THEY ARE THREE VERY TOUGH KIDS

Young Louis Houston Sentenced to Serve Twenty Days in County Jail.

BOYS STEAL BRASS GALORE

"Saginaw Kid" and "Muskrat" Have Skipped Out—Wretch Bady Wanted.

Louis Houston, the young lad who was arrested Friday night last by Officer Murley charged with stealing brass of engines in the Northern Pacific yards and around the shops was brought before Judge Manter Saturday morning to be sentenced, he having pleaded guilty to the charge Friday morning. Houston was fined $25 and in default of same he was sentenced to serve twenty days in the county jail.

In this connection there is quite a long tale connected with the stealing of brass around the shops. It seems that there has been a well organized gang of young men who have been principals in these depredations for some time and the manager part of the whole matter is that all three young men who were wanted by the police are not residents of the city. Young Houston is a tough young lad and when asked if that was his right name he said this morning that he had never been called "Montana Kid." He said the name of his partners were "Saginaw Kid" and "Muskrat Kid." The police had expected to get the other two boys before this morning but they failed to locate them and it is thought that they got out of the city.

The stealing has been carried on for some time and it is feared that the young men are wise enough to stay in the clear and not get caught. Several hundred dollars worth of brass has been taken from the engines at the shops. From one large engine alone something like $80 worth of brass was taken.

The men who have been buying this brass from the kids would seem to be a guilty as any one. It is claimed that he has been buying the brass from the boys, melting it down and selling it again. The county officials are very anxious to get the two boys who have escaped and every effort will be made to locate them.

Chief Nelson Saturday night succeeded in locating the two pals of young Louis Houston, who was arrested a few days ago and sentenced to serve time in the county jail on the charge of grand larceny. The two young fellows arrested Saturday night were pretty badly wanted and all the officers, county and city, were looking for them. It was thought at first that they had taken a cue from the arrest of young Houston and had ducked out of the city.

The boys' names are Charlie Stephens and Frank Harris. They were brought before Judge Manter Monday morning and both entered a plea of guilty. The court asked both where they had come from. Young Stephens stated that his parents lived in Floodwood. He had met Houston, of the "Montana Kid," shortly after he came here and they had become close chums. Harris stated that his home was in the southern part of the state. He stated that he had been at Floodwood working for a man by the name of Stephens, father of the other defendant. He had been in Brainerd all last winter but went to Floodwood early in the spring, returning here about a month ago.

The two kids are about as tough as can be found. Neither one is much older than 15 years and the astuteness which permeated their bearing as they appeared in court would compare favorably with that displayed by the hardest of criminals. They did not seem to mind the proceedings and were as unconcerned as any one could be. The court imposed a fine of $30, but of course they did not have the money and they were sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail.

GAME IS PLentiful

State Game Warden Fullerton Gives Out Some Facts That Will Interest Hunters of Minnesota.

Game Warden Fullerton has been interviewed on the prospect for hunting game after the season opens up this year and he has the following to say:

"The open winter permitted the quail and chukker to come through in larger numbers than have appeared for at least ten years. The spring was not hot enough to drive the young birds and the dry, hot July we've just survived has made the birds grow rapidly. The shooting will be remarkably fine when the season opens Sept. 1.

"The early harvest this year will help the hunters in one respect and in another respect it won't. That is, the grain won't be standing as long as usual and after it's out the birds can't hide so well among the short stubble. But, on the other hand, the farmers are likely to get to plowing soon after the seasons opens, and that, of course, will drive the birds out of the fields into the brush and meadows.

"Ducks will be numerous also Sept. 1, because of the late against spring shooting. The law took effect two years ago, but last season the result was hardly noticeable. This year an extraordinary quantity of native, or local ducks, you might call them have been seen.

"The parent birds were not disturbed during the spring for two or three seasons, so they have resumed their nesting in this state. The new law is a fine thing, and sportsmen will agree that we need not such a regulation as a duck state.

"I can say, too, that we're not going to let all this splendid sport be spoiled by our hunters shooting out of season. Lawbreakers will find that it does not pay to sneak in ahead of honest citizens."

COMPROMISE PROPOSITION.

If Same Is Accepted It Is Said That It Will Mean A Big Loss To The Indians.

A Washington special to the Minneapolis Journal says:

"Special Agent Farr was reported to Commissioner Jones a compromise proposition for the settlement of the government's claim against the Stannard-Gillette and Cass Lake Lumber companies for green timber cut in their camps last winter. Farr has been in Cass Lake and these camps for a month or more with representatives of the companies inspecting the green timber with a view to arriving at some basis of settlement satisfactory to the government and the companies, and has just concluded his labors.

Commissioner Jones has not gone into the report so far as what the compromise is, but the main proposition appears to be settlement for the white pine at the rate of $11 a thousand feet instead of $12, the price first demanded by Farr. The proposition for settlement is subject to approval by the commissioner. If it is accepted, it will mean a loss of several thousand dollars to the Indians, but it is said the price higher than could be obtained if the logs were segregated and sold at public sale."

MINNESOTA'S POPULATION

Jerry J. Gives Some Interesting Information Gleaned from the Census Bulletin Issued Yesterday.

Minnesota with a population of 1,761,894, has 922,490 males and 839,404 females within her borders, according to a census bulletin issued today, says the Minneapolis Journal. Divided by color there are 1,737,036 and only 24,858 persons classed as colored, which includes negroes, Chinese, Japanese and Indians, taxed and untaxed. Divided by activity, 1,246,070 of Minnesota's population are native born and 505,118 foreign born.

Of total white population, 1,282,101 are natives. Of native whites, 425,780 were born of native parents and 856,321 of foreign parents.

Of native inhabitants, 644,723 are males and 801,354 females; of foreign born, 287,705 are males and 257,500 females, and of total whites, 924,861 are males and 812,185 females. Of foreign whites, 287,473 are males and 217,492 females. The colored population is divided into 2,836 negro males and 2,122 negro females; 161 male and 1 female Chinese; 50 male and 1 female Japanese, and 4,699 male Indians and 4,890 female Indians.

From the foregoing figures it will be seen that 54.2 per cent of the inhabitants of Minnesota are males and 45.8 per cent females, that the foreign born element is only 20.9 per cent of the whole; that 99.2 of the population is white, 24.8 per cent of native population was born of native parents, and 75.2 per cent of foreign parents, and that of the total white population 28.8 per cent was born of foreign parents.

The insurance rate on merchandise has been raised 25 per cent in St. Paul. Minneapolis should get some satisfaction from this.

The St. Cloud Times predicts that one of the probabilities of the near future in St. Cloud will be to witness Reporters Scott and Grimmer in pursuit of the elusive item arrayed in claw-hammer coats, low cut vests, long-toe pasties, and patent leather shoes. This is the order of things in London and of course St. Cloud will get the piece in America.

Critics in the state of Minnesota holding elections on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in Nov., 1901, cannot take advantage of the benefits of the primary election law passed by the last legislature, according to an opinion of the attorney general. The law does not become operative until Sept. 1st and there is not time after that date to fulfill the requirements of the law.

Minnesota's population as shown by the last census is 1,741,574. Of this number there are 932,490 males and 819,084 females. The native born are 1,248,078, the foreign born 503,518. The total white population is 1,737,096; the colored population is 14,288, consisting of 7,414 males and 6,874 females. The foreign born are 166 Chinese and 51 Japanese.

We are practically all white, the colored element representing less than 1 per cent. The percentage of males in the state is 53.2. The foreign born is 28.8 per cent. Of the 1898 census in the state 2,283 live in St. Paul.

Nearly All Re-elected.
The expected contest over the election of officers of the Minnesota Soldiers' Home did not materialize and, with but few exceptions, the old staff will continue to serve.

The board held its meeting yesterday and took up the business of electing officers, which resulted as follows:

Commandant—Capt. Compton, re-elected.

Secretary—George N. Lamphere, re-elected.

Surgeon—Dr. Bassell, of Litchfield succeeding D. Fine.

Adjutant—F. McCusick, succeeding Frank J. Mead.

Quartermaster—Frank Straub, re-elected.

Dr. Bracken Says When Lumberjack Gets Small-Pox He Comes to Cities.

CAMP PEST-HOUSE SUGGESTED.
The Meeting of Health Officers and Lumbermen Being Held in Duluth.

The meeting of the health officers, lumbermen and others called at Duluth Tuesday was quite largely attended.

Dr. Bracken stated the object of the meeting and considerable business was transacted. He said that the danger of a smallpox epidemic lies mainly with the woodmen, who are in the habit of leaving their camps after they have been exposed, in some cases without their pay, rather than submit to a quarantine, and the main discussion was over the way to keep them from carrying the disease.

One of the regulations suggested by Dr. Bracken was that in connection with every camp a building should be constructed, or a double wall tent, which should be used for the reception of any employees who become sick with any contagious disease or any disease that was apparently contagious. Dr. Bracken said that he understood that most of the lumber camps throughout the state had provided such places for the care of the sick. If the proprietors of the lumber camps would take immediate action in every case where smallpox was suspected, a great deal of expense and trouble could be saved.

He says that it has been the practice in some camps throughout the state to show signs of weakness to pay him and send him away. He thinks that if they took back his pay and kept him in camp until the nature of his disease is discovered, that fewer men with smallpox would be turned loose on the community.

"As I understand it," says Dr. Bracken, "if a man gets smallpox some of the companies will give him some time and he will go to city where he can spend his money. The first place he strikes is a saloon. Here he stays until all his money is gone and then the saloonkeeper telephones the board of health that he has a case of smallpox. They are compelled to take him and keep him at the expense of the community, whereas if his disease is reported before he gets a chance to spend his money he will be able to pay for his care and treatment. This is only a fair proposition and instead of turning the public loss with his time check, the companies should notify the proper authorities."

A lumberman expressed his opinion that the best way out of the difficulty would be to require camp owners to employ men but vaccinated men in the camp, providing vaccination is a preventive. Dr. Bracken replied that he thought that decidedly vaccination was a preventive. He said that vaccination, isolation and disinfection were the three things that would stamp out the disease.

In speaking of the vaccination among the school children, Dr. Bracken said that a great many were vaccinated before the objections raised rose to serious proportions. The attorney general ruled that no general order could be given except in cases of epidemic. Dr. Bracken has seen the attorney general, who has decided that an epidemic exists throughout the state of Minnesota, consequently Dr. Bracken gave the order.

During the discussion Dr. Bracken stated that there were 6300 cases in the state last fall and 29 deaths.

SEVENTH STREET TO BE PAVED AT ONCE.

Arnold Granite Company of St. Cloud Will Furnish Stone For the Curbs.

COMMISSIONER WEITZEL'S WORK The City Will Do the Paving This Time Just to Try An Experiment

Walter Arnold, of the Arnold Granite Co., St. Cloud, was a guest in the city Tuesday afternoon and closed a deal with the street commissioner for the curbs to be used on Seventh street preparatory to paving. A curbed granite will be shipped at once.

The work of paving the street will commence at once under the direction of Street Commissioner Weitzel. He went out in the country today to get the granite to be used in crushing the rock and this work will commence at once.

Nothing will be done to the street until after the curbing is put in but Commissioner Weitzel expects to have a big crew of men at work Monday next.

The city is trying a new experiment in connection with this improvement. Heretofore the contracts for such improvements have always been let to some contractor but this time the city will act in this capacity and will do its own paving.

Mrs. Henrietta Harrison asks for a decree of divorce from Benjamin Harrison on ground of Cruelty.

A suit has been commenced in the district court wherein Henrietta Harrison is plaintiff and Benjamin Harrison is defendant. The parties live near Oull Lake and are residents of this county.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kinney and is a young business man of the city who has made many friends. He is in the confectionery and fruit business on Sixth street south.

To Save Her Child. From frightful disappointment Mrs. Nannie Gauger, of La Grange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes.

J. G. ROLFSTAD INSAINE.

A Former Brainerder Examined at Crookston as to His Sanity and Ordered Taken to Fergus Falls.

Most everyone in Brainerd will remember J. G. Rolfstad who was at one time in the music and installment business in the city. The following clipping from the Crookston Journal will describe the sad plight Mr. Rolfstad is in:

For several days J. G. Rolfstad, who resides on South Main street, where he conducts a music store, has been acting queerly. Early yesterday morning he created a commotion in the neighborhood by suddenly emerging and making a run for the police station yelling at every step. He was taken in charge by the authorities and upon examination before Judge Hagen in probate court was adjudged insane.

N. P. SHOP GOSSIP.

Master Mechanic Bean Says Something Must be Done to Keep Men in the City—Scarcity of Houses.

Master Mechanic Bean was very much wrought up Tuesday when two or three of his best men at the shops walked into the office and tendered their resignations and when asked the reason for this they stated that they could not get houses in the city to live in.

Mr. Bean stated this morning to a representative of THE DISPATCH that it behooved the business men of the city to make a stir in the direction of building houses. Men who want to come here and locate are turning their backs on the city for the reason that they cannot find homes for their families.

The first large tandem compound engine was sent from the shops this week. It was a burner and is to be used for heavy work on the Rocky Mountain division.

Yesterday Frank Larson, road foreman of the N. P. between Mandan and Billings; Howard Curry, road foreman of the N. P. east of Fargo; and Mr. Swan representing Manning Maxwell & Moore, of Chicago called on Master Mechanic Bean at the shops.

World Have Cost Him His Life. Omer Bowman, Lebanon, Ky., writes: "I have been using Foley's Kidney Cure and in great measure in stating it gave me permanent cure of kidney disease which troubled me for five years."

THESE ARE WED.

Miss Laura E. Veas Becomes the Bride of Mr. James Kenney, Both Young People Known in the City.

Saturday last at 10:30 o'clock at the home of the bride Miss Laura E. Veas and Mr. James Kenney were united in marriage.

The bride is a popular young lady of the city and has a wide acquaintance. She was born in Brainerd and has attended the public schools for many years.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kinney and is a young business man of the city who has made many friends. He is in the confectionery and fruit business on Sixth street south.

His friends of the family hope the young fellow can prove his innocence.—Little Falls Herald.

Clerks Elect Officers. The Retail Clerk's Protective Association have elected officers as follows for the ensuing year:

President, R. L. Weeks; first vice-president, Miss Sophia Moore; second vice-president, Miss Stella Leonard; recording secretary, E. E. Reilly; financial secretary, Miss Bertha Stude; treasurer, Miss Sadie Rialty; guardian, Enis Knudson; guide, Charles Hink.

Wm. Fran, of Lima, O., obtained excellent results from the use of Foley's Kidney cure. "It relieved my backache and removed pain over the hips. It toned my system and gave me new vigor and energy. It is an honest and reliable remedy, a sure cure for all kidney diseases." H. P. Dunn & Co. and McFadden Drug Co.

HOT TIME FOR DOGGETS.

Chief Nelson Will in a Few Days Serve Papers on Owners of Dogs who Have Not Paid Licenses.

In a few days now Chief of Police Nelson will start in on his crusade against owners of dogs who have not paid the required licenses provided by the city charter.

Since the notices have been served, as required by the charter, all but about sixty have come in and paid their little mite, but it is understood that the remaining few will fight the thing to the bitter end, claiming that they have already paid a tax on their dogs, and that the collecting of license in this account is unconstitutional.

Sealed proposals will be received for the construction of a cement sidewalk along the west side of the court house lot up to 2 o'clock p. m., Aug. 11. Plans and specifications may be seen at any time at the office of the county auditor.

For Whooping Cough. "Both my children were taken with whooping cough," writes Mrs. O. E. Dutton, of Danville, Ill. "I got a bottle of Foley's Kidney and Turpentine and cured my little daughter in 24 hours." H. P. Dunn & Co. and McFadden Drug Co.

Good Advice. The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects, such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth, Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc.

Military Organization. A move is on foot at the Y. M. C. A. to organize an military company to include some of the younger members of the association. Assistant Secretary Simon will be the drill master if enough names can be secured and the boys will meet every week for drill and practice.

RUFFIAN ATTACKS OFFICER HURLEY.

But He Gets the Worst of the Deal Although No One Would Assist THE CROWD STOOD ALDOP

Three Other Men Got Gay By Interfering And They Too Are Arrested

One of the most sensational incidents, a long time occurred Sunday evening about 8:30 o'clock on Kindred street in East Brainerd when an unprovoked assault was made on Officer Hurley who was on his beat at the time.

It seems that Officer Hurley in the afternoon had finished a covey of mill hands and others in an ice house back of the meat market on Kindred street rushing the growler. He went to the boys and ordered them to desist. The officer claims that no objection was made at the time and not a word was spoken except by one man in the crowd who said, "That's right Hurley." Shortly after the officer had seen the boys he walked down the street over his beat and when nearly in front of the Hughes saloon he encountered the same men who had been rushing the growler. Nothing was said to him just as he was passing Frank O'Neil, a river man well known in the city, without warning bounded down off the step kicked the officer in the groin and poking his fist into his face cutting his lip.

The two men clinched at once and for a few minutes there was a wild scene. Finally, the officer claims that he was compelled to draw his club, after having called for assistance from those who had gathered about, and he began to give O'Neil some hard knocks. O'Neil was soon ready to quit and did quit and stated that he was willing to go to jail.

The whole gang are said to have interfered with the officer and when he called to other citizens for help they only scoffed at the idea.

O'Neil was about as badly done up when Officer Hurley got through with him as any man that was ever arrested in this city. He had several scratches on the head and face and he bled like a stuck hog.

Later in the evening John Anderson, Andrew Larson and John McKinley were arrested and they will be tried on the charge of interfering with an officer. Young Anderson was arrested because he had kicked it around and broke it all to pieces and he will probably have to give some good reason for this or take the consequences.

Officer Hurley states that he does not know why this man O'Neil jumped on him. He says that not a word was spoken before he bounded down on him. He has been told since the arrest, however, that O'Neil made the threat to some of his companions shortly before the difficulty occurred that he would do Hurley up.

Great indignation has been aroused in East Brainerd among the more respectable people and they feel that they are entitled to some protection against such hoodlum occurrences.

There are those who are ready to side with the men and not with the officer and who claim that the using of the billy by Officer Hurley was uncalled for, but the majority feel that O'Neil got his just deserts.

Late Monday afternoon the hearing was had in the cases against Frank O'Neil, Andrew Johnson, John Larson and John McKinley. Two of the men plead guilty to the charges against them and were fined but the other two men plead not guilty and their hearings set at a later date.

The first case to be called was that against Frank O'Neil. The charge which had been preferred against him was assault in the third degree. This is not a penitentiary offense but is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine and sentence if the court sees fit.

To the charge O'Neil plead not guilty. This was a surprise to some of his friends for it was thought that he would enter a plea of guilty and take the fine. He certainly has confessed to not a few that he was somewhat to blame. He says that he went after something and got the worst of it and it is understood he is willing to shake hands with Hurley and bury the hatchet. His case was continued until Thursday, August 22. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $100 which was quickly put up.

Andrew Johnson, the man who after Officer Hurley's helmet had fallen off, kicked it and trampled it in the mud was only charged with drunkenness and on pleading guilty was fined only the usual dose of $7.40.

John McKinley was also allowed to plead to the charge of disorderly conduct. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $10 which he paid. He is claimed to have interfered with an officer.

The last man, John Larson, did not think that his had been disorderly and entered a plea of not guilty and his case was continued until Wednesday morning.

There are all kinds of stories in the air and of course O'Neil's friends think he got the worst of it in the deal. It is claimed by a few reputable people who saw O'Neil being taken to jail that he was kicked and slapped in the face and on the head even after the handcuffs were on. As seen by Officers Brockway and Preston arrived on the scene Officer Hurley turned his man over to them as he felt somewhat weak from the effects of the kick. It is claimed that the two men who had him in charge abused him dreadfully on the way to the lockup and that O'Neil will commence suit against them immediately after being rid of the trial he now has on his hands.

It is understood that O'Neil had engaged Judge Fleming and the matter of bringing a suit against Officers Brockway and Preston will be seriously considered.

A representative of the proposed national combine of wholesale grocers has been in Duluth, endeavoring to induce the local wholesale grocery houses, there in number, to join the combine. He has met with no success, but it is reported that the Twokly Mercantile company of West Superior has agreed to go in.

Fargo has experienced a gasoline famine. The grocers all claimed to be short and the oil peddlers stopped their wagons because of inability to obtain a supply. The local manager of the Standard Oil stated that some cars went astray, which accounted for the trouble. Many families who used only gasoline stoves were compelled to patronize the restaurants and hotels.
