 discussed the question of the removal of the restrictions upon
 American pork, and the committee is of the opinion that the removal of the restrictions upon American pork is a matter of great importance.

Local News Notes.
James Mours was taken to the coroner's school by Sheriff Spalding to-day.
W. C. Craig, of Stevens Point, Wis., spent Sunday with friends and relatives in this city.
Our old friend, Oliver Havill, is in this city as special commissioner in Morrison county.
It is said by traveling men that the Kinderhook has more fun and music to the square inch than any show on the road.
Mrs. J. H. Winkler returned the first week from Minneapolis, where she has been visiting relatives for a couple of weeks.

Local News Notes.
Miss Nellie Bates, who has been visiting her brother at Missoula, Mont., for several months past, returned to Brainerd yesterday noon.
P. Flannery is erecting a new blacksmith shop at the corner of Fifth and Maple streets. Mr. Flannery's shop, it will be remembered, was burned down by the recent fire.
Some of our exchanges in neighboring towns say that the "Kinderhook" Musical Comedy Company is the best attraction of the season. They will appear at the opera house on Monday evening, Oct. 27th.

Local News Notes.
A republican rally will be held at Ripley Saturday evening. Hon. J. W. Winkler and H. W. Winkler will address the meeting. A large delegation of Brainerd people is expected to attend.
The greatest of all musical comedies, the "Kinderhook," is to appear on Monday evening next, in an attraction that will please everybody. The cast is very strong, with new songs and dances, interspersed with elegant music.
The sale of reserved seats for the laughing success, "Kinderhook," opened at the opera house this morning. There will undoubtedly be a very large advance sale, as this is the first of the best Musical Comedy Companies traveling.

Local News Notes.
On Oct. 14th, at Menominee, Wis., Mr. H. A. Hatch, of this city, was united in marriage to Miss Jean G. Hill, of Louisiana, Wis. Rev. James U. White performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hatch will commence their honeymoon at Brainerd on Monday. There will be a social to-morrow evening at the Newcomb. The whole church, corner 10th and Oak streets. The evening will be enlivened with music and instrumental music. Refreshments will be served. A present will be presented to the most popular lady. All are invited.
Dr. Satterlee, professor of scientific temperance in Albany Tennessee College, will deliver a lecture at the O. P. church on Tuesday evening, Oct. 29th. This will be a golden opportunity to hear a grand man deliver a grand lecture. No admission charged. Everybody come.

Local News Notes.
St. Francis Catholic Church Society has purchased four lots at the corner of Sixth and Knicker streets, and will at once begin the erection of a fine church edifice that will be an ornament to the city. We understand that the work of construction will be so far advanced this fall that services will be held in it during the winter, and will be finished in the spring.
The "Kinderhook" Co. appeared at the opera house last evening to a large and to say a well pleased audience would be placing it too mildly. From the time the curtain went up to the first act until it fell in the last, the audience was kept a continuous state of laughter. The whole company are stars evenly balanced, and give the best entertainment we have had this season.—Journal, Brainerd, September 25th.

Local News Notes.
We fear it is not generally understood that the W. U. T. meetings are open to all ladies, whether members or not, but each of them. The "Mother's meeting," held by them last Tuesday, was very interesting. Four visitors were present. It is to be regretted there were no more, as the program was very carefully prepared, and could not but have been interesting and instructive to all, especially the mothers.
You are invited to come in and inspect the prettiest, most desirable and complete line of neckwear ever brought to the city at—

A Steer in the House.
A drove of Texas cattle was being driven across the railroad tracks near the Marshall house. One of the cows became so excited by the noise of the train that she jumped over the fence and ran into the house. The owner, who was in the house at the time, saw the cow and tried to get her out, but she was so excited that she would not budge. The cow was finally driven out of the house by the owner's wife, who used a long pole to push her out. The cow was then driven back to the train and was killed by the engine.

One of the cows became so excited by the noise of the train that she jumped over the fence and ran into the house. The owner, who was in the house at the time, saw the cow and tried to get her out, but she was so excited that she would not budge. The cow was finally driven out of the house by the owner's wife, who used a long pole to push her out. The cow was then driven back to the train and was killed by the engine.
