DEATHS.

Mrs. Bell A. McQuig, aged 30 years, wife of W. B. McQuig, died on Saturday morning last of blood poisoning. The funeral occurred on Sunday afternoon from the Baptist church, Rev. C. C. Marzham conducting the services.

Mrs. Laura Miller, aged 22 years, wife of W. M. Miller, died at her home in East Brainerd on Sunday of erysipelas. Funeral services were held at the home on Tuesday morning by Rev. M. B. Bird and the remains were shipped to Eau Claire, Wis. for burial.

Arthur Smith, aged 15 years, died at his father's residence at Mills Lake on Monday from internal hemorrhage. The young man was engaged in helping unload bran and shortly after went into the house and complained of illness and died in a short time. It is thought that he ruptured a blood vessel while lifting.

Wm. Barsch, aged 69 years, died at his home in Degroot Brook on Saturday last. The old gentleman had not been well for some time having lung trouble. He lived with his son Oscar the two being, and on Saturday the latter came to Brainerd to do some trading. On his return he found his father lying just inside the door of the house dead. An investigation showed that the old gentleman had been taken with a hemorrhage of the lungs and had gone to the door where he evidently had stood for some time and fell backwards dead. The funeral took place from the residence on Wednesday, Rev. Malstrom conducting the services.

The many friends of Mrs. Fred Cable will be pained to learn of her death in Chicago on Tuesday morning at the Woman's hospital where she had been for treatment for an ovarian tumor. No further particulars have been received. The deceased had many warm personal friends in this city who will deeply mourn her death.

Miss Frances E. Willard, president of the national and world's W. O. T. U. died yesterday in New York City.

MARRIED.

Mr. James Shaw, of Duluth, and Miss Henrietta Corenty, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Corenty, of this city, were united in marriage on Wednesday afternoon at the L. Findley, of Duluth, conducting the ceremony. Miss Blanche Corenty was bridesmaid and Mr. John Shaw of Duluth, groomsmen. The wedding was private, only relatives and intimate personal friends of the couple being present. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw left on the evening train on a wedding trip to Winnipeg, Manitoba. The bride is a handsome and accomplished young lady and very popular in Brainerd social circles. Her many friends here wish her every happiness in her new relationship.

Wedded at St. Cloud.

E. W. Lynch and Mrs. Zita Wilson, of this city, were united in marriage at St. Cloud Tuesday morning, returning to Brainerd on Wednesday and have gone to housekeeping at Mr. Lynch's residence, corner of 4th and Kingwood streets. The many friends of the newly wedded couple extend their hearty congratulations on the event. The St. Cloud Journal-Press says of the affair:

E. W. Lynch, a prominent undertaker of Brainerd, was married at St. Cloud at 1:30 this morning to Mrs. Zita Wilson of the same city. Miss Lucy O'Brien of Brainerd and Mr. Ross, of St. Cloud, acted as attendants. Mrs. Lynch is a sister of Mrs. Neilson O'Brien. The bride is said to be a very popular lady while in the green time numerous friends in this city wish her every happiness.

Hoffman's second floor store will buy your furniture, trade you new goods for old or sell you complete house-keeping outfit on installment for sale.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC.

After having studied the meat business in Brainerd for some time, we have finally arrived at the conclusion that there is a change of some kind needed, and we have finally decided to sell meats and provisions for CASH and to make prices as low as it is possible, and still leave a small margin of profit. In doing this we give the cash trade of the city a chance to get the most for their money, and also will be an inducement for others to pay cash and save money. Thousands of dollars are lost every year by the merchants of Brainerd doing a credit business, and of course goods have to be sold at enough higher price, so that the people who pay for their goods are bound to have to pay the losses. All we ask in this matter is that the public will examine our prices and goods, and determine for themselves whether we mean what we say or not. We have no better stock than other butchers, we have no buyers out looking for fancy beef for our market. We are making no cut price for one day and are not going to sell below cost, but we have just as good stock as any one, our meats are all bought in St. Paul every week and are inspected by the Government which insures good goods. Our prices will be quoted from week to week and we shall advance or decline just as the market goes every week. Below are our prices for the following week commencing on Saturday morning, Feb. 19.

Yours Respectfully,

PAIN & MCGINN,

Blandy in Tacoma.

D. C. Blandy, who left here in August with a team of dogs for the coast intending finally to make his way to Alaska, has certainly advertised this town pretty thoroughly all the way to the coast. He has finally arrived at Tacoma, the Tacoma Ledger of the 11th inst., containing a column and a half article concerning them, his outfit and trip, and publishes a three-column picture showing the family and traveling outfit.

The Blandys have completed their long transcontinental journey behind a team of eight dogs. From Brainerd, Minn. they have come to Tacoma, in the same manner that the earlier settlers came to this district. But there was one important difference. The earlier settlers came by land oxen or horse teams, while the Blandys were carried home, 1700 miles of country by a team of dogs, trained to the work by D. C. Blandy, ("Rindick" or "Bost") was the suggestive sentiment around which has been woven a fabric of glory for the little party. Mr. Blandy blows it aside with a brush. It was not the Klondike or the riches of any part of the Alaskan that decided them to come to Tacoma. They wanted to find a brighter climate and a richer country, where the poultry-raising and fruit industry paid more handsome returns. That was the general feeling followed by Mr. Blandy and the team, and he intends to do the same here unless he receives a good offer from someone to go to Alaska. Like most other men, he is willing to go to the Klondike or any other gold-bearing region if someone will make it worth while for him to leave Tacoma. Blandy has already received an offer to take a dog team between the passes and Dawson, but he does not intend to operate there. He says that he will probably sell his team and spend this time in Tacoma training dogs for Alaskan service.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1908.

The Maine wood ball beat—into the air, or water rather.

WEEKS is to have a new opera house to be built by Senator Whitely...

SARASO WYMAN, of Minneapolis, would not be adverse to receiving the republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

A COAST improvement has been made in the Alton Age under the new management and its politics have been purified.

The wave of prosperity may not have arrived, but a rising tide of reforming good times has already set in, and that is better than a shallow wave.

As times get better and the chance of free silver redemption grows less, the small minded, self interested free silver agitator grows more desperate and howls the louder. Let him howl.

THE Herald thinks perhaps the reason that the poor tax of Anoka county is four times as great as that of Hennepin county is because that there is not a saloon within the limits of the latter.

Nobody now ever hears about a dwindling gold reserve as during the recent democratic administration. Confidence in the government's ability to pay its obligations in 100 cent dollars seems to have been restored by the republican administration.

THE United States battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor on Tuesday evening, about 263 gallant officers and sailors losing their lives. It is to be hoped the explosion was accidental, for if it should develop that it was the work of Spanish treachery no power on earth could avert a war.

STARS AND STRIPES has prepared some figures showing the increase in the assessment of lands in various counties since the Anderson law bringing all railroad lands into the taxable list has taken effect. In Todd county the increase since 1896 is 41,000 acres, Wadena, 54,000, Morrison, 124,000, Stearns, 30,000, and Douglas, 11,000.

The commission appointed to investigate the charges of cruelty against the state prison officials has reported to the governor, not only exonerating the prison officials, but highly commending the efficiency of the prison administration. Thus the attempt to make political capital against state officials by an irresponsible democratic newspaper has proved a veritable boomerang.

A RECENT issue of the New York Sun published a list of all pensioners drawing from $45 to $415 a month, 3565 names in all. The widows of Gen. Grant and President Garfield draw the largest pensions, $5,000 a year each. There is one pensioner of $2500 a year, three of $2,000, 45 of $1,500, 2,513 of $864, 964 of $600, and a number of others under $1,000, in all aggregating a sum of $2,853,312 a year for the 3,565 names.

JOEL HEATWOLD has written a letter in which he states that he will not be a candidate for re-election to Congress from the Third district. If Mr. Heatwold's constituents should demand that he be a candidate again, and it is not among the improbabilities, he could undoubtedly be induced to run but he is keeping his promise made before the last campaign by making this statement and is undoubtedly honest in the assertion. The gentleman has done much for the party in the Third district and it is appreciated.

Times Are Much Better.

Occasionally some free silver agitator will emit a long painful howl, and ask where that wave of prosperity is!

It is not to be denied that times are much better now than a year ago during the late democratic administration. That this is untrue everybody knows. Last winter at this time, and during several previous winters, thousands of people were out of employment, and large cities including St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth appropriated large sums of public money for park and street employment just as a charitable measure to give hundreds of workmen a chance to get money to keep their families from starving. Has any one heard of such a scheme of, for the employment agencies of those cities at times have difficulty in getting men to fill orders. Large gangs of unemployed men also looked about this city previous winters, now all can get work that want it. Last winter no man was a loaf of wood-sold than a dozen men were after the job of sawing it, and now the citizen has to hunt up a man if he wants his wood sawed. Thus a cord cost only 60 cents to get sawed, now costs less than 75 cents. There are some which indicate a better condition financially. As to the country generally the commercial agencies report that the number of business failures in January were the smallest on record, while the volume of business of the country as indicated by the bank clearings was over 47 per cent larger than last year, and between 7 and 8 percent larger than 1897, the biggest previous record.

Our Part in His Favor. Leon E. Linn, the Duluth candidate for a place on the supreme bench, was born in Anoka, which is of itself a good recommendation. Anoka Herald.

Can't Afford to Stop. It costs the Royal Baking Powder company something like a half million dollars annually for advertising in an exchange. Some one suggested to the company that it discontinue advertising one year, the baking powder was so well known and advertised, and places that amount $200,000 in the profits. The answer was that it undoubtedly would cost the company three times that amount to get their product in its original channels again. This is a pretty good pointer to those business men who imagine they are making a great saving when they discontinue a two or four dollar a month advertisement a few months in dull season. It never pays to tear out a dam because the water is low.

Let's Attend! Mrs. A. Nordblad, of St. Paul, is visiting the city for a short time, doing first class hair dressing, latest style, also giving shampoo, scalp-treatment, manicuring nails, face steaming and face massage. OUT OF THE SEA.

BY CLARA AUGUSTA

"Hush" she said, quickly, "the very air has ears. Do not seem if you were there. Write to me. You know the place where letters reach me. Take this, and go."

She pressed forward, and passed through the bushes, but it was so dark, she could discern nothing beyond the steel circles of a tall, dark figure, heavily shawl for a moment, he was tempted to rush forth and annihilate them both. He would wait and watch. So he went to the door, and he saw the woman who was his wife. He had no time to think, but he saw her. He had no time to think, but he saw her. He had no time to think, but he saw her.

There was no signature. None was needed. Ralph Tremblaine was desperately angry. He chafed. Like a caged lion. This woman whom he had not seen, whom he married solely to please another, was dishonoring his great name, and making him merely a tool to play upon with her subtle wit, at her own pleasure. He shut his hand like a vice. This would crush her power to do evil. CHAPTER X.

IT WAS THE close of a beautiful day in the city. A traveling carriage stopped at the door of a house. A woman, a young girl, and a little boy, were waiting. The woman, a young girl, and a little boy, were waiting. The woman, a young girl, and a little boy, were waiting.

He had touched the costly trinkets on the table with something like awe—membership was had used them. There was a knot of ribbon, that had murdered her on her bosom. There, too, was the little gold brooch that had fastened her collar. In a chest there, too, was the little gold brooch that had fastened her collar. In a chest there, too, was the little gold brooch that had fastened her collar.

"Helen" he said, quickly, "the very air has ears. Do not seem if you were there. Write to me. You know the place where letters reach me. Take this, and go."

She pressed forward, and passed through the bushes, but it was so dark, she could discern nothing beyond the steel circles of a tall, dark figure, heavily shawl for a moment, he was tempted to rush forth and annihilate them both. He would wait and watch. So he went to the door, and he saw the woman who was his wife. He had no time to think, but he saw her. He had no time to think, but he saw her. He had no time to think, but he saw her.

CHAPTER XII.

The grocery firm of Morken & Dyke, at the corner of Kinross and Eight streets, are gaining a reputation for square dealing and as a result their trade is increasing daily. One of the cardinal principles of the firm is that of doing just as agreed in regard to prices and an observance will show that their prices are lower in many respects than can be found elsewhere in the city. Their stock is neat and up-to-date in all respects and they invite an inspection by the public, being satisfied that it will result in all cases in their favor. Will Close at 7 O'clock. A petition has been circulated among the grocery stores of the city, and signed by all dealers with one or two exceptions, whose signatures will be secured when seen, pledging themselves to close their places of business commencing Tuesday, March 1st, at 7 o'clock each evening except Saturday evenings, and N. F. and will pay day nights and the evening of the day following both pay days. This is a sensible move and should be imitated by the meat markets, dry goods and clothing stores. There is no more reason why a man engaged in trade should work several hours each evening than a shop man or mechanic, and purchasers would soon become accustomed to the change and govern themselves accordingly.
