations of Europe, and our prosperity depends in a great degree upon the demand for our bread stuffs in foreign markets.—If our crop is short, we have not so much to sell, but if at the same time the foreign crop is short, the foreign demand is greater, and we can dispose of our surplus, whatever it may be, at good prices. According to the latest estimates of the Agricultural Department the wheat crop of this year in the United States will be 415,000,000 bushels, against 549,000,000, bushels last year. Notwithstanding this shortage, we shall be able to send a large part of the crop abroad, for even in the year ending June 30, 1883, with a small crop—only 380,000,000 bushels—we exported 122,000,000 bushels, or very nearly one third of the whole quantity. How great will be the demand in Europe? The estimates of the Vienna congress show there is a shortage on the other side of the Atlantic. The total crop of wheat in 18 counties is only 950,000,000 bushels, or 15 per cent. below the average crop in the same countries for a series of years. It appears that Europe will need more American wheat than she has taken in past years. The value of wheat and wheat flour exported from this country in the last fiscal year was nearly $175,000,000, against less than $150,000,000 in the preceding year, and although we have not so large a crop to draw from this year, the shortage abroad seems to warrant a prediction that the value of wheat exported, if we can shall respond to the stimulus of the demand, will be greater than in the year just ended. We certainly shall have what enough to sell, for of the aggregate wheat crops of the five years ending June 30, 1883, we retained for home consumption only 65 per cent., and as has already been shown, we were able to sell one-third of even the poor crop of 1881. If to the apparent misfortune of having a short crop at home had been added the commercial disadvantage of a full crop in Europe, the outlook would not be encouraging, but a shortage of 15 per cent. in Europe turns the scale the other way."

STEDMAN.

On Chickamauga's fatal day,
When in the balance hung the ray,
A Northern column bared its breast
To stake by shot and shrapnel test,
Heard for slaves the battle-cry
A voice now hushed forevermore.

"Fix bayonets!" its leader said,
"Forward, men! charge home the head!"
Right onward came the steady tread
Of those who fought for life or bread.
"The men who fall back now," said he,
"Desert the flag, for it stays with me."

Sung by the talent, the ranks reform,
Right through the storm, left through the storm,
Into the jaws of death they fly,
Southland bearing the death cry.
While'er the battle on that field,
Hit the command that it not yield.

The country calls no more to arms,
Vanished are all of war's alarms,
The greatest flowers bedeck the sod
Where once the giant armies trod
Children play on the battle-fields
Where Death once sat in majesty.

The warrior bold who knew no fear,
Sleeps for aye on a soldier's bier,
There lies a face that never paled,
There molds a heart that never quailed.
Let garlands on his brow be pressed—
A hero passes to his rest.—Chicago Herald.

Washington Letter.

From our regular Correspondent.

October 20th, 1883.

It is not a hard task at present to keep abreast of the feeling of politicians in Washington over the political situation. As the result of a sort of general interview, in the course of which your correspondent has talked to leading men of both parties, and of no party, the conclusion is reached that we are all at sea as to what is to be expected in the future. Both sides are doing all the bluffing reason will bear, but both are anxious.—The democrats whistle merrily over the result of the Ohio election but when pinned down to the question whether that election is any real indication of a general gain by them are not able to answer the latin, that it is. A candid review of recent elections however gives them the showing of an advantage. This is more than offset the republicans say by the superior political situation of their party and the advantage it will gain this winter in Congress.

"What are these in a general way, I said to a political prophet whom I was talking with."

"Well," speaking generally, he replied, "the democrats are torn all to pieces over their internal, or party squabbles; they can keep these things from the knowledge of the people as there is no convention or congress, but when they once try to organize they will split into factions which will quarrel so bitterly and viciously that the public will be disgusted with them.—The republicans meanwhile can sit still and watch the spectacular sacrifice. The performance will begin with a fight over the speakership, and the offices of the House. Then the organization of the committees will ensue, and bring out the ambitions and jealousies of the leaders. When the session is fully under way the responsibility of the democrats, having a majority of sixty is supreme. They must proceed to legislate. Now take it outside of the appropriation bills there is nothing I know of upon which they agree upon among themselves. The leading issue is of course the tariff question. They are already committed to some action on this for they assumed the responsibility of the defeat of the republican measure last winter. The republicans won't let them forget it, and there are enough hot heads among them to insist on some legislation on this matter. If they once touch it the party will be rent assunder. There is no such thing as a harmonious understanding or compact between the North and South upon trade questions." Thus mused my republican friend and I set down his opinions for what they are worth. The offices over which both the houses will have a lively fight, no doubt at the beginning of the session offer some very desirable situations for cold weather. The presiding officer of the Senate and the Speaker of the House are each paid $8,000 per annum. The Secretary of the Senate holds the next highest salaried position and is set down for $6,096 a year. The clerk of the House gets $5,100, and the senators and members each draw $5,000 annually for sacrificing themselves to the public good.—The official reporters and stenographers, seven of them, are put upon the same financial footing at $5,000, which is not bad pay for clerical work for say five months of the year. Next in monetary value is placed the Sargent-at-arms at $4,500. Chief clerk at $3,000, the Doorkeepers at $2,500, Reading clerks $300, postmasters at $2,500 and $2,250 respectively. There are five clerks in the Senate at $2,593 per year and twelve in the House at $2,000 and over. There is also a small army of assistants, doorkeepers, messengers, pages, watchmen, janitors and the like at salaries running down to $500 and up to $2,000. These places are none of them subject to the Civil Service examination laws and requirements, but are open to political competitition. It is said that owing to the absence of Senator Cameron who is in Europe, and Senator Edmunds who will not be here it is thought, the republican senators even with the aid of Riddleberger and Mahone, can not elect republicans to the places named in the Senate, but will have to be content with democratic employes.—The House will turn out a large number of republican office holders and fill their places with democrats. Some people say that this action does not comport very well with the well known civil service reform views of Mr. Pendleton and his followers.

Alice, a three year old daughter of Mrs. Purcell of Waverly, was missing from her house while her mother had been visiting a neighbor. The charred remains of the little child were found the next morning. Her hands and face were dug into the city, and met limbs drawn up, as she had died in agony. After the mother had left the house the evening before her dress had caught fire from a low stove. She started to go where her mother was, but wandered off the path, and died in the position in which she was found.

The Dispatch has taken the front rank in lucidness at the State Capital for the fairness, ability and courageous independence of its editorial utterances. Its influence is shown in the course of Republican politics during the past two years. In every instance the policy it has advocated and the candidates it has supported have been sustained by the party and the people. The Dispatch detests corruption; hates humbug; scorns hypocrisy; puncture shams; exposes trickery, and in every impulse is true to the popular interests. It is the intelligent friend of every man, woman and child who works for an honest living. As a WEEKLY FAMILY JOURNAL, the WEEKLY DISPATCH comes before the Independent Honest Republicans of Minnesota, with more genuine claims for their patronage than any other paper published in or near the capital. It is a large eight-column sheet, crowded with condensed news, household information and literary miscellany, and is sent by mail, prepaid, at the incredibly low price of Bundy & Burns, proprietors of the Brainerd house, have a new advertisement in to-day's issue.

The articles of Association of the Brainerd Masonic Temple are published elsewhere in this issue.

The lumbermens' restaurant has changed hands, Mr. Brannon having sold out his interests to Wm. Plaisted.

Mr. W. Bishop, who has been employed here in the machine shops for some time, left for Minnesota Monday night.

P. Martin, of Woodlawn and John Elwell, of Brainerd, were registered at the Windsor, Duluth, on Tuesday.

John R. Leland, John McCarthy and yard master Murphy have each been blessed with the arrival of a son within the past week.

Arthur and Joseph Child, and Albert Angell are visiting in St. Paul this week, looking over the wonders of the dual cities.

The general foreman of the car shops, Mr. Dodge, says that they will be taking on men again in that department in a few days.

The N. P. road are making some very bad runnings on the West end of the road. The night train is invariably from five to eight hours late.

Mr. Snell, the gentleman who was so unfortunate as to accidentally shoot himself through the foot last Thursday night, is getting along finely.

N. H. Ingersoll has gone to Plover, Wisconsin, where he will spend the sabbath under the parental roof, returning to Brainerd next Tuesday.

Prof. Atcherson and wife left on Monday for East Minneapolis, where they will start a class in dancing. They will also have a class at Anoka.

Summerfield & Wheeler have leased the Jordan Theatre and took possession Monday. They have good show and can be found along the line.

The firm of Linneman & Koop have dissolved, Mr. L. buying out the interest of Mr. Koop. The institution will be run on a strictly cash basis hereafter.

The Brainerd Congregationalist is before us and makes a very neat appearance. Rev. E. G. Evans' home shows very able ability in the editorial manager ment.

L. B. Armstrong started for Iowa on Wednesday evening. He will return on Thursday next with his wife, when he will begin operations to get his skating rink in order.

A brakeman on the N. P. road got his head badly smashed and his jaw broken at Glyndon on Tuesday night. He was brought to the Brainerd hospital on Wednesday.

The meetings at the Baptist church continue with unabated interest. They will be held every night this week.—Christians and everybody are cordially invited to attend and enjoy these meetings.

Lynch Bro's, practical horse shoers, have opened up on Kingwood street, between Fourth and Fifth. They give particular attention to lame and interfering horses, and can give satisfaction in their line.

The city council met last Monday evening, but as there was not a quorum present they adjourned to meet Wednesday evening. They met, but on account of non attendance they adjourned until next Monday evening.

Messrs. Congdon & Millapaugh are doing a thriving business in the milk line this season. They have improved the buildings on their farm south of town, and in the spring will increase their number of cows to 50.

The Baptists have organized a Sunday school in East Brainerd, which is held at the school house and the efforts are meeting with very good success, the attendance being about 35. The hour of meeting is 2:30 p. m.

P. W. Child, who has been employed in the planing mill at the railroad shops for some time, left for London, England, on Monday night, where he will visit relatives during the winter and will return to Brainerd to catch onto the spring boom.

Chas. M. Heabery and wife started for Kalamazoo, Mich., on Monday, where they will visit with Mr. H.'s mother during the winter. Charlie will return to Brainerd in March, but probably Mrs. H. will remain the greater part of the summer.

The large plate glass in the side entrance to the new Smith block is cracked from top to bottom, being caused by the settling of the building. The glass is quite expensive and cannot be replaced without considerable trouble and expense.

In order to obtain any approximate idea of the amount of building which has been done in Brainerd the past summer, you should take a drive around the city. The number of new buildings which loom up is truly astonishing. It shows enterprise.

The firm of Nevers & Westfall has been dissolved. Mr. Westfall having purchased his partner's interest. The change took place Wednesday morning. Mr. Nevers will collect the outstanding accounts and will make his headquarters at the store.

Duluth had a very tame election, according to the Duluth Times, many of the citizens not knowing that such a thing was going on until they meandered to the saloons for their mid-day appetizer and finding them closed they naturally inquired the cause.

Two men were arrested on Monday night for false swearing and placed in the county jail. When they came to register they swore they had their papers relinquishing papers out, but on investigation it was found that they had not. They will be brought up before Police Justice Douglas next Monday.

The ladies of the Ladies' Aid Society will on and after Oct. 31st, hold forth nightly meetings at 2:30 p. m. Tea will be served at 6 p. m. The ladies will entertain in alphabetical order, unless unable to do so, when they will furnish a substitute and inform the Secretary. Timely notice of each meeting will be given both from the pulpit and by the Secretary.

MRS. A. W. PARSONS, Sec'y.

J. B. Cutler, the gentleman who has run the pop manufacturing establishment in Brainerd the past summer has sold out his interests to J. T. Harrison, proprietor of the Brainerd Bottling Works, who will carry on that branch in connection with his other business. Mr. Cutler has gone back to Minneapolis, his former home.

D. C. Fisk and D. F. Sexton started for Vermont on Tuesday. Mr. Fisk has made many warm friends in Brainerd during his sojourn among us, who will regret to learn of his departure. He assures us that he will return in the spring, and we presume he will, as there is a—but we draw the veil.

Andy Bennett went to Elk River Tuesday, for the purpose, it is said, of getting married to Miss Anna Simmons, of that place. The marriage was appointed to take place yesterday.—Journal.

Andy returned the first of the week, but no better half accompanied him, and he says that the announcement is a fraud.

A force of twenty men commenced work on Wednesday morning at the Brainerd grist mill, putting the spouting up and getting the same ready to start. The engine room is finished and the boilers are in position, and it is confidently expected that grinding will be commenced two weeks from next Monday. Fourteen men will be employed.

We learn from Mr. Burnstine that the girl who is in jail for stealing the shingle at his house some days ago, was in the same position in Minneapolis. A former acquaintance of the Benson girl who has come from Minneapolis to work for Mr. B. recognized her and states that the girl's record is not a very savory one.

The C. W. T. T. club is a new organization that has recently been formed in Brainerd. The officers of the club are: President, A. Wunderlich; Vice-President, P. H. Stenerson; Secretary, H. S. Bowles; Treasurer, H. O. Grose. The object of the club will be to give a series of club dances, the first of which will be held Friday evening, for which invitations have been issued.

The DISPATCH job rooms printed during the last week or ten days 75,000 election tickets, for the election which took place on Tuesday. If these tickets were placed together in one column each they would measure ten and one half miles. Brainerd candidates never do things by halves, especially in the ticket line.

On the night of November 2d the postoffice at Anoka was entered by burglars and the safe blown open, which they rifled of its contents, consisting of 2,000 2-cent stamps and $3 in cash. They also entered John Libby's house and stole $110 in cash and two watches—one a silver one belonging to Mr. Libby, and the other a gold one belonging to his niece.

Charlie Williams, who has been at La Moure, D. T., for some time in the employ of the N. P. has returned to Brainerd. He states that the great auction sale of lots there did not result in very many changing hands. The gold excitement at Lisbon is attracting the attention of the people in that section to quite an extent.

Remember that J. M. Hayes will be around in a few days putting on house numbers, and according to ordinance 28, you are liable to a fine not to exceed $25 and cost if you don't have your house or houses numbered on or before the first day of December, 1883, so please make arrangements with your women folks or the people that occupy your home, to take the numbers when the said J. M. Hayes comes around.

One of the serial evants that deserves more than a passing notice happened in East Brainerd on Thursday evening last, to the residence of J. D. Douglas. It seems that several of the railroad boys, among whom were J. Archibald, C. E. Chreve, G. Stainer and H. Williams were about to leave the city, and their friends concluded to give them a parting treat well that they would be pleased to remember. From one of the participants we learn that it very pleasant time was had, winding up with a merry dance and a grand supper.

The Hillsboro, D. T., Banner has the following to say of one of our citizens:

Charley Greve, the enterprising farmer, who owns nearly a thousand acres in this immediate vicinity, after cutting over twenty-one bushels per acre this year off 700 acres cultivated, will finish his plowing this week, and return to his home in Brainerd in a few days. We understand that it is the intention of Mr. Greve to remove his family here next spring and become a bona fide citizen of Traill county. We would like to see many more just such enterprising, go-ahead men as Mr. Greve make their home here.

Next Saturday, Nov. 10th, is the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of the greatest man of modern times—Martin Luther. Next Sabbath will be observed as Luther's Day at the Congregational church. The evening discourse will be on "Martin Luther and the Reformation." Among subjects discussed will be the state of religion in Europe in the 15th century, the causes that led to the Reformation, Luther's part in the great drama and the influence of his work upon the religion and civilization of the world.

The Sleeper Opera House of which the Brainerd gave an extended notice some few weeks ago, will be opened to the public Nov. 19, Phoss McAllister's troupe having closed a contract to occupy the magnificent edifice the first week. The following are the plays that will be presented:

First night, Monday, Nov. 19—"Romeo and Juliet."

Second night, Tuesday—"Leah."

Third night, Wednesday—"Rosedale."

Fourth Night, Thursday—"Arrah Na Pogue."

Fifth night, Friday—"Evanie."

Sixth performance, Saturday matinee—"Fun From."

Seventh performance, Saturday night "Queen's Evidence."

Miss McAllister has many friends in Brainerd who will be glad to know that she will preside during the opening week and no doubt the house will be packed each evening.

BALLOT BATTLES.

The City, County and State Returns.

Mertz Re-Elected Sheriff by 328 Majority.

Tuesday morning dawned bright and clear, that sure precursor of Republican success. Considerable interest and enthusiasm had been worked up within the past week, and the candidates and their workers and friends were out in full force. Considerable scratching was done, scarcely a candidate on either ticket but what suffered some. Extra polices were stationed in the different parts of the city and every thing passed of quietly.—The fight was principally on sheriff, although considerable interest was taken in the whole ticket. The war waged against Gillman was kept up until the polls were closed, resulting in a majority for Frazee, the Democratic candidate, of 328 in the city. The following is the vote in the various wards in the city and towns in the county, with the exception of Mills Lacs, which is estimated at 17 for the straight Mertz ticket.

The returns from the State of Tuesday's election are quite voluminous but not complete, owing to the fact that so large a portion of the State is not covered by telegraph. The vote for Bierman was not up to the promises before election and Gov. Hubbard is elected by about 18,000 majority.

The weather is coming to be recognized as a most important factor in the election. Reports from nearly every section of the country show that everywhere the weather was remarkably fine. The result was that wherever there was the least real interest in the contest a very full vote was polled. Had it been cold, raw and disagreeable the case would have been quite otherwise, for the average citizen is exceeding loth to sacrifice his personal comfort to his patriotism.

The Rev. Mr. Arnold, who has been helping Elder Regan in the revival meeting at the Baptist Church, returned to his home in Fergus Falls last Tuesday night, but his departure does not hinder the good work from going on. The meetings will be held during the remainder of this week and probably longer, that will depend on the interest manifested from night to night. There has been eleven conversions and three others have renewed their faith in their Lord and Saviour, making a total of Fourteen, besides several that are now inquiring the way.

One of the latest additions to Brainerd's amusements is the new roller skating rink which will be opened November 19th or 20th by L. E. Armstrong. Mr. Armstrong has rented Hartley's Hall for one year and will at once commence arrangements to fit the same up. The partitions will all be taken down and a new floor laid. The room will be 40x70 feet and when completed will be one of the finest in the northwest. The proprietor has already ordered 150 pairs of regular rink skates and several pairs of club skates. The band will be engaged to play two evenings each week, and every thing for the comfort and accommodation of those attending will be provided. The rink will be open each day from 9 to 12 in the morning, 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 10:30 at night, and the latest will be the rule in regard to rates, the skaters, or 10 cents for spectators, except on the evenings when music is in attendance, when the charges for spectators will be 25 cents and for skaters 40 cents. Saturday mornings will be devoted exclusively to the children. This will offer a healthful and pleasant amusement for the lovers of the graceful art, and will undoubtedly be well patronized.

E. B. Nafie is in St. Paul this week.

G. M. Petris has gone to Pittsburg, Pa.

O. E. Hailne started on Friday night for Washington Territory.

Engineer Greene, of Pine street, is rejoicing over the advent of a ten pound daughter.

Mrs. Coates' house is completed, and on Monday she was having her household goods placed in the same.

Election in the Third ward passed off harmoniously, with about the usual number of speeches—"Hic."

Mrs. George Congdon was taken suddenly ill last week, and her condition was considered very critical for some time, but at present writing she is slowly improving.

In company with Walter Calkins your reporter spent Monday on the famous hunting grounds east of the city. In consequence of a heavy "fever" as three different times, we came home minus the venison.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Anna and Mate Potter gave a very pleasant party to about twenty-five of their friends at the latter's residence, on Third avenue. All were highly pleased with the manner in which they entertained their guests.

In company with Charley Williams your friend, B. C. Fisk, paid us a farewell visit on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Fisk has, by his genial spirit and gentlemanly deportment, won the admiration of a large circle of friends who would gladly welcome his return to our city.

A much-needed and long-wished-for ventilator is being built upon the large N. P. blacksmith shop.

The new drug store under the management of Charley Johnson presents a fine appearance, and will save us many a step, we reckon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Heberg intend to spend the winter season in Michigan.

There are at present waiting sixty locomotives in and about the N. P. shops.

Drs. Hempstead and Bigger have twenty-five patients under treatment at the hospital.

Wednesday afternoon we spent an hour at the bed side of Dave Snell, the young man that met with such a serious accident last week, by the accidental discharge of his rifle, while preparing for a trip to Long Lake. He was found to be resting better than at any time since the shooting occurred, but it was evident that he suffers much pain yet. His foot was an ugly wound, still his attending physician is hopeful that it may be saved, if the inflamation can be stayed.

A man by the name of William Erwein was brought into Wadena on a freight train, October 11th, very sick, and after being examined by Dr. Westnike, the N. P. Surgeon at this place, was immediately sent to the Hospital at Brainerd. No information could be obtained from him as to where he lived or where he had been at work, only that he had been at work for the Northern Pacific and was a carpenter, and his name was William Erwein. While at the hospital he recovered sufficiently so as to be thought out of danger, but shortly afterwards was taken with a severe pain in his bowels and died very suddenly. He was a light complected man, with light eyes and hair, and was about 27 years old. He was well dressed and seemed to be a gentleman in every respect.

Mrs. Chas. Millspaugh, of Brainerd, spent the Sabbath in Wadena.—Wadena Farmer.

The lands which Kindred bought in Aurora township, Crow Wing county, and according to a Brainerd paper, he will clear a cool million on his investment. When he comes to count after Mr Nelson's first and only term, he will be able to hold his end up with the rest of the noble.—[Dilworth Times.

Hello, John,

You must be in a rush!

You bet I am, and I don't want to be bothered with any questions either, so clear the track, for I want to get some of these weather strips before they are all gone. They say that they are just the boss thing. You can make your doors and windows so tight that you have to raise a window to get fresh air, and that is just what I want of them. I can regulate the cold to suit myself, you bet I can. Last winter my wife's feet nearly froze from the cold coming in under the door, but when you get these strips on the cold can't any more get in under the doors than you can fly, not a bit. Besides that, I can save one-third of my coal bill, which is no small item. Remember J. M. Hayes is the only one that is handling weather strips here, but you can get them either at Conklin, Clark & Co.'s hardware store, or at the Brainerd Bazaar, on Front street, between 7th & 8th.
