

ALBERT LEBON, Watchmaker & Jeweler

WATCHES, CLOCKS, Silverware, Jewelry, Spectacles, Etc.

HEADQUARTERS HOTEL, BRAINERD, MINN.

F. X. GOULET, County Auditor

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. MONT & WILSON, Groceries and Provisions

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

J. BAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker

BRAINERD TRIBUNE

VOL. VI.—NO. 36.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1877

WHOLE NO. 296.

BRAINERD BOOK STORE

Blank, Memorandum and Pocket Books, Toy Books, School Books, Slates, Crayons, Pens, Pencils, Writing Desks and Paper Weights.

GOODS AT Bed - Rock Prices

NEW CASH STORE TO THE PUBLIC. I would respectfully return my sincere thanks to my numerous customers who have favored me with their patronage since the first of August last, and I desire to announce to them and the public generally that I have put in a new stock

Family and Fancy GROCERIES

Consisting of California Fruits, Canned Goods, Teas, Sugars, Nuts, Candies, Lard, Raisins, Apples, etc.

J. M. MARTIN, FIFTH STREET, Brainerd, Minn.

J. L. STARCHER, GROCERIES & PROVISIONS

DEALER IN GROCERIES & PROVISIONS, FLOUR, FEED, Etc.

EBER R. BLY, GROCERIES & PROVISIONS

Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber & Shingles

Brainerd Broom Factory

ALL KINDS OF Brooms and Brushes

T. F. McAVOY, DRUG STORE

FRONT STREET, bet. FIFTH and SIXTH, N. McFADDEN, Proprietor.

NEW GOODS!

Like an avalanche the fall trade is upon us. UNPRECEDENTED CROPS all over the country, several years of MERCANTILE ECONOMY and close sailing, the settlement of the BRAINERD BRANCH, and prospect of BRAINERD being a CITY at some future day, and GOLD AT PAR, all combined, have produced the present prospect for a GOOD TRADE in Brainerd this FALL AND WINTER.

Having the UNLIMITED CASH to go into the market

Parties who are thinking of purchasing Woolen Goods for winter wear will do well by waiting for the STOCK that will be OPENED for inspection in a few days at W.M. SCHWARTZ.

Leland's Corner!

Corner Fifth and Laurel Streets, BRAINERD, - MINN.

New Hotel, New Store, and Good Livery.

The Leland House has just been enlarged by a new and commodious two and one-half story addition, and newly furnished throughout with the latest and all the conveniences of a FIRST-CLASS HOTEL

THE STORE

On the first floor of the new addition, is supplied with an entirely new stock of FRESH Groceries & Provisions NOTIONS, ETC., AT BOTTOM PRICES FOR CASH.

The Livery

It will be supplied with good, comfortable rigs, and will be furnished on short notice, at living rates.

Cabinet Maker & Joiner,

Particular attention paid to Ladies' and Children's Dresses and Garments.

DOMINION HOUSE

Cor. Fifth and Laurel Streets, BRAINERD, - MINN.

H. W. ADDISON, TAILOR

Republican Ticket.

For Governor, HON. J. S. PILLSBURY. For Lieut. Governor, HON. J. B. WAKFIELD. For Secretary of State, HON. J. S. IRGENS.

JUMPING THE CLAIM.

The 'hoppers have come again, dear wife, they are coming up our grain.

A REPLY TO REV. J. A. GILFILLAN

A few words more in regard to our nationality and we are done. We wish to inform you, Mr. Gilfillan, that every Swede and Norwegian knows how to read and write, and all are confirmed at the age of fifteen to sixteen.

MRS. EMMA E. FRENCH, DRESSMAKER.

Particular attention paid to Ladies' and Children's Dresses and Garments.

H. W. ADDISON, TAILOR

FRONT STREET, bet. FIFTH and SIXTH, N. McFADDEN, Proprietor.

of the Indians is too well and generally known to need any description from me.

In passing, however, we wish to correct Mr. Gilfillan in this: it seems to hold his White Earth Indians above other Indians as to what concerns morality and Christianity.

Our office has been the scene of considerable disorder this week owing to the presence of carpenters enlarging our quarters, and we have barely got straightened around in season for this issue even without news.

W. W. Hartley, Esq., Ed. Brainerd Tribune. DEAR SIR:—I see by your paper that I have been nominated for the office of County Surveyor.

OUR OFFICE HAS BEEN THE SCENE OF CONSIDERABLE DISORDER THIS WEEK OWING TO THE PRESENCE OF CARPENTERS ENLARGING OUR QUARTERS.

E. J. OLSON and family, formerly of this place, stopped over here a day this week on their return to their home in St. Croix Falls, Wis.

Indian Business

"STRANGLER."

1. Enter boisterously and slam the door after you—a loud noise is so harmonious to the business of the office.

2. Read all the notices in sight, either on the books or before the corresponders; if they are setting it up they will cheerfully wait till you are through.

3. Read all set matter on galleys, in sticks, on stones, in forms, on presses, dead or alive.

4. Read what the editor is writing. You will thus get late news early.

5. Read the tympan sheets on the press—some job of a very private character may have been finished and the form distributed before you came.

6. If you discover errors, be sure to call the editor's attention to them; he depends upon his visitors for proof-readers.

THE same summer and winter if you prick us do we not bleed? If you tickle us do we not laugh? If you poison us do we not die? And if you wrong us do we not revenge? The Rev. J. A. Gilfillan to the contrary notwithstanding.

LOCAL

EVERY house in town is occupied.

OLD "Taken" was at the mass convention last evening, sign and all.

A. J. CLARK, of Little Falls, is in town to-day, waiting for the train for home.

An Indian was killed in a drunken row at Little Falls on Friday night of last week by a half-breed named Eustach, who cut his throat from ear to ear.

We received a call this week from John H. Wilkins, of Ansonie & Wilkins, attorneys and real estate dealers, Bay City, Michigan, here for the purpose of converting N. P. stock into lands.

G. G. HARTLEY, of this place, returned last evening from a visit to the province of New Brunswick. He was accompanied on his return by Julius Hartley, of Woodstock, who proposes to make his home in Brainerd. Welcome.

WE direct the attention of our readers to the new advertisement in another column of W. H. Leland's new store, and to the fact that he has a full line of fresh and first-class groceries, and is selling them at bottom prices.

W. W. Hartley, Esq., Ed. Brainerd Tribune. DEAR SIR:—I see by your paper that I have been nominated for the office of County Surveyor.

OUR OFFICE HAS BEEN THE SCENE OF CONSIDERABLE DISORDER THIS WEEK OWING TO THE PRESENCE OF CARPENTERS ENLARGING OUR QUARTERS.

E. J. OLSON and family, formerly of this place, stopped over here a day this week on their return to their home in St. Croix Falls, Wis.

Indian Business

"STRANGLER."

1. Enter boisterously and slam the door after you—a loud noise is so harmonious to the business of the office.

2. Read all the notices in sight, either on the books or before the corresponders; if they are setting it up they will cheerfully wait till you are through.

3. Read all set matter on galleys, in sticks, on stones, in forms, on presses, dead or alive.

4. Read what the editor is writing. You will thus get late news early.

5. Read the tympan sheets on the press—some job of a very private character may have been finished and the form distributed before you came.

BUSINESS NOTICE.

Notices of Advertising will be made known on application of their class or by letter. No notice will be made of any class of advertising not of the class specified.

The following are the factors drawn for the coming term of District Court for this county, to be held on Tuesday the 23rd inst., in this town.

GRAND JURY. L. McPherson, J. McNaughton, Wm. Moore, J. H. White, Wallace Beane, Levi Davenport, J. Hain, J. O. Congdon, P. D. Davenport, Pat. Wilkins, J. H. White, F. X. Goulet, R. Whelan, R. E. French, Wm. Payne, A. Blahney, A. Mahlum, John Phillips, D. S. Moore, L. P. White, A. Hagberg, A. Lebon, Walter Davis.

C. A. Ruffe, S. K. Swain, R. H. Paine, O. Erickson, John Willia, R. Fields, J. K. Lee, T. H. Moore, S. B. Hamilton, E. Etwell, H. H. Hallett, J. McCarthy, Wm. Cole, J. Clayton, J. Van Zant, J. Richardson, N. Leiby, Benj. Atkins, E. Welch, C. Williams, T. J. Delamer, R. Lynch, F. Beane, C. H. Netterberg.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the District Court.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Register of Deeds for Crow Wing County.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of sheriff of the county at the coming election.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election for the office of sheriff.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election for the office of sheriff.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election for the office of sheriff.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election for the office of sheriff.

GENTLEMEN—I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for your suffrages at the approaching election for the office of sheriff.

Indian Business

"STRANGLER."

1. Enter boisterously and slam the door after you—a loud noise is so harmonious to the business of the office.

2. Read all the notices in sight, either on the books or before the corresponders; if they are setting it up they will cheerfully wait till you are through.

3. Read all set matter on galleys, in sticks, on stones, in forms, on presses, dead or alive.

4. Read what the editor is writing. You will thus get late news early.

5. Read the tympan sheets on the press—some job of a very private character may have been finished and the form distributed before you came.

6. If you discover errors, be sure to call the editor's attention to them; he depends upon his visitors for proof-readers.

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

WANTED

Business that will pay

SUMMARY OF THE GENERAL NEWS.

Arrest of Senator Patterson.

Chief Justice Carter having issued a warrant, on the requisition of the governor of South Carolina, for the arrest of Senator Patterson, a visit was soon thereafter made to the residence of the senator...

The Fallers Here's Last Meet.

Gen. Geo. A. Custer's remains were taken to West Point, N. Y., on the morning of the 10th inst. 300 people accompanied them...

Asiatic Cholera has appeared in Yokohama and Nagasaki.

No foreign cases, and among the Japanese the disease is under good control. Ample precautions are taken, and no spread of the epidemic is anticipated.

A Prosperous Railroad.

At a monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Baltimore & Ohio railway company in Baltimore on the 10th, a dividend of three per cent was declared on the main stem stock.

A Sample of Black Hills' Road Agents.

The down-track from Deadwood was stopped early on the morning of the 9th, by two road agents, within a quarter of a mile of Lance Creek station, about thirty miles north of Hot Creek, Wyo.

The Whiskey Ring Suit.

The government has been defeated in its suit against Wm. McKee of St. Louis to recover the proceeds of Taxes due on whiskey and other brands of the revenue.

Adjusting the Riot Losses.

At a meeting of merchants who suffered losses by the late riot at Pittsburgh, a committee of three was appointed with power to employ counsel to represent all parties to the losses, the expenses incurred to be divided among the claimants in proportion to the amounts involved.

Send Forgery.

Bonds of the denomination of $1,000, purporting to be issued by the United States of Mexico, and States of San Luis Potosi and Tamaulipas, which have been on the market in Boston some months, and some of which are negotiated, are pronounced forgeries.

Consolidation of Parties.

The State central committee of the greenback and united labor parties of Pennsylvania have agreed to unite for the purpose of conducting the present State campaign, and be known as the united greenback and labor party.

Paid to vote or keep silent.

The statement of Wm. M. Tweed, submitted a short time ago to Attorney General Fairchild, has been made public, and contains the names of twenty-one senators paid for votes or silence.

A Splendid Steamer Lost.

The splendid steamer Massachusetts was run ashore at Green Point Long Island on the 6th inst and will prove a total wreck. No loss of life accompanied the accident.

Admiral and Lieut. Powell and Lockwood of the United States engineers have arrived at Memphis for the purpose of making a survey of the Mississippi.

CONKLING VS. HAYES.

In response to a call of the business men of New York to endorse President Hayes' course, and to offset the action of the Rochester convention, quite a large gathering met in Cooper Institute on the evening of the 10th, where George William Curtis made an address and the following resolutions were adopted:

Bank President Robbed in Boston.

At noon on the 5th, Alderman Ass. A. Reed, of Lynn, director of the Central National bank at that place, passing through a small alley way opposite the Boston, Revere, Beach & Lynn railroad station, in Boston, was set upon by two men who knocked him down and robbed him of eight thousand dollars, bank bills. Mr. Reed resisted, and the robbers drew revolvers and fired three shots at him, one of which grazed the back of his head. The robbers retreated under cover of their revolvers to a team in waiting for them and drove off hastily towards South Boston.

Texan-Mexican Complications.

A Mexican mob of four hundred strong took possession of the towns of Tejeda and San Lazaro. The Texas county officials are prisoners in the hands of the mob, and the cry is "death to Granger" and "Viva Mexico." Letters received today at Fort Davis state that Mexicans in large numbers have captured and held in custody all officers of El Paso county. Lives of white men are threatened, there are no troops on the frontier, and a horrible massacre is imminent. Judge Charles H. Howard is a prisoner and bound with ropes.

New York Custom House Employees.

It seems settled that Evans has selected for the port of New York Theodore Roosevelt for collector and Gen. Merritt for surveyor, or the choice of Gen. Merritt being anticipated for months and his previous experience makes him thoroughly familiar with custom house affairs. He is representative of the high social standing and irreproachable character, thoroughly identified with New York, comprehends the wants of the mercantile community and, says the Tribune "He will have no master to serve or to obey."

From Meritt to a Paper Standard.

A Berlin special says an imperial ukase sanctions the conversion of the share capital of five principal Russian railways from the ruble to a paper standard, at the same time reducing the state's guarantee of annual receipts to the same standard. The measure induces serious loss on the shareholders and creates apprehension that the measure will be extended to other lines and then to government bonds. It is said the shares subscribed in foreign gold will not be exempted from the operation of the ukase.

The Ohio Democratic majority for Bishop for Governor is claimed will not fall below 50,000 and may reach 60,000.

The Democratic majority in the Assembly is 29, and in the Senate 13, giving a majority on

THE WORLD'S

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss.

THE COMBAT IN THE OLD WORLD

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss. The main action was fought on the 15th. The Turks made to have been taken by surprise. A single Turkish battalion defending the Great Yaghi was cut to pieces or captured with the loss of two hours' obstinate defense, which gave the Turks an opportunity to prepare for the next assault.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

THE WORLD'S

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss.

THE COMBAT IN THE OLD WORLD

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss. The main action was fought on the 15th. The Turks made to have been taken by surprise. A single Turkish battalion defending the Great Yaghi was cut to pieces or captured with the loss of two hours' obstinate defense, which gave the Turks an opportunity to prepare for the next assault.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

THE WORLD'S

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss.

THE COMBAT IN THE OLD WORLD

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss. The main action was fought on the 15th. The Turks made to have been taken by surprise. A single Turkish battalion defending the Great Yaghi was cut to pieces or captured with the loss of two hours' obstinate defense, which gave the Turks an opportunity to prepare for the next assault.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

THE WORLD'S

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss.

THE COMBAT IN THE OLD WORLD

Further particulars of the battle before Kara make it evident that the Russians assaulted the Turkish positions along the whole line, and were repulsed with heavy loss. The main action was fought on the 15th. The Turks made to have been taken by surprise. A single Turkish battalion defending the Great Yaghi was cut to pieces or captured with the loss of two hours' obstinate defense, which gave the Turks an opportunity to prepare for the next assault.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the right and center of his line and concentrated their entire army at Kishinev.

At Plevna the Roumanians have pushed their camp to within a few yards of the counter-scarp of the second redoubt on Gravata ridge.

No trustworthy accounts indicate that the position of Osman Pasha has been invested or closely blockaded. From Mukhtar Pasha's latest dispatch it seems the Russians have withdrawn from the Slippy Time.

When the low shadow entered the sky,
When red clouds shone in the western sky,
When doves came flying down from the hills,
When birds chirped softly and then are still,
The children came from their work or play—
Oh! it has been such a busy day,
With babies to dress and houses to make,
With horses to train, with journeys to take!

Now they are weary, and day is gone:
The doll lies tossed in the corner alone;
The last mud-pile is left still unbacked,
The horse at the well, his thirst unquashed.

Bring the bright water—let shafts remain
From the hollow dome of sport or strain:
Clothe them in raincoats all snowy-
Lay them down softly, "Sweet, good-night!"

Lying, fair hands; in their dainty grace,
Lying, asleep, on the baby face
Innocence when to our world far,
So clean and sweet as the Evening-Star.

So might look the Angels who see Always the face of Father but we Belong to him things—"poor things" we say
"How tired they are with their foolish play!"

ROMANCE OF A SPITZ DOG.

My story opens the brightest of June mornings upon the little city of Arline, tranquilly glittering in the sun,
white on the shores of Lake Michigan.
From the steamers which glided quietly by, eight or ten miles off shore, Arline was a haven of summer rest, an oasis made for happy idlers, of which tired city passengers could treasure up only fitting glimpses for future sighs and dreams. A dearer approach but confirmed this rather ideal impression. The busiest part of Arline was one broad street, upon which swept the unbroken lake breezes, and where the passers-by could be counted on one's fingers at any hour of the day.

The rest of the place was so embowered in trees that it more nearly resembled a grove than a town. Even the quiet little river—whose arbitrary twisting, drew a very satisfactory line between aristocratic and plebeian Arline—bore its country lilies to the last bridge that spanned its shallow current before it lost its sleepy identity in the lake.

Despite the forbidding shades, the im-pressible sunbeams sallied into the most guarded nooks. Perhaps their rash-est adventure was a surreptitious entrance into the chamber of Miss Helen Marlette through a breach in the maple boughs of a lily-lily carelessly left askant. With golden ladder upon the floor, she hung slightly, had laid herself down, and downward. The warm bars felt at length upon her uncloaked hair—so black that it did not give forth even a tawny lustre—and one tiny line slid athwart the handsomest nose in Arline. Upon this the lady suddenly opened her eyes and stared wildly at the ceiling. Who is richer more talented than I? Already he holds a high position in Washington, and

"Well," interrupted Helen, jumping up
from her low seat with a little laugh;
"an awe enough to understand you. Inquiring friends may find me this morning.
She lightly kissed her aunt's still un-wrinkled forehead, and left that lady to her laboratory.

Within an hour Mrs. Marlette's reveries were broken upon by the coming of two young men up the serpentine gravel
walk.

The elder was very dark, with handsome regular features, and a polished instant manner, strongly in contrast with the younger, straight-forward air of his companion. The latter, though quicker in his movements, was of much heavier
build, and his face, if not so handsome,
was redeemed by a face of singular beauty. His eyes were clear and honest. Altogether he might have proved a less agreeable companion, but perhaps a better friend than the other.

"Aunt Celia," said the first gentleman,
easily advancing, "your prodigal nephew Fred. Hahn" he changed beyond recognition."

"Fred, my dear, dear nephew," Mrs.
Marlette bubbled, bestowing such a greeting of kisses upon the young man
that he had to blush through his brown cheeks, and would have wished himself back in the Falkland Islands had he not possessed a peculiarly grateful disposition. Then she told him that before he saw either of his cousins, he must sit down and tell her all about himself and how he had done in the first place. Ernest meantime went in search of Celia and
Helen, and brought them out to see Fred.
She thought that they were in the library.

Whereupon Ernest departed with dispatch.

retired gladly to private life had not his wife gazed him on to another campaign.
He died before his second term expired,
and Mrs. Marlette found herself deluged
by Salic institutions from taking further part in the management of public affairs.
Wisely she turned her energies in the directions the infallible judgment of mankind had seen fit to leave open to them,
and acted well her part as mother, aunt,
and leader of society in her early home,
Arline.

"Good-morning, my dear," said this estimable lady, on her niece's approach;
"how fresh you look after your late
hours!"

"She didn't look fresh till I told her Ernest was coming," Saxie said, slyly.
Mrs. Marlette suddenly turned her attention to a restless little Spitz dog, that had till now tugged unnoticed at her dress.

"Saxie, coax Roger around at the back yard, and tell George to keep him at the stable the rest of the day. I don't know what the matter is with him; he seems so
vicious this morning."

"Congratulations, my dear, said Helen,
"I am twenty-four to-day."

"Congratulations!" called Saxie, still with in earshot; "I should think you would rather be consoled with. Why, I felt terrible my last birthday, and I was only seventeen!" she cried, and until mamma promised me a diamond ring. Come Roger, don't be so frowny. You detestable
dog, let go of my dress!"

"I do congratulate you, my dear, and you wear your years well," Mrs. Marlette said, in her stately manner. "But,
Helen, I have for some time felt it my duty to have a sober little talk with you;
and be sure it is your welfare I have in mind when I ask you if you do not think
you are old enough to marry!"

"Old enough! Why, yes, of course,"
the girl said, slowly, turning a troubled look upon a vista of the lake shining
through the trees. "But—"

"I don't mean to urge you to this step
against your inclinations, my child; but I speak to you as a mother, my child; but your life is complete till she marries; and though you have had, and continue to have, opportunities that—"

"Yes, auntie, I know what you would
and opportunities, other girls long for,
and opportunities I may not have again.
I know, too, that there will soon be plenty of tongues to whisper 'old maid,' and
'how she fades,' when I pass by. But whom shall I marry to escape this dreadful fate?"

There was a careless misery in the girl's face and voice as she uttered these words. The world, the flesh, and the devil, had laid siege to her soul for many years, and she could not make an unconditional surrender without some bitterness of spirit.

Mrs. Marlette replied briskly to her
last question.

"You have the best match in Arline in your grasp this morning. Who is richer more talented than I? Already he holds a high position in Washington, and

"Well," interrupted Helen, jumping up
from her low seat with a little laugh;
"an awe enough to understand you. Inquiring friends may find me this morning.
She lightly kissed her aunt's still un-
wrinkled forehead, and left that lady to
her laboratory.

Within an hour Mrs. Marlette's reveries
were broken upon by the coming of
two young men up the serpentine gravel
walk.

The elder was very dark, with handsome regular features, and a polished instant manner, strongly in contrast
with the younger, straight-forward air of his companion. The latter, though quicker in his movements, was of much heavier
build, and his face, if not so handsome,
was redeemed by a face of singular beauty. His eyes were clear and honest. Altogether he might have proved a less
agreeable companion, but perhaps a better friend than the other.

"Aunt Celia," said the first gentleman,
easily advancing, "your prodigal nephew
Fred. Hahn" he changed beyond recognition."

"Fred, my dear, dear nephew," Mrs.
Marlette bubbled, bestowing such a
greeting of kisses upon the young man
that he had to blush through his
brown cheeks, and would have wished himself back in the Falkland Islands had
he not possessed a peculiarly grateful disposition. Then she told him that before
he saw either of his cousins, he must sit down and tell her all about himself and how he had done in the first place. Ernest meantime went in search of Celia and
Helen, and brought them out to see Fred.
She thought that they were in the library.

Whereupon Ernest departed with dispatch.

Helen Marlette sat alone in the bay-window of the library, in a large cool room
in which a little grass door—opening into
the conservatory—was the only entrance
save the hall. A magazine lay open on her lap, but her mind was far from its pages.
A crisis had loomed up in her life, and she was regarding it coolly with folded hands. So absorbed was she, that she did not know, stood beside her before she started, and looked at him mutely. She would have looked upon her fate as Meeting the look with his handsome
eyes, he said, gravely:

retired gladly to private life had not his
wife gazed him on to another campaign.
He died before his second term expired,
and Mrs. Marlette found herself deluged
by Salic institutions from taking further
part in the management of public affairs.
Wisely she turned her energies in the directions the infallible judgment of mankind had seen fit to leave open to them,
and acted well her part as mother, aunt,
and leader of society in her early home,
Arline.

"Good-morning, my dear," said this estimable lady, on her niece's approach;
"how fresh you look after your late
hours!"

"She didn't look fresh till I told her Ernest was coming," Saxie said, slyly.
Mrs. Marlette suddenly turned her attention to a restless little Spitz dog, that had till now tugged unnoticed at her
dress.

"Saxie, coax Roger around at the back yard, and tell George to keep him at the stable the rest of the day. I don't know what the matter is with him; he seems so
vicious this morning."

"Congratulations, my dear, said Helen,
"I am twenty-four to-day."

"Congratulations!" called Saxie, still with
in earshot; "I should think you would rather be consoled with. Why, I felt terrible my last birthday, and I was only
seventeen!" she cried, and until mamma promised me a diamond ring. Come Roger, don't be so frowny. You detestable
dog, let go of my dress!"

"I do congratulate you, my dear, and
you wear your years well," Mrs. Marlette
said, in her stately manner. "But,
Helen, I have for some time felt it my duty to have a sober little talk with you;
and be sure it is your welfare I have in mind when I ask you if you do not think
you are old enough to marry!"

"Old enough! Why, yes, of course,"
the girl said, slowly, turning a troubled
look upon a vista of the lake shining
through the trees. "But—"

"I don't mean to urge you to this step
against your inclinations, my child; but
I speak to you as a mother, my child; but your life is complete till she marries; and
though you have had, and continue to have, opportunities that—"

"Yes, auntie, I know what you would
and opportunities, other girls long for,
and opportunities I may not have again.
I know, too, that there will soon be plenty
of tongues to whisper 'old maid,' and
'how she fades,' when I pass by. But whom shall I marry to escape this dreadful fate?"

There was a careless misery in the girl's face and voice as she uttered these words. The world, the flesh, and the devil, had laid siege to her soul for many years, and she could not make an unconditional surrender without some bitterness of spirit.

Mrs. Marlette replied briskly to her
last question.

"You have the best match in Arline in your grasp this morning. Who is richer more talented than I? Already he holds a high position in Washington, and

"Well," interrupted Helen, jumping up
from her low seat with a little laugh;
"an awe enough to understand you. Inquiring friends may find me this morning.
She lightly kissed her aunt's still un-
wrinkled forehead, and left that lady to
her laboratory.

Within an hour Mrs. Marlette's reveries
were broken upon by the coming of
two young men up the serpentine gravel
walk.

The elder was very dark, with handsome regular features, and a polished instant manner, strongly in contrast
with the younger, straight-forward air of his companion. The latter, though quicker in his movements, was of much heavier
build, and his face, if not so handsome,
was redeemed by a face of singular beauty. His eyes were clear and honest. Altogether he might have proved a less
agreeable companion, but perhaps a better friend than the other.

"Aunt Celia," said the first gentleman,
easily advancing, "your prodigal nephew
Fred. Hahn" he changed beyond recognition."

"Fred, my dear, dear nephew," Mrs.
Marlette bubbled, bestowing such a
greeting of kisses upon the young man
that he had to blush through his
brown cheeks, and would have wished himself back in the Falkland Islands had
he not possessed a peculiarly grateful disposition. Then she told him that before
he saw either of his cousins, he must sit down and tell her all about himself and how he had done in the first place. Ernest meantime went in search of Celia and
Helen, and brought them out to see Fred.
She thought that they were in the library.

Whereupon Ernest departed with dispatch.

Helen Marlette sat alone in the bay-window of the library, in a large cool room
in which a little grass door—opening into
the conservatory—was the only entrance
save the hall. A magazine lay open on her
lap, but her mind was far from its pages.
A crisis had loomed up in her life, and
she was regarding it coolly with folded hands. So absorbed was she, that she did not know, stood beside her before she started, and looked at him mutely. She would have looked upon her fate as Meeting the look with his handsome
eyes, he said, gravely:

retired gladly to private life had not his
wife gazed him on to another campaign.
He died before his second term expired,
and Mrs. Marlette found herself deluged
by Salic institutions from taking further
part in the management of public affairs.
Wisely she turned her energies in the directions the infallible judgment of mankind had seen fit to leave open to them,
and acted well her part as mother, aunt,
and leader of society in her early home,
Arline.

"Good-morning, my dear," said this estimable lady, on her niece's approach;
"how fresh you look after your late
hours!"

"She didn't look fresh till I told her Ernest was coming," Saxie said, slyly.
Mrs. Marlette suddenly turned her attention to a restless little Spitz dog, that had till now tugged unnoticed at her
dress.

"Saxie, coax Roger around at the back yard, and tell George to keep him at the stable the rest of the day. I don't know what the matter is with him; he seems so
vicious this morning."

"Congratulations, my dear, said Helen,
"I am twenty-four to-day."

"Congratulations!" called Saxie, still with
in earshot; "I should think you would rather be consoled with. Why, I felt terrible my last birthday, and I was only
seventeen!" she cried, and until mamma promised me a diamond ring. Come Roger, don't be so frowny. You detestable
dog, let go of my dress!"

"I do congratulate you, my dear, and
you wear your years well," Mrs. Marlette
said, in her stately manner. "But,
Helen, I have for some time felt it my duty to have a sober little talk with you;
and be sure it is your welfare I have in mind when I ask you if you do not think
you are old enough to marry!"

"Old enough! Why, yes, of course,"
the girl said, slowly, turning a troubled
look upon a vista of the lake shining
through the trees. "But—"

"I don't mean to urge you to this step
against your inclinations, my child; but
I speak to you as a mother, my child; but your life is complete till she marries; and
though you have had, and continue to have, opportunities that—"

"Yes, auntie, I know what you would
and opportunities, other girls long for,
and opportunities I may not have again.
I know, too, that there will soon be plenty
of tongues to whisper 'old maid,' and
'how she fades,' when I pass by. But whom shall I marry to escape this dreadful fate?"

There was a careless misery in the girl's face and voice as she uttered these words. The world, the flesh, and the devil, had laid siege to her soul for many years, and she could not make an unconditional surrender without some bitterness of spirit.

Mrs. Marlette replied briskly to her
last question.

"You have the best match in Arline in your grasp this morning. Who is richer more talented than I? Already he holds a high position in Washington, and

"Well," interrupted Helen, jumping up
from her low seat with a little laugh;
"an awe enough to understand you. Inquiring friends may find me this morning.
She lightly kissed her aunt's still un-
wrinkled forehead, and left that lady to
her laboratory.

Within an hour Mrs. Marlette's reveries
were broken upon by the coming of
two young men up the serpentine gravel
walk.

The elder was very dark, with handsome regular features, and a polished instant manner, strongly in contrast
with the younger, straight-forward air of his companion. The latter, though quicker in his movements, was of much heavier
build, and his face, if not so handsome,
was redeemed by a face of singular beauty. His eyes were clear and honest. Altogether he might have proved a less
agreeable companion, but perhaps a better friend than the other.

"Aunt Celia," said the first gentleman,
easily advancing, "your prodigal nephew
Fred. Hahn" he changed beyond recognition."

"Fred, my dear, dear nephew," Mrs.
Marlette bubbled, bestowing such a
greeting of kisses upon the young man
that he had to blush through his
brown cheeks, and would have wished himself back in the Falkland Islands had
he not possessed a peculiarly grateful disposition. Then she told him that before
he saw either of his cousins, he must sit down and tell her all about himself and how he had done in the first place. Ernest meantime went in search of Celia and
Helen, and brought them out to see Fred.
She thought that they were in the library.

Whereupon Ernest departed with dispatch.

Helen Marlette sat alone in the bay-window of the library, in a large cool room
in which a little grass door—opening into
the conservatory—was the only entrance
save the hall. A magazine lay open on her
lap, but her mind was far from its pages.
A crisis had loomed up in her life, and
she was regarding it coolly with folded hands. So absorbed was she, that she did not know, stood beside her before she started, and looked at him mutely. She would have looked upon her fate as Meeting the look with his handsome
eyes, he said, gravely:

The Best Polish in the World.

RISING SUN STOVE POLISH

COSTIVENESS

This premium offering is generally looked upon as a rival brand. It gives greater satisfaction than any other polish, while absorption is quick, and it will repulse the heaviest soot which collects in the stove, and it is so easy to apply, that it may be used by any person.

DRUTTS PILLS

Permanently cures chronic constipation and all the ills that result therefrom. It is a powerful laxative, and it will repulse the heaviest soot which collects in the stove, and it is so easy to apply, that it may be used by any person.

THE GOOD OLD STAND-BY.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT.

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

ESTABLISHED 25 YEARS. Always cures. Always ready. Always handy. Has never yet failed. "Mustangs" have tested it. The whole world approves the efficacy of Mustang Liniment. The Best and Cheapest Liniment in existence. 25 cents a bottle. The Mustang Liniment cures what nothing else will.

GRACE'S SALVE!

Three Thousand Miles Away! In another hemisphere, across the Atlantic Ocean, in a remote corner of the world, there is a little town called Tarrant. It is a town of about 100 inhabitants, and it is one of the most interesting places in the world. It is a town of about 100 inhabitants, and it is one of the most interesting places in the world.

UNITED STATES LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

261, 262, 263 Broadway.

POND'S EXTRACT.

The People's Remedy.

THE IMPROVED ARMOUR Family Knitting Machine.

KNITS A COMPLETE STOCKING.

THE IMPROVED ARMOUR Family Knitting Machine.

KNITS A COMPLETE STOCKING.

THE IMPROVED ARMOUR Family Knitting Machine.

KNITS A COMPLETE STOCKING.

St. Paul Business Directory.

CLASSES OUT SALE.

ALPHON BERGMANN & CO.

TOYS, FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

TO BOOK AGENTS!

We have in press a book—our first offering—and have in preparation our second, containing 120 pages, FULL PAGE ENGRAVINGS.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $20

For the best of the best.

$5 to $

