"Should one judge from the so-called comic page, all men are liars and dishonorable all women are frivolous and unfaithful, all children pigs, all mothers-in-law monsters, all homes unhappy, all husbands and wives quarrelsome, all drawers chests, all ministers wretched, all charitable organizations frauds, all mankind thoroughly corrupt." Thus the editor of the Minneapolis Tribune what he calls the mischievous of the comic. The extract has its own merits, but it is not the mischievous that we should eliminate entirely. Shall we stigmatize the exaggeration of history which is not susceptible of any amount of proof? Shall we overlook the poetry and pretension? Shall we permit our wit and our wit to be the pricks of their ridiculous words? The credit would for some little interest.

SENOR SAGASTA HAS RESIGNED

He and His Cabinet Have Had All They Want.
London, July 15.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says: Senor Sagasta went to the palace and took the resignation of the cabinet. It is said he advised the queen regent to appoint a new cabinet, largely consisting of the military element, which would necessarily mean the adoption of a military policy, but probably the result may possibly be a partial reconstruction of the cabinet. The ministers are now in council and will in an hour of his audience with the queen regent.

TO PREVENT THEIR ESCAPE

SHAFER'S EFFORTS TO CARRY OUT THE PRESIDENT'S ORDER. Really the Cause of What Happened Like Delay-Spanish Army Must Escape From Santiago—Only Wait in Vale for News of the Bombardment of Santiago—General O'Donnell Unable to Proceed—Shells Into the City—Cable Communication Between Washington and Shafter in Excellent Condition.

Washington, July 12.—Gen. Shafter's report from Siboney, sent just before midnight Sunday night, caused officials of the war department to wait all day yesterday with the expectation of hearing that the bombardment of Santiago had begun. No word to that effect came, however, up to the time the department closed, and though there is little reason to doubt that the general carried out the program which he had outlined in his report, it was regarded as possible that he had been unable to do so. It is expected that Gen. Miles, with additional reinforcements on the late arrived, will start for Santiago last night and, according to a message received by the war department, it is believed that the assault will be made on the morning of the 13th. It is believed that the assault will be made on the morning of the 13th. It is believed that the assault will be made on the morning of the 13th.

NEXT CITY TO BE ATTACKED

Washington, July 12.—The attention of Hawaii is now completely so far as the legislative branch of the government is concerned. Quite unexpectedly the resolutions providing for the annexation of the islands were brought to a vote in the senate yesterday afternoon and they were passed by the decisive vote of 42 to 21. Early in the session of the senate conference of the leaders on both sides of the chamber were and a tacit agreement was reached that a vote should be taken to-day or tomorrow. The opponents of annexation had concluded their arguments and as they had no desire to keep the senate in session by purely dilatory tactics they announced their willingness that a vote should be taken as soon as Mr. White, Mr. Pettigrew and Mr. Allen had finished their speeches. Neither Mr. White nor Mr. Pettigrew spoke at great length, but Mr. Allen, though he occupied the remainder of the day and a part of today. He concluded to elaborate a part of the matter he had brought up and at 11 he employed his speech. It was evident instantly that the word was passed swiftly through the senate and the result was that the resolution was passed by a vote of 42 to 21. The resolution was passed by a vote of 42 to 21. The resolution was passed by a vote of 42 to 21.

THE ADVANCE COMPANY. Washington, July 12.—The suit of the railroad company against the Hawaiian islands, asking for an injunction to restrain the Hawaiian islands from operating the railway, was dismissed by the court.

WORK OF CONGRESS

Former Mr. Hay (Rep., N. Y.) and Mr. (Dem., Del.) were the principal participants. After the latter stormy session of two hours the house, when adjournment was announced, joined in cheers for the president and his heroes and the singing of patriotic songs, making, perhaps, the most enthusiastic display in a session since the Civil War. The only measure of importance passed was a bill to reimburse states for expenses incurred in adding the organization of the volunteer army. Mr. (Dem., Del.) by moving to strike from the record a part of the speech which appeared as that of Mr. Hay (Rep., N. Y.) precipitated the dispute which brought on the closing incident of session.

IN A MATTER SO simple as to be almost perfunctory the senate at 2 o'clock adjourned without delay. None of the measures passed during the session of the senate's session. It had been agreed when the senate convened that the house resolution providing for the adjournment of congress at 2 o'clock should be adopted and that a recessive session should be held to confirm the resolutions in the military and naval establishments. No other business except of the most routine nature was transacted. The arrangement was carried out in the manner in which it had been provided for in the resolutions of the senate during the present session. It was adopted.

HONORS TO CORBIN. The Adjutant General Is a Major General. A bill conferring upon Adj. Gen. Corbin the rank and rights of a major general was passed in the senate yesterday. When unanimous consent was asked for the consideration of the bill by Mr. Sewall of New Jersey Mr. Pettus of Alabama objected, but the senate by a vote decided to consider it. Mr. Pettus subsequently withdrew his objection and said that Gen. Corbin had been rapidly promoted by reason of military services. This charge brought several senators to their feet, among them being Messrs. Berry and Dancy, Democrats. All were for the place he occupied. Messrs. Pettus and Corbin warmly objected to the bill. The bill was passed by a vote of 42 to 21.

Republicans elected prior to July 1st and not recorded prior to that time must be stamped according to the recent revenue law to make them valid. The fact of their having been associated previous to the above date does not make them exempt according to a ruling of the department.

Chavez and his men have been given equal treatment since they became prisoners of war that it would not be wondered at if the Spanish officials took out his naturalization papers and became an American subject. He says diagnoses and death awaits him if he returns to Spain.

According to the Aitkin Age C. O. McCarthy, of Grand Rapids, will assure the support of the republicans at that section for the senatorial nomination from that district. As Mr. McCarthy's home county is a unit for him he will undoubtedly capture the nomination and it will be an honor worthily bestowed and the district be ably represented by his election.

It is a very cold day when Alonso J. Williams, formerly of Duluth, is not in hot water and his latest is a sentence of one year in the work house at Chicago and a fine of $2,000 for passing a fraudulent check and in default of payment of the fine he must work it out at $150 per day. Alonso is one of his best and closest friends the next three or four years at least.

The reason that Chavez went into Santiago harbor and allowed himself to be trapped there like a rat in a hole has been explained by the Spaniards. He expected to provision and coal and get away inside of 24 hours, but this was found to be impossible, owing to the slow tropical methods employed in handling coal. There Captain General Blanco was commended with, and the presence of the two fleets in Mexican channel and Windward passage was announced, and he was obliged to remain until ordered out by the home government the order being obeyed when certain defeat stared him in the face.

Brainerd was called on by a captain of some Southern Minnesota company Tuesday for men to fill out his company and the reply was sent back that this city would furnish full company, if allowed, but otherwise the boys did not care to go. As it was but right that the answer should be so. Our people was given positive assurance that Brainerd would get a call and were told to get the company organized, but when the time came some other city was recognized. No wonder our boys do not feel like helping some other city fill out company when they have been snubbed in the above manner, for it will not have been given the company it would not have been necessary to have called on other cities for the quota of men to fill it.

The country should see that the senators and representatives who have stood by President McKinley are returned. It would be a misfortune for the country to have the legislative branch antagonistic to the executive during the last half of McKinley's term. Davis and Morris should be re-elected.—Little Falls Transcript.

From Camp Ramsey. The Dispatch is in receipt of the following letter from Secretary S. L. Thomas, of the Y. M. C. A., who is spending the week at Camp Ramsey in the interest of the association. "I arrived in Camp Ramsey Tuesday and found some 1300 men here in camp, working hard drilling from 6 a. m. to 8 p. m. Most of the men are in uniform now and it looks very much like war time here. Our building is crowded all the time and we cannot accommodate the men but are doing our best with the funds we have. Brainerd's contribution was greatly appreciated, as money and men are both badly needed to carry on this work. Last night our singing and guitar playing was acquired and reached out into the streets. I had the most splendid 40 men band and 25 men band, a desire to lead better lives by standing up."

Best the Sixth Ever Made. Congressman Morris is endorsed by a Washington correspondent as the people of the Sixth district on vouch for the truthfulness of the statements, and further that will show their appreciation of Morris returning him to congress this fall by an overwhelming majority. The correspondent says: Congressman Morris is certainly a distinguished appearing member, and in the speeches he has made this session has fully maintained the expectations of his friends. He championed the cause of free homesteads, and through his efforts a great many settlers have had the time extended for final payment on their homes until opportunities are afforded them of purchasing two more harvests.

Morris introduced, managed and secured the passage of a bill giving every American volunteer soldier and sailor who has entered government lands additional time on which to prove up on the same equal to the period of their service in the war against Spain.

Morris introduced and managed the Mills Loan Homestead bill; he has secured many favors from the land department in the interests of the people in the Sixth district. It is without doubt, the most painstaking member that has ever represented the Sixth district in Congress.

Republican Congressional Committee. Wm. E. Lee has announced the following republican central committee for the Sixth congressional district: Oscar Mitchell, at large, chairman; Carlton Graves, Aitkin; J. C. H. Engle, Cook; George H. The Ballot and League county members will be announced later.

YES OR NO. Brainerd People are Respectfully Asked to Answer these Questions. Is there anything in the evidence of our senses? Can the reader dispute and then improve local evidence? Can religious prejudice and state-ments from people we know? Are the opinions of rounds of thousands of any greater moment than opinions held by residents of Maine or California? Would you sooner believe people living in those states than those of our own city?

Answer these questions honestly after you have quietly read the foregoing. Mrs. M. H. Ingensell, of Fifth St. North, says: "I certainly have but one opinion about the value of Doan's Kidney Pills. In my case they were indeed doubly very beneficial. I had suffered about my kidneys for some time with varying degrees of severity, and the annoying condition existed for quite a long time. I tried various remedies but they all failed to bring about any marked change. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised at Brainerd's drug store, I had some procured for me and gave them a good trial. I soon felt their effect in my improved condition, which has been permanent as far as I can see. I should be glad to recommend them personally to any one in Brainerd."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name DOAN'S and take no substitutes. An Embarrassing Fad. Last-hand standing is the newest New York fad and a most embarrassing one of the uninitiated. Indeed in this fact the life of the initiated is not wholly free from carrying care, for the knowledge of the fad is not widespread, and it is a puzzling situation for the ultra-modern girl when she dresses to meet a girl friend or foe with her left hand raised at the proper angle of greeting, only to encounter a right hand all out of focus with her own, and accompanied by a most bewilderment expression of consternation. It is a trying moment for all hands, and the girl who is the consciousness of being very much up-to-date is really not much more comfortable in mind than is the girl who is oppressed with a sudden fear of her friend's senility. But the very consciousness of this fact will help it to go. The busy world will not spare the time to acquire the trick, hence its excitement and popularity will remain for some time unnumbered.

TO FEED PRISONERS.
UNCLE SAM TO TAKE CARE OF CAPTIVES AT SANTIAGO.

Arrangements Under Way to Furnish Supplies to the Suffering Inhabitants of the Besieged City—Spanish Prisoners to be Promptly Released to This Country.

The problem of feeding the people of Santiago and the prisoners taken there, in addition to the United States troops under Shafter, was discussed at a long conference the other afternoon between Secretary Algeo, Quartermaster General Ludington and Commissary General Sapha. It is a very serious matter and cannot be adequately adjusted until the war department has been acquainted with the conditions that will exist after the town has been taken. General Sapha took with him supplies for six months for about 30,000 men and animals. This, it is estimated, will last the United States troops, and that Captain Allen, the needy people of Santiago and the Spanish army defending the place for three months, so that there is no fear for the present of any lack of subsistence. The supplies that accompanied General Shafter were intended for use in the Porto Rico campaign, and for that reason they are in Santiago as well as the supplies to Santiago as that those now in the possession of the American forces will not be depleted. Arrangements for sending a great quantity of foodstuffs to Santiago are being made by commissary general and the quartermaster general. The administration does not propose to let the people of Santiago suffer after the city is in possession of the American army.

The military authorities believe that the suffering people of the besieged city have heard the stories about the abundance of food supplies in the possession of the invaders and anticipation a friendly reception for Shafter's troops from a great many of the residents. It was said at the war department that the Spanish forces might find greater difficulty in holding Santiago through the desire of the people to have the Americans, with their unlimited stock of provisions, gain a quick victory and expel the distribution of the nation.

The reports that many refugees have taken the risk of getting through the Spanish lines to the American position in the hope of obtaining food supplies and army officers that the news is spreading in Santiago that the invaders are not so terrible after all, but have wavered long of good things to eat, which they intend to get to the city in the city. It would not surprise him in Washington if it began to spread in Santiago over a failure of the Spanish government or capitulate within a reasonable time.

THE CINCINNATI MEN.
Chaplain Childwick's Fighting for Their Swavers.

The Rev. Porter John P. Childwick, who was chaplain of the battleship Maine when she was blown up in Havana harbor and is now chaplain of the United States cruiser Cincinnati, was recently visiting in New York on a short leave of absence. When seen the other evening at the Waldorf-Astoria, he was the subject of a most interesting conversation with the Cincinnati men who were the crew of the Cincinnati that got into the fight. When the order for them to go into action came from the flagship, the men acted like boys. They fairly hugged one another. The story of the bombardment of the Cincinnati was the most exciting story that he had heard. The war of our guns was like a thunder. The port of a chaplain in an engagement is in the day, but it is only optional. He may, if he wishes, go on deck or among the men to encourage them.

The sailors of the Cincinnati were first met all patriotic all enthusiastic. They held the next place in my heart to the crew of the Maine. The watchword 'Remember the Maine' is a potent stimulant to the jacks down in Cuba. It shows a place with their religion, and it makes them fight like devils.—New York Sun.

Bill Man's Patriotic Association. On Sunday evening a mass meeting of the employees of the Brainerd Lumber Co. was held at the store of Jones & Stry near the mill, and officers of the association were named. The object of the meeting was to form an organization that would show that the patriotism of the people of this city had not been squandered and that we were overlooked in the call for troops. The clothing and dry goods merchants have been closing Tuesday and Friday at 6:30 p. m. The meeting evidently accomplished its object and had a tendency to incline those who have heretofore objected to the matter toward the movement and R. G. Vallentyne was appointed a committee to circulate an agreement for the signature of the business men.

A Rough Experience. Frank Houghton, son of Mrs. E. E. Houghton of this city, and who went East some months ago, has had an experience that he will probably remember for some time. Mr. Houghton after leaving Brainerd went to Boston and from that place made his way to the Atlantic but for the past two months his mother had heard nothing from him and was beginning to think that he had met with some accident or had been killed. On Wednesday she received a letter in which he explained his long absence as follows:

"I have been nearly to South Africa but not of my own free will. A friend and myself were 'straggled' that is we were knocked down and dragged and robbed of what little money we had and our watches and put aboard a sailing ship bound for South Africa, the vessel being short of men and the captain not caring how he got them. When we came to we found ourselves out at sea and at first we refused to work but they put us on board and water for three days and we made up our minds it would be better to go to work and look for a chance to escape to some vessel that was nearest hand but we were watched and did not get a chance until the 15th of June when we sighted a ship at midnight that was flying the American flag. There was but one man on deck besides us and he being at the wheel did not see it. We avoided our dark and then slipped over the side into a small boat that was towing alongside having been used during some painting that day and had been left there. We got away without being discovered and made the best time we could toward the steamer and were picked up an hour and a half after. This steamer was bound for Kingston, Jamaica, where we were finally landed on the 26th of June and the American consul there got us passage home on one of the Boston Fruit Co's steamers the last day and we arrived at Boston on the 4th."

A Great Weather Prediction. Clement Wragge, the government meteorologist at Queenston, Australia, often called "Infernal Wragge" and "Wee Wragge," is an old genius. This is one of his weather predictions:

"What a grand meteorological opera is in progress! All the people of Australia and New Orleans are the audience. Yet not all can see the great performance in its totality. Those in advance between Honolulu and Dallas will enjoy the stirring music. The sea, in sympathy, adds the storm-tossed waves to the whirling of the wind, some roaring around some cavernous bluff, then lapping the cliffs in angry tones with spectral cascades of sapphire beauty, while modulating the scene in turn to the hissing, sobbing notes of lapping foam. But our friends in New Orleans enjoy special treatments in the theater of King Eolus. There, under their eyes, will pass, the storm emperors of the Pacific, some perform her marvelous evolutions and dance her wildest step."

A Famous Gentleman. Middle aged tourists who know their Middle Ages will do well to read the study of the life of Antonio Maschio, the famous gentleman, who made Dante the study of his life. He had received no education, but by dint of reading the great Florence over and over again he acquired a sort of intuitive insight into the subtle meaning of the poet that sometimes surprised even cultured students of Dante. His gentles was always a perfect scholar and scholar.

glad, far apart from his special subject as was a mine of information on the topography and traditions of the city of the dogs. With nearly all the eminent Dialecticians of his day he was in close touch, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg often consulting him on his own peculiarities in the closing years of his life Maschio was a light porter or messenger at the Louvre Palace.
