A BERRANT COOK.

Was discovered in Ohio—Nearly 2,000 Feet in Length.

In the state of Ohio an ancient serpent form of life, nearly 2,000 feet in length, like that in Adams county, was discovered last spring in Warren county, near the town of Morrow. The serpent mound is about 15 feet wide and 4 feet high, and is one of the vestiges of the ancient system of serpent worship among the autochthonous inhabitants of this continent. Some skeletons of the mysterious race that once dwelt in the Ohio valley have been unearthed along the line of the windings of this day mound. The most important contribution of the year to the popular knowledge of the archeology of that valley is Warren K. Moorhead's "Primitive Man in Ohio," a work which, while giving details of the excavations and discoveries that have been made, also contains a full and complete account of the mound-building people of the Ohio valley. By a notice to the public elsewhere in this issue it will be seen that Mr. Haggberg has sold his grocery business to P. M. Lagerstrom. Both gentlemen are practical men at the business, and we have no doubt that Mr. Haggberg's already successful business will be increased under the new deal.

The annual Masque Ball of the Chiquita Club, which has been previously announced, will be given on the roller rink, and is the only social affair of the kind in the city at present. Like all the predecessors it will be "over of sight." No one who has an invitation can afford to miss it.

Deaths.
Mrs. Jennie Thompson died at the county poor farm on Tuesday, Feb. 7th, at the advanced age of 106 years. She was undoubtedly the oldest person in the county if not in the state. She has been dependent on the county for support for over 30 years, or ever since she was widowed. Previous to the purchase of the farm the county boarded her at the county. She was born in the state of Ohio, Jan. 10th, 1817, or two years before Washington was elected president, but lived in Minnesota many years. Her remains were buried in Evergreen cemetery on Wednesday the 8th, Rev. Jenkins officiating at the funeral service.

On Tuesday morning Feb. 7th, 1899, Geo. W. Lowry, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lowry, died at the home of his parents on 9th street, north of East Grand, aged 12 years. He died of scarlet fever. His death was entirely unexpected and was a severe blow to his parents and their many friends in the city. He had been ill for several days previous to his death with scarlet fever, but his condition was not considered at all dangerous. On Monday evening the family retired, his mother lying on a couch by his bedside. She was awakened early Tuesday morning by his cries as he was attacked with heart failure, which terminated fatally before medical aid could be summoned. He was a bright, promising lad, and great favorite among his comrades at school. The scholars of the High School, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body. A mark of respect to the deceased, the flag on the High School building, floated at half mast on the day of the funeral. Quite a number of people attended the city were in attendance, among whom were Ed Congdon, W. R. Nichols, Horace Pentecost and Dr. H. J. Hovey, all former of the N. P. shops at Hamilton.

He was picked up and brought to the Lumbermen's Hospital in this city where he died from the shock and loss of blood. He was only 21 years of age, and was a son of Engineer Pat Hughes, who is at present running an engine on the N. P. short line at Duluth, which his remains have been shipped for home.

Board of Education Meeting.
A special meeting of the board of education was held on Tuesday evening to take final action on the purchase of a site for the new school building in the fourth ward, and to complete the negotiations with the Fuller & Warren Heating company for the putting in of their system of heating in all the new buildings. The full committee on this subject met Monday in favor of purchasing ten lots of block 17 in Sleeper's addition, which report was accepted by the board, and the same was ordered a consideration of not to exceed $1,500. The committee attended a mass meeting of the citizens of the ward the previous evening, and discussed the matter, after which a vote was taken by the citizens, which was in favor of the purchase of the lots selected. The committee recommended a warrant system of heating.

The contract with the Fuller & Warren Heating Co. was also signed last Tuesday evening. The board, a representative of the company being present. The cost of the system for the new buildings will be $6500, and the company pays the expense of the installation of the board which went to Milwaukee to investigate the matter. This the company agrees to do without any extra cost was adopted or not.

The members of the board are satisfied that the city will be benefited by the new heating and ventilating system of the new buildings. In speaking of the matter a member of the board said: "After a thorough consideration of the proposals and the terms offered by Van Veet, the members present have decided to accept the plan proposed by the board, and the contract was signed accordingly. The new system has been adopted by the board after a thorough investigation of the systems at present in use, a committee of the board having visited St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth to inspect the systems in use in those cities. At the latter city they had an opportunity of seeing and comparing all the systems of hot air and steam heating, and also of inspecting the dry closet system, which seems to be the most economical, and also being in the dry closet system, as a result of their investigations the committee recommended the adoption of the Fuller & Warren system as being the best hot air system they had seen, and far more economical than heating by steam, which requires an additional expense, as it is necessary to introduce the single and double fan system to ventilate the rooms, and an additional cost for the dry closets. The hot air system of Fuller & Warren company is well adapted for all our buildings, and is the best of all buildings erected as cheap as it would cost to put in steam and the dry closets in one of the eight room buildings. It is proposed, in the contract, that on any signs of failure in the system, it shall be removed by the Fuller & Warren company at their expense, and all other work shall be returned to the board; also a trial of one winter is given before the contract shall be made to the company."

To the Public.
The undersigned has sold a half interest in the building at 20th and 21st streets, Duluth, Minn., to a group of proprietors, farmers, house and sleighs, to F. M. Lagerquist, who will effect the sale on Feb. 20th. He will close his old account himself, so that Feb. 20 accounts will be reported under the name of Haggberg & Lagerquist. He has no interest in the business, and he has expressed his earnest thanks to the people of Duluth and vicinity for the interest and sympathy which they have shown in the past, and he hopes, by continuation of the same fair treatment, that new friends will hold all his old customers and gain many new ones. With sincere thanks for past favors I remain
Your servant,
M. HAGBERG.

Some one has named Mr. Kimball's new house the "Cedar of Lebanon." The snow is very deep, which has kept the people at home a good deal. The snow plow is being used to good effect.
