That Change of Time.

It is stated on what appears to be reliable information that there is to be a radical change in the train service of the Northern Pacific in regard to Brainerd. The change, so the story goes, will be to take of Nos. 11 and 12, the two noon Duluth trains and also Nos. 5 and 6, the local day trains between St. Paul and Fargo and in the place of which Nos. 7 and 8, the Winnipeg trains now running over the cut-off, will be run this way arriving here sometime about midnight leaving Brainerd without a day train in either direction. There is some change contemplated and if the arrangement is carried out as above stated Brainerd will get decidedly the worst of it. By that schedule the morning papers from St. Paul and Minneapolis would not reach us until 24 hours old, besides the inconvenience of being obliged to travel by night in going from or coming to the city. The arrangement would also be greatly to the disadvantage of the B. & N. M. people as passengers bound for the Bemidji country and the travel is very heavy, would go by the Great Northern before they would wait twelve hours here to continue their journey south. If the change is made it is bound to be a very unpopular one.

Detroit Selected.
The employees of the Northern Pacific shops will hold their annual picnic at Detroit this year, the date being set for Saturday, June 24. The matter was settled at a meeting held on Saturday last, the vote standing on the first ballot, Detroit 7, Glenwood 34, Minneapolis 7. On the second ballot 52 votes were cast for Detroit and 26 for Glenwood. Officers were selected as follows: President—Wm. Herron. Vice President—Dart Smith. Treasurer—Wm. Brown. Executive committee—Timothy Tooley, machine shop; Merrill Honick, car department machine shop; John Murphy, boiler shop; H. C. Simpson, tin shop; Robert Ozark, blacksmith shop; John Thier, car shop; Mat. Gorman, plating mill.

MAY WEDDINGS.
At Deerwood on Saturday morning last, Rev. W. E. Loomis united Miss W. Nichols in marriage to Miss Grace Rathoun at the home of the bride's parents. An elaborate wedding breakfast was served to about twenty invited guests at 10 a. m. The bride is one of the popular young ladies of Deerwood, the groom for some time having been with the N. P. company at that place but is now located at Iron River, Wis. Hosts of friends extend congratulations.

E. J. Cunningham and Mrs. Emma Shaug were united in marriage on Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. Cunningham on Laurel street, east. Rev. A. H. Carter conducting the ceremony. The groom has for many years been in the employ of the Northern Pacific road as an engineer and the many friends of the couple in this city and elsewhere will offer their congratulations.

Thomas White and Miss Matilda Lundin were united in marriage at the M. arrangement on Monday by Rev. W. E. Loomis.
At the Catholic church on Tuesday morning Rev. Fr. Lynch united Herman Tholes and Miss Lena Bergetta in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Tholes are residents of Deerwood.
Judge W. H. Manton united John N. Tift and Stella Hicks in marriage yesterday afternoon.

GONE BEYOND.
Albert O'Brien, aged 11 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. O'Brien, died last night of paralysis. The boy was stricken about a month ago and gradually grew worse until last evening when death relieved his suffering. The funeral will occur on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Catholic church. Rev. Father Lynch presiding the funeral sermon.

Arthur E. Isaacson, aged one year and eight months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Isaacson, died of pneumonia on Saturday last. The funeral was held from the home on Monday.

Mrs. August Colmer died at her home at Smiley Wednesday afternoon from child birth. The funeral was held yesterday. Rev. W. E. Loomis, of this city, officiating.
Prof. Bruns the expert optician, will be at the Arlington, May 22, 23 and 24. Eyes examined free.

Frank Bennett, who has been breaking on the B. & N. M., has been promoted to the position of yardmaster at Bemidji.
The smoke social given by the mechanics at Walker's hall last Friday evening was a very enjoyable affair and well attended.
The people of Wyman Bay on Miller Lake at Cassa Grande place will celebrate the 4th of July in proper style. The program will be published later.

Delegates to Fire Convention.

The State Fireman's Association will meet this year at Austin, the date being June 14. The different companies of this city have elected delegates to attend as follows:
Hose Co. No. 1—George Sargent and Gus Raymond.
Hose Co. No. 2—A. H. Bennett and Albe Hall.
Hose Co. No. 3—Joseph Waitan and Thos. Mooney.
Hose Co. No. 4—John Thompson and P. Peterson.
Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1 will hold their meeting for electing delegates on Tuesday evening next.

Something You Want.

P. M. Zakariasen, the 7th street tailor, has just put upon his shelves an entirely new line of goods, including a good deal of the very latest patterns and styles. The goods are direct from the eastern markets and can be depended on as the "correct thing." A specialty at this tailoring establishment is in the suits and also broad waists, a line of goods has been purchased for this particular line of trade, satisfaction in every instance being guaranteed. The business has increased so much an extent during the past few months that Mr. Zakariasen has been obliged to enlarge his quarters and put on additional workmen. His particular and personal attention is given to every order, and customers have the satisfaction of knowing that their suits will fit and that the workmanship is of the best. If you are thinking of buying call in and look the line over, as the proprietor will be only too pleased to exhibit his new line of suitings.

Cleaned Out the Shop.

A daring piece of burglary was committed on Saturday morning on Sixth street at which time Reinhardt & Raymond's barber shop, in the basement of the Old Fellow's block, was raided and nearly every thing of value that was not nailed down was carried off. When the proprietors appeared for business in the morning they found that the razors, clippers, shears, combs, etc., were gone. The thieves having gained entrance by forcing the door. Two men were apprehended at Aldin and one at Carlton on Sunday who were offering barber's supplies for sale and they were arrested and taken to Erickson went after them. One of the fellows succeeded in making his escape from the sheriff's attention county by jumping through the car window while the train was in motion. The other two were brought on Monday morning their examination was to have been held but was postponed until Thursday, at which time it was again adjourned on account of the absence of the attorney from the city of the attorney, F. F. Everett, and claim to be innocent of the crime, laying the blame entirely onto the third man who escaped. The greater part of the stolen property was recovered.

Burglars robbed the till of the Northern Pacific office at Little Falls on Sunday of $17.

Wadena has been abandoned by the Salvation Army, the barracks closed and the city left to its fate.
Fergus Falls must be a pretty clean city if the statement that there has not been a police court case—drunk or disorderly—in that place for over two months, is true.

The new state game warden has published his list of deputies in all the daily papers of St. Paul and Minneapolis. If a game warden is onto his job the violators of the law will find out who he is in a manner more satisfactory to the sportsmen than by sending these fellows a printed list so they may be on the lookout.
Over in Otter Tail county farmers are sowing pickerel and red horse and throwing them on the land for fertilizer. It is about all kinds of fish are good for but it isn't evident that the legislators intend the fish to be put to that use when they passed the law allowing them to be taken at any time and in any manner.

The Wadena Tribune has added a new Hoe driven cylinder press and other new machinery to its plant and appears to be enjoying its share of the general prosperity of the county, although from week to week it continues to lose some of its circulation. It has gone to halves under the present administration. It is too bad for some of these calamity howlers that the country didn't go to the above mentioned place and take them with it.

OTIS ON PHILIPPINES.

Returned Commander Talks of Situation in the Islands.

THINKS WAR IS GOING TO BE BRIEF.

Philippine, West by Dispositions, Short of Annihilation and Resources and Heavy Losses of Warships, Near the Surrender—Value of Islands, View of Government and Public.

Returned Commander of the Philippine Expedition, General Harrison Gray Otis, who reached Los Angeles, Calif., on Manila on May 6, is naturally the best authority now in the United States on the situation and prospects in the Philippines. He gives in the following article the results of his extensive and long experience in the islands.

"The duration of the pending campaign in the Philippines is bound to be brief. It is impossible for the army now in the Philippines to continue the fight, and there is no hope of military success even if the fight should be continued indefinitely. Neither the United States nor the Philippines possess the resources necessary to finance success. They are without adequate arms and ammunition; they are without heavy artillery; they are without a sufficient commissariat, but are compelled to live precariously on the country; they have no efficient organization; they are without commerce of knowledge and capacity for modern warfare, and finally they are without cohesion. There is no solidarity in the patriotism of the population. If patriotism it exists, it is shared by the Filipinos and not with each other, and it will never submit to Tagalo rule, to Agri-

The different islands possess various and distinct characteristics, but they are all united by a common thread of civilization. The Philippines is a vast and beautiful country, and its resources are almost limitless. It is only a matter of time before the United States will be able to bring it under its flag. The war will be brief, and the result will be a permanent peace.

It is a surprising fact, says Prof. Hooton, "that in my travels in all parts of the world, for the last ten years, I have met more people having used GERR'S AVOIDER FLOWERS than any other remedy, for dyspepsia, deranged liver and stomach, and for constipation. I find for tourists and seamen, or for filling out positions, where headaches and general bad feelings from irregular habits exist, that GERR'S AVOIDER FLOWERS is a grand remedy. It does not injure the system by frequent use, and is excellent for sour stomachs and indigestion." Sample bottles free at M. K. Swartz's Drug Store. Sold by dealers in civilized countries. FRICK, THE STEEL KING.

Story of His Career From Clerk to Magnate.

HIS SAGACITY AND FIRMNESS.

These Traits of His Character Have Advanced Him From a Store to the Presidency of the Biggest Industrial Trust—His Part in the Homestead Strife.

As the head of the greatest industrial trust in the world—namely, the new steel combine recently formed at Pittsburgh—Henry Clay Frick becomes a man of universal interest. He would be better informed if it were possible for while Mr. Frick is consumed with ambition to accomplish tremendous results in the commercial and industrial world, he is intensely disliked, having public attention called to him.

Mr. Frick is 60 years old, having been born in 1849 in Fayette county, Pa. His father was a farmer in moderate circumstances who lived in West Overton, Pa. With nothing but a common school education young Frick went to work as a dry goods clerk, but soon gave that up to become a bookkeeper in the distillery owned by his grandfather at Bradford, Pa.

This took young Frick into the very heart of the coke region. Although he was but 21 years of age then, he had developed the habit of accumulating money and saved some of his earnings. He took a great interest in the manufacture of coke, studied the process and made up his mind that he would some day go into the business. At this time, too, he was a close student of the labor situation in the coal and coke regions. A short time after passing his majority Frick and two other young men scraped up money enough between them to buy 800 acres of land and 40 coke ovens. They began to manufacture coke under the firm name of Frick & Co. Frick succeeded so well in the coke business that within four years he increased his ovens from 40 to 100. The coke business kept on booming at a great rate until 478 ovens had been built in the region.

Then came the panic of 1872. The price of pig iron declined enormously, the price of coke fell in sympathy, and everybody wanted to get out of the coke business. Not so with Mr. Frick. He invested every dollar that he had or could raise in purchasing the coke properties and ovens which others were so ready to sell at low prices. All through the panic he kept his ovens going. In 1874 he separated from his old partners and took E. M. Ferguson as a new partner. Next success came to this new firm in 1875, when there came an unprecedented demand for coke, and prices went up about $1 to a ton. Under the impetus of this boom Mr. Frick continued to buy coke ovens and coal lands until in 1885 his firm had 8,000 acres of coal land and 1,020 coke ovens. It was in that year that Carnegie, Howe & Co. (limited) became partners in the firm of H. C. Frick & Co.

The success of the firm from 1883 until 1890 was phenomenal, and it is generally acknowledged that it was in the greatest degree due to the energy and push of Mr. Frick himself. In 1890 the corporation owned and controlled 85,000 acres of coal lands, 40 of the 60 coke plants in the region, with an aggregate of 10,040 ovens, three water plants with a pumping capacity of 5,000,000 gallons daily, 25 miles of railroad and 1,200 cars. Earnings thousands were on the year's end of the company then.

On the death of David A. Stewart, in December, 1889, Andrew Carnegie offered Mr. Frick a million in the firm of Carnegie, Howe & Co. and Carnegie, Phelps & Co., which Mr. Frick accepted and paid for. He was at once made chairman of the directors of Carnegie, Howe & Co. As an opponent of labor unions Mr. Frick earned the everlasting hatred of the Amalgamated association. When he was put at the head of all of the Carnegie steel interests, the Amalgamated association felt that the fight for its life had come, and in June, 1892, came the bloody Homestead strike.

It was a time of great political excitement, and the Republican party managers brought the greatest influence to bear on Mr. Frick to get him to agree to the terms demanded by the union. On that occasion he displayed the strongest traits of his character by saying: "If the president of the United States and his entire cabinet and the Republican national committee and Andrew Carnegie in person should come to me and say for peace, I would not yield one inch in this matter. I shall fight it out if it takes all summer and all winter and every dollar I have in the world."

And he kept his word. He was deaf to all entreaty. The only question he would consider was how to defeat the strikers. He thought of nothing else, even after the anarchist, Berkman, had shot him and he was spun a bed from which it was feared he never would rise. The bloody battle of Homestead, when the steel troops were called out to protect the Carnegie works and in which so many lives were lost, did not swerve Mr. Frick in his purpose. He fought the strike out and won it.

Mr. Frick and others were indicted for manslaughter as a result of the Homestead strike, but the indictments were afterward dismissed on the motion of the prosecuting officers. Since that time other anarchists have threatened to kill Mr. Frick. It is a fact that he has been nervous on this score. He is always very careful when he receives either at his home, his office or his hotel.

Mr. Frick has one of the most beautiful houses in the suburb of Pittsburgh. There he lives with his wife and two children.—New York World.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BATTLE

The Following Descriptive Letter Just Received by G. W. Gallagher from His Son George.

On the battlefield near Calocoon, March 25th, 1899.

DEAR FATHER—I will try and write you a letter as I may not have another chance for sometime. We left the city a little over a week ago and have been in a position on the road leading to the water works. I suppose you have read an account of our advance on the 25th of March. I will tell you about our connection with it. We did not know we were going to advance until the evening of the 24th. Then we were told to roll up our blankets and take our rations for two days which consisted of hard tack and canned beef. On the night of the 24th, I went on outpost duty. At two o'clock in the morning I was relieved. I joined the battalion on the road, and then marched for about three miles, which was the extreme right of the line. Here we were issued about one hundred more rounds of ammunition which made about two hundred rounds in all. We had now come to another road, and our battalion deployed into a line of skirmishers. My company was in the very extreme right. Then F. B. and A. near us. I suppose the other two battalions were on our left. We laid down in the middle of the road still in the light and then began to advance. The ground over which we marched was very hard, a series of hills, ridges and gullies, lined with thick bushes. The firing began on the left at Company B. They started in with three volleys. We advanced about fifty yards before our company fired, and then started in. The insurgents lines were directly in front of our company on a hill. There they were fired in front of. Now they were fired in front of us. They were fired in front of us. They were fired in front of us.

analysis armed with bows and arrows and that we were slaughtering them like sheep. I wish he was on one of these battlefields in front of the nation and he would find out the difference between showery of Mauser bullets and a bow and arrow. There is going to be some awful hard fighting before these natives are whipped. But I must say good-by as we have orders to move. Give my love to all.

Your loving son,
G. W. GALLAGHER.

SOME USEFUL HINTS.

Sometimes These Will Prove Very Convenient To Residents of Brainerd.

Did it ever strike the reader that when mankind takes sick, if all the stories we hear about the miraculous cures performed by medical preparations are true, how they could possibly help being cured, and win for the same reason they should die? Did it ever strike the reader that some of the commonest ailments which afflict mankind, and a very small beginning, and had the truth been checked in time an immense amount of suffering and a vast amount of money would have been spared the victim? You cannot spin a long yarn about kidney complaint or backache resulting from it, so that if the reader is afflicted with the short and terse experience related by Mr. A. E. Looney of the firm of Looney, Dean, undertakers and embalmers, Front street, he should be pleased with what brought about much coveted results. He says: "It was necessary for me to employ some medicine for my kidneys. This is exactly the case of hundreds of citizens of Brainerd. They are warned: they will neglect the warning; they will neglect the warning; they will neglect the warning; they begin to realize their danger and anxiously look for some agent to relieve them. After trying here and down remedies and probably consulting five or six different physicians, physical condition far from improved, in fact, it is often the opposite of what was hoped for. It is merely like that which Mr. Looney stated and proved he up to his representations, is offered Brainerd people, would it not be the height of folly to ignore such valuable information? Here is the proof of it. Consulting Mr. Looney says: "I procured one box, used it, and I believe they helped me. I take pleasure in recommending them for backache, etc."
