SOME OF THE CAUSES OF MORAL ROTTENNESS.

There is no disguising the fact that the present age is one which nurtures in its bosom not only the seed but the vigorous growth of moral rottenness. Every keen observer can trace on the face of humanity a proneness to the vulgar, and the frivolous side, of all matters however sacred or serious.— Even the casual observer can readily discover a vast difference between the moral strength of the guards that now encompass society, and the growing generation, and the condition of the social world twenty or thirty years ago. This being the fact, which it certainly is, one is led to ask why is it, and why should it be so? We think we can point to a few practices that render the looseness of morals now existing, a very bad thing to tolerate in society.

One thing, the laws, though aiming to be correct upon the regulation of all matters—such as exhibitions, swindles, publications, and the like—coming within their province, fall short, we think, of executing the intentions of the laws; it is one thing to make laws, but another to see that they are enforced, not only to the letter, but in conformity to the full spirit thereof. And again, though too much law might be a burden, yet taking it for granted that such could be the case, we do not think we have above half enough law compared with the needs of the present age. One may look the country and world over, and he can see the direct and dreadful effects everywhere, of not only a great lack in the jurisdiction of the law, but a frightful negligence in the execution of what we have. In other words, the laws we have, should be better executed, and others be made, the authority of which, should reach many strata lower into society regulations, or rather the morals of the people—taking cognizance of the causes as well as the effects.

Another cause is, the universal indulgence in slang phrases, and frivolous and distorted language, done seemingly on the supposition that given to sentences, or in the vain endeavor (and it is an extremely vain attempt) to have every word uttered, smack of either wit or extraordinary sarcasm, as the case may be; hence, slang phrases, beget slang, or vulgar thoughts; frivolous words beget frivolous ideas, which being constantly thrown upon the ear distorts the mind from the channel of rectitude and purity it might otherwise be inclined to follow; and hence, from the multitude of little causes, flow the deplorable effects pervading society in this age.

Another, and possibly one of the most serious, as it certainly is the most stealthy, causes of loose morals and lightness of character, is the wretched habit of journalists in admitting to their columns, and of themselves being, the authors of too much actually immoral and frivolous matter. The country is full of newspapers, and the generation of to-day never fail to read all the papers contain; and there is nothing more certain than that the journals of the land have far more than half to do with the moulding of the morals of the people—the positive leading of the masses into either spheres of dignity and high-toned conduct, or into the realms of a poisonous moral atmosphere. Let a person of mature years, to say nothing of a child, be a constant or regular reader of a paper, and though the transition may be invisible as the motion of the clock's hour-hand, yet that person will as surely become moulded in perfect conformity to the tone and principles of the paper he reads, as the hand of the clock comes to the hour of twelve. With the press of the country conducted—from the smallest country sheet to the metropolitan journal—strictly in accord with a high standard of morals—allowing not a line in their columns that would point either directly or indirectly to the impure or vulgar—the laws would eventually become only needful in cases of extraordinary events.

The mass of items, in even those papers claiming the highest dignity among us, have allusions, abrupt or remote, to the indelicate and vulgar, under the garb of wit, pill, point, or what not, and are read in the family circle, by the column; they leave their poison behind as surely and indelibly as the minute ink drop soils the linen. They, with thousands of other "innocent jokes" that are every day massed in the papers of the land, are the forerunners of immorality, recklessness and positive sin; they are the moth worms that injure us slightly to be feared, but that finally eat into the vitals of morality ere their havoc has been discovered. The parading of police records, divorce trial scenes, and other shameful proceedings of wrong doers and sensations by the hundreds of columns in the leading papers, cannot be justified on the plea of "legitimate news," "enterprise," "the public interest," and the "public demands." That portion of the public that do not demand the publication of such wretched stuff, has been seduced by the papers themselves to demand it, and it is a shame and disgrace to the papers themselves that any human being should demand perusal of such poisonous carion in the columns of a newspaper.

The man, both on the part of publishers (the teachers) and the readers (the pupils) has grown to be a national disgrace and a national calamity, which, if not brought to a halt and total reform, must some day prostitute the country beyond redemption—leaving a nation morally wrecked and religiously wretched.

ing should demand perusal of such poisonous carion in the columns of a newspaper. The man, both on the part of publishers (the teachers) and the readers (the pupils) has grown to be a national disgrace and a national calamity, which, if not brought to a halt and total reform, must some day prostitute the country beyond redemption—leaving a nation morally wrecked and religiously wretched.

Publishers of newspapers all over the land ought to hold a convention, and enter into solemn compact not to allow a line of impurity, under whatever guise, to enter their columns; a radical reform should be quickly inaugurated and speedily carried out on the part of these potent educators of the people, and thereby lead the masses out of the slough of corruption that they are now leading them into; and set an example that will prove a blessing to the nation, and a godsend to its people.

General Manager C. W. Mead spent Tuesday in the city, on his return from the west end, and returned to St. Paul on Wednesday. General Mead's "extra" was the last train of the season over the Dakota Division, and the two hundred miles of Road between Fargo and Bismarck closed its career, for the winter, at the heels of the General's train. Bismarck has, therefore, holed up with the prairie dogs, and will scarcely again be heard of till the cactus blooms once more.

There are about forty towns west and southwest of us, that are blowing and advertising, and howling to the world, that each one of them is the nearest point to the Black Hills, by several hundred miles, and the only feasible point to "fit out and start from." We would merely suggest that in the first place there must be a lie out somewhere, and secondly that no one wants to go to the Black Hills, now; there isn't anything at those Hills that is wanted, that we have heard about, so what are you all howling about?

We have received a German paper containing an article "marked," we presume for our perusal and consideration. As we cannot speak other than United States—and even that brokenly—the article is all "Dutch" to us. We hope it is nothing personal, and that our brother German editor does not therein haul us over the coals on some point in an unnecessarily harsh manner; because if he did, there is a prospect of war between the two nations, if we ever meet him.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Minneapolis Tribune, in writing up Duluth, commences his description of that town by saying that Thad. Stevens one time prophesied that at the place now occupied by Duluth there would one day be an inland city somewhere about the size of London, if we remember rightly. The correspondent is mistaken; instead of it being Thad. Stevens who made that prophecy it was Demosthenes; and instead of his saying that Duluth was destined to be such a huge affair, it was Brainerd he referred to.

A BRAINERD man came into his domicile the other day, and found his wife tacking down a carpet. He thought he would assist her, in his usual way, by sitting down on a chair, with his feet to the fire, and making suggestions. He did not remain sitting very long, however, but just as he was tending his first bit of advice as to the "best way to do it," he suddenly jumped out through the window and ran around the house crying "fire!" Mrs. Q. ran into the bedroom and stuffed a pillow into her mouth.— When John finally got cooled off and came into the house, his good wife suggested that he oughtn't to sit down on her tacks, and spill 'em around out doors, 'cause they was scarce. John said "yes," as well as he could, and asked wife, had he got a clean shirt? He never sits down on a chair now without sweeping it off with his hat, and you can't hire him to make a "suggestion" on any subject.

At their Old Tricks as Usual. The "reformers" out in Becker county are proper subjects for reformation themselves. At Detroit, on election day, scores of illegal votes were polled. During the sitting of court, last week, twenty-five cases of fraudulent voting were proved. The effect of this outrage is to temporarily beat the regular Republican nominees, and elect the "Reformers," or at least one of them. But the end is not yet. Mr. Chambers will contest the election and obtain his seat. A friend writes us that indignation meetings are being held and money raised to back Chambers in the contest.

The editor of the Springfield (D. T.) Times says: "Dog on that dog on dog that comes into our wood-shed and gobbles up everything in it." We never heard of a dog before that dieted on stove wood.

Glendenning.
 This villain has been a young and festive wolf in sheep's clothing, serving for a year or two past as pastor of a Presbyterian church in Jersey City. He ruined an orphan girl, who was organist of his church, and under promise of marriage, murdered her morally and in fact. She died in child-birth, with the dying statement that the Reverend Mr. Glendenning was the father of her child, and that she had been thus ruined and murdered under a solemn vow of intended marriage, which, when too late, he declined to fulfill. She is now dead; the child is living; the scoundrel who is its father is also living, and is being tried for a Presbytery of his church to see if it is proper, under the circumstances, to permit him to continue as pastor of the flock. Glendenning, by the death of his victim, has it all his own way, and in the face of a mountain of proof that he himself is the double-dyed villain, says he didn't do it, but it must have been somebody else, etc. The victim having neither brother nor father to send the dog to hell, where he belongs, by means of cold lead, he will probably bamboozle the set of old cold-blooded asses who presume to sit and consider his awful crime as a Presbytery, instead of seeing to it that he be kicked into a dungeon, stand his trial before the Courts charged with murder in the double first degree, and hung by the neck.— But no, she was only a "foolish and confiding girl," and it is best to give him the benefit of all the doubts, and manufacture all the doubts possible for him besides. Our opinion is, from the plain facts before us, that instead of being worthy to live and be on trial before a presbytery to see whether he shall be simply suspended from the ministry, he is unworthy a back seat in the abode of devils; but should even be swept out of the back door of the infernal regions among the rejected worms and debris of even the chambers of eternal punishment into the hog-pen attachment.

Murderous Miners.
 This reign of lawlessness in the coal regions of Pennsylvania appears to be continually growing worse, caused, perhaps, by the fact that most of the perpetrators of the assaults and murders escape capture and punishment. At Carbondale, on Saturday night or Sunday morning last, two men were murdered and three severely assaulted, one of whom will probably die.

Patrick Padden, a miner at Coalbrook colliery, was found upon Dundoff street, in that city, Sunday morning, with two bullet holes in his head and badly pounded about the body. His head was frozen to the ground, the hair having been dragged in a pool of blood and water, which had congealed. He was not quite dead when found, but expired in the afternoon.

Michael McNally was found dead the same morning upon the railroad bridge in the same city. He was about 25 years of age. The body had evidently been put there.

Michael Begland was found about the same time with his throat cut. He was dressed in an old suit of men's clothing. When last seen on Saturday night he had on a suit of good clothes. He is still alive, and will probably recover.

A boss at the Erie breaker was waylaid on Saturday night and had his arm broken and received other injuries, but escaped with his life. His name has not been ascertained.

About two miles below the city, at Carbondale mine, a man whose name is not known, was found nailed to a beam in a lonely and unfrequented place. Strong nails were driven through his coat at the wrists, and his pants at the ankles, and in this position he was undoubtedly left to die, but by mere accident was found and released.

At Scranton, on Sunday morning, a newsboy found the body of Michael Kearney lying at the foot of a steep embankment. He was dead, and had evidently been thrown there. No arrests.

The Brooklyn Scandal.
 New York Tribune, 12th.
 It is asserted by a gentleman who has had exceptional opportunities for information with regard to the progress of these affairs in Brooklyn, that overtures for settlement of the difficulties involved without the trial of any of the causes were recently submitted on behalf of Mr. Tilton and Mr. Moulton, and that the answer was made that nothing less than the complete withdrawal of all the charges made by Mr. Tilton and Mr. Moulton would be accepted as a basis of settlement, to which the rejoinder is said to have been made that even that might possibly be arranged. On the other hand, two of Mr. Tilton's counsel asserts yesterday in the strongest and most sweeping terms that no propositions for a settlement had been made by any one authorized to speak for Mr. Tilton by any one of his counsel, or by Mr. Tilton himself, and that the determination to press his suit against Mr. Beecher to the end with the least delay possible is fixed and unalterable.

ANOTHER probable murder has come to light in Minneapolis, wherein a man and woman named Krell are supposed to have poisoned an old man named Daily. They are in jail waiting the disinterment of the body of the supposed victim and the result of a post mortem examination. St. Paul and Minneapolis, and vicinity, are becoming most desperately dangerous places in which to try to live, move and have a being, and we involuntarily congratulate our stars that we do not live there.

A MAN in Delaware believes that he has found $5000 worth of Charley Ross, anyway. At least he had a little boy left in his possession by a couple of itinerants, and the little fellow so much resembles the picture of Charley Ross, that the possessor of him asks that amount for his chance.

Give us a Delaware man for "business," every time. Eh, Mac?

Old winter jumped us this time without a moment's warning. Beautiful fall weather continued up till the latter part of last week, when a light snow fell and a change for the worse immediately took place. Thermometers range pretty low of mornings now.

As will be seen, the winter time table on the Northern Pacific has been inaugurated. The trains from both ways now lay over at Brainerd every night, and the hotel keepers are happier than usual.

We have had more or less frost this week, and the prospect is that if it don't soon turn warmer, the farmers in this neighborhood will not get their fall plowing done.

Read Hon. H. M. Rice's interesting letter about the Northern Pacific. It is refreshing, and sort of "isawigatin" to us.

If we have not mentioned in any other item in to-day's paper that it is cold—the weather, we mean,—we wish to say that such is the fact.

Personal.
 We had the great pleasure of a friendly call from Mr. Henry Mead, of Quincy, Ill., on Tuesday last. Mr. Mead is the General Freight Agent of the Chicago and Burlington Railroad, and is a twin-brother of our General Manager, C. W. Mead. He was up on a visit to C. W., and passed over the Road to Bismarck and return. He is, by the way, and old time printer, and this fact alone could but assure us he was a first class man, outside our knowledge of this truth from other proofs. We hope to be honored by a call from Mr. Mead whenever he happens to come up into the settlements.

We accidentally ran across friend M. McDonald, of Audubon, on our streets, on Tuesday evening, who was on his way home, after making a pleasant visit at Sauk Center. He was reported to have come to Tennessee, but you can't sometimes most always tell where he is going when he starts off.

CHARLEY TRUAX, of Motley, ornamented our sanctuary with his presence on Tuesday evening of this week.—Charley is as jolly as ever, and comes down to Brainerd occasionally to see the boys, and do a little trading.

W. W. Wilkins, Esq., of Audubon, called on us on Wednesday evening.

GONE EAST.—Mr. F. M. Roser, who has spent a year or so with us in Brainerd, for the benefit of his health, left yesterday for a winter's visit to family friends in New York. The recovery of his health was complete, and he says he shall never cease to sound the praises of Brainerd wherever he goes, as a location for the invalid, the student, the sportsman, or any other man, in fact, unequalled by any other point on the American continent—and he assures us he can do so cordially and frankly. Mr. Roser will return to either Brainerd or St. Paul and embark in business in early spring time. He promises to become a contributor of New York items to the Tribune this winter, which will doubtless be full of vigor and interest.

RECOVERING.—We are pleased to chronicle the gradual recovery of our good friend Col. R. M. Newport, As't. Treasurer N. P. R. R., from a severe spell of sickness. The Col. has been greatly missed from his post, by the many friends of himself and family—that is, those who knew of his illness. We suggest that the Colonel ought to have "made a bigger fuss" about it; we for one knew nothing of his sickness till yesterday. But we are glad he is getting well again.

N. McFADDEN, Esq., our County Treasurer elect, assumed the responsibilities of that office on Tuesday last—receiving the books, funds and accounts from the hands of the outgoing Treasurer, Mr. F. M. Roser, in due form. Our young friend McFadden will prove himself eminently worthy and well qualified for the office unanimously conferred upon him by our intelligent community.

A GOOD CHANCE.—The Elk River News advertises for the services of a young man who desires to learn the art of printing. This is a rare chance for some ambitious youth who wishes to learn the printing business in all its branches. The News establishment—judging from the appearance of the paper itself—presents facilities for learning the "art preservative," unequalled this side Houg Kong, or any other place we know of.

Governor DAVIS has issued a pardon for Michal Horan, sentenced to the Penitentiary in April 1873, for robbery in Crow Wing county. Horan's term of imprisonment had less than two months to run, but on account of his more than usual exemplary conduct the Governor, has remitted the balance of his sentence.

Thanksgiving Notice.
 "Oh give thanks unto the Lord for he is good!" Don't go about thinking your lot is the hardest that ever fell to mortals. Unthankfulness is most unreasonable. None of us in this community are so badly off in these trying times but they may be in still worse condition. How much we have for which to be thankful.

Our Chief Executive and Governor of State call the nation to express gratitude to a kind Providence for the blessings of the past year and the community are invited personally to attend the union public services on next Thursday A. M. at 11 o'clock at the Methodist church.

Rev. C. C. Salter of Duluth will preach the thanksgiving sermon by request and the remaining services will consist of prepared singing and readings usual on such occasions.

FROM WADSWELL.
My Agricultural Heroes:
 My text, from which I propose to speak on this occasion, may be found as follows: In nearly all the great family journals in the land; at all drug stores and corner groceries; any pretensions whatever to business; on the upper pantry shelf of all Good Templars or Grangers, or any other family man; neither is it confined to United States language alone, but in every tongue which may have been spoken at the panic in tower building, and reads thus:

Purely Vegetable, and free from Alcohol. We read in our Almanac that the discoverer of this great family vegetable was once a poor man; that he was born of poor parents who were very honest. That one day when out on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California "picking huckleberries," he discovered accidentally the wonderful herbs from which such blessings have flowed to a grateful country.

That this vegetable beverage contains no benzine, is a question no one will attempt to deny who has ever made the attempt to get outside of any of them.

Never shall we forget the night of sorrow, to us, individually, when we tested the merits of Dr. Walker's celebrated Vegetation. It was several years ago. At that time we had lately launched our bark upon the tempestuous sea of married responsibilities. For several days we had complained of not feeling very well, and our tender partner ordered us to get a bottle of Vinegar Bitters. Suffice it to say, that evening saw the great remedy gracing our mantle shelf. Shortly after supper we were persuaded to imbibe a teaspoonful; we did so; presently we didn't seem to feel well; things within ourselves seemed to demand an upward tendency; we did not exactly wish to soil our new carpet and things, so we told wife we guessed there was somebody at the door who wished to see us, and so out doors we started, without stopping to get our hat. Well, things seemed to be wrong side up, and we thought our boots were endeavoring to perform some sort of legerdemain and come up; anyhow, we come up out of our boots. We presume we must have been heard within, for soon the gentle partner of our house came to the door and espied us hugging the gate-post in something of a frantic manner, and noting that "something was up" with us, fondly inquired, "were we sick?" We painfully responded, desiring to be understood "if she (oh,!) thought (oh-n-p!) were—(hic,!) doing—(it—for—(oh, ough,)—for—fun.—" She advised us to come in and be put in our little bed, which we did, and soon things seemed more settled like, and we awoke the next morning fully restored to our usual health and vigor, perfectly willing that anybody might have the balance of our $1 investment. As for us, we were well convinced that Vinegar Bitters were purely vegetable; and as a matter of course, will, in the future, take in ours, that other and later vegetable extract from the HUCKLEBERRY.

WADSWELL, Nov. 18th, 1874.

Our newly-elected member of Congress, Col. W. S. King, formerly had a negro coachman in his service at Washington, named Sam. Lee. Sam finally became too big for his breeches, and the Col. discharged him. In looking around for a job, Sam was assisted into a polish on the Washington police force, by his colored friend, Rainey, from South Carolina. Mr. Rainey being a candidate for re-election to Congress in his State, dispatched Sam to assist him in the canvass, when the latter betwought himself to go for his friend's place and become a statesman on his own hook. Being a pretty smart nigger he succeeded in his designs, and now takes the place of Rainey. Sam will move upon the works of the Capitol the 3d of next month in all the pomp and circumstance of war, and will be in a position to dub his former employer as "my honorable colleague from Minnesota." Time works wonderful transformations.

CHINA AND JAPAN.—The difficulty between China and Japan has been amicably arranged. China agrees to pay an indemnity of 500,000 taels, in consideration of which the Japanese troops are to be withdrawn from Formosa.

ITALY.—The elections for the chamber known to be election, it being to various counties of the Kingdom. The following Ministers will be returned: Minghetti, for Liguria; Ricotti Magagnoli, for Navarre; and the Minister of Marine, from Pozzuoli. Signor Lauze has been elected at Turin. The Pope is again ill.

SPAIN.—Gen. Loma, with eight battalions of republican troops, to reinforce the garrison of Iron, reached that town Nov. 6. There have been many incendiary fires in Iron since the bombardment began.—The great painting of St. Anthony, by Murillo, has been stolen from the cathedral in Seville.

AFRICA.—Advices from the Gold Coast state that a Cape Coast of native chiefs was held at Great Castle on the 29th, of October, to clearly express their views on slavery and other questions.—King Koffo, of Abiankote, unable to recover his ascendancy over the neighboring tribes, has settled down quietly, and wishes trade relations resumed.

THE ELECTIONS.

Results in the Several States. The following shows the result of the election held in several states on the 3d inst.

In Pennsylvania. The latest returns indicate that the state of Pennsylvania has gone Democratic by 3,000 to 5,000 majority, with sixteen Democratic and eleven Republican Congressmen.

In Michigan. The Senate has two or three Democratic majorities, and the House is claimed by both sides by six or eight majorities.

In New York. Gov. Bagley's Republican majority, it is believed, will not range over 1,000. The Democrats claim that Chamberlain is elected, and some Republicans concede it.

In Ohio. The Congressional elect, and majorities, partly estimated, are: First District, 2,000; Second District, Waldron, Rep., 700; in the Third District, Willard, Rep., 1,500; Fourth District, Potter, Independent, 1,200; Fifth, Williams, Rep., 500; Sixth, Durand, Dem., 1,500; Seventh, Conger, Rep., 2,000; Eighth, Bradley, Rep., doubtful—claimed by both sides. Except the Governor, the Republican State ticket has perhaps 3,000 or 4,000 majority. It may require the official count to determine the question of government. The Congressional delegation stands: Republican 57, Democrat 4.

In Missouri. Returns from the First District indicate the election of Dummell, Rep., to Congress by a small majority. In the Second District, Cox, Dem., is elected probably by over 1,000 maj. Third District, doubtful, Wilson, Dem., making extraordinary gains, and the chances appear in his favor. Ramsey county gives him 2,000 maj. Hennepin County gives King 600 maj. So far as returns have been received, the Legislature will be Democratic on joint ballot, and possibly, in both Houses, inuring a Democrat for the United States Senate in place of Alexander Ramsey. The status is claimed by both parties Congressional elect, Democrats 2; Republicans 3.

In New York. The Democrats have carried the state by 40,000 majority. The Legislature is Democratic, which will probably elect Horatio Seymour to the U. S. Senate in place of Alexander Ramsey. The Congressional delegation elect is, Republicans 153, Democrats, 18.

In Massachusetts. Gaston, Dem., for Governor of Massachusetts, is elected by a plurality of 7,818. All the Republican state tickets, except Talbot, for Governor, is elected. For Congress, Buffington, Rep., is elected in the First District, by 4,300; Harris, Rep., in the Second District, 2,810; Pierce, Rep., in the Third, by 3,072; Frost, Rep., in the Fourth, by 3,000; Banks, Ind., in the Fifth, by 5,338; Thompson, Dem., in the Sixth, by 4,720; Tarbox, Dem., in the Seventh, by 1,470; Warren, Dem., in the Eighth, by 457; Ward, Rep., in the Ninth, by 487; Seelye, Ind. Rep., in the Tenth, by 540; Chapin, Dem., in the Eleventh, by 5,470. The Legislature, which is largely opposed to prohibition, will stand: Senate, Rep., 24; Dem., 16; House, Rep., 151; Dem., 85. Congressmen elected, 4; Republicans, 4; Independents, 3. Gen. Butler is badly defeated.

In Wisconsin. The latest dispatches received make the majority against Reform candidates for Congress about 5,000 as follows: First District, 3,000; Second, 500; Third, 1,600; Sixth, 4,000; Seventh, 4,000; Eighth, 1,500. The Reform majority in the Fourth District is 3,000; in the Fifth the same. Further returns indicate that the Republicans will have 20 majority in the assembly. The senate will be about even. Congressman elect, Democrats, 2; Republicans, 6.

In the state, the Republicans claim the election of Hyde, in the Tenth District, Zay in the Fifth, and Thompson in the Ninth. Democratic majority on the state ticket will be quite large—many claim 40,000 to 50,000. Congressional delegation, Democrats, 11; Republicans, 2.

In New Jersey. Judge Bedle, Dem., is elected Governor by about 9,000 maj. The Republicans elect to Congress Sinnickson, Dobbins, and Phelps, though the last-named is doubtful, 95 votes on either side would decide the election. The Democrats elect Ross, Hamilton, Chase, and Hardenburg, a gain of three Congressmen. The State Senate stands as last year, each party gaining and losing one. The Republican majority is seven. The House stands 39 Democrats to 21 Republicans, a Democratic gain over last year of 11 on joint ballot. The Legislature is Democratic by 15 maj., and will elect a United States Senator, elected by John P. Stockton. The Congressmen elected in New Jersey are: First District, Clement H. Sinnickson, Rep.; Second District, Samuel A. Dobbins, Rep.; re-elected; Third District, Miles Ross, Dem.; Fourth District, Robert Hamilton, Dem.; re-elected; Fifth District, Augustus W. Cutter, Dem.; Sixth District, Frederick H. Tense, Dem.; Seventh District, Aug. A. Hardenburg, Dem. Dem. 5, Rep. 2.

In Idaho. Bedle's majority for Governor is 15,000.

In Kansas. The Republicans elect Phillips in the First District by 3,000 majority, an Opposition gain of 10,000. Goodin, Rep., is certainly elected in the Second District, and Brown, Rep., in the Third. Osborn and the Republican state ticket elected by 10,000 majority. The Republicans are bewildered. Congressmen elect: Republican, 2; Democrats, 1.

In Nevada. The latest from Nevada indicates the re-election of Brindley, Dem., for Governor, also the election of Legislative ticket with a stand-off between Elliot, Dem., and Woodburn, Rep., for Congress. Excepting in Stony, Lyon and Ormsby counties, the Republican ticket has been elected. This will give Sharon twenty votes in the Legislature. This, added to nine Republicans holding over, makes twenty-nine, with indications that in the other counties the Legislative ticket has gone Republican sufficient to give Sharon the requisite thirty-eight votes on joint ballot to elect him U. S. Senator. The Republicans claim that Woodburn is elected to Congress, with the gubernatorial office divided between Brindley and Elliot. Elliot, Dem., is probably elected to Congress.

Later returns indicate the election of Colonel Casey Young, Dem., to Con-

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY.

IMPORTANCE OF ITS CONSTRUCTION—THE PUBLIC INTERESTS AT STAKE—LETTER FROM EX-SENATOR HENRY M. RICE.

"If we cannot defend our door from the dog, let us be worried, and our union low the name for hardness and policy."

The rapid strides the Canadian government is making in the development of its vast Territory are not known to a large portion of the people of the States, and it is feared that many of our legislators but dimly see the largeness of the pending results.

Take a map of the British Possessions on this continent, follow from its mouth the St. Lawrence through the great lakes and Welland Canal, the only connecting link, enabling ships from the Atlantic to pass to the great north shore of Lake Superior. There you will find the Canadians have, at great expense, opened a communication with Ft. Garry, on the Red River of the North, by constructing roads between the various lakes upon the route, and upon these lakes placing steamers, with the hope of making that the route for emigrants to the Province of Manitoba, thus avoiding a passage through the States. This work was for years quietly, but vigorously prosecuted to completion.

From Prince Arthur's Landing eastward, a line of fine steamers accomplish the great undertaking.

On the Red River of the North there are several steamers running to Fort Garry, and next season a lake steamer will be placed on Lake Winnipeg to run from the mouth of Red River to the mouth of the Saskatchewan River, and there is now one on that river that has recently proceeded to Carlton House, a distance of 400 miles, and it is anticipated it or others will next season reach Fort Edmonton in the 55th of north latitude, at the foot of the Rocky Mountains. Although far north, its climate—being tempered by the winds from the Rocky Mountains—is as mild as that of Chicago. A vast, fertile, inviting region is thus about to be opened that will not only invite emigrants from foreign lands, but may take from the States many that a far seeing policy on the part of our government would wish to keep within our own limits. This is not all. The telegraph is being constructed from Ft. Garry to Vancouver, and will be completed within a few months. Recently work was commenced on the Canadian Pacific Railroad—by the middle of the coming season the cars will be running from Pembina to Fort Garry, and before the close of the year the road will have progressed westward far beyond the last named point, and thus opening up through a rich country, blessed with a salubrious climate, two inviting channels for emigrants and capital, one of which will soon reach the Pacific, and eventually extend north of Lake Superior to the St. Lawrence. The game will be driven from the country, and the Indians following it will congregate upon our now unsettled and unprotected frontier, and may cost us millions of dollars and many lives unless our legislators shall rise to meet the national necessities, and at an early day apply a preventive by giving such aid as will insure a speedy completion of the Northern Pacific road—a measure, when consummated, that will open up the mineral, agricultural and other wealth of that vast region, that will in a few years return a thousand fold its cost.

Not only this, but in a military point of view it will save untold sums, by enabling us to protect our frontier at a small expense, to say nothing of the facilities it will give to enable us to guard our possessions on the Pacific in case of a foreign war.

All this, however, is of minor importance when contrasted with the fact that our wealth and our strength will be largely augmented by the number of people—producers and consumers—who will follow the building of the road, develop the mines, timber, and the agricultural resources of the country, furnishing bread and meat at low prices to the Eastern States, and making a market for those manufactured articles that will give employment to all classes of workmen in the land.

With the progress of the road Indian wars will cease, and as the work shall proceed, an army of wealth-making citizens will settle the country and give a guaranty for the protection of our frontier, that will save many times its cost to the nation, and compel the Indians to cultivate the arts of peace, the only course that will save them from extermination.

Yours, etc.,
HENRY M. RICE.

CANTWELL'S.

"This high-toned young woman who danced with Alexis when he was in this country will be glad to hear that the young man is well. He has ordered another barrel of American beans." His health will likely remain good, if he diets on "average" American beans. They are good.

"The latest feature of the chromo gift business comes from Dexter, Me. They have a church there which gives a chromo to every new convert." "Now is the time to subscribe!"

A NEW BRAND.—Messrs. Paide & Mabey, the meat dealers, corner of Sixth and Laurel, have just put in a stock of the celebrated Family Flour made at the Union Mills, known as Hayward's Best. Though justly celebrated elsewhere, this flour has never before been introduced here. It is fully warranted A. 1, and is sold at the very low price of $3.75 per hundred pounds.

The professionals and pot-hunters who invade the wilderness for 'meat,' these days, are legion. Venison is plenty in consequence.

STATE OF MINNESOTA—Crow Wing In the matter of the Estate of Edward Morse, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Frank L. Morse, of Minneapolis, representing, among other things, that Edward Morse, late of Brainerd, on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1874, at Brainerd, died intestate, and leaving a residuary estate at the time of his death, leaving goods, chattels and estate, within this County, and that the said petitioner is brother of said deceased, and praying that administration of said estate be given to the heirs of said deceased, and to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three successive weeks prior to said day of hearing, in the Brainerd Tribune, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Brainerd in said County.

Dated at Brainerd the 20th day of November, A. D. 1874.

By the Court,
D. O. PRESTON,
Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain indenture of mortgage, bearing date the 6th day of May, A. D. 1873, executed and delivered by H. M. Mixer and Sarah Mixer, his wife, mortgagors, unto Charles F. and William Powell, mortgagees, whereby the said mortgagors did grant, bargain, sell and convey unto the said mortgagees, their heirs and assigns forever, the following described real estate, situate and being in the County of Crow Wing, and State of Minnesota, to wit: "Lot number Twelve, (12), in Block No. Forty Seven (47), in the Town of Brainerd, according to the record and delivery thereof;" to secure the payment of the sum of Four Hundred Dollars, according to the conditions of two promissory notes, bearing even date with said mortgage, signed by the said H. M. Mixer and payable to the order of said Chas. F. and William Powell, as follows: One for $100 payable thirty days after date, and the other for $300, payable September 1st 1873, each bearing interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum, and which said mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, in and for said Crow Wing County, on the 23rd day of May, A. D. 1873, at 3 o'clock, p. m., in Book "A" of Bonds, on pages 543 and 544.

And whereas, said notes and interest remain wholly unpaid, except the sum of $125 paid on said first note September 20th, 1873, and there is now claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice, upon said notes and mortgage the sum of Three hundred and twelve and 98-100 dollars ($312.98), and the further sum of twenty-five dollars stipulated and agreed in said mortgage to be paid as Attorney's fees in case of the foreclosure of said mortgage, and no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover the debt remaining secured by said mortgage or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, public notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in and recorded with said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the said mortgaged premises at public auction, to the highest cash bidder, at the front door of the County Jail, in the Town (now city) of Brainerd in said County of Crow Wing, by the Sheriff of said County, on Saturday the 18th day of December A. D. 1874, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to satisfy the amount then due upon said note and mortgage, with costs and expenses of foreclosure and sale, including said $25.00 Attorney's fees.

CHARLES F. and WILLIAM POWELL,
Mortgagees.

A. F. MCKAY,
Sheriff of Crow Wing Co., Minn.

D. B. SEARLE,
Attorney for Mortgagees.
