For President, JAMES A. GARFIELD, Of Ohio. For Vice-President, CHESTER A. ARTHTUR, Of New York. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS. J. O. THACHER, Of Boston. L. G. NELSON, Of Dodge. J. WILLIAMS, Of the North. WM. SCHIMMEL, Of Noddy. KNUTE NELSON, Of Noddy.

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT. For Congress, W. D. WASHINGTON.

CROW WING COUNTY AHEAD.

The best samples of vegetables and grain contributed to the collection of the "Products of the Golden Northwest," on exhibition in the great Northern Pacific agricultural car, now making a tour of the east, were raised on Crow Wing county farms. JAMES B. D. TRICE, Land Commissioner, N. P. R. R.

Announcement.

The BRainerd Tribune, an excellent business instrument, is this week offered for sale to the right kind of a purchaser, at a bargain. Brainerd constitutes one of the best newspaper investments and the Tribune the best investment for a newspaper man, in the "Golden Northwest." Its business engagements shall be able, from now of time, to give the town a paper as its own, to give the town details, and I prefer putting it into the hands of one who can devote the time required to do the business, to holding on to it. None at the right kind of a man for the place, and a cash customer, need apply. For further information, address, W. W. HARTLEY, Brainerd, Minn.

The land office is now ready for business at Mitchell, D. T.

The Tribune says a bridge instead of a tunnel has been decided upon at Brainerd crossing the Missouri River.

The Glencoe Enterprise changed hands this week. Messrs. Ansell & Bates becoming the new proprietors.

The Pacific Mills, at Minneapolis, owned by Camp & Walker, were totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday night. Incendiarism is suspected.

Indiana and Ohio elect State officers on Tuesday next, the 12th inst., and on three weeks from that day, (November 24) will hold the Presidential election throughout the Union.

At the State election in Delaware on Wednesday the Republican ticket was only defeated by a majority of 680. The prospects of adding Delaware to the Republican list are flattering.

An omission is remembered in the Democratic platform. It consists of a remark made by W. W. Hartley in his effect—D—n the Irish, the country would be better off without them, and our fellow citizens relish this sort of talk from the Democratic candidate for President—the poor man's Grand-Old-Man (Monticello Times).

The Deadwood postoffice is a first-class money order office, and money can be sent or obtained on the following countries: Canada, England, Ireland, France, Algeria, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy.

In Indiana in 1876 at the October election the Democratic majority was 5,094 and Tilden's majority over Hayes in November was 10,000. In 1880 the Democratic majority was 14,113. If it is less next Tuesday the Republicans will have gained in that State.

An alarm of fire at Gull River Mill on Sunday afternoon was caused by a spark from a passing locomotive which ignited a pile of shavings. The mill was covered and extinguished, fortunately, before any damage was done beyond the blackening of the ends of a few boards.

If Hancock and English should be elected and Hancock should die during his presidential term, that man would be President who takes poor people out of doors when they are here and cannot pay their rent on the very day it is due, the most infamous of all grasping, heartless, infernal scoundrels who say "D—n the Irish, the country would be better off without them."

Indiana holds her election on Tuesday, the 12th inst. A strongly Democratic State in the past it is hardly to be expected that the Republicans can win the election but such ambitious gains as will start a grand Republican wave that will sweep the country—Indiana included—into November are hoped for and are tentatively expected of a Republican leader.

BRainerd, Minnesota, Saturday, October 9, 1880.

Renewed interest in the Mississippi and the Railroad Shop—Republican Meeting. Special correspondence of the Brainerd Democrat. BRainerd, October 6, 1880. The movement towards securing a bill which Brainerd shows their realization of the advantages to be derived from the passage of this bill, is being carried out with vigor and energy. The bill is being introduced in the House of Representatives, and it is expected that it will pass in the near future.

The theories of W. H. English and the free trade doctrine of the Democrats are being discussed in the local papers. English says, "D—n the Irish, the country would be better off without them." The Democrats reply that the Irish are the backbone of the country, and without them the country would be a desolation. The free trade doctrine is also being discussed, and it is expected that it will pass in the near future.

CURRENT TOPICS.

WISCONSIN territory has been growing in population at a great rate since 1870. When the last census was taken it only had a little more than 200,000 inhabitants, while now it has nearly 2,000,000.

The entire length of the costly railway line of which the St. Paul and Northern Pacific is the owner is 1,311 miles. The main trunk line is about nine and one-third miles long, but there are twelve other long trunk lines which aggregate nearly ten miles in length; five tunnels between 200 and 550 yards long, and twenty-five between 110 and 220 yards long.

A telegram from Milwaukee of September 11th says that a man named John Smith at the point of death. He has been confined to his bed for a fortnight and is peacefully and painlessly awaiting death.

On the night of October 3, 1890, at 10:30 o'clock, a man named John Smith was shot by a man named John Smith. The man named John Smith was shot in the chest and the bullet passed through his lungs and lodged in his back.

The interesting old Finnish city of Helsingfors, which has a population of some 400,000 souls, has since the sanguinary persecutions of Philip II, been gradually declining in wealth and population. At present it does not possess one-fourth the population it had three centuries ago.

THE NIGHT BREEZE

By CHAS. L. WALKER.
Where, that and rhythmic floating indicatively
Sweet moments of the light breeze of evening...

THE FOLDED LEAF

The light from two large lamps shed
soft, mellow radiance over the room,
and the crescent moon cast its faint...

excitedly; "she is the only woman I know who has not been to the
of such love, as mine? You, who care...

"I have not been very long since that I am about to do," he said, "and I am sure you will be glad to hear of it..."

"I have not been very long since that
I am about to do," he said, "and I
am sure you will be glad to hear of it..."

"I have not been very long since that
I am about to do," he said, "and I
am sure you will be glad to hear of it..."

her love, had an aspiring to make my self more worthy of her
"Of course, what I have told you has been in confidence, and I have not...
