The Northwestern Cattle company has a range of 100,000 acres on High river, forty miles north of Macleod, and a capital stock of $150,000.

Mrs. Langtry's evening parties are attended by the prime of Watons. The "society Lily" is a great attraction. Oscar Wiley is also a worshiper of this prairie-life.

A public meeting in Reading, Pa., passed resolutions requesting President Arthur to pardon Sergeant Mason, and then contributed $2,500 for the family of the unfortunate man. A petition for pardon 2,400-foot long and containing 12,000 names has been sent from Chicago. It might be too early to say that he will receive full pardon, but his star seems to be in the ascendant.

The St. Louis Chronicle is publishing diagrams of the heads of the murderers seen to have the best shape of the head has nothing to do with the character of the owner of it. When the prisoner in the Guitau case was having so much stress on the ill-shaped head of the assassin the prosecution could have knocked the argument into a cockle shell by exhibiting the heads of distinguished statesmen. Some of the statesmen have heads that give them away readily.

A bill has been introduced in congress that a man who sees profane language in any postoffice shall be fined from five dollars to one hundred dollars. This seems pretty hard, as the well on the employees of the government as on the customers of the office. Every time a postmaster hears that the demagogue have put up a job to carry a ward of the city, and he swears about it, he will have to go out in the alley to swear or pay a fine. If the bill could be so amended as to have the fine imposed on the postmaster to go to the demagogue campaign fund, the demagogues could carry Milwaukee just like a profligate.

Rev. Edward Savage, a minister at Waukegan, has declined positively a nomination which his flock were preparing for him. He assures them that he will appreciate the good will thus evinced, but must firmly and decidedly decline. We do not know any of the circumstances, but if the reverend gentleman gets a good salary, and is abundantly able to stand a donation, he ought not to be left off. Other ministers have come up to the rack like little men, and been cast out of house and home without striking a blow; and we do not suppose the Rev. Mr. Savage is any better than they. But, of course, if he is poor he is entitled to some consideration.

THE MISREPRESENTED.

A terrible state of things is revealed by the reports of disaster, destruction and death caused by the overflow of the Mississippi. Levees which are the only barrier against the brimming river, month, have been unrelentingly torn away and the desolative waters have submerged the country in some places to a width of 20, to 50, and in one place, over 200 miles. Thousands of cattle have been drowned, or starved to death; houses and barns have been swept away and the inhabitants of the bottom lands have been forced to flee for their lives, and many have been lost. In reply to a query of Secretary Lincoln, it has been ascertained that in Arkansas over 20,000 persons are destitute, in Mississippi 18,000, in Tennessee 10,000, and the number are continually increasing. The latest reports have it that fully 50,000 people are suffering from the floods. Some deaths from starvation are already reported. Representative King, of Louisiana, states that the counties in his State, under water are the richest cotton producing districts in the world, and if they are not rescued the cotton crop will be cut short 500,000 bales this season.

But few of the homes rendered desolate by the floods are at all cozy in their appointments, but the numerous farmers who live along the river and who have lost their mules, pigs, horses and cattle and whose cotton is ten feet under water, have reason to be discouraged, and their appeals for aid should be heartily answered.

With the basis of his credit swept away and with this poor outlook for raising a crop this season, the poor farmer has no sufficient guarantee to give the merchant who advances him his supplies, and he cannot pay a cent of his debt. It is doubtful if $40,000,000 will cover the loss in the inundated region.

It is thought to be done immediately for Congress to meet the demands for assistance by sufficient appropriations. Fully half a million dollars are needed for immediate relief, and several millions must be contributed from public or private sources before the sufferers can again get a sound footing and be in the condition to care for themselves. Up to the present time Congress has appropriated but $350,000, a mere drop in the bucket when we consider the vast area amounting to over 6,000 square miles that has been overflowed.

Inasmuch as this terrible misfortune is traceable to no fault of those who suffer from it, it becomes a national duty to respond generously to the demands for aid, and still higher one to see to it that no such terrible disaster shall again occur.

An important feature has been developed in the big suit brought by Mrs. Eupha Cady, her nephew, V. M. Cady, ("Buffalo Bill"), and others for the recovery of fifty-five acres of land in the heart of Cleveland. The value of the property involved is estimated at nearly $1,000,000. Linda Cady, one of the heirs, now comes forward as a forged deed perpetrated by Joe Cady, son of Philip Cady, which forged deed disposed of part of the property at present involved in the suit. He was present when Joe Cady died, and is willing to testify to a deathbed confession which will go to show that Joe Cady was guilty of the forgery, and cruelly wronged the legitimate heirs of the property. Philip Cady died in 1830, and was unquestionably issue. "Buffalo Bill" has placed $5,000 in a bank to testify to meet preliminary lawyer's fees. He will return to the city in April to assist in prosecuting the suit.

J. M. Davis, a deputy marshal in Tennessee, who has chased the breezy and bounding moonshiner to his lair in the mountains many a time and oft, was waylaid by twenty of the bold bug juice buccanniers, the other day and shot all to pieces. The brave sons of guns had prepared an ambush by the roadside, behind some logs and brush, and the brave officer was riddled with shot guns and pistols. As there was only twenty of them, and one of Davis, they were afraid to tackle him in an open fight.

While at Kansas City recently Ex-Sheriff Frank Moulton, of Pennington, D. T., was mistaken for the "Mutual Friend" in the Beecher-Tilden scandal. Rough on the Sherrif.
