Are They Locating the Shops?

General Manager Milburn, of the N. P., accompanied by General Superintendent M. C. Kimberly, Assistant General Manager W. G. Pease, Master Car Builder J. B. Clark, Chief Draftsman O. H. Reynolds and Dr. Sept. A. E. Law came up on a special train this afternoon on a special train. Before arriving here they sent a message to Station Agent McKeen, of the Northern, to meet them. They arrived at 3 p. m. and went to the Station for a few moments, where they returned and went over to the shops, where, it is generally believed, they are laying out the new shops that will undoubtedly be constructed here immediately. They will return to St. Paul tonight, making the trip here overnight for this purpose.

What About the Other-in-laws?

Not by buying soap—"hoop" hoppers. Not by investing in inflexible cars for consumption, or champion catch-ers—these are the things that are the cause of our troubles. The way to save money is by the ability to look a good thing when you see it, and take advantage of it. You can save money at all times by taking the Burlington Route through St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver and prominent points in the West and Northwest. The speed of its trains and the certainty of its connections are its time, and time is money. The comfort and luxury of its equipment will save you worry, and its sleeping cars will save your temper. For maps, time tables and information regarding this line, call on any of its agents, or write to W. C. C. Keyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

THE FOURTH IN BRAINERD.

How it was celebrated by our Patriotic Citizens.

The glorious Fourth was celebrated in Brainerd in various ways, some of our citizens going out to the lakes, and some to the various country celebrations, but a large majority attended this celebration at the fair grounds under the management of St. Andrew Society. This organization has shown unusual energy in getting up the Fourth celebration, the evening eight days to do all the preliminary work and securing the most attractive attractions. And judging from the expressions of satisfaction heard on every side, it was the most enjoyable and enjoyable occasion of the kind ever held in Brainerd.

The attendance was well beyond the expectations of the most sanguine. All present declared it to have been the largest crowd ever on the grounds.

The street railroad was taxed to the utmost in conveying people after, while a continual stream of vehicles was going on to the grounds all afternoon.

The programs of music and games as published in our last issue was commenced promptly at 1:30. The following is a list of the contestants and winners of prizes:

Obstacle Race—G. H. Brown, A. A. Westlake and J. R. Hodger. Brown, A. A. Westlake and J. R. Hodger. Brown, A. A. Westlake and J. R. Hodger.

THE FOURTH IN BRAINERD.

How it was celebrated by our Patriotic Citizens.

The glorious Fourth was celebrated in Brainerd in various ways, some of our citizens going out to the lakes, and some to the various country celebrations, but a large majority attended this celebration at the fair grounds under the management of St. Andrew Society. This organization has shown unusual energy in getting up the Fourth celebration, the evening eight days to do all the preliminary work and securing the most attractive attractions. And judging from the expressions of satisfaction heard on every side, it was the most enjoyable and enjoyable occasion of the kind ever held in Brainerd.

The attendance was well beyond the expectations of the most sanguine. All present declared it to have been the largest crowd ever on the grounds.

The street railroad was taxed to the utmost in conveying people after, while a continual stream of vehicles was going on to the grounds all afternoon.
