THE SITUATION.

The St. Paul Press has its wind now set in the direction of the Congressional situation in the Third District. It blows more from less bottom than any wind concern we ever knew of, and already has nearly blown its own brains out with its foolishness about this matter.

RAATHER DULL.

Times, in this locality, are, as elsewhere, very quiet. August has been a dull month, in fact, but as autumn approaches we look for better things.

DETROIT ITEMS.

Legislative politics in this District, are beginning to simmer with fair prospects that they will boil before the campaign is over.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Crow Wing Co., Minnesota. BRAINERD, Aug. 28, 1874. Pursuant to published call a Republican County Convention met at Bly's Hall, at 2 o'clock p. m.

THE BLACK HILLS.

Many, taking flying rumors as a foundation, have gone off at half-cock on the Black Hills question, and, like the Second Adventists when they expect the end of time, are already planning to close out their business with a view to being entirely ready to dash west at the very first opportunity.

AUDUBON ITEMS.

Harvesting is nearly over, and a good many have begun threshing, and wherever the grasshoppers have not injured the grain the yield is excellent.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The proceedings of the Convention held at Bly's Hall, Wednesday afternoon will be seen elsewhere. It was harmonious in every proposition that was made, from first to last.

IS HE GUILTY?

We are asked many times to express an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of Henry Ward Beecher. It is altogether owing to what paper you read, dear reader; if the Pioneer, or Evening Mail, be guilty of all and more than all; he is completely undone, burst up and collapsed by reason of an overweight of secret sin and hypocrisy.

THE FINEST HOPPLES.

As will be seen, the Convention instructed, in the strongest language, its delegates to the 30th Senatorial District Convention at Sauk Rapids, Sept. 15th, 1874, to support C. A. Ruffee, Esq., of Brainerd, as Crow Wing's candidate for the Legislature this fall, and to use all reasonable means to secure his nomination as the Republican standard-bearer in this Legislative District.
