FROM THE NORTH HERALD
The Black Creek was performed on Monday last yesterday by a large and happy company of friends. The service was held in the church at 10 o'clock and was most successful. The choir sang beautifully and the sermon was well received.

THE LITTLE PAUL TRANSPORT
The Little Paul Transport has added a job to the office. It is now being used for the purpose of carrying passengers and freight between the city and the mill.

GIADINTE POSTOFFICE, at Gull Lake, has been discontinued by the department.

ONE of the quadruple boats at New York Mills some days since died this week.

THE agricultural society of St. Louis county has secured Frolic Knot to speak at the fall exhibition.

Mrs. Cleveland took a bath at Marion Beach, Minn., last Saturday and the whole country was notified before she was out.

FIVE of the Minneapolis ball players have been arrested for Saturday playing at the instance of the churches in the vicinity.

THE Lord helps those who help themselves, but the Lord helps those who help themselves first.

THE drawing for the Globe baby benefit occurred at St. Paul Saturday, and the lot was secured by the daughter of H. B. Thomas, of Hope, D. T. There were 11,463 babies returned for the prize.

GOV. McGill will appoint before the third probate judge whose duty it will be, pursuant to an act of the last legislature, to codify the probate laws of the state. There are about 100 applicants for the position.

THE coroner's jury on the Chisagochee bridge, near the town of Benson, has returned a verdict to fasten the blame on Section Boss Timothy Coughlin, who is supposed to be the owner of the bridge. The jury also returned a verdict to fasten the blame on the contractor, Timothy Coughlin, who is supposed to be the owner of the bridge.

TWO men arrested for highway robbery were looked up at North Pacific Junction Wednesday. The crime was committed by the two men near the town of Benson, Minn. The criminals are 25-year-old James J. Coughlin and 25-year-old James J. Coughlin.

THEY were a party of five, who were charged and going to St. Paul. Their victim was a peddler, some with them, and they were charged with cutting his throat, as they supposed, three times out of the car while en route at good speed.

ARE THEY?
The iron rails on the Manitoba road were broken at a point near the town of Benson, Minn. The rails are being taken up and replaced by heavy steel ones weighing 90 lbs. The old rails are still in excellent condition and will be used for other purposes.

THE general mail is the only person that knows of any rail laid between here and Crookston on the Manitoba road. A person to read the article would naturally suppose that there was a road running direct from Brainerd to that city, which is not so, but it is hoped that it will be before long.

THE SWITCH OPERATOR
PERHAM, Aug. 7.—Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock the west-bound passenger train, No. 3, was derailed at Amboy station. The baggage car and second-class car were turned over on their sides. There was no injury to passengers.

A freight train had switched on to a main track at Benson, Minn., leaving the switch open, and when the passenger came along both brakeman and conductor were asleep.

NOT RUSTY
Fergus Falls has never yet voted a dollar in bonds or bonds to a new mill. The mills and shops were built here because they would pay the investor. Brainerd, Crookston and St. Cloud have voted heavy bonds for dams and other improvements and still they have not got any more than Fergus Falls.

THE SOUTH'S YAST FOREST.
The great resources of the South are her vast forests of hardwood, from which future generations may draw, and which will prove of incalculable value when the North has been depleted of its timber. Year by year the forest is being cut down, and the forest is being cut down, and the forest is being cut down.

A CERTAIN CURB FOR CATALINA.
CANTON, Mass., Feb. 28, 1887. GENTLEMEN:—For several years I have had catarrh. Three years ago that time I was unable to work. I was so weak that I could not lift my head because very offensive. For several years I could not work, and I was so weak that I could not lift my head because very offensive. For several years I could not work, and I was so weak that I could not lift my head because very offensive.

SOME MEMORABLE RAILWAY DISASTERS.
Only one other fatal disaster in this country began to parallel that near Chasaberry, near Dampall, Penn., July 17, 1856. The result of a collision, Ohio, December 26, 1876, when a bridge gave way over a creek. A hundred or more lives were lost on both occasions. Greater havoc, however, was wrought near Granite, Me., on August 18, 1881, when the fall of a bridge destroyed nearly 300 lives and near Elyria (168 miles west of Moscow), Russia, July 12, 1882, when, by derailing, 718 passengers were killed, and the remaining 90 for the train were all injured. Indeed, as one comes down the scale he still finds more of the worst accidents of this kind occurring abroad. By that at St. Helens, Canada, where the train ran off a bridge, 88 were killed and 300 wounded. June 29, 1884, 718 were killed and 300 wounded. The bridge, near Dundas, Scotland, was destroyed, and 718 were killed and 300 wounded. December 28, 1879, 34 deaths caused and seventy persons were hurt by the breaking of a carriage near the Great West, Illinois, Canada, where the train ran off a bridge, 88 were killed and 300 wounded. October 13, 1882, 180 killed and 300 wounded. The bridge, near Dundas, Scotland, was destroyed, and 718 were killed and 300 wounded. September 2, 1881, 34 deaths caused and seventy persons were hurt by the breaking of a carriage near the Great West, Illinois, Canada, where the train ran off a bridge, 88 were killed and 300 wounded.

DECAY OF THE PAPER COLLAR.
There was a time when the paper collar reigned supreme, and it is still the mainstay of the fashion. It is a great variety of color and style of adornment, it adds attractiveness to the fashionable store, and, in its decaying days it filled gutters, and varied in style, and doing the fashion along the line of every railway in the country, dividing houses across the western plains with the iron. DEATHS IN A HOLE of the Eastern States and the Eighteen Army Almost Instantly Killed.

All the Railway Workers in the History of the Country

White River Workers Will Not Sustain Injuries More or Less Serious.

THE VICTIMS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN GENERAL WILLIAM SHELBY HENRY, of St. Louis, Mo., was a renowned Indian fighter nearly fifty years ago, and was deemed too good to be buried in the war for the Union. He was worth millions of money and his name was looked upon as a young man. His descendants have since become somewhat impaired.

The fact is noted that in climates having a difference of 70 degrees in temperature between the hot and cold seasons, a railroad train of 100 miles in length is in the open air in summer in winter; that is, though of course the length of the train remains the same, expansion forces the metal closer together, making an accumulation of heat in the joints of the rails of nearly a yard in each mile.

The enlisted men of the United States Army are here to receive, at least, in some of their camps and barracks schools. This announcement has a depressing nature in that it is known that officers and men are to be sent to the front, and the question whether or not a private ought to go with them. Some officers have felt that the best way to keep the men from deserting is to let them know that they are to go with them. At last, then, our army goes to the front.

Later reports of the election in Texas increase the majority against the proposed federal reserve system, which is now thought to have been defeated by from 60,000 to 75,000 votes. Some of the more prominent "protectionists" put the adverse majority as high as 100,000. The colored vote is also being taken into consideration, and prohibition, although a great majority of the colored preachers worked hard to secure the passage of the amendment.

In Buffalo the doctors made a great discovery. They took a patient and tried to commit suicide on the morphine points, and who had been dead for five hours, according to the evidence of attending physicians of no considerable ability and good reputation. After recovering to life, it was found by cutting open his windpipe and pumping air into his lungs again that he was not dead, but had recovered and is now about the city, or was at last reported, drinking whiskey and attending to his ordinary occupations.

Boose Conking is reported to be taking the work of raising funds for the Grant monument, and California papers promise him a great amount of money. It will be there and deliver an oration on Grant. When the time comes and the work of Washington is over, he saved the subscriptions for his papers, which languished until Edward Bruce discovered the contents of the boxes on Washington and raised the funds needed. Probably Mr. Conking could do as well by not doing for the monument without the Conking oration?

Reports from Southern Wisconsin say that the drought in that section surpasses anything formerly known in the history of the state. The water in the rivers has literally bled the earth, dirt has been raised from the trees, grass, and shrubs, and literally dried the growing crops. The quantity of water, if much longer continued, will make it impossible to get any thing out of the soil, and the spring and well waters are disappearing, and the cattle are suffering terribly. Unless the rains come, there has been rain there is likely to be an epidemic from that part of the country.

Probably the last revolutionary war pension that will ever be filed at the pension office was allowed by Commissioner Dick H. Wood to a certain Mrs. Mary Casey of Washington, Taylor county, Ohio. Her husband, John Casey, served in the revolution in the Virginia line. He died in 1846 at the age of seventy-five years. A few years prior he was married to Mary Cox, then a girl of sixteen years. The young Mrs. Casey died for application for a pension, but it was postponed on some slight technicality, and then it lay until a few weeks ago, when it was brought to Gen. Black's attention. It was found that no valid receipt had been filed for the delay, and the commissioner's office the claim was allowed as an account of the war papers could be filed up and signed.

The New York Commercial Bulletin says that the increase in population of the country for the past year has been the largest since the increase in agricultural production. The fact, however, that the population has increased, and that the agricultural production has increased, is not the only reason why the country is so prosperous. It is also the fact that the country is so rich in natural resources, and that the people are so industrious, that the country is so prosperous.

of the Eastern States and the Eighteen Army Almost Instantly Killed.

White River Workers Will Not Sustain Injuries More or Less Serious.

THE VICTIMS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY IN GENERAL WILLIAM SHELBY HENRY, of St. Louis, Mo., was a renowned Indian fighter nearly fifty years ago, and was deemed too good to be buried in the war for the Union. He was worth millions of money and his name was looked upon as a young man. His descendants have since become somewhat impaired.

The fact is noted that in climates having a difference of 70 degrees in temperature between the hot and cold seasons, a railroad train of 100 miles in length is in the open air in summer in winter; that is, though of course the length of the train remains the same, expansion forces the metal closer together, making an accumulation of heat in the joints of the rails of nearly a yard in each mile.

The enlisted men of the United States Army are here to receive, at least, in some of their camps and barracks schools. This announcement has a depressing nature in that it is known that officers and men are to be sent to the front, and the question whether or not a private ought to go with them. Some officers have felt that the best way to keep the men from deserting is to let them know that they are to go with them. At last, then, our army goes to the front.

Later reports of the election in Texas increase the majority against the proposed federal reserve system, which is now thought to have been defeated by from 60,000 to 75,000 votes. Some of the more prominent "protectionists" put the adverse majority as high as 100,000. The colored vote is also being taken into consideration, and prohibition, although a great majority of the colored preachers worked hard to secure the passage of the amendment.

In Buffalo the doctors made a great discovery. They took a patient and tried to commit suicide on the morphine points, and who had been dead for five hours, according to the evidence of attending physicians of no considerable ability and good reputation. After recovering to life, it was found by cutting open his windpipe and pumping air into his lungs again that he was not dead, but had recovered and is now about the city, or was at last reported, drinking whiskey and attending to his ordinary occupations.

Boose Conking is reported to be taking the work of raising funds for the Grant monument, and California papers promise him a great amount of money. It will be there and deliver an oration on Grant. When the time comes and the work of Washington is over, he saved the subscriptions for his papers, which languished until Edward Bruce discovered the contents of the boxes on Washington and raised the funds needed. Probably Mr. Conking could do as well by not doing for the monument without the Conking oration?

Reports from Southern Wisconsin say that the drought in that section surpasses anything formerly known in the history of the state. The water in the rivers has literally bled the earth, dirt has been raised from the trees, grass, and shrubs, and literally dried the growing crops. The quantity of water, if much longer continued, will make it impossible to get any thing out of the soil, and the spring and well waters are disappearing, and the cattle are suffering terribly. Unless the rains come, there has been rain there is likely to be an epidemic from that part of the country.
