

REPUBLICAN ROUSER

SENATOR NELSON VINDICATES THE CAUSE OF HIS PARTY

Mississippi's Junior Senator Makes a Noble Speech at the Dedication of the Fourth Ward Republican Wisconsin Arrangement of the Anti and Their Treacherous Conduct—Lead, Head Support to the Country's Exalted—Congressman Wray Also Takes a Whirl at Them.

The Republican convention of Minnesota broke loose in Minneapolis the other evening and departed in a way that simply delighted about four hundred representatives of the party. The occasion was the formal dedication of the Fourth Ward Republican club. It was successful beyond the most sanguine expectations.

The dedicatory rally was not simply a local affair. It was not wholly a state occasion. It will have national character, mainly for the reason that the official speaker was the Senator from Wisconsin. Senator Nelson presented an address which attracted wide attention, and which in many particulars is of national importance.

Senator Nelson began by reviewing the history of the growth of the United States and following the course of the Civil war and gave statistics showing the state of the nation, etc. of the country at different periods, those of the war with Spain. The senator also traced the industrial and commercial development of the United States. He spoke of the vast territory that has been added to the United States, and of the great manufacturing and commercial nations of Europe.

Senator Nelson then addressed the matter of the West. He said that the West is the source of our strength and power. He said that the West is the source of our strength and power. He said that the West is the source of our strength and power.

that they had come from the fact that increased commerce and traffic would make it more important to have a state of insurance, and that increased commerce would lead to increased wealth. That these men do not come to us with their hands empty.

What ground is there for this assumption? In all our history has the American soldier ever ceased to be a loyal American citizen?

Didn't Dred the Thirteenth. The tenth regiment when they returned from Mexico, or look upon them as anything less? No; you rushed across a continent to receive them, and struggled for a chance to do them honor. In our great Civil war we had more than a million men in arms—veterans of many battles and wounds—men who had seen the front lines of the great battles, and who were as loyal as the angels in heaven.

Under the name of opposition to other policy of the government, they are now actively and openly engaged in a campaign of disloyalty and treason against the government and against the people of the United States.
