For superior journalistic achievement and great and lofty thinking, the heavy man of the Fargo Argus bears the palm. He sits up on the Benarck line...

Mr. Hall is finding fault with Hon. Wm. Lochren, because Lochren, as an honest man believes that Washburn's opponent, Donnelly, is a scoundrel.

COMMUNISM. Two men told side by side, and struggle through the tedious hours, just for the privilege of living.

The first No. of the Golden North-west was published at St. Paul, Minn., under the supervision of the Northern Pacific Land Department, Mr. J. B. Power, land commissioner...

Masonic Connection. A lodge of Masons was consecrated at Washburn, Minn., Feb. 18, 1880. Edson Tilden, Jr., was the officiating minister.

like a thing of life, every part re- quired, in proportion to the duty required. The law of reciprocity ad- dresses the individual of the world.

with more musical talent distributed than in any other country. The- nigerians are willing and ready to contribute sufficient funds to purchase the instru- ments. This will be done just as soon as an organization is perfected that they can know just what to do.

Mr. Wm. H. Gibson, author of "A Winter Idyl," in Harper's monthly magazine for March, has shown himself eminently fit to be classed with our best writers in the field of the novel and fiction.

There was a meeting of the night. It was at 11 o'clock, Wednesday evening, the 18th inst. Deity was there: a crowd of people gathered, when the organ struck up, and the choir sang.
