Facts Regarding the Northern Pacific

The Pioneer of yesterday, in relating the damaging rumors set afloat by the enemies of this great national enterprise says: "It has been recently intimated by the enemies of the Northern Pacific Railroad that the work of construction is not completed to the Missouri river to this date, notwithstanding the report of the financial agents of the company, made some weeks ago, both in the United States and Europe, that the road would be fully completed to the Missouri river by the first of November. It is further intimated in the same quarters, that want of means, and the early closing up of the excavation by the drifting snows, has been the cause. We deeply regret such wanton misrepresentations, calculated only to obstruct the financial operations of this great enterprise in order to benefit some others of much less importance. The Northern Pacific Company were advised, both by Messrs. Payson, Canda & Co., the chief contractors, as well as by its own agents in the field, who had direction of the construction of the Dakota Division, that the work on the sub-division, including the laying of the track, would be completed by the 23d of October, as the necessary forces were engaged to do the work. When these reports were made to the authorities in New York, in the month of September, the entire earthwork had been completed and track-laying was progressing at the rate of two miles and a half per day. At this rate of progress, there being a certain number of miles of track and a certain number of bridges to build, with a full force of experienced builders engaged on each character of work, it was an easy problem to calculate the exact number of days required to complete the work, and, as stated above, was reported accordingly.

The bridge contractors, Messrs. E. Sweet, Jr. & Co., were subjected to thirteen days' delay, included in the months of August and September, in their department of bridge building, from want of bridge material. It is presumed that this delay was unforeseen by all parties concerned, and consequently no blame can attach either to Payson & Co. or W. E. Sweet & Co. But the delay of the track, caused by the want of bridge material, is the true cause of the non-completion of the road to this date, and therefore, not from want of means and snow, as has been maliciously intimated.

The track has reached a point 18 miles distant from the river, and if not completed this fall, it can be readily done in eight or nine days in the spring, and thus be in ample time to open the navigation on the Upper Missouri River.

We understand that negotiations are pending for freighting Government supplies over the Northern Pacific. This will necessitate the establishment of a line of freights going to Montana, together with the trade on the line of the Northern Pacific, the road must necessarily receive impulses in its opening business of '73, of no ordinary character.

In conclusion, it may be proper to state that the N. P. has built on its main line alone 176 miles of first-class railroad in four months. This affords some idea of the vast amount of the energy displayed in every department of the work. The failure to lay a few miles of track, which can be done in ten days, is no cause for abuse of the Company.
