CROW WING COUNTY AHEAD.

The best samples of vegetables and grain contributed to the collection of the "Products of the Golden Northwest" exhibition in the north-western Pacific agricultural car, now making a tour of the east, were raised on Crow Wing county farms. JAMES B. POWELL, Land Commissioner, N. P. R. R.

BRANNER.

Where and What it is, its elements and Prospects.

There seems to be a disposition upon the part of many to ignore Brainerd and misrepresent its resources. Numerous elements of property and prospects of future importance as a manufacturing and business center...

A brief glance, therefore, at our City of pines—where and what it is, and what it is sure to become will demonstrate the basis of our claims and convince the unprejudiced mind that we are right.

Brainerd is located on the east side of the Mississippi river, at the mouth of the Northern Pacific railway, 136 miles north of St. Paul, 115 miles west of Duluth and 138 miles from Minneapolis and will one day be the hub of all that vast country.

The first building was erected nine years ago and today Brainerd has a population of fully 10,000 people over a large area, extending a mile back from the river among the trees. To the casual observer the town does not show to advantage.

The N. P. R. Co. has here their general central shops, the largest in the State, employing in their building during the winter which number will be increased in the spring to 250 or 300.

The repair shops will also be enlarged and it is proposed when the additions are completed, that with a population of 1,000 men to keep the rolling stock in good condition to do the business of the road, and this number will be actually increased as the road is extended west until when completed to the Puget Sound, 2,500 men will be required by the company at this point.

The future of Brainerd as a great lumber manufacturing center is well assured. The facilities for manufacturing lumber at this place are not exceeded at any point on the Mississippi river, and the timber is estimated to be three-fourths of the lumber cut at Minneapolis is floated from the timber areas north of town and is floated in the front door through which we can receive all the timber and lumber supplies should and ultimately will be floated from the great Northwest; that nearly all of its present supplies are now floated in the new saw mill, and that nearly all of its present supplies are now floated in the new saw mill, and that nearly all of its present supplies are now floated in the new saw mill.

When Minneapolis with her hundred thousand inhabitants and greatly extended industries, and an extensive logging lumber, shall occupy the ground area, first in manufactures of all the great Western States. When the lumber has been taken down her rugged front, and taken her place among the proudest commercial towns of the world, with a population of 20,000, and Fargo the "smiling valley" of the north, in the same manner, and associations, and boasting of her millions in wheat options, and a coarsely populated population of 100,000 people. Brainerd will be dotted all over with industrial structures, sawing and planing lumber, making shingles, and building castles and mansions, building cars and repairing the rolling stock of this great transcontinental thoroughfare, and taking the front rank of prosperous towns, with a population of 50,000.

Brainerd is the center for the best oak timber in the world. All the material for box building and repairing wood, ties and lumber can be any other point on the Northern Pacific. Here centers three divisions of the N. P. R., and here must develop those industries that are the necessary outgrowth of the business of operating this great national highway.

Another element rapidly developing in this city is the fact of its location in the best farming lands in Crow Wing county. These lands are being cut on its bottom lands and valleys, and the uplands, for the most part are now being adapted for raising fine grasses. The sub-soil is a heavy clay, with a black mold, and will produce the best registered wheat in any part of the State, or in the world. Wheat, oats and corn are of splendid quality.

for their determination to accept the will of the majority, and to do so without further settlement into the north and southern settlement of lumber and industrial development. We see in this spirit a true nucleus of a true rehabilitation of the whole south; of the gradual decline, rather, of the more antagonistic to a governmental system, which in the estimation of many of our leading citizens, discredits against her chief interests, and manifests itself in sectional animosity, inspiring bitter hatreds of the north and northern institutions.

We predict for the southern people a bright future in the Union. A future, when the varied products of the south will be manufactured at home; when machinery and a well and orderly governmental labor system will be widely diffused; when wealth and a general prosperity will inaugurate common schools, and education become as universal as any where in the north; when the south in fact, shall have a common interest with the whole country—by its people adopting the methods of progress, and commercial, agricultural and manufacturing energies of the north—and the north, who the south fully appreciate that in advancing its material interests, its people will be less than that of the north.

The party we speak of it does not desire to put its hands on the property of others. There if we do not strike in on family matters you will see that we have adopted a new style of letter writing, will, here goes:

My dear Sir, Major Whitehead has become a permanent resident with us, as a first result on the Whitehead, while his lumbering operations are looked after by his partner and besides the Major has the finest two-year-old stallion in the country—at least it was so awarded by the judges at the county fair, and that was very true as pure merit could win there unless it was held by a degraded party.

Sam Lawrence, was in Crook last week proposing some place claims of which he intends to put water during the coming spring.

Will Leese, "lumbering near Pennington and has a contract to get out $50,000 worth of lumber for the House-stake company."

Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopaedia in 20 vols., over 16,000 pages; 10 cent more matter than any Encyclopaedia ever published and sold in this country, and is handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, well margined, bound in half Russia, gilt top, for $20—no enterprise in the history of publishing that has produced so much book publishing, as the fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution.

The LIBRARY OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE is a reprint edition of the last (1875) Edinburgh edition of "Chambers's Encyclopaedia," with about 40 per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of reference, and altogether the most Encyclopaedia in the field.

Standard Books. American Patriotism, 60 cents. The History of England, 70 cents. Chambers's Encyclopaedia, 10 vols., $15.00. The Library of Universal Knowledge, 20 vols., $20.00. The History of the World, 10 vols., $10.00. The History of the United States, 10 vols., $10.00. The History of the Republics, 10 vols., $10.00.

It is said that the students of Cornell University have almost entirely abandoned the practice of smoking.

The Empress Eugenie will spend the Christmas holidays in the Isle of Wight, and take possession of her new home, Parkborough Hill, on the first of January.

Count von Moltke, chief of staff of the German Empire, refused the title of prince offered to him by the Emperor of Austria on the occasion of the eightieth anniversary of the Emperor's birth, which occurred recently.

Mrs. Moxey and Conway, the American, who has won a prize, was prominent in the English war, and ultimately became an equally pronounced, but opposing abolitionist.

Mrs. Brao, the portrait painter, has just finished a portrait of the late President Grant, which was ordered from the Government, and is to be hung in the Treasury Department at Washington.

Pakistan is again threatened in some of the provinces of British India, where the rainfall during the last season was only one inch less than the average. The situation causes grave uneasiness in government circles at Calcutta and London.

The population of Delaware is 145,054. The males slightly exceed the females in number. There are 74,183 of the former, and 70,871 of the latter.

The number of candidates examined in the United States for the position of consular agent in London, England, was unusually large. Trinity College, London, heads the list, with 5,069; the University of Cambridge, 2,800; the University of Oxford, 1,891; and the combined total being 7,761 candidates.

FRANK ANDREW D. WHITE, of Cornell University, the United States consul in Germany, is writing a "Life of Thomas Jefferson," to form one of a series of "Lives of the Founders of the American Republic," to be published during the coming winter. Professor Goldwin Smith is to write a "Life of George Washington," for the same series.

WIKEN HANSEN Christian Adersen, one of those charged with the murder of Dr. Sweden, had been arrested by the Danish authorities, and was presented to her on the deck of a steamer, she had never before seen him. He produced one of his books, however, as she recalled; and after an hour or so she affirmed that he was none other than her husband, and thus began a lively friendship.

D. W. A. PLASS, the distinguished Oriental scholar and president of the Imperial Yung Wen College, at Peking, who has recently returned from his tour for Europe, holds a commission from the Chinese Government to visit both America and Europe, and to report on their respective educational systems. He will be absent from China about two years.

The completion of the Southern Pacific is looked for by the farmers of California to open a new era of prosperity. It is even prophesied that this route via the Southern Pacific, New Orleans, and the Gulf coast, will be the crop of that State, almost immediately after its opening, and that what alone will give the ranch fifty thousand tons of freight a month.

THE NEW French cabinet refused to enforce the religious decrees according to their letter and spirit. It seems disposed to enter into a compromise with the religious orders. The Gambettist organs are urging the Ministry to an enforcement of the decrees, and threaten to make their enforcement an issue at the coming elections unless their advice is acted on. The feeling against the enforcement is quite strong, as heretofore upon the fact that the police committee at Rennes have resigned rather than enforce them.

THE recently destructive potato blight (Phytophthora) has been reported in the reception of which every European government has engaged to battle, has not yet succeeded in getting a strong foothold there, though the reports of a few skirmish parties having been seen, here and there, sometimes come to hand, however of doubtful authenticity. But it has by no means "given up the ship" for naturalists well acquainted with them have found them in some numbers the past season on remote coasting islands, and they will doubtless soon step on to the inhabitable shores of the Old World.

ILLINOIS leads all the other States in respect to the revenue it contributes to the support of the Government. The amount contributed for the last fiscal year was $28,000,000. Ohio next sent and contributed $16,000,000. New York paid $14,000,000. Kentucky, $8,500,000, and Virginia, $5,700,000. The entire amount paid by all the States for the year, including Maryland and Missouri, was $28,000,000. The Northern, Western, and Pacific states paid $95,700,000. The greater portion of the agricultural receipts is realized from the tax on whisky.

WOMEN FOR THE EAST.

Although the East is never extravagantly dressed, she is said to be more perfectly dressed than any other lady in England, by her English or foreign.

As a rule, women are active and not afraid of labor. They are not content to exceed the limit of their ability.

Men can seldom be induced to help over best; but the over-acted woman is to be found everywhere. She makes her husband exclaim to himself as he slips on the doorstep.

The women who are so everywhere, from a nurse to a cook, in all the practical work.

Physiologists of the East write at length of the work that is done by women.

Now when you learn that every day we had five different kinds of pie, besides a pudding of some kind.
