GOSSIP FOR THE LADIES.

The Tongue of the Maid of Athens.
Maid of Athens, we must part.
You will be a lovely girl, and I am sure...

By the way, I have a few more lines for you.
I hope you will like them.
I am sure you will.

Woman's Rights.
Talk about woman's rights. Why, woman is the most important creature on the face of the globe...

Austrian Women.
Women in Austria are a different class of bricklayers, laborers, and may be seen carrying loads of mortar and bags of bricks...

Dangers of Childhood.
Childhood is the period during which the foundations of the physical structure are laid. It is, at the age of about ten years, that the physical structure is completed...

Good Wives.
A correspondent writes to the Buffalo Express: In the 'Gleaner' and 'New Column' of the Express of Saturday last there are some lines under the heading 'Good Wives'...

First Love.
Here is the danger which lies in first love, according to Deane: Always it is woven to an ideal. One, in 1,000 times, perhaps, the ideal is real. One found so much to resemble the imaginary being that the reality is not really without shock or change...

Good Reading.
The best preparation of the boy for a virtuous life is to interest him in good reading. I remember that in my childhood, when one of my boys was a little boy, I used to read to him...

A Sagacious Bear.
The Captain of a Greenland whaler, being anxious to procure a bear without damaging the skin, made trial of the method of laying down a log of snow on the snow and placing a piece of meat within it. A bear was soon enticed to the spot by the smell of the meat. He saw the log, approached and seized it with his mouth, but in his eagerness to get it, he was jerked by the rope, got entangled in the netting, and was killed.

Why the New Year's Dance.
There is a weeping and a wailing, it is not a graining of teeth, in society circles, says a Washington correspondent of the Hartford Times, over the absence of dancing men. The reason is, as well as many of the present moon do, find more pleasure in conversation with an intelligent lady than in dancing about with her in a dance or cotillon. The german is a well conducted and a chaste, though often being contributed to it also. The trouble with the german was this: Whatever the lady led, all those in the dance were required to follow. Thus it mattered not a non-existent thing the leader did, all were forced to do likewise. Should a handsome man or woman be introduced, and the less trains they have the better dancers they are as a rule—the suffering is intense to some extent, and to some, it is no wonder then, though not as dangerous, that they are so glad to get to ground. When many society men find that the lady is not dancing, they are to a dancing party, they just politely decline, and a recessed in the party.

Curious Client.
A Brooklyn newspaper man received a note from a law firm, one of the Smiths, notifying him that a distinguished lawyer had been arrested and taken to their hands for collection, and in deterring him that he could have himself taken from the jail. The subject, but discolored by age, was dropped in on Smith, O'Connell and Smith, who had been taken to their hands for collection. What we should smile at.
'What we should smile at is to be either him, observed the client. "One of 'em, him, whether I love him or not?"
