DEATHS.
Goldie Maria, Lillian Hagberg, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hagberg, died at the N. P. Sanitarium on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock of cerebral spinal meningitis aged 10 years and three months. An operation for appendicitis had been performed by Dr. Courtney on the previous Wednesday afternoon, which had been successful, and for two days had little respite seemed to be doing nicely, when meningitis developed, and the little patient seemed to be doing better. The school for the little girl was particularly sad, as it is the sixth child of her sorrowful parents who have lost. The funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon last at the Congregational church, Rev. G. W. Gallacher conducting the services. The attendance was very large the spacious auditorium not being able to seat all present. The school for the two bigger grades in the Lincoln school attended the funeral in a body. Many very beautiful floral offerings were sent by loving friends and companions of the afflicted parents have the sympathy of the offering one to the community in their great loss.

Wm. Kelly, familiarly known about town as "Madhouse Kelly," died on Friday evening at the Armstrong hospital, on Front street, of heart failure, aged 45 years. Kelly was born in the familiar figure about the city for many years, and at one time was employed by the railroad company, but his lungs and disease have rendered him unable to work in recent years. He has been supported by a son, Jas. Kelly, who is a Great Northern engineer. The funeral occurred on Tuesday forenoon.

Mrs. Ellen Farley, wife of T. J. Farley, who lives on a farm near Lake Edwards, died on Saturday last of consumption, aged 45 years. The funeral services were held on Monday forenoon at the residence of the deceased. Deceased was a fine Christian lady, and leaves a large family besides her husband to mourn her loss.

The Anoka Herald contains the following notice of the death of E. S. Kimball, father of A. T. Kimball, of Chicago, Cook:
In Champlin, Monday night, E. S. Kimball, aged eighty-two years. His funeral was held yesterday and was attended by a large number of people. Mr. Kimball, as one of the oldest settlers of this section, had a very wide circle of acquaintances. Deceased was born in Beth, N. H., June 28, 1811, and lived there until he was sixteen, removing in 1830 to Treburg, Vt., where he lived two and a half years, returning to Havellin, N. H. Afterward he was located at Alkton, Me., four years and at Bangor, Me., for two years, removing 1840 to Montville, Ohio. Here all his children, six in number, were born. In 1861 the family came to Champlin, and he lived on a farm near Diamond lake until thirteen years ago, when he removed to Champlin to spend the remainder of his life. Mrs. Kimball, who survives him, is eighty-two years of age. He was blind twenty-one years his sight having been destroyed by an accident to one eye and the loss of sight to the other being occasioned by a stroke. He leaves four sons, John of Champlin, and Joseph, Albert and Edward of Brainerd; only one daughter, Mrs. L. C. Dwin of Champlin. Mrs. Mary Darrell, the other daughter, having died some years since. Besides his sons, daughter and wife, he leaves twenty grandchildren and five great grandchildren. He also left besides the members of his immediate family already enumerated, three sisters and one brother in Ohio, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett, of Troy, the county, also a sister.

A Fine Company.
The Ferris Conchords are filling a work's engagement at the opera house this week. This company is different from the usual repertoire companies, each member being a specialty artist of considerable merit, and the songs presented are musical comedies amounting in humor and funny situations as well as bright and catchy songs. The opening bill, "Dressed Lightning" on Monday night was played to the largest audience that has filled the house for some time, and the company met with a warm reception. Since then the audience have been regular but very appreciative, and the company has given equal satisfaction. There is an entire change of program each evening, no specialties being repeated and different comedies were each evening. On Saturday afternoon a matinee will be given, at which "Felix the Bad Boy" will be presented. There will be two more evening performances, to night and to-morrow night. If you want to enjoy a hearty laugh, or see some fine dancing or hear good singing, don't fail to attend. Prices 10, 20 and 30 cents.

Notice.
Campbell & Phelan wish to notify the public that they have opened a ready kitchen next door to the Post-office where fresh ready can be had at any time. Special for Saturday Boston chips, Klondike nuggets, Salted peanuts and Peanut taffy.

MUNICIPAL COURT NOTES.
Alleged White Fish Lake White Coppers Held to the Grand Jury.

The attention of the municipal court was occupied Monday morning by the preliminary examination of F. W. White and John Peacock, on a charge of riotous assault. It seems on Dec. 1st, about 9 o'clock in the evening, Mr. Chase was visited by a band of 12 or 13 men wearing masks, who several notices on him that he must leave the country within three days or they would hang him to a tree. They laid hands on him at the time and threatened him with revolvers, but otherwise did no further harm. Mr. Chase attempted to tear the mask off of one of them but was unsuccessful. By their forms and voices the reverend gentleman claims to have recognized these gentlemen. Mr. and Mrs. Chase and a man stopping with them, Mr. Chase notified for the state. The defendants waived their right to introduce testimony, and Judge Alderman held them in $500 bond to await the action of the grand jury. He understood the men claim to be able to prove an alibi. This action is taken toward Mr. Chase because he is accused by Mr. Zaffre of intimate relations with his wife, who has gone away and left him with several small children to care for.

On Wednesday Sam Stanley and John Peterson, settlers near Gull Lake were on trial charged with post-larceny on complaint of Gottlieb Shing for stealing hay. Peterson was discharged, but Stanley was adjudged guilty and fined $25, or given 90 days in jail. An appeal to the district court will be taken.

The new boy has convinced Greener that marriage is a grand, sweet pastime.

The forty women who went to marry Lindbergh unavailingly support a tremendous temptation to the father of wickedness.

Miss Willard wants workmen to have political clubs where they can lounge and rest in a saloon. Isn't that kindhearted as the expense of their woman and children?

Trials for "less majestic" which in practice means criticism of the emperor are on a rampage in Germany. William II. appears to be a law unto himself. A well-known diplomatist says, however, that it is not so.

A writer to the "Times" Church says this sign on the door of a Chinese laundry in Chicago: "Please help us to remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy by bringing your clothes to the laundry on the Sabbath day. Only one of the Chinese men has been known to break his promise, and all were obviously beat."

The froxy was abruptly and surprised to find people calling him a member of the Christian union.

There is a time-honored notion that a man after meals should be a large amount of persons habitually take a nap after dinner, and think they are doing precisely the best thing for their health.

The Society for Abolishing the Abuse of Public Advertising founded four years ago in England, has been reformed. It is now a society for the purpose of abolishing the abuse of public advertising.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A Large Enthusiastic Assembly of Farmers in Attendance.

It is evident that the good words spoken by the papers of this town and the work of the committee were efficient, because the largest and most demonstrative audience that Brainerd has ever given an institute, was present on the occasion of the recent meeting held Tuesday and Wednesday. Supt. Gregg presided and explained how the old crop had been broken into by sickness, death and removal, but we are sure that he has well replaced them on such short notice, those present being Supt. Gregg, Mrs. Ida E. Titson of West Salem, Wis., lecturer on poultry, Senator F. A. Greeley of South Dakota, on sheep, Mr. Oliver Gibbs of South Dakota, horticulturist, Dr. M. H. Reynolds, veterinarian, Prof. T. A. Hovestad, general farm management, and Mrs. Mary Thomson Hovestad, on cooking.

After speaking of the advantages and pleases of country life Prof. Gregg especially singled out the strawberry, telling how hungry our children, the hope of the world, are for this wholesome and juicy fruit. A point which he had never heard until the late Mrs. Cuts brought it out upon the institute platform, was that we should never get plants from a hothouse, but get them from a garden that has borne fruit. Instead of going to our successful neighbor whose bushes of berries have exhausted his plant, we should take from a normal seed of young plants. He spoke of making them tend to business the first year and grow instead of fruit, just before they put forth blossoms. There were good questions asked on this subject, for instance, whether manure has a good winter covering. Supt. Gregg suggested that it might pack and suffocate the plants if laid on too thick, but it would not bring any wool-seek-like temperature.

Mrs. Thon took up "The Paragon of Poultry." What she before she described shelter and food, and fear that a great many would stop right there, and did not see whether they were getting the food through the hens into her, or through the hens into eggs. She described her methods of fattening and white washing.

Mrs. Hovestad took up the nature of foods. Since the study of the farm was to produce food, it was very proper to go farther and learn how to feed it or how to get the most value from the least money.

In the afternoon Mrs. Titson was the first speaker and concluded it was about time to improve the poultry cover as well as the poultry themselves. We expect that Brainerd towns will be favored with a much better class of eggs when all the growers become so intelligent, economical and clean and thorough as she desired.

Prof. Hovestad was invited to speak upon the culture of the soil. He explained in a way easily understood by all, the action of capillary attraction, as seen in the oil mounting the rock. If we plow in the fall the soil will be loose and permit the rain and snow to sink deeply; then if in the spring we compact the subsoil, the moisture can rise by capillary attraction; then with a dust blanket we will keep it from seeping into the air. This culture of soil led to a considerable number of questions on potatoes and since they seem to wear out and new varieties do better under the same conditions, Supt. Gregg advised correspondence with Prof. Hays of St. Anthony Park, Minnesota, and a careful cautious trial of some new varieties. As Supt. Gregg very aptly remarked the old agriculture consisted of work and sweat, when it was difficult to tell a man from his horse, since both were tired and hungry, and neither had much thought. Now, the intelligent farmer is a successful, contented and loyal man.

Food for animals and men continued to be mixed and Mrs. Hovestad continuing her subject of the morning, took up "The Digestibility of Food" as regards the time required for their digestion and the completeness of the process, giving some hints for the feeding of the weak, sick, and infants.

the audience were heard to say they were glad he had come. It is probable that our rough land, some of it of a light character, would be well adapted to sheep husbandry.

In the morning by actual count the attendance reached 225, and the afternoon audience was probably as large. The second day some fine ears of corn were brought in for exhibition to the institute's audience, and they were worthy of the reputation we gained at the state fair two years ago. There was also a beautiful crop of raspberries to encourage the horticulturist.

Mr. Gibbs, now of South Dakota, but formerly an officer of the Minnesota State Horticultural society, reviewed the subject of strawberries, and which had led him pleasantly along into a wider horticulture. General questions on pruning trees followed.

Then Mrs. Titson took up the poultry flock, especially giving attention to the shape of the hen together with qualities which would lead us to get eggs.

Gen. Greeley took up sheep rearing, especially when to raise lambs, shear the sheep and how to feed and water them. He discussed sheeps and poultry a good combination and helped out Mr. Thon's topic almost as much as his own.

Dr. M. H. Reynolds followed upon the disease of sheep and horses, some of which the audience had lost their lives to. Further losses of that nature are likely to be prevented by the Doctor's timely cautions which were better than medicine.

There were many inquiries for Uncle Theodore Lewis, whose long work in this state is not forgotten. Dr. Grove of his own accord surrounded the lecturer when they elected their next representative, they should charge him to give Supt. Gregg such financial and sympathetic support as he could and needs, obtaining the best that is now too good for farmers, and to the superintendent should be maintained as he often has been the case, but in through higher office elsewhere.

The afternoon session for the gentlemen was largely devoted to answering questions, endeavoring as one speaker said, to save any money that might be already in sight from the improved methods described.

At the ladies' ball, about 75 were in attendance. After a preliminary talk on feeding poultry, which was not reported, Mrs. Hovestad began a cooking lesson in which dealt with various forms of preparing potatoes, baked, creamed, scalloped and salad.

The Grows of these different kinds of different meals and in combination with different meats was also touched upon, and much an interest aroused that several ladies were heard to express a desire for a cooking school here, to continue through several sessions.

Brainerd Leads in Northern Minnesota as a Manufacturing Center.

Brainerd, St. Cloud, Little Falls, Crookston, Fargo, Duluth, Alexandria—that is the rank as manufacturing place of the cities north of the Twin Cities, leaving out Duluth. The state labor bureau completed the compilation yesterday of the manufacturing statistics of the cities in the northern part of the state, as made by the factory inspectors on their recent inspection of that territory. Three figures show Brainerd to be easily in the lead in this section and for that matter second to Winton only of all the northern cities. At the time the inspection was made Brainerd's manufacturing population was 1,104. Of this number 1,053 were employed in the two main industries of the place, the Northern Lumber company, The other chief industries are as follows: Printing and binding, 17; such as doors, 19; vice cutting, 31; brewery 18; bakery, 10.

Little Falls' main industry is sawing lumber. There are two of these establishments and they employ 154 men in the sawing season. The Little Falls paper mill has at work a force of sixty-one men, a planing mill, 22, two flour mills, 21, and five bakeries. Seven mills and saw boys make the cigars called for by the local trade.

The report also shows that Crookston has 304 employees in manufacturing establishments. Fargo has 141, and other towns are given all with less than 50 men engaged in manufacturing. Mack's Headache Powders will cure your headache.

How Successful Farmers Operate Their Departments of the Farm—A Few Hints as to the Care of Live Stock and Poultry.

than the latter and make a better table... Many theories have been advanced as to how milk or female offspring may be produced; and yet, after all, there is no theory in the matter, but a few simple laws of nature, says a writer in the Dairies Farmer. These are: 1. The age and strength and constitution, and the produce of these may be either sex. But the bull is sold or weak or out of condition, and the cow will almost without exception, be male, and this is merely the law of nature. The female is naturally sterile, because, of the two animals, the male shows evidence of being the one most likely to die first, and, therefore, the male calf of the same sex, as a rule, is the weaker of the two parents. This, I know, is quite contrary to the most general theory; but I have taken the trouble to study and present during the past six and thirty years, and I have found that it is invariably the case, not only as regards cattle, but also in the case of sheep, horses, and even human beings. When cow colic is first set and quantity rather than quality is the object, the best young rams were put to old, broken animals, and with the result that numbers of lambs in twenty. But when the object was to produce fine lambs, old rams were put to two-year-old ewes, and with the result that three parts of the lambs were rams. I know that what I have written will be contradicted by many, but I have proved it correct during thirty-six years of a farmer's experience at all seasons.

MARRIED.

At the home of Rev. C. C. Markham, on Saturday evening, Dec. 11, Mr. Joseph Britton and Miss Emma Duff, both of this city.

The many friends of Miss Pearl Roser in this city, will be interested in the following notice of her marriage taken from the Duluth News Tribune of the 16th inst.:

In the presence of their parents and a few of their intimate friends Miss Roser was quietly married in St. Paul's Episcopal church by the pastor, Rev. A. W. Ryan, at 8:45 o'clock last night.

The arrangements for the marriage in all details were simplicity itself. It was the wish that the event should be shorn of the circumstance and pomp that are sometimes a feature who a prominent and popular couple going to the altar. There was a certain informality about everything, which was pleasing and which harmonized beautifully with the simple impressiveness of the marriage ceremony. The relative and friends of the bride and groom arrived at the church about 8:20 o'clock, and a few moments later Rev. Ryan arrived. Promptly at 8:45 o'clock the bride and groom walked down the aisle of the church to the chancel, and the words were spoken that made them man and wife. Miss Roser was dressed in a tailor-made suit of brown material and hat, while Mr. Grogg wore an afternoon frock coat and dark trousers. The groom was smiling and the bride radiant.

After the ceremony congratulations were spoken, and Mr. and Mrs. Grogg went direct to their future home at 1126 Second street east, which had previously been prepared for their occupation. Among those present at the wedding were Col. and Mrs. Grogg, Arthur and Joseph Moore, Mrs. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Boyd, James Moore, Mrs. and Miss London, Mrs. J. C. Roser and Miss Jean and Mrs. M. J. Roser and Miss Sara of Minneapolis. James C. Grogg holds a responsible place with the Great firm of Spencer, Moore & Co.—News Tribune.
