HON. W. S. McCLENNAN

is Made the Republican Nominee For Judge of this District.

In the outcome of the republican judicial convention held Monday of this week at Alitka, there was embodied no surprise for residents of Crow Wing county. Since the announcement from Mr. McCleNNAN that he would be a candidate it had been conceded that no opposing voice would be raised when the republican delegates came to assemble and vote upon a nominee. It had even been said that the nomination would be by acclamation, a prediction that materialized when the convention reached the important business for which it had been summoned to sit. There had been elected 22 delegates representing the six counties in the district, but those from Duluth train missed the meeting on the Brainerd and Northern, and it became necessary to proceed without them. Amendments were made for their non-appearance, however, by a telegram which to all intents and purposes answered every requirement. The convention was called to order by B. F. Wright, of Park Rapids, chairman of the retiring judiciary committee. J. J. Howe, of Brainerd, was made chairman and Messrs. W. E. Marr, of Alitka, A. J. Edlund, of Crow Wing and A. W. Chase, of Cass, asked to serve as a committee on credentials. The convention, immediately after reviewing and accepting the report of this committee, voted its unanimous sentiment in favor of Mr. McCleNNAN as his candidate. As a committee to notify him of the honor and escort him to the large court room where the convention was in order, Fred Reed, W. B. Marr and F. J. Stevens, the latter from Grand Rapids, were named.

That which is appended is the substance of a declaration made by the nominee on a topic which has been more or less discussed locally. It has been editorially remarked in this paper that Mr. McCleNNAN's friends have long been aware of his political views, and that his appearance as a republican candidate occasioned no surprise save among those who had known him in years past as a democrat. Said he in reference to the action of the convention:

"This is a republican convention and it is fitting that it be now assured by the deliberate utterance of its candidate what his attitude has been and is with reference to the principles which distinguish the party you represent from other political parties, not because those principles have any direct bearing upon the qualifications for the office to be filled, but as an evidence of good faith towards party associates. As the citizens merely distinguished from the nominee, the views of the individual in this respect are of little concern; often they are unknown beyond that little circle of those with whom he is brought into close contact. But let the individual become the representative of a party and he attracts a wider interest; his position is such that an unreserved and unequivocal expression of views is incumbent upon him.

"Within six years the lines of the two great political parties have been recast by the birth of new issues, and the citizen has been obliged to solve new problems, and has, in numerous instances, identified himself with new associates. The question thus presented because so prominent, so distinct from all that had formerly obtained and been distinguishing, and yet so controlling, so vital in themselves, that to maintain former allegiances meant the resignation of substance for shadow, the abandonment of living issues for dead sentiment. And so it came about in 1894 that many who had been democrats found their party advocating principles therefore no part of their creed, and which in their judgment threatened the well-being of the nation.

"When these democrats attached themselves to that party, the delegates which were here today in convention assembled, there was no conversion. The controlling elements in the democracy insisted upon 'regeneration' even at the cost of radical subversion and substitution of principle. I cast my last vote as a democrat in 1894.

"But all this has no direct bearing upon the fitness of a candidate for this dignified office. The considerations which should govern, lie deeper.

"No man should support or oppose a judicial candidate because of political opinions. The electors of this district have the right, it is their duty, to measure the candidates by the standard of merit; the candidate who shrinks from such a test proves himself unworthy of the slightest consideration. I urge, I welcome, I court such a critical comparison.

Political speeches marked the close of the gathering. B. P. Wright and W. E. Marr both delivered themselves of stirring addresses. What the former may have been impelled to say as a republican was tempered by his realization that the speaker might not with safety be consulted in the selection of a judiciary. He made the telling point, however, that where it was granted for the sake of argument that two men were equally well equipped for the bench, it was no wrong to the community to favor the republican candidate. For himself he preferred to think that he was making a wise selection so far as the bench was concerned, while the same time he was advancing party interests.

A number of those who were in attendance took the morning train for Duluth, there to participate in or witness the congressional and judicial conventions.

The appointment of a judicial committee to handle Mr. McCleNNAN's campaign in the district was left to the chairman. So the organization of a committee to issue an address to the voters of the district, calling attention to the present qualifications of the candidate.

PAGE MORRIS NOMINATED

By Acclamation by the Congressional Convention at Duluth on Monday.

Hon. A. F. Ferris elected a Delegate to the National Convention—Davis Nelson and Los Endorsed For Delegates at Large.

The republican convention for the Sixth congressional district of Minnesota held at Duluth Tuesday afternoon unanimously nominated Page Morris for congress.

The convention also elected A. F. Ferris of this city, and Dr. E. A. Ecklund, of Duluth, delegates from the district to the national republican convention.

C. S. Benson, of Stearns county, president of the convention, and L. S. Briggs, of Miller Lake, was secretary. W. F. Street, of Bemidji, was assistant secretary. Nearly all the counties had full delegations and the best of feeling prevailed throughout the convention.

Page Morris was renominated for congress in an eloquent speech by Dr. E. A. Ecklund, of St. Louis county. The speaker reviewed at length the nomination and the vote was a rising vote taken amid cheers.

The resolutions reaffirm the allegiance of the republicans in the district to the principles of the party; endorse the new currency bill; endorse the administration of William McKinley; endorse Kruse Nelson's candidacy for re-election to the United States senate; endorse the interests of his constituents of the Hon. Page Morris; declare for free trade with Porto Rico but expressing the recent action of congress, expressing the belief that when conditions warrant that absolute free trade shall be given; and endorse Senators Nelson and Davis and Hon. William E. Lee for delegates at large to the national convention.

A. F. Ferris, Crow Wing, and Dr. Ecklund, St. Louis, were elected as district delegates. I. A. Caswell, Anoka, was elected Ferris' alternate, and A. A. Oldenburg, Pine county, alternate for Ecklund.

Chairman Benson is authorized to name the republican congressional committee which will manage Morris' campaign.

James Whitford was at Brainerd Thursday and Mrs. Whitford on Saturday and companion. So arrangements for the lease of the Dan Holiday building house near saw mill in that city. They will take possession June 1st.

The World last week nearly got Mrs. Sovereign into a bustle of trouble by saying that she had gone to Brainerd to visit friends, instead of St. Paul. Her old friends in the City of Pines on whom she is wont to call when there have threatened to cut her name from their calling list. A. J. was there a few days ago and has fixed up an armistice until the necessary affidavits can be secured.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

Davis, Nelson, Lowry and Lord Elected Delegates at Large to the National Convention.

The republican state convention to elect delegates at large to the National convention was held at Minneapolis on Wednesday, and like all republican meetings this year harmony existed in large chunks. The party presents a united front which surely means success in the fall.

Ex-Lieutenant Governor Ives was chairman of the convention, and John F. Selm, of Ramsey, Simon Michael, of Hennepin, and D. W. Meeker, of Clay county, were elected secretaries. There were no contests for seats in the convention.

Sensators Davis and Nelson, and Thos. Lowry, of Hennepin and Samuel Lord, of Kasoon, were elected delegates at large to the National convention by acclamation.

Wm. E. Lee, of Todd county, and John L. Gaselle were chosen as presidential electors at large, Mr. Lee being chosen by acclamation.

A resolution was passed endorsing Senator Washburn, for vice president.

The following [twelve] selected as presidential electors by the district delegates:

- First—Edwin Dunn, Otsego county.
- Second—J. C. Donovan, Lyon county.
- Third—O. K. Naseeth, Goodhue county.
- Fourth—Carl Wirth, Ramsey county.
- Fifth—John S. Dodge, Hennepin county.
- Sixth—George A. Whitney, Wadena county.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing President McKinley's administration, congratulating the country on its unexampled prosperity, endorsing Senators Davis and Nelson, and demanding the re-election of the latter. The convention also declared against trusts and expressed confidence in President McKinley to deal with territorial questions.

Another Otsego Tax.

A warrant was issued on Wednesday for the arrest of R. E. Henneman for using deomargarine in a public hotel without posting a notice to that effect. The complaint against Mr. Henneman was made March 14th, by Assistant Dairy Commissioner D. E. Bird when he was in this city at that time and found that several of our grocers were selling 'ole' openly, mention of which was made in these columns at the time. Mr. Henneman was running the "Antlers Hotel," when the offense complained of was committed. The grocers and others technically violating the law came forward and paid a fine of $25, but Mr. Henneman has ever since refused to acknowledge his error and pay up, hence his arrest. Deputy Sheriff Winters went to Crooks Lake today, where Mr. Henneman now lives to serve the warrant and make the arrest.

While it would have been gratifying to many friends of Senator Quay to have him named by the senate, they have what satisfaction is to be gained from the refusal of the senate to elect him. The question involved in his case deserved an expression of the senate, and a more delicate one would have been preferable. A difference of two votes is too small to give emphasis such as ought to be given in deciding one way or another.

It seems quite likely that the Presbyterian church, North, will be called upon again to consider a revision of the Westminster confession of faith. From various parts of the country come statements made by Presbyterian clergymen advocating revision of a new creed. The venerable Dr. Theodore L. Taylor of New York, who has been considered a conservative in the past, is of the latest to declare that there are certain parts of the "confession" which he does not believe. Notable among the overtures from presbyteries asking for revision is a petition from the presbytery of Nassau N. Y. praying the general assembly to formulate a short and simple creed which "would unite and not divide" and which "would be acceptable to the church."

Heavy feeders on animal food are predisposed to all kinds of inflammatory disorders, and when any such person finds himself getting out of condition he may easily begin in the matter of food, cutting down the amount of such food or omitting it altogether with perfect safety. A strict vegetarian diet, even, cannot be called an experiment, since we know that millions of people thrive on it and to one could ever stare on it. With fruit, nuts, milk and eggs added, lack of variety need not be felt. The Japanese are a healthy, handsome race. They are plump and hearty, but little beyond simple vegetable diet is the rule there. The Irishmen may be said to fast forty miles a day with a fasted passenger and seem proof against fatigue and they thrive on a diet chiefly of rice.

Not the least alarming phase of the situation in South Africa is the fact that the black natives outnumber the whites in the proportion of twelve to one. In the case of a prolonged conflict between the Boers and the English the attitude of the natives is altogether uncertain. In Cape Colony there are 400,000 white residents and four times that number of blacks. The white population of the Transvaal is estimated at 250,000, as compared with 350,000 natives. In Natal the total number of whites is not more than 60,000, while the blacks number 250,000. In the Orange Free State the blacks outnumber the whites in the proportion of nearly three to one. In Rhodesia there are 1,000,000 natives and a white population which relatively amounts to nothing. In British Central Africa 450,000 blacks are opposed to a tiny band of more than 100 English soldiers. In fact, all through South Africa the negro problem is likely to grow in importance during the continuance of hostilities.

People's Party Again Places Bryan at the Head in the Nomination by Announcement of C. A. Towne for That Office - Platform Resumes Its Original and True and Democratic Tone and its Initiative and Rejuvenation.

Stone Falls, N. D., May 12. - The national Populist convention continued its session at 1 o'clock this morning and adjourned on the afternoon of the 13th. This result was accomplished after a struggle of several hours during which an effort was made to have the question of the nomination of a new vice-presidential candidate referred to a committee to confer with the national committee.

While the day was full of excitement the convention proceeded as if nothing unusual had happened. The nomination of a vice-presidential candidate to confer with the national committee was defeated by a vote of 208 to 402. Towne was nominated.

Notations for the nomination of a vice-presidential candidate were then taken on Mr. Bowler of Minnesota, who was nominated by the delegates from several states in nomination. Taylor of Illinois withdrew one by one and Mr. Towne was nominated by acclamation. The result was greeted by the Minnesota delegation with great delight and the blowing of the horns.

Mr. Grace of Illinois moved that a committee of five from each state be appointed to confer with the Democratic and Silver Republican committees and the convention proceeded to the election of a national committee. The delegates from each state were then taken on Mr. Bowler of Minnesota, who was nominated by the delegates from several states in nomination.

When the convention adjourned it began its session on the afternoon of the 13th. The first of these was a report by the delegates from the various states on the progress of their work during the session. The report was well received and the session was well given up by the afternoon.

WORKED THE AGENT.

THE GRAND PROMOTER TOO MUCH FOR THE BOOK CANVASSEER.

Editor Crooked Organized the Dietary Campaign Traversed on a Capital of $50,000 and Accepted a Small Fraction of Cash as Annuity.

(Copyright, 1904, by C. H. Lewis.)

It was a canvasser for "The Life of Napoleon," price $1.50 in calf, and he had securely exhibited his sample copy when Major Crooked arose and took him by the hand and exclaimed:

"Just the man I wanted to see of all others in the world. By George, but this is luck!"

"I shall be happy to book your order," smilingly replied the canvasser. "Will you take call or Morocco?"

"My dear man," continued the major, "my name is on a sign at the door, but it doesn't state my business. Let me say to you that I am a grand promoter of enterprises, an organizer, a consolidator, an originator of some of the most stupendous and gigantic schemes of the century. You have come to the right man in the right time."

"Will you take call or Morocco?"

"This stupendous enterprise is to be divided into four parts—each to be every one then bound to pay a quarterly dividend of 50 per cent—bound to be $1.25. That's $1.25 per year, and I'd like to see the diamond mines doing better. See the stupendous enterprise originated, capitalized and doctored, and how comes the seventh fortune must have directed your footsteps. I am going to take you in. Yes, sir, I'll give you a show compared to what you call 'The Life of Napoleon' can't be mentioned. Let me congratulate you, sir—let me shake hands with another nerveless millionaire."

"I'll just how about the book, major?" was asked.

"You have heard of the dietary scheme, of course," said the major as he walked and to be "invented by Crooked" by one of the greatest chefs in America, and, as he had no idea of what a good thing he had struck, I thought he might be interested for the book."

"I'll take it and make it go as far as I will," replied the major as the greenback changed hands. "You'll feel free for having invested money in the enterprise. Stock will be ready in about two weeks, and as soon as we can erect and equip a factory you'll begin purchasing stock. Yes, I'll make the dollar and you'll begin tergiversating on us next. When we once get started, we'll use up at least 1,000 tons per week, and you must be able to tell at a glance whether the market is juicy enough for our purposes. That's all, and there you are and I'll give you when the papers are ready to be signed. I think we'll make the ground floor office on stock 20 cents, but may be we can scale that figure down a little. As far as my part goes, I don't care to have any evidence that you are canvassing doors are ended. Turn to the right, please, and good day—good day."

"But I listen a minute. I came up here to sell you this book."

"And don't give me away—don't do it," cautioned the major as he cashed his call order. "Just keep him and as good a deal of his interest as you can, and then we'll jump on the whole world with both feet and boom dietary message even to the drawing rooms of royalty. Grand door—$15,000 per year—golden opportunity. Don't miss it. A minute later the canvasser found himself on the street and when he was asked what had happened this he looked so perturbed he replied:

"What I went up to sell a man a $250 book order, and I'll be blamed if he doesn't turn me and get my only dollar in cash behind."

A MAMMOTH WATCH.

Revel Progress of His For the St. Louis World's Fair.

feature of the St. Louis fair in 1904 will be a mammoth watch which will be on the back, will have a polished metal case just like the ordinary watch and will be so large and roomy inside that people will be able to walk around in it around the moving wheels, says the New York Post. It will be nearly 70 feet in diameter and more than 40 feet high, with most little stairways running all about in it, and all the wheels properly protected so that no one can be hurt or have his clothes soiled. The balance wheel will weigh a ton, and what is called the "hair-spring" in a watch will be as thick as a man's wrist. It will take about two minutes for the balance wheel to swing round and back again. It will be pivoted on two enormous agate blocks, substitutes for diamonds, and will be made of brass. One of the greatest difficulties will be in getting a balance spring of the size and strength that can stand the strain and keep its elasticity. The maturing, of course, will be an enormous affair, something over 300 feet in length. The outer coil of the spring steel bands two inches thick bound together, as it would be impossible to roll so large a piece, will be a certain hour during the day. We expect to make a special representation of the enterprise during the fair, and the necessity of a watch having regular repairs, whether its owner has or not."

WHEN THE WAR ENDS.

If There, Many Your Leaders Will Seek Asylum in America.

Although the majority of the people still believe that the independence of the republic will remain after the war, a certain number of them are taking the opposite view and are casting about for an alternative country to which to emigrate. State Secretary Holt said recently to the Premier correspondent of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch:

"If the English take these republics and make them as independent as our own, I will take my family to America."

Scores of other leaders take the same line to the west. Many of the old boomers who were in the West during the war, when they were in the thick of the struggle, and thousands will emigrate to other countries as soon as they get a chance to go some place where there is a republic."

The friends of President Kruger say that if the Transvaal loses her independence he will spend the last years of his life in Holland or Germany.
