The dryness still lingers in the vicinity of Sixth and Front streets. The rainfall of Monday was general throughout Minnesota and Dakota. The little village of Motley contained 810 in the Johnsons suffered from the wet weather.

The Northern Pacific will begin running solid vestibule trains from St. Paul the next day. As advertisement in the Chicago Daily News announces that the Brainerd Tribune paper is for sale.

It is really too bad that Dr. Stevens is not a republican this year on account of the land office patronage. The village of Stark Center is having a scarce few seats and a large number of families have been quarantined.

Doctors will end the usefulness of any organization, if it is allowed to take root. There is no body of men who can think aright. The Duluth Herald is an scrap and news exchange in a newspaper table. The people of that city should give it a liberal patronage.

Mr. Koon's resolution in regard to giving and holding all lands in the county, although it started some of the natives on the back seat. The jury in the Blatz murder case has disagreed, and it is now likely that the case will be tried in cold blood.

The committee of Old Fellows who visited Johnson reported the loss to the order of thirty-three members, thirty of which were 100 citizens by the flood. The Northern Pacific, a station on the Northern Pacific, has been opened for business and Lower Lake station closed up. This will be the last Falls out-of-the main line.

Think the St. Cloud papers if you read them on a claim for orphan. The Northern Pacific, a station on the Northern Pacific, has been opened for business and Lower Lake station closed up. This will be the last Falls out-of-the main line.

Representative Crocker has recommended the appointment of Miss Crocker as postmaster of Vermilion. She is a sister of Dr. McMillan, of the Verdule Junction. There are at present 172 fire insurance companies authorized to transact business in this state, and 120 are foreign companies with United States branches, and 26 are actual companies.

The municipal authorities of Minneapolis have revoked a saloon-keeper's license for keeping his place open on Sunday. The shock was so great that several people in that city were paralyzed. There isn't a country paper in the state but what has complained against the Northern Pacific for its "chain fall" fall away here, and in the same breath scolded their own authorities.

The city of Washburn is in trouble over its electric lighting. The present board of directors has not collected pay for lights. Their present city council don't think the franchise is worth it. The Washburn people have our sympathy.

The Milwaukee Journal does not amount to much except through the columns of the daily papers. The Journal is the heart of the state in June before the farmer's week. The first one goes, long red man goes, and what a white man, we really but not fully wounding him. The whole thing is nothing more than what happens many times a year.

The appointment of St. R. Amis as general manager of the Wisconsin Central is certainly one of the best selections that could have been made. Mr. Amis has many warm friends in this section, and he is pleased to see his property, but who are sorry to see him placed in a position that will not let his activities from this section. However, in the next change he will occupy a similar position in the Northern Pacific.

Mayor Henstead has taken it upon himself to resign, and it was unanimously passed by the council. The resignation was accepted, and he calls for a resolution of the police force to two patrolmen and a constable. The mayor has given up the idea of asserting that his judgment is better than that of the nine aldermen bound by his action as the mayor. The resolution will be passed over his head at the next meeting and while he will have the satisfaction of seeing his resignation accepted, he will be obliged to see his resignation accepted.

In conversation with the mayor, the editor of the Tribune has been asked to see his resignation. In conversation with the mayor, the editor of the Tribune has been asked to see his resignation. In conversation with the mayor, the editor of the Tribune has been asked to see his resignation.

The State Legislature takes Strong Action against Alms Baking.

The state legislature of Minnesota has just passed a law prohibiting the manufacture of baking powder containing alum, and making it a misdemeanor to sell or use the same. The law is a very important one, as alum is a very poisonous substance, and its use in baking powder is a very common one.
