Co-Operative Farming.

The Minneapolis Evening Journal says that A. P. McLaughlin, secretary of the general co-operative board of the Knights of Labor, has called a meeting of the laborers of the Minneapolis area to fix upon a plan for disposing of the $40,000 appropriated by the Richmond general assembly for co-operative work and experiment in the West. The plan is to be largely in accordance with suggestions made by Mr. McLaughlin in his report to the Cleveland convention. The co-operative colony in the West will be established in a territory where the land is favorably regarded by the board and may be used for a goodly portion of the fund. The idea of co-operative agriculture, which under McLaughlin's management, suggests that it will be established in a territory where the land is favorably regarded by the board and may be used for a goodly portion of the fund. Proprietary Medicines.

A visit to Dr. Green's Laboratory, at Woodbury, N. J., has considerably changed our views, and especially our prejudices in regard to what are generally known as "Bleeder's Patent" Medicines. Of course we are getting to that age when we are forced to conclude life itself is a struggle, and naturally distrust anything that has and without long and tried experiences. Being a physician I had the curiosity to know how such a state of affairs could be maintained for so many years. The perfect system, and the pharmaceutical arrangements for the manufacture of the two recipes with which we were made acquainted, are sufficient to show that the "Bleeder's Patent" Medicines are not the "Bleeder's Patent" Medicines, but are the "Bleeder's Patent" Medicines, and are the "Bleeder's Patent" Medicines.
