

EVERY SATURDAY BY HARLEY BROS., Proprietors. W. W. HAWLEY, Editor. C. B. SHERMAN, Business Manager.

Terms of Subscription (Single Papers): TWO DOLLARS A YEAR IN ADVANCE. Six Months, $1.00. Three Months, 50c.

REPUBLICAN TICKETS: For President, JAMES A. GARFIELD, of Ohio.

For Vice-President, CHESTER A. ARTHEUR, of New York.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS: J. A. THACHER, of Ohio; L. G. NELSON, of Iowa; J. T. WILLES, M.S. of New York.

W. M. SCHMIDT, of New York; KNUTE NELSON, of Minnesota.

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT: For Congress, W. D. WASHBURN.

How Do We Stand? The question among Republicans at this time is how do we stand.

The Republicans have fought the line of battle, its work before it. Now what can be expected in the canvass opened, the party managers engaged to over-coming the chances of success, but impressed upon the Republicans the necessity for continued and hard labor if they are to elect their candidates.

They predicted that the States would not go to militia. They predicted that the militia would rise for the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South. They predicted that a "poverty strike" would be declared in the North.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a crushing debt on the country.

They predicted that the child was unborn but the struggle would be past into the sunshine of the present.

What is the Issue? "We will not have a crack South. This is the issue! The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization.

Wade Hampton says: "Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. What Jackson would have done before he would have sent a row of soldiers to remember those who have died on the soil, and the principles that they died for again on this day."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

BRAINED TRIBUNE

MINNESOTA SATURDAY, AUGUST 28, 1880.

WHOLE NO. 445.

the church-age is a powerful magnet in every hamlet, where the highest culture known to the world is entirely sought to be improved upon, where no "shot-gun policy" exists, where people are not all proscribed because they dare to think differently from some other, where freedom has reared its crested head, and all men now before it in humble admiration, acknowledging its policy and universal.

They profess I say, and will vote for Hancock, and justify themselves on the ground that they are to dictate the policy of his administration (if elected), and not the solid South.

They predicted that the States would not go to militia. They predicted that the militia would rise for the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South. They predicted that a "poverty strike" would be declared in the North.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a crushing debt on the country.

They predicted that the child was unborn but the struggle would be past into the sunshine of the present.

What is the Issue? "We will not have a crack South. This is the issue! The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization.

Wade Hampton says: "Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. What Jackson would have done before he would have sent a row of soldiers to remember those who have died on the soil, and the principles that they died for again on this day."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

For the Eastern Fairer, Greater Vegetation, Richer Soil, and more abundant Game. What the Northern Pacific Country Can Do.

James A. Power, Land Commissioner, concentrating the Resources of the Northern Pacific, Demolishing all former Preconceptions, and showing the way to a Grand Idea.

"Ere who Transmigrates." Standing in front of our sanctum in a new baggage car, belonging to the Northern Pacific, we were surrounded by yellow, gold and black. It is just out of the shops, new from track to door, and new in fact, capacious and inviting. This vehicle has its mission to fulfill. It has been furnished by the railroad company to "transport" for various Middle and Eastern states (going direct from Brainerd to Los Angeles, San Francisco, and various other production of the country through which the Northern Pacific railroad runs from Duluth to Puget Sound).

The wheat fields of Minnesota and Dakota are represented by sheaves of golden wheat, oats, barley and rye, Oregon, Washington and Montana contribute the wealth of their splendid soil, and the climate is so adapted to be excelled anywhere hereafter and that has never been in any age of the world.

But here we are on the platform looking into the car, and a beautiful picture is presented to our eyes. "Oats to right of them, Grain to left of them, Rich wheat lands plenty." This is a magnificent and beautiful picture, and it is a picture of the future of the Northwest.

They predicted that the States would not go to militia. They predicted that the militia would rise for the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South. They predicted that a "poverty strike" would be declared in the North.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a crushing debt on the country.

They predicted that the child was unborn but the struggle would be past into the sunshine of the present.

What is the Issue? "We will not have a crack South. This is the issue! The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization.

Wade Hampton says: "Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. What Jackson would have done before he would have sent a row of soldiers to remember those who have died on the soil, and the principles that they died for again on this day."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

For the Eastern Fairer, Greater Vegetation, Richer Soil, and more abundant Game. What the Northern Pacific Country Can Do.

James A. Power, Land Commissioner, concentrating the Resources of the Northern Pacific, Demolishing all former Preconceptions, and showing the way to a Grand Idea.

"Ere who Transmigrates." Standing in front of our sanctum in a new baggage car, belonging to the Northern Pacific, we were surrounded by yellow, gold and black. It is just out of the shops, new from track to door, and new in fact, capacious and inviting. This vehicle has its mission to fulfill. It has been furnished by the railroad company to "transport" for various Middle and Eastern states (going direct from Brainerd to Los Angeles, San Francisco, and various other production of the country through which the Northern Pacific railroad runs from Duluth to Puget Sound).

The wheat fields of Minnesota and Dakota are represented by sheaves of golden wheat, oats, barley and rye, Oregon, Washington and Montana contribute the wealth of their splendid soil, and the climate is so adapted to be excelled anywhere hereafter and that has never been in any age of the world.

But here we are on the platform looking into the car, and a beautiful picture is presented to our eyes. "Oats to right of them, Grain to left of them, Rich wheat lands plenty." This is a magnificent and beautiful picture, and it is a picture of the future of the Northwest.

They predicted that the States would not go to militia. They predicted that the militia would rise for the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South. They predicted that a "poverty strike" would be declared in the North.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a crushing debt on the country.

They predicted that the child was unborn but the struggle would be past into the sunshine of the present.

What is the Issue? "We will not have a crack South. This is the issue! The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization.

Wade Hampton says: "Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. What Jackson would have done before he would have sent a row of soldiers to remember those who have died on the soil, and the principles that they died for again on this day."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

For the Eastern Fairer, Greater Vegetation, Richer Soil, and more abundant Game. What the Northern Pacific Country Can Do.

James A. Power, Land Commissioner, concentrating the Resources of the Northern Pacific, Demolishing all former Preconceptions, and showing the way to a Grand Idea.

"Ere who Transmigrates." Standing in front of our sanctum in a new baggage car, belonging to the Northern Pacific, we were surrounded by yellow, gold and black. It is just out of the shops, new from track to door, and new in fact, capacious and inviting. This vehicle has its mission to fulfill. It has been furnished by the railroad company to "transport" for various Middle and Eastern states (going direct from Brainerd to Los Angeles, San Francisco, and various other production of the country through which the Northern Pacific railroad runs from Duluth to Puget Sound).

The wheat fields of Minnesota and Dakota are represented by sheaves of golden wheat, oats, barley and rye, Oregon, Washington and Montana contribute the wealth of their splendid soil, and the climate is so adapted to be excelled anywhere hereafter and that has never been in any age of the world.

But here we are on the platform looking into the car, and a beautiful picture is presented to our eyes. "Oats to right of them, Grain to left of them, Rich wheat lands plenty." This is a magnificent and beautiful picture, and it is a picture of the future of the Northwest.

They predicted that the States would not go to militia. They predicted that the militia would rise for the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South. They predicted that a "poverty strike" would be declared in the North.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a crushing debt on the country.

They predicted that the child was unborn but the struggle would be past into the sunshine of the present.

What is the Issue? "We will not have a crack South. This is the issue! The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization.

Wade Hampton says: "Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. What Jackson would have done before he would have sent a row of soldiers to remember those who have died on the soil, and the principles that they died for again on this day."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

For the Eastern Fairer, Greater Vegetation, Richer Soil, and more abundant Game. What the Northern Pacific Country Can Do.

James A. Power, Land Commissioner, concentrating the Resources of the Northern Pacific, Demolishing all former Preconceptions, and showing the way to a Grand Idea.

"Ere who Transmigrates." Standing in front of our sanctum in a new baggage car, belonging to the Northern Pacific, we were surrounded by yellow, gold and black. It is just out of the shops, new from track to door, and new in fact, capacious and inviting. This vehicle has its mission to fulfill. It has been furnished by the railroad company to "transport" for various Middle and Eastern states (going direct from Brainerd to Los Angeles, San Francisco, and various other production of the country through which the Northern Pacific railroad runs from Duluth to Puget Sound).

The wheat fields of Minnesota and Dakota are represented by sheaves of golden wheat, oats, barley and rye, Oregon, Washington and Montana contribute the wealth of their splendid soil, and the climate is so adapted to be excelled anywhere hereafter and that has never been in any age of the world.

But here we are on the platform looking into the car, and a beautiful picture is presented to our eyes. "Oats to right of them, Grain to left of them, Rich wheat lands plenty." This is a magnificent and beautiful picture, and it is a picture of the future of the Northwest.

They predicted that the States would not go to militia. They predicted that the militia would rise for the Potomac and invade Virginia.

They predicted that England and France would form an alliance with the South. They predicted that a "poverty strike" would be declared in the North.

They predicted that the war would terminate in a vast standing army and a crushing debt on the country.

They predicted that the child was unborn but the struggle would be past into the sunshine of the present.

What is the Issue? "We will not have a crack South. This is the issue! The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization.

Wade Hampton says: "Consider what Lee and Jackson would do if they were alive. What Jackson would have done before he would have sent a row of soldiers to remember those who have died on the soil, and the principles that they died for again on this day."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

"The South is a divided North, it is simply a question of direction in civilization. The South being determined to maintain its integrity, its principles intact, caring nothing for property, progress or liberty, in its true sense and spirit, and its determination to rule in its way, and upon its assumption of right, or to ruin the Republic, whole and possible."

"The banner of the Confederacy, bent down forever in gloomy disaster, but it was consecrated by the blood of heroes and patriots as pure as any that ever fought for liberty."

"Healing the wounds caused by the dreadful strife which made the South a ruin, but which at the same time has left a legacy of memories."

Notice of Advertising: A notice of advertising is given on application at this office by mail. For full rates and conditions, see the following: Terms of Subscription: Single Papers: Two Dollars a Year in Advance. Six Months, $1.00. Three Months, 50c.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

CONGREGATIONAL: Meeting at 11 a. m. Union Sunday School, 7:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Meeting at 8 p. m. every Thursday. Prayers and other religious services are held on a regular basis.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH: Regular preaching services on the First and Third Sabbath of each month at 11 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all citizens and strangers to be present at these services.

CATHOLIC CHURCH: Holy Service every Sunday at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. High Mass at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Prayers at 7:30 p. m. All are invited to attend.

W. M. FERRIS, DEALER IN JEWELRY, WATCHES, CLOCKS, Silverware, Spectacles, ETC.

Fine Watch Repairing. COR. FRONT & FIFTH STREETS. BRAINED, MINN.

I. U. WHITE, Proprietor. Clerk of Court. Office-Front Street, Opposite R. R. Office.

DRUG STORE. Front Street, bet. Fifth and Sixth. N. McFADDEN, Proprietor. MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, PERFUMERY, FANCY GOODS, ETC.

A. E. YEON, Cabinet & Wagon Maker. JOBING AND REPAIRING DONE ON SHORT NOTICE. ALL WORK WARRANTED.

NEW LE BON TON. Sample & Billiard Hall. LAUREL STREET, BRAINED, MINN. Terms of the Hall: $1.00 per week. $2.00 per month. $5.00 per quarter. $10.00 per half year. $20.00 per year.

State Normal School. ST. CLOUD, MINN. The Fall Term will open Aug. 18, 1880. Tuition free to all who propose teaching.

THE NORMAL HOME for ladies. Graduate from Normal School and wish to be employed as teachers. Board in private families. $3.00 per week. For accommodations apply to the Normal Home, 100 North First Street, Brainerd, Minn.

Standard Books. AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE. JOHN S. HAZEL, Manager. Terms: Retailers, New York, N. Y. Agents, Traders, Brainerd, Minn.

BASON BROS. Hardware, STOVES AND TIN WARE, NAILS, GRASS, TOOLS OF ALL KINDS, AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS, Builders' Material, TABLE AND POCKET CUTLERY, GUNS AND AMMUNITION, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, BRUSHES, ETC.

DR. J. C. ROSSER, Physician & Surgeon. OFFICE—Over the Jewelry Store, on Front and Fifth Streets. OFFICE HOURS—2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p. m.

R. K. WHITELEY, Surveyor, BRAINED, MINN. Plans and Estimates. Local and Strayed. Piece Lands Examined in the Counties of Crow, Wing, Union and Lincoln, and in all other lands in the State.

Mrs. C. GRANDEMOR, MILLINERY Dress Making. BRAINED, MINN. Sash, Doors, Blinds, Bave Gitters, Hoses and Fixture Making. Lowest Price for Cash. Give me a Call. Brained, Minn., 1880.

J. B. JAIN, Boot and Shoe Maker. FIFTH STREET, bet. Front and Laurel, Brained, Minn. Repairing neatly and promptly done, and Custom Work solicited at reasonable rates.

WIGGO MADSON, Boot and Shoe Maker. LAUREL STREET, Brained, Minn. Repairing neatly and promptly done, and Custom Work solicited at reasonable rates.

Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge. An Encyclopaedia in 20 vols., over 16,000 pages, 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopaedia ever published in this country, and sold handsomely at the price of $10, in half volumes for $15, and printed in the heavy paper, wide margins, bound in gold, all present for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution.

Leading principles of the American Book Exchange: 1. Publish only books of real value. 2. Work upon the basis of present retailing books, one-half what is a new price. 3. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

5. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 100 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity. 6. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

7. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers. 8. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

9. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers. 10. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

11. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers. 12. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

13. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers. 14. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

15. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers. 16. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

17. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers. 18. Do not buyers direct, and save them 50 to 60 per cent commission ordinarily applied to buyers.

