

BRainerd Tribune

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING... W. W. HARTLEY, Editor and Prop'r.

TERMS: - $3 00 a Year. Liberal reduction for Board by the Week.

J. C. Casspos, Sec'y. WILDFLY LODGE, No. 57, meets every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Jewelry, Silver Ware, WATCHES, CLOCKS, AND SPECTACLES.

DRUG STORE, Front Street, bet. Fifth and Six.

C. MEYER & CO., Merchant Tailor, 115 EAST SEVENTH STREET.

NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS. COUNTY TREASURER'S OFFICE, Wadena, Minn.

TAX JUDGMENT SALE. PURSUANT TO A REAL ESTATE TAX Judgment of the District Court...

E. & H. T. Anthony & Co., 691 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

PHOTOGRAPHIC MATERIALS. We are headquarters for everything in the way of STEREOPTICONS AND MAGIC LANTERNS.

BRainerd TRIBUNE.

VOL. V.—NO. 49. BRainerd, MINNESOTA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 1877. WHOLE NO. 257.

Headquarters Hotel, BRainerd, MINN. E. W. WEEED, Proprietor.

MEAT MARKET, COR. SIXTH AND LAUREL STS.

J. L. STARCHER, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS.

Physician and Surgeon, Office at Headquarters Hotel.

C. B. SLEEPER, Attorney at Law, FRONT STREET.

F. X. GOULET, County Auditor.

MRS. EMMA E. FRENCH, Dressmaker, Laurel St., Brainerd, Minn.

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

DOMINION HOUSE, Cor. Fifth and Laurel Street.

LAMONT & WILSON, Dealers in Groceries and Provisions, Wines, Liquors & Cigars.

J. M. MARTIN, Dealer in Groceries & Provisions.

Fancy Groceries, Foreign and Domestic, California Fruits, Nuts, Candies.

HOW TO RUN A COUNTRY NEWSPAPER. Reductio ad Absurdum. If there is anything we like to do better than nothing, it is to "run" a country newspaper.

OUR TAX LAW. We desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the necessity of revising our tax law.

THE BENNETT-MAY SCANDAL. A Bloodless Duel. The James Gordon Bennett, Jr., May scandal is sad enough without ending in tragedy.

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT" is not yet over. The telegraph from day to day brings us news of a terrible condition of things in Louisiana.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

Louisiana Bulldozing. REBELLION INAUGURATED. A POLITICAL PANDEMONIUM.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9th.—The political adherents of Gov. Packard and Gov. Nichols are in arms, several thousand strong.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 10.—Gov. Nichols has issued a conciliatory order, and the prospect now is that the difficulty may be amicably adjusted.

REBELLION INAUGURATED. A POLITICAL PANDEMONIUM. NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9th.—The political adherents of Gov. Packard and Gov. Nichols are in arms.

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT" is not yet over. The telegraph from day to day brings us news of a terrible condition of things in Louisiana.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

THE BRainerd BRANCH. W. A. R.

The prospects for building the Brainerd Branch are brightening, and it is evident that work on the road will be commenced in the spring.

THE NATIONAL PACIFIC. There is a report that the Northern Pacific railroad company has concluded arrangements for the extension of the road from Bismarck.

OUR TAX LAW. We desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the necessity of revising our tax law.

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT" is not yet over. The telegraph from day to day brings us news of a terrible condition of things in Louisiana.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

W. A. R. A Poem, BY E. A.

On Linden, when the sun was low, All bloods as they lay the untrodden snow, And dark as sinister was the flow.

THE NATIONAL PACIFIC. There is a report that the Northern Pacific railroad company has concluded arrangements for the extension of the road from Bismarck.

OUR TAX LAW. We desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the necessity of revising our tax law.

THE "IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT" is not yet over. The telegraph from day to day brings us news of a terrible condition of things in Louisiana.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

EBERHLY, DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, AND Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles.

E. W. ADDISON, MERCHANT TAILOR, 7 1/2 Street, bet. Front and Laurel.

BUSINESS NOTICE.

Notice of Advertising will be made known on application at this office, or by letter. No notice would suit all cases.

READ! READ! READ! I have just added in a large stock of Hardware, Tinware, Crockery and Lamps.

READ! READ! READ! NORTHERN Pacific Bonds for sale.

READ! READ! READ! CHEAP! Best and Finest Cans at the celebrated Deep Sea Oysters.

READ! READ! READ! If you do not know the amount required to pay your subscription to Jan. 1st, 1877, and give you a chance in the Sewing Machine.

READ! READ! READ! The next regular meeting of the Social Reading Club will be held at the residence of J. W. Ederton.

READ! READ! READ! The Brainerd String Band dined up some inspiring strains Thursday evening for the good folk at the Fort.

READ! READ! READ! A Grand New Year's Gift to the Patrons of the "Tribune."

READ! READ! READ! With a view to increasing our subscription list and collecting in our renewals for 1877, we propose, though it is a little late, to present our subscribers with a splendid New Year's Gift.

THE GIFT OF EMPTY HANDS.

A FAIR TALE.

They loved two princes doomed to death; Each loved his beauty and his breath; Leave us our life and we will bring Fair gifts unto our lord, the king. They went together, in the dew A clamor led to bed before them...

JOHN AND HETTY.

From the St. Louis Republic. John Twist stood in his room looking out upon the levee, and chuckled to himself that the weather was so mild. Circumstances beyond the control of John Twist had prevented him from laying in an abundant stock of coal for the winter...

He stood at the window watching the river until it became dark, and then he sat down in one of the rickety chairs the room afforded, and fell to thinking again. He was mentally comparing the approaching New Year's day with his holidays in the past, and the excitement of his face failed to indicate a satisfactory result...

He dropped off to sleep in his chair and dreamed with double nightmare power. He thought himself on the Minnesota farm again on good terms with Hetty and she with him. The various queer things happened. Hetty eloped with A. Gordon Pym, in a light wagon drawn by a Broddingnag gold-bug. He started hoot in pursuit, when he was caught up by a huge bird and carried off, suspended by his clothing to the North pole...

MISS HETTY PARKER, MILLINER. In the small room on the levee in which window contained her modest sign, Miss Hetty Parker, milliner, was engaged at work on Friday evening. She was sewing on a baby's garment...

for Miss Parker's millinery business in the strict sense of the word was, unfortunately, not extensive, and she was glad to eke out a better livelihood on work a little out of the regular line. The world to her, she stitched probably didn't seem just as it did to her mother...

The milliner rubbed her eyes with an inexpressive but very nearly heaved-up pocket handkerchief, and resumed work pensively upon the baby's garments, all frilled and pleated and garnished, as young mothers like them, and the milliner unconsciously became interested in her work a little. She held up one finished article and inspected it.

"To hope it will suit. It's a perfect beauty. How nice the baby will look in it." Her thoughts wandered back into the past. "I wonder where John is now! Poor fellow! How cruel and foolish I was, and how sorry afterward. I wonder if he has forgotten me, or what he would say if he could know that I am alone in the world!

Scarcely up to the conventional ideal is a warm New Year's Day, but it has its advantages. People will go to work in the morning, and then there are people in the afternoon as well as the morning. On the New Year's day, when the church bells went aboard over the whole city, people were attracted as they had not anticipated, and came out upon the streets in hundreds...

The exercises of the day went on in the church, the organ's notes and the voices of the singers filled the air with pleasant sounds and then the preacher talked. He talked very well, too, in a sermon quite adapted to the day. It was a discourse suitable for the beginning of the New Year, full of earnestness and health and honest. Even the listless listened before he closed, and when the end came all the congregation felt somehow as though starting out on a new journey with new impulses and added hope and better intention.

The slim woman in plain garb looks up into the face of the rough man in plain ditto, as she takes his arm. And then she turns pale for a moment, after which a flush comes over her face. At the same time he looks down at the girl, and the blood-colored pale death, but he doesn't blush afterward as she does. The paleness has died away gradually. "Hetty! Hetty!"

There is a momentary timidity and indecision about each of them, and then he draws more closely the arm she has taken. She comes nearer with a kind of flutter, and they go on with the people. But they do not separate when the crowd lessens. They break the silence between them again, after a time, and they have a great deal to talk about. They explain much and forgive much and regret much. Then they consider the present. A laboring man and a milliner with a little custom can scarcely establish a sumptuous household. Well, the new year may bring them better fortunes. They can do more where each has sympathy.

They think they can live comfortably, happily, anyhow. And that same April breeze which has got into December fans their cheeks, and it does seem to them that no frigid, frosty New Year's Day such as the old songs tell of, could compare with this, or be half as happy in any way.

Watchmaking in America.

M. Edouard Favre Perret, Swiss Commissioner to the Centennial Exhibition, and member of the International Jury on watches, has given the result of his observations on American watchmaking in a public address at the Hotel de Ville, Paris, on Dec. 26. Being himself a large watch manufacturer, his statements made a profound impression in Switzerland, and will be read with the liveliest interest in this country.

Another American, Mr. Robbins, scented a good speculation and bought the factory and tools for $75,000. A new company, "The American Watch Company," was formed, with a capital of $200,000, which was subscribed by capitalists more than by practical business men. In the beginning, the company turned out only the rough skeleton movement and attended to the finishing; all other parts, such as trains, balances, jewels, etc., were imported from Switzerland.

The Americans began by creating a demand for their goods in the Indies and Australia, and then—thanks to some powerful importing houses—their goods were sent to the United States. The Americans began by creating a demand for their goods in the Indies and Australia, and then—thanks to some powerful importing houses—their goods were sent to the United States.

Willam Windom, a member of the Legislature, met in the hall of the House of Representatives at Saint Paul on Thursday evening January 4th, to nominate a candidate for U. S. Senator. The Republicans met in the hall of the House of Representatives at Saint Paul on Thursday evening January 4th, to nominate a candidate for U. S. Senator. The Republicans met in the hall of the House of Representatives at Saint Paul on Thursday evening January 4th, to nominate a candidate for U. S. Senator.

Had the Philadelphia Exhibition taken place five years later, we should have been totally unprepared without knowing whence our new received the terrible blow. We have believed ourselves masters of the situation, when we really have been on a volcano. In 1884, we must actually struggle with the markets, that rival manufacturer. For a long time we have hoped that the custom duties, amounting to 25 per cent, might be reduced. We cannot count upon it. America needs all her resources, and whether Democrats or Republicans be in power, we cannot hope for a reduction of import duties.

The House, on the 3d, Mr. Phillips of Kansas, introduced a bill for extending the land grant to public lands. Reports from the judiciary committee were received for and against the admission of Mr. Sedgwick, Colorado; the majority being in favor of his admission. There was no other business of moment. On the 4th inst., in the Senate, Mr. Wright called up the bill recently introduced by him to establish a court for trial of contested elections in the office of President and Vice President for the purpose of having it referred to a lengthy debate followed in which Senator Wright expressed his belief that Congress is competent to declare by law how many votes shall be counted, but denies that the honest vote is made by the people. Senator Kernan holds that Congress has the power to count the votes. Senator Conkling made a strong appeal for united patriotic action. The honest vote is made by the people and the people will bow to it. A committee of seven was appointed to devise means for a proper count of the electoral vote.

On the 6th inst., in the House, Mr. Goodin, from the committee on public lands, reported a bill authorizing the extension of the right of pre-emption rights affected. The bill was passed. On the 7th inst., in the House, Mr. Goodin, from the committee on public lands, reported a bill authorizing the extension of the right of pre-emption rights affected. The bill was passed.

The House on the 9th did not order work that to order the arrest of Wm. Orton of the Western Union telegraph company. In the Senate, on the 10th, Mr. Winthrop, from the committee on public lands, reported favorably on the bill amending the law for a land grant in aid of the Duquesne and St. Louis City railroad. A resolution was passed relative to the resignation of Mr. Jones, U. S. Marshal.

Electricity, the grand vitalizing principle of organic life, is within the reach of all. Dr. Collip's Electric Plaster is the realization of the dream of medical men for centuries. It banishes pains and aches as by magic. It took Sir Isaac Newton less than three years to thoroughly digest the principles of gravitation, while a Rhode Island farmer has spent eleven years trying to find out why a cow never kicks till the pail is nearly two-thirds full.

List of Members of the Nineteenth Legislature of the State of Minnesota with the Occupation, Post-Office Address, Age, Navy, etc., of Each. SENATORS.

Table with 7 columns: Name, County, Post-Office, Occupation, Nativity, Age at last election, and Condition. Includes names like Archibald, John M., Armstrong, John H., Bailey, F. C., etc.

OFFICERS OF THE SENATE.

Table listing Senate officers: Liquor Governor, Secretary, Enrolling Clerk, etc. Includes names like J. B. Wakarusa, Chaas W. Johnson, etc.

REPRESENTATIVES.

Large table listing Representatives with columns for Name, County, Post-Office, Occupation, Nativity, Age at last election, and Condition. Includes names like Amundson, Ole, Anderson, D., Beal, W., Beasley, S., Benson, David, etc.

OFFICERS OF THE HOUSE.

Table listing House officers: Speaker, Chief Clerk, Sergeant at Arms, etc. Includes names like J. L. Gibbs, Geo. W. Bassett, etc.

the greatest masters of the Tuscan dialect—Dante and Petrarch being the other two. Sir Henry Spelman neglected the study of the study when he was twenty years of age. When he was thirty-five years of age when he commenced his studies in Latin literature; yet he became one of the greatest masters of the Tuscan dialect—Dante and Petrarch being the other two.

