

Brainerd Dispatch

Issued every Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Price 10 cents per copy. Yearly $3.00 in advance.

Published for the Proprietor by W. W. Washburn, Editor and Proprietor.

Special Papers of Crow Wing County, Brainerd, Minn. and the City of Brainerd.

Entered as Second-Class Matter, March 10, 1891, at Brainerd, Minn., under No. 100,000.

Ohio is true to the back bone.

A. DeLacy Wood names for the auditorship of Carlton county.

C. B. Sleeper announces himself as a candidate for county attorney.

Is there anyone who desires to "throw out the third ward" this fall?

The Democrats now concede the election of James G. Blaine. Ohio settled their bill.

Frank Hatton was appointed Postmaster General on Tuesday by President Arthur.

The present county officials have held office for years. There should be a change—and there will be.

Discuss abroad has compelled the shutting out of foreign rags and consequently the price of the paper is steadily creeping up.

Has the Tribune been hired to keep us in regard to county politics this fall for fear of defeating the candidates they would otherwise support?

The people want a change in the office of Auditor and Treasurer and they are bound to have it.

It is all that any man could consistently expect.

A New York street car manufacturing company has been formed.

The company makes about 600 cars annually. They range from $600 to $1,500, and will average $1,000.

An important judgment was given in court at Winipeg yesterday.

It holds that the attorney law contains there, and a provision that has power to deprive alimony.

A citizen of Troy is said to have recently captured the most valuable stable with paper that cost him $600.

Part of the capturing consisted of bonds of a defunct heating company, and the remainder was bonds of other "busted" bubbles.

The Dispatch commencing last week, printing from 900 to 800 extra copies of the paper until after election.

These papers will be sent into every household and into the hands of every reader in Crow Wing county, thus giving our advertisers a boom.

The bandry of Montreal on making the chair of a barber, laid a roll of $100 in bills on the marble slab in front of him.

Three young men followed him, and when he picked up his package it consisted only of waste paper.

The St. Paul Dispatch publishes some fresh news when it says that "The Fire King" has been captured just started at "Quigley," and that "The Detroit" bank "tournament" losses were by its capture.

The first item is over three months old and the last over a month.

A prize fight, with hard gloves, for a purse of $500, took place on a steamboat on the Monongahela river near Pittsburgh, last night.

Between Danney Harmon and James Conner, both of that city. Thirty-six rounds were fought, resulting in the defeat of Conner. Both men were badly punished.

The present auditor got wind of a meeting in Brainerd on Saturday night and forthwith adjourned to the third ward (which by the way is the ward that he did not kick out two years ago) and to all appearances was much surprised to find a crowd assembled.

He returned much more disgusted with himself than when he went over.

Joseph Wilson abandoned his mule and fought for his country at the age of seventeen years. He is an honored member of the Grand Army of the Republic.

He never asked for the hands of the people of Crow Wing county before. Give him your hearty support at the coming election.

Tom McAlpine wishes to meet any man in Minnesota in a boxing contest, either six rounds or to a finish as may be agreed on.

From $50 to $600 and gain receipts from the state in ten days, and two weeks after signing the articles. McAlpine would be especially pleased to meet Messrs. Donaldson, Duplessis, Patsy McAlpine, or any other middle weight in the state.

C. B. Sleeper, the people's candidate for county attorney, who has been placed on the ticket with J. N. Wilson for auditor and J. N. Myers for treasurer, is well known to all of Brainerd's citizens.

He is a new comer, but has grown up with the city and has stood by us in her ups and downs. His ability as a lawyer is not questioned in the whole northwest, and as county attorney he cannot fail to give satisfaction.

A Large Donation. By the will of a benevolent lady of Cincinnati who has recently died, Bishop Whipple will come into possession of three hundred thousand dollars.

Of this amount $100,000 should be used to erect on the Shattuck grounds at Brainerd a building to be called Shattuck hall, and $100,000 to endow this hall with French and English scholars in aid of needy students.

A public meeting on the Academy Building grounds, known as Johnson hall, the remainder to be held as an academy and buildings so long desired and greatly increasing the facilities of the schools.
