Free Trade Has Rained Our Commerce and Will Do the Same Here.

A Warning That Every Minnesotan Should Take Notice of and Remember.

Sweden's return to protection forms another interesting chapter of recent tariff legislation. The final battle for the overthrow of free trade was short, but decisive. It was fought with spirit on both sides, and was full of dramatic incidents.

The idea of Sweden and Norway does not interfere with independence of other countries by the administration of the revenue, whether derived from customs duties or other sources. Their commercial treaties, with other nations have been concluded jointly for both countries, and consequently their commercial policies are identical, notwithstanding the great differences of their geographical situations.

The democratic legislative ticket in this district is badly demoralized and will be defeated if indications are anything but gloomy. The good men who have been over the district find the republicans united and harmonious in their opposition to the tariff.

The democratic congressional committee have Lent Tilden moving toward the tariff. The tariff will pass picking up the stray odds and ends. While Henry might not have a shadow of a chance of carrying the district, he is hardly to be expected that he will carry the northern part of the state for Cleveland.

The Stumper Stumped.

Layoff—Dang this rotten law, how can a fellow stump the state with such impudence as I have.

Nelson—Struck a pretty live tree that time, in your stumping, didn't you, my kid?

The effects of the new policy have been satisfactory thus far, and the industrial class look to the future with a feeling of encouragement and hope.

The Hon. O. A. Steiner, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church at Cannon Falls, Minn., recently visited his old home in Sweden, and shortly after his return to his parish at Cannon Falls he was invited to deliver a lecture in his own country.

As might be expected, some inconceivable and absurd suggestions were advanced by the members of the assembly. Sweden's change of tariff policy, which began in the year 1879, was a landmark event in the history of the world.
