CHAR SWANSON ARRESTED
For Allowing Minors to Play Cards in His Saloon—The Hearing Saturday.

A complaint was made against Chas. Swanson, the Laurel street saloon-keeper, on Tuesday, by Officer Preston, for allowing Thos. Wallace and Wm. Moody to play cards in his saloon, and Mr. Swanson was arrested on Wednesday morning and arraigned in the municipal court in the afternoon. Through his attorney, Judge Fleming, a plea of not guilty was entered. Mr. Fleming moved that the case be dismissed because the complaint was not properly worded, but the motion was denied, and on request of defendant the case was continued until 2 p. m. Saturday. Mr. Swanson was released on bail.

At the special meeting of the city council on Wednesday evening, called by the mayor for that purpose, Mr. Koop laid before the council the facts as reported to him by the police, and suggested that Mr. Swanson's license be revoked. How the members of the council received the suggestion is not known, as the matter was considered in executive session, but no action was taken. It is learned, however, that such action is unnecessary, as the statutes provide that if Mr. Swanson is found guilty the court must revoke his license.

Lady Minstrels.
Duncan Clark's Lady Minstrel Company, with a large concert of specialty artists known in, forming a double company, as it were is the attraction at the Windsor Theatre this week. That it is worth seeing is shown by the two tremendous houses which greeted the performance yesterday. The first part, a lady minstrel piece, introduced 20 pleasing young ladies in attractive costumes. The afterpiece was a burlesque on "Kermis," "The Arrival Sullivan," etc., and introduced the entire company. A feature was the duos parade, and the costume change was thoroughly enjoyed in good taste. The program is one that cannot fail to pack the cozy South End theatre afternoon and evening for the balance of the week—E.

JUDGE HOLLAD REVERSED.
The Supreme Court Decides the Case Of J. M. Elder Against the A. O. U. W. in Favor of the Order.

The state supreme court on Wednesday rendered a decision in the case of J. M. Elder, of this city, against the Grand Lodge of the A. O. U. W., which means a loss of about $200 to Mr. Elder. Mr. Elder brought suit against the grand lodge of the order to recover the face value of a policy held by his brother, T. R. Elder, deceased, and made payable to him. The company refused to pay the claim because default had been made in the payment of two monthly assessments. Mr. Elder contended that the practice established by the lodge of allowing members defaulting to pay up and be reinstated had become a waiver of a provision of the by-laws requiring assessments to be paid at a stated time each month, and that members had acquiesced in the contract and in paying up within six months, and he asked that he be allowed to do so, and be given judgment for the face of the policy. The case was tried before Judge Holland, who decided in Mr. Elder's favor, giving him a verdict for the policy and interest. The case was appealed to the supreme court, which reversed Judge Holland in the following syllabus and order:

JAMES R. ELDER, respondent, vs. Grand Lodge of Ancient Order of United Workmen of Minnesota, appellant.

Syllabus.—J. R. E. held a certificate of insurance in defendant association and was a member of one of its subordinate lodges; the by-laws of the order, which are a part of the contract of insurance, require assessments against members to be paid on or before the 28th day of the month in which made, in default of which the member becomes suspended without action on the part of the lodge. Held, that the custom or habit of the collecting or receiving officers of such subordinate lodge in permitting the insured to pay assessments after default, between said 28th day of the month and the next meeting of the lodge, is not binding on defendant, it not appearing that the subordinate lodge had any notice or knowledge of such custom or habit, and it not appearing that such collecting officer had any authority to waive a strict compliance with the by-laws in this respect.

2. During the time of his membership in said association, four years, a large number of other members of the subordinate lodge of which he was a member had been suspended in accordance with the by-laws, for non-payment of assessments, made against them. Held, that the custom and habit of such subordinate lodge in restoring and reinstating such suspended members, the reinstatement being made under protest to the by-laws, did not constitute a waiver of the prompt payment of future assessments, nor establish a right of restoration to membership.

3. A compliance with the terms and conditions of a contract of insurance on the part of the insurer cannot be construed as a waiver of the terms of the contract thus complied with. Judgment reversed.

Will Banquet the Graduates.
A meeting of the Alumni Association of the Brainerd High school was held at the Washington school building on Wednesday evening. There are about 60 members of the association, 30 of whom reside in the city, but only about twenty were in attendance, among whom was Mrs. C. J. Ensted, of San Salvador, Central America. The by-laws of the association provide for an annual banquet to the graduating class, and on motion, the president was instructed to appoint a banquet committee and a committee on entertainment. C. A. Albright, F. A. Wilson and Miss Nellie Morris were appointed to arrange for a banquet, not to exceed $5.00 a cover, and Mrs. P. Early, Jay Park and Miss Inez Eastman were appointed on the entertainment committee. The members enjoyed the evening in recalling pleasant experiences of school days, and pleasant social converse.

SWEET GIRL GRADUATES.
Commemoration Exercises of the Brainerd High School To Be Held Tuesday, June 5th.

The commencement exercises of the graduating class of the Brainerd High School will be held at Gardner Hall on Tuesday evening, June 5th. The class of 1900 will not be large, consisting of only four young ladies, as follows: Miss Mabel McKay, Miss Florence Shepherd, Miss Marie Bolin and Miss Georgie Martin. They all graduated from the Latin-Scientific course, which admits them without further examination to the State University.

The exercises will consist of the reading of an essay by each member of the class and music and addresses appropriate to the occasion. The program has not yet been fully prepared, hence we are unable to give it to our readers this week, but will give it in full in our next issue.

Following the commencement exercises the graduates will be given a banquet at the Arlington Hotel presided by the Alumni association of the school, for which a fine program of entertainment is being arranged in addition to the feast.

The state examinations for the members of the 8th grade and the high school will be held all next week except Memorial Day.

Get a Bicycle Tag.
The council on Wednesday night appointed a special bicycle police force and it is the intention to see that the ordinance requiring all wheelmen to procure a license tag shall be strictly enforced, hence if you haven't a tag for 1900 for your wheel, you should procure one at once in order to escape arrest. They can be procured of the city clerk or S. R. Adair.

Appointed a Dog Catcher.
A special meeting of the city council was held on Wednesday evening, called by the mayor. His honor laid before the council the appointment of J. P. Barney as special police to enforce the dog ordinance, and on motion Mr. Barney's appointment was confirmed and his salary fixed at $25 per month and 25 per cent of the license fee collected after two weeks on notices given by him. The mayor then submitted the appointment of the following gentlemen as special bicycle police to serve without pay, and they were, on motion, confirmed:

1st ward—A. H. Bennett, Louis Hobson, Roy Guerin.
2nd ward—S. F. Alderman, P. J. Murphy, Geo. Grewook.
3rd ward—Ole Erickson, John Arndt, H. T. Salmen.
4th ward—Chas. Penton, John Clark and Jas. Towler, Jr.
5th ward—John Goodiers, Ole Peterson and Chas. Gernon.

The council then went into executive session, and after the door was opened adjourned.

Probably the best speech made at the congressional convention in Duluth was delivered by Senator Beckman, who was solicited to place in nomination Hon. A. F. Ferris as a candidate for district delegate to the republican national convention at Philadelphia. "Pack" was feeling in the best of spirits, and tossed a few oratorical bouquets that induced the delegates to howl a few. Of course, in this country you couldn't beat Ferris with a club, and the way he was prefaced came pretty near making Morris a second choice in that convention. It is possibly fortunate all around that Ferris was satisfied to go to Philadelphia, and not go to Washington.—Little Falls Transcript.

CONGRESS

RECORDS OF THE WEEK'S PROCEEDINGS

Washington, May 17.—Discussion of the administration of affairs in Cuba by agents of the United States occupied the attention of the senate during the evening part of yesterday's session. Mr. Bacon of Georgia addressed the senate at length on his resolution directing the committee on relations with Cuba to make an investigation of the conduct of financial affairs of the island. He said it was due the people of this country to know how the things in the island were being conducted, and since the disclosure of funds in the postal service was being made, it was an obligation to make an investigation, most gladly he said. He said the honor of the country depended upon its being able to clear away the charges. He insisted that the government of the United States had no authority in Cuba and demanded to know how soon it intended to withdraw its troops and leave the government of the island to its inhabitants.

The House.
The house accomplished little yesterday besides passing the senate bill to incorporate the American National Red Cross. No progress was made with the Alaskan code bill owing to the inability of the two sides to agree as to the bill to be offered for general debate. The conference report on the District of Columbia appropriation bill was returned after extended debate.

The Senate.
Washington, May 18.—The postoffice appropriation bill was considered in the senate yesterday. The committee amendment for extension of the post office service created some discussion and was under discussion when the senate adjourned. Mr. Wetmore, chairman of postoffice and post roads committee, vigorously attacked the appropriation of $70,000 for post office service, describing the extension of the service as unnecessary and the appropriation as a waste of public money. Mr. Mason of Illinois quite ably supported the extension of the service. An amendment of Mr. Butler of North Carolina to reduce by 50 per cent the amount to be paid the railroads for the transportation of mail was rejected, 11 to 10.

The House.
The house yesterday passed a special river and harbor bill carrying $500,000 for surveys and emergency work and devoted the remainder of the day to the survey and emergency bill. The bill was passed by a vote of 215 to 199.

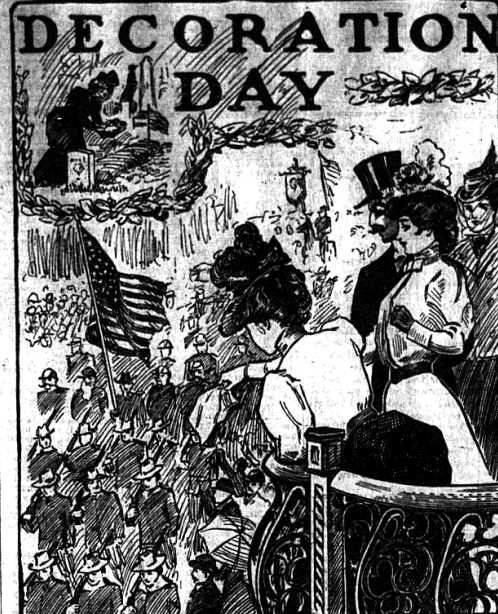

The Senate.
Washington, May 19.—Nearly the entire time of the senate yesterday was devoted to the debate on the bill to amend the act relating to the service of the United States. The debate at times was spirited. The opposition was led by Senator Chandler, Mason, Carter and Williams, and supported by Senators Hale, Tillman, Lodge and Wolcott. Senator Morgan of Illinois quite ably supported the extension of the service. An amendment of Mr. Butler of North Carolina to reduce by 50 per cent the amount to be paid the railroads for the transportation of mail was rejected, 11 to 10.

The House.
The house in action of the whole favorably acted upon a bill to appropriate $500,000 to pay ex-Confederate soldiers for horses and other property taken from them in violation of the terms of Lee's surrender to General Grant at Appomattox. This is the first bill favorable to the ex-Confederate for the property taken from them.

The Senate.
Washington, May 21.—At the opening of Saturday's session of the senate President Woodbury laid before the senate a dispatch from the governor of Montana, H. Smith, announcing that he had received the appointment of W. A. Clay, as senator, and that he had received the appointment of W. A. Clay, as senator, and that he had received the appointment of W. A. Clay, as senator.

The House.
Washington, May 22.—A protracted discussion of the status of the Boer commissioners now in Washington was precipitated in the senate yesterday by a resolution offered by Mr. Atkinson of Nebraska extending to the commission the privilege of the floor of the senate during their sojourn in the national capital. The vote was defeated by a vote of 20 to 21, but permitted after a sharp controversy between its author and Mr. Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations. Mr. Atkinson maintained that resolution was in line with precedent. Boer diplomats until the president's resignation. A passage on the subject was made by Mr. Morgan of Illinois in a long report, when it collapsed. The vote was 20 to 21.

The House.
The house yesterday, under suspension of the rules, passed two important bills reported by the committee on labor—on to extend the eight-hour

GRANT'S STATUE OF GRANT.
A big, fine-looking man sat in the corner of a Brooklyn car reading his newspaper. Next to him sat a little woman in an up-to-date frock. She had a box of candy in one hand and an opera glass in the other, says the New York Telegraph. She tried to get a newspaper from a neighbor who came through the car, but the conductor broke up the transaction, asking the small newspaper, and put down on the pavement. Then the pretty woman in the up-to-date frock had her face in position and the big man's newspaper was spread out before her, and she glanced at the headline. Then she read a column about a thrilling scene of a black man, but she could not read the headline. She was a little disappointed. She was a little disappointed. She was a little disappointed.

The scandal mongers of the world are confined mostly to those who cannot or do not wish. No long ago women were likely to make mental those at other women who rode, but as soon as they themselves were never had fancied they'd get away wondering at all these things. And how indeed does a break turn under the sky and between the folds drive away cobwebby notions!

In the old days a master might do it, not a horse in a hurry, and even if you can afford it it is ever getting out of condition and to be fit must have a medium of constant exercise. But now all go to splitting, the horseman as well as the one time long distance walkers. And among these latter no one is better equipped for the arduous fight than the rover of St. Matthew in the Park, who, with his mind and body, is a fine healthful specimen at 80, he believes strongly and proceeds and acts his belief down in those days when clergymen sometimes had the delicate and to preach the religion in a simple homely and clearly living in a pair of St. Matthew in the Park who, in a direct and unimpaired religion in athletic young rider on pench. I myself remember him when he was No. 1 on the variety crew and a very great man. He still could pull that as strongly as he could, but his duty now permit him is wheeled and if you go to the park of a morning you may see him going up and down hill and doubtless meditating those in the seat of the saddle by his bits of sermonizing, put always in his high-voiced strong.

And yet he has had his troubles, his experience, his questionings, his sin, his anxiety, and if you will follow my story you will see how it all was done. The wheel that once he forgot himself.

Of a May day the Rev. Lennel was coasting down the long hill into the business office of Hamilton, Westchester. It was his day of outing, and he was hungry after a 30 mile ride on a Saturday and the world had put its care away, and his blood was singing, and his heart singing like the birds in the fields and the tree tops and through the windy blue space of a bright spring day. The old tavern at Hamilton, which bears on our General's again has found usefulness through the revival of the road and a brand new place, "Luncheon For Bicyclers." Yet this afternoon Lennel thought he had had a very good day. As the fat landlord pushed his chair aside and heaved above his heavy brows and said he guessed he could give his visitor something that was fit eat.

And Lennel—I will drop his title, thought the broiled chicken delicious and scattered into the parlor, dark after the sunbaked, with his hat and chair and the colored prints of "Washington Square," "Delaware," and "New York's Captives" and certain photographs of other rural folk.

Now, usually Lennel was most observing. He had had in that room a fully five minutes before he noticed a figure stretched out on a couch at the dark side to be sure, so that it may not have been so strange that he had not seen her at first. Her face sunk in Lennel stared his utter astonishment. He had read a journal advice? He looked a bit worldly.

"That's rather a surprising statement," he said. "I don't know what you mean by that." "You must think me strange."

"I do, and we must be started before him."

"I'll explain, as I ought. There was a girl, and she thought she loved a man."

"I don't see why she should be so sure of that. It's not a clergyman, is it?"

"No, I don't. It's a girl, and she thought she loved a man."

"I don't see why she should be so sure of that. It's not a clergyman, is it?"

 A FINE GAME OF BALL.
 Brainerd Defeated St. Cloud in a Ten Inning Contest - About 900 People Saw the Game.

Sunday was a beautiful day, an ideal one for a good game of ball, and a mammoth crowd of people numbering about 800, witnessed as fine a game as Brainerd has seen for many a day on the grounds on West Front street between the home team and the St. Cloud aggregation. The game was closely contested from start to finish, and it was anyone's game throughout, especially after the 7th inning, when St. Cloud secured five runs and tied the score. The local fans, from that time on until the winning run was made, were in a fever of excitement, and at the finish gave vent to their pent up feeling in cheers and yells that could be heard blocks away. With the exception of a few bad errors both clubs played a fast game. The battery for the home team was Vorge and Rutherford, especially after May and Lacher. Vorge was in fine form and pitched a splendid game and with the assistance of very good fielding he held the opposition down to six hits, Brainerd securing 12 of May. Some very phenomenal stops were made by Connors on first base, who seemed to be reaching anything that was not higher than the average jack pine, and he prevented what would have been bad errors in throwing by his remarkable reaching propensities. The stik work of the home team was much better than the visitors, and Ole Peterson carried off the honors for Brainerd, making three safe hits, while Murphy, Finn and Vorge each had two to their credit, and Rutherford one. Tom Derobser was umpire, and gave general satisfaction, both to the visitors and the home team. The teams were lined up as follows:
 Brainerd. Position. St. Cloud.
 Rutherford..... catcher..... Lacher
 Connors..... 1st base..... Vorge
 Derobser..... 2nd base..... Thielman
 Howe..... 3rd base..... Rander
 Lawrence..... left field..... Murphy
 Murphy..... left field..... Bousley
 Peterson..... right field..... Mossinger
 Finn..... pitcher..... May
 The following is the score by innings:
 Brainerd - 3 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 2 5
 St. Cloud - 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 7 8 6
 No one was out when winning run was made. Base on balls of May by Vorge 4; hits, of May, 12 of Vorge 6; runs, 3; errors, 1; strikes, Tom Derobser, E. F. Leiblie, scorer.

The St. Cloud Journal-Press contains the following concerning the game:
 The members of the St. Cloud baseball team returned this morning from Brainerd feeling pretty well, thank you. They had gone against the well-organized Brainerd team with no practice work or opportunity for team play cultivation, and had played between the two teams. They of course don't like to lose but if they have to be beaten they would rather lose to Brainerd than anybody that they know anything of. The boys are enthusiastic over the treatment of Brainerd's ball players and on the part of the visitors they were given every courtesy and a good play on the part of the home players. When Pitcher Kay for the St. Cloud team sent some installments over and Brainerd's three bravest batters failed to connect with them for anything like a hit the crowd cheered the best they could and the left man. The game was witnessed by between three and four hundred baseball fans and a collection was taken to defray the expenses of the visiting team. No such amount was realized to pay all expense connected with the game, and Brainerd expressed the hope that arrangements could be made to have St. Cloud come here again and assist in operating the new ball park which will be built this season. The St. Cloud boys are anxious to make the trip.

Her Heart's Secret

Or Under a Spell. BY JEAN WARNER.

CHAPTER XXII.
"Your daughter is in this lady's power," asked the doctor, in a very low voice. "Who is she? What are you?"

"The nameless, homeless, friendless," was the despairing reply. "One whom I have seen in the street, one whom I have seen in the street, one whom I have seen in the street..."

CHAPTER XXIII.
The blood had washed by many sick beds, and thought that he had not seen the face of the girl who had been so near to him..."

A thousand vague conjectures drifted through the doctor's mind as he gazed at the fair, lovely face of the girl who had been so near to him..."

It was an old man, a man of a certain age, a man of a certain age, a man of a certain age, a man of a certain age..."

"What do you mean, my dear, while you are not out of this morning?" he said, looking at her with a stern expression...

that went straight through the crust of blood and dried upon the dead skin of her face. "Who is she? What are you?"

"Only for each other," she echoed, her eyes fixed on the doctor's face. "I have seen her in the street, one whom I have seen in the street..."

The grey twilight was slowly fading into dawn when the doctor left the window. He had a feeling of uneasiness...

It was an old man, a man of a certain age, a man of a certain age, a man of a certain age, a man of a certain age..."

"What do you mean, my dear, while you are not out of this morning?" he said, looking at her with a stern expression...

He could only smile with mingled indignation and surprise as he saw the doctor's face. "Who is she? What are you?"

"I have seen her in the street, one whom I have seen in the street, one whom I have seen in the street..."

The doctor's face was pale, and his eyes were fixed on the girl's face. "Who is she? What are you?"

Next Wednesday is Decoration Day.

Real estate taxes become delinquent a week from today, when a 10 per cent penalty will be added.

The Brainerd club will go to Duluth tonight and play the Duluth team, probably the strongest amateur team in the state, tomorrow afternoon and Sunday afternoon.

A special meeting of the board of education will be held this evening to approve the plans for the addition to the Lincoln school, and to allow the pay roll for the present month.

The forfeited tax sale is still in progress at the court house this morning, but will be finished by noon, as only one and one-half townships, containing less than a hundred delinquent lots, remain to be sold. The bidding on lands has been very brisk, as predicted. In one township, 137, not a single piece was sold to the state, and most all sold for the whole amount of taxes or more. The treasurer is so busy with the current taxes that a statement of receipts could not be obtained. Auditor Mahlum deserves great credit for the able manner in which he conducted the sale, and there is no doubt the county profited largely thereby.

DEATHS.

J. A. Denis, one of Brainerd's most respected citizens, died at his home on 5th street north, at 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, May 25, of cerebral hemorrhage. Aged 63 years.

Mr. Denis was sick only a few hours, and had been enjoying good health for some time past. Hence his death was a great shock to his family and friends.

He was employed by the N. P. company in the blacksmith shop for several years past, and was an industrious, upright and honorable citizen who greatly enjoyed his work. He has been in Brainerd for many years, hence had a large circle of friends who greatly deplore his death.

The funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Francis Catholic church. Rev. D. W. Lynch officiating. Deceased was a member of the C. M. B. A., St. Francis Society and Germania Maennerchor, all of which societies attended the funeral services in a body. The floral decorations were profuse and elaborate. R. F. WALTERS.

A GREAT SOURCE of attraction is a pretty foot handsomely encased in neat and shapely shoes, which helps to give a graceful carriage in walking. Light and shapely shoes are 'twine to dancing, that poetry of motion which is woman's chiefest charm. In a beauty class our shoes hold the foot indelibly. Figure! Daintily as the shoes.
