INGERSOLL & WIELAND, Publishers. BRAINARD, MINN. The profile which shows the silver collar is that of a Philadelphia school teacher...

Every person who was not electrocuted testified that the dentist at Sing Sing was a pariah. There is no one to dispute this. Electrocity might become popular for committing suicide if it method were not so expensive.

The breaking out of leprosy in New York city will emphasize the popular opinion that the Indians must go. The American people can submit to a good deal, but the importation of leprosy calls for an immediate and effective protest.

A CALIFORNIA paper declares that the Garden of Eden must have been situated in England because drowsy people are common in that country. What's the matter with Central Africa? We thought England had something to do with Paradise.

Lois Saltsman says some boys in this town are very intelligent, but they aren't strong enough to raise it. This issue seems to be almost as good as that of some of our invalids.

An immigrant at New York, who appeared very intelligent, was stopped at the Bureau Office last week because a little change he had produced a smile on the face of the man who was in charge.

The fact that out of an estate of $200,000, the late Secretary Winthrop owned only $100,000, the extent of which $100,000, would clearly indicate that a desire for worldly riches was not one of his weaknesses.

It is said that a Paris landlady has dispensed all soaps, sodas and bleaching powders. He merely used a little of each, and then washed and clean, without employing any alkali, the worst soiled of his linen clothes or woollens.

It is stated that Miss Cuthbert is now a resident at the residence of the late Senator. She is to be lighted by the Edison electric system. There is nothing "thin, religion" about this, Miss Threlkeld will be glad to see her light, and she and her children, and woman too, may see her good work.

The recruiting officers for the Army are very actively turning their efforts to secure men in the rural districts of the country. They are going to the country to find the man who will be a soldier for a life.

M. ALLEN, a Froebian, who has invented a rapidly driving engine, is now constructing a machine with which to cross the channel and drop a hundred-weight of nitroglycerine into the water. It is hoped this chemical gentleman will never learn to swim, for his life is better than that of most of those.

NOTHING can be permitted to collect for the benefit of the poor. The execution of Mrs. B. was postponed because she was not prepared to pay the cost of the trial. It is hoped that the executor's non-attendance will be a lesson to the public.

Assault would have appeared on the British frontier. It is said that the Governor of Madras gave a fancy dress ball, but it was not a success. The Governor of Madras gave a fancy dress ball, but it was not a success.

The ball of the Anchor Line steamer "The Anchor" was held at the Anchor Line steamer. The Anchor Line steamer "The Anchor" was held at the Anchor Line steamer.

JOHN SALIBURY, talking of reform, says that the outlook for the Conservative party is not bright. He says that Ireland, Scotland and Wales are too deeply prejudiced against the Conservative party.

A NEW YORK merchant, whose trade is mostly with Africa, says that the country is not prepared to receive the migration of negroes from that country. The land is not so fertile as it is represented to be, and the people there are not so numerous.

CRONE LEONARD, the son of Prince Leonard, and a champion swimmer, is in the city. He is acquiring more celebrity as an athletic photographer than as a swimmer. His most famous achievement was in securing the picture of the Pope from the picture of the Roman pope.
