The tax collector from the Fifth ward is Mr. Geo. F. Burton.

The Crown murder trial and the Collin forgery case are going merrily on.

The levy will be 27 mills this year. Now is the time to kick and not when you pay your taxes, although in other cases the result will be the same.

The treasury department yesterday paid a draft for $250 as part of $100, 000 in prize money offered by the government for the capture of Jeff Davis.

The Northern Pacific railroad and Atkinson county have been leaving over faces and the result is that the commissioner has settled the matter by paying the county $1,400.

Washington dispatches bring the intelligence that Gov. Dantz is to be registered at the St. Cloud land office.
His appointment will give general satisfaction in this section.

It is quite probable that an injunction will be served on the company to restrain them from paying for the electric fire alarm system which is to be put in. The question is with an injunction injunct in this case.

The Pillsbury and Washburn flouring mill at Minneapolis, together with other mills, are making great improvements. The transfer of these vast properties occurring yesterday, the consideration is stated to be between ten and twelve million dollars. Thus it would seem that Johnny Bull proposes to control the flour, as well as the beer industries, of this country.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press yesterday issued a forty-page paper to com-morate its removal into its magnificent new building, which is doubtless the most magnificent newspaper building on this terrestrial globe.
But the P. P. must not be considered the finest building, but it is, itself, one of the best newspapers published in this or any other country. The people of Minnesota and the entire Northwest should be proud of this enterprising journal.

Proven that the Indians in this part of the state who are over 21 years of age come into possession of an "allotment in severalty" and because of this they are no longer in trust. There will be among the crowd of officials who have been making their living off of alleged whisky cases, a new element, that will be the politicians of hunting for Indian scalps at election time. There is considerable sport in store yet for the poor red man if he only works it right.

Killdeer deer will be lawful for the next thirty days, beginning with the first of the month. There are several squares inch this fall than for some years, may have coming to this section from other states. The law prevents hunting with dogs, and the man that shoots the first hind he seen running deer will receive a license for one year.

If people from other parts are allowed to bring in their trained hounds to chase the deer out of the country entirely, it is time the local sportsmen took the matter in hand. There should be a reward offered for the scalp of every dog caught on the run-ways.

The Indians in this section do not construe the market and use an indication of an unusually cold and hard winter. In fact, they are prepared to see an open winter, such as was experienced a year ago in this region. The fact that the rats and other vermin are so large and appear to be so much higher than usual is paid to them to the fact that the water is unusually low, and that part of the houses which is in ordinary seasons below the water is now exposed to view. They claim that there will be no snow whatever during November and very little the balance of the winter, but seem to think that an excessive rainfall will be experienced next spring. Whether Indians are authority on weather or not remains to be seen.

A Female Frank.
On the arrival of a passenger steamer from St. Briscoe, says the Dundee (Sutherland News), the commander formed the police that a woman attired as a man was on board. She had it appeared, taken passage for St. Briscoe, but the captain, having noticed certain peculiarities about her person, on reaching that port compulsory a medical man and he decided that the pseudo man was really a woman. He further certified that she was suffering from a slight occasion of the brain, and the French authorities in view of her mysterious conduct, refused to allow her to land.
On the steamer entering the harbor of St. Healer the woman took a cab and proceeded to a boarding house where she had previously lodged for some time under the name of Louis Hermann. She had from her easy department it is evident that male disguise was not to her. She was a fair complexion, long straight nose, and a turn-down collar. She smoked a pipe and light with an air of one accustomed to the habit. Let an orphan at the age of 15, so that for 42 years she had been traveling the world, and has been known as a man in every part of the globe, and in that capacity she has traveled widely. She has a knowledge of several continental languages, and is otherwise well informed. The name she has assumed is really the name of Louis Hermann, Tokoh, but in many cases she has dropped the name and simply called herself Louis Hermann.
