The Minnesota Editorial Association holds its annual meeting at St. Paul, on Wednesday, January 7th, 1879.

Capt. Alford informs us that the steamer "Puck" will be ready to start on this winter. Her present length is 63 feet and will be increased to 70 feet.

The A. O. U. W. lost but five members by yellow fever during the past season. This result is due to the timely action of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee.

Sen. Pitts, Dec. 11.—John Clark, a convict in the State penitentiary, was shot and instantly killed by Sheriff Marshall Hall today, for refusing to obey an order to go to his cell.

Some of our exchanges are disposed to criticize the action of the post-office department in refusing to deliver valuable mail matter to letter carriers and other swindling concerns.

The cause of Gen. Rosser's resignation as Engineer of the Northern Pacific Railroad is understood to have been the impudence expressed by the Directors at the delay in getting the new line of the Missouri river for the extension of the work westward.

There is one man in this State who outshines Donnelly. It is the one man on the board met the other day to canvass the votes for State officers.

Capt. W. W. Hartley, postmaster at Brainerd, and editor of the Tribune, was successfully treated by Dr. J. B. Brown, at the Nicollet House, and relieved of a large tumor over his eye.

The Utes must go—but where to? They must or should go "where any land of natural resources is bonded together for the purposes of murder, plunder and other base felonies."

The burning to death of two children in New York, who had been left locked in a room, Friday, by their parents, again directs attention to the necessity which should be made a criminal offense.

About half past seven last Friday evening a tramp entered Leonard Brown's store in this city, and demanded of Manager Barbour, who was alone in the store, to carry him to Minnesota.

WHOLE NO. 408.

"boasting" which he said in good style. The Rev. R. A. Board, of Brainerd, delivered a pointed speech in the Congregational church in this manner that excited no enthusiasm among the Republicans in his audience.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Dec. 8th, 1879. The new Presidential campaign, and the fear of their own shadows, are troubling the democrats more than anything else.

How to get rid of Tillen seems to be the chief point in the Presidential question among them. The anti-Tilden men in connection with the Republican party in New York have tried several devices.

The A. O. U. W. lost but five members by yellow fever during the past season. This result is due to the timely action of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee.

When we were bid and got together, And sought about for leisure, And we reached the hatching hours, And were all in a fever.

BALLAD OF HUMAN LIFE.

When we were bid and got together, And sought about for leisure, And we reached the hatching hours, And were all in a fever.

From an item in the Tribune of last week taken from the Little Falls Transcript, some may wonder what should occasion such mention.
