City Bonds at a Premium.

The city council met in regular session Monday evening, the only business transacted being the sale of the $25,000 new issue of bridge bonds the proceeds of which are to be used to take up the bonds coming due Oct. 1. The bonds brought a premium of $1,025.00 and were sold to J. W. Hayes & Son of Columbus. The bids were as follows:
J. W. Hayes & Son, $2025.00
N. W. Hayes & Co., 2021.00
Dist. Denison & Prior, 2015.00
Parson, Leach & Co., 2010.00

DEATHS.

Mrs. B. Jones, of Aitkin, died at the Lumberman's hospital on Saturday last from cancer. The remains were shipped to the above place for burial.
A six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Franklin died at Pillsbury on Saturday last of whooping cough. The funeral was held on Sunday.

An infant son of Rev. and Mrs. D. D. McKay, aged four days, died on Monday of heart failure. The funeral was held at the grave, Rev. R. C. Upie officiating.

Mrs. Mary Pantala, wife of Carl G. Pantala, died at her residence four miles west of Brainerd yesterday of liver trouble, aged 44 years. The funeral will be held Saturday, Rev. C. A. Johnson officiating.

R. D. Congdon, father of Prof. C. H. Congdon, supervisor of music in the public schools, died Monday evening of stragulated brain at St. Luke's hospital. Mr. Congdon, who was for many years a resident of this state, has been living at Nelson, Pa. He was 78 years of age. Mr. Congdon left for the East Tuesday evening with the remains.—St. Paul Globe.

John Vetter, aged 42 years, died at the St. Paul hospital on Tuesday of pneumonia, the remains being accompanied to Detroit by his brother, Anthony Vetter, on Wednesday. The cause had been in the employ of the Northern Pacific road for many years as foreman on carpenter work and was well known in this city where he had charge of the construction of the Northern Pacific Sanitarium and other buildings of the road. He leaves a wife and six children.

Albert Anderson and Miss Mary Bolgard were united in marriage yesterday by Judge of Probate M. McFadden.

License to wed was issued on Wednesday to Fred Hart and Miss Pearl Dangleberry.

MARRIED.

John Griffith, assisted by an unexcelled company will present his elaborate production of "Faust" at Sleeper opera house, October 4th. The text of Mr. Griffith's version of Goethe's majestic drama clings closer to the great poet's masterpiece than that of any other version now extant. And Mr. Griffith makes a Mephisto spirit "who unnecessarily deceives." He knows in to intellectual devil, whose business is to present all that is opposite to good. Griffith's Mephisto does not tempt Faust directly and brutally but rather ensnares him by a strain of reasoning which the latter cannot answer, because they are but reflections of his own doubts and fears. Retaining Mephisto's cunning, his searching ridicule and savage cynicism, he echoes all the reckless unbelief of the human race, their rebellious impulses, their indulgences and negation of virtues, love and faith; always willing the bad but always thereby working the good.

The production will be magnificently staged, both scenically and electrically, particularly in the reveals of the Brocken, which is said to be the finest scene of the kind staged.

Reserved seats 75 cents, general admission 50 cents, validly open.

For Rent.
Three houses in East Brainerd and one on Oak street next to school house. Apply at Benson & Gray's.

Tooth filled and crowned with Gold, Porcelain, and teeth extracted with Oxyphosphor, at Dr. Dr. Ribbel's.

DEERWOOD ITEMS.

Mrs. J. A. Baker, nee Mary Howe, left last Sunday evening for Texas where she will join her husband who holds a position as operator.

The threshing machine has made great progress through the country in spite of the distance between farms. Mr. Foster and his men are great rustlers.

Chas. Raach has built a fine new residence this summer, and has it nearly completed. Mr. Raach has a pretty dwelling spot on the south side of Lake James.

There are some fine sportsmen at Duluth. Two gentlemen from that place were down here hunting squirrels and they mistook one of Mr. Whitten's horses for a squirrel, the result being that Mr. Whitten has been busy since taking out shot from the body of the horse.

Deerwood has a church on wheels. The Chapel car as it is called, was put on the sidetrack a week ago last Tuesday and expects to stop over the coming Sunday again. A children's meeting is held every afternoon directly after school, and services every evening at 7:30. The car is furnished throughout with church equipment, with kitchen and reading room at one end. Every one here is very enthusiastic over the Chapel car, and crowds have turned out to the meetings, which have done much good to the community, and much is to be said complimentary to the members of the car.

SPORTS.

PIONTON'S NEWS ITEMS.

Sam Hastings has decided to build himself a fine residence on his farm at Noka lake.

Ed. Magoo, a former resident of this town, is calling with friends here and will remain until spring.

Geo. Bok will commence building his new residence this week, the foundation of which was completed some time ago.

Wm. Mansdale returned from harvesting last week and is now finishing his new residence in the north part of town.

George Pointon, a brother of T. C. Pointon, will present at the Pionton school house on Sunday next. All are invited.

Elder Deacon preached his farewell sermon here on Sunday last. He attended the Wergas Falls conference next week.

Ed. Garlinghouse returned from the Dakota harvest field last week and does not give a very glowing account of the country. He traded his mules for a horse team while away.

Two gentlemen from Palo Alto county, Iowa, have each bought an 80-acre farm in the northwest corner of Maple Grove township. They are friends of Mr. Torson who is living on the Shulte farm, and say that a large number of families will settle in this vicinity this fall and next spring.

From Sibley Exchange.
J. O. Sturtevant and two children went to Brainerd Saturday on a visit to grandma.

P. J. Callahan, section foreman at Mully has been transferred to Brainerd.

Harry Fox, who has been firing out of Livingston, Montana, on the Montana division, arrived in Sibley last week and will fire on this division.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brockway arrived from Brainerd Monday on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bacon, about two miles north of town.

We are informed that Fred Hillman, formerly of this place, was thrown out of a buggy at Brainerd on Sunday and died that night from the injuries received.

The Slaughter Commenced.
The deer season has officially opened in Itasca county, judging from the following news item:
A man named Frank Stone was shot near Grand Rapids Monday, being killed by a deer.
That Itasca have spring chickens for sale. If you want something nice call on them.

The Brainerd Dispatch.

Official Paper of Crow Wing County, Minnesota. Published every Tuesday. Subscriptions, one year in advance, $2.50 per year in advance. Single copies, 5 cents.

Legal Notice for Local Notice.
In the following, however, as to the publication of our respective newspapers during the year 1910, it is hereby notified that no newspaper shall be published during the year 1910 unless it is first published by the State of Minnesota, and no newspaper shall be published during the year 1910 unless it is first published by the State of Minnesota.

Friday, October 1, 1907.
Dear F. Tracy is the republican candidate for Governor New York. Tracy was a member of President Harrison's cabinet.

It is estimated that $100,000,000 of iron ore will be shipped from the Minnesota iron region this season which is the largest output ever known.

The Indian is not considered to be better than a white man any more, and the government has ordered that they must not send or ship game or fish off the reservations during the close season.

Commonwealth of Ohio is emphatic in his denial of being a candidate for governor in 1898 but will stand for reelection to congress from the seventh district. He is a member of the list of "prohibitionists" now.

It now turns out that the capital expense were approved by the legislature and that Mr. DeLafayette was offered $2000 to vote for Keith River auditions. Did anyone offer bribes for Georgia marble votes?

James H. Hinson intended to argue in the Anderson railroad tax law case in chambers last Friday and will render a decision in the same time after the A. S. term of court closes next week.

The increase in the earnings of the Northern Pacific road last year over the corresponding period a year ago exceeded 10 percent. So far this year the total figures are over $12,000,000 or more than $10,000,000 over last year.

It is quite erroneously rumored that the Northern Pacific intended putting another passenger train on between Duluth and the west to accommodate the increasing business from the head of the lake. The additional train service would be very acceptable to the patrons of the road.

The Arctic Expedition by the pack boat men are being heard in place for the month of October 22nd per month. Last year a man was in place if he received $14 for the same work and many were willing to work for little more than their board.

The statement is made that the postmaster general has issued an order forbidding the renting of private letter boxes in post-offices to ministers. Postmasters are constantly receiving complaints from parents that their sons or daughters are carrying on clandestine correspondence by means of private letter boxes.

Miss Biss has removed his family from St. Paul to Red Wing and the political writers throughout the state imagine that "Dana is getting things in shape to enter the race for the governorship in 1898. If this is true and the gentleman has designs on the office it will be a lively scramble, for Miss Biss and he will use his knowledge to the disadvantage of the less learned. He has a good federal position, however, and it is not probable that he will let loose of it for an uncertainty.

A trail western train robbery occurred three miles east of Moorhead on the Northern Pacific last Sunday morning at which time the train was stopped, the safe and mail car cut off and a band and mail clerks were arranged to do the grass in a sitting position, with the band leader and engineer. The train was stopped and the robbers investigated the mail car and not finding what they wanted they returned to the train car and went through the sleeping car and allowed them to depart. Conductor Crocker had but his watch in his sleep and engineer Foster had over $50 in the grass during their resting spell. The passengers on the train were not molested.

Want to Go Home.

Two of the few representatives of the Celestial Kingdom, who are at present domiciled in Warden Wolf's establishment, pine to breathe the air of freedom, and mayhap hope to return to China. They are Han Wing Sing and Hon Kong, who were sentenced from Crow Wing county in 1883 to serve twenty-five years for murder in the third degree.

Stands by His Record.
To the charge that he is a "laborer," Senator Hanna said in a speech at Zanesville, Ohio, last week: "Go to any one of the 5,000 men in my employ, I don't care whether he is a cool miner or a street railway employee, whether he works on the docks or in the shipyards, I am willing to abide by the verdict of those men. Ask them whether I ever pay less than the highest going wages; ask them whether I ever send them away from their homes for no reason; ask them whether I ever refuse to take any man who comes to me with a complaint, I never refused to take them. I never refused to take them. I never refused to take them. I never refused to take them."

Hermann is Satisfied.
The first report of the survey conducted recently appeared to make the re-estimate of the mine on the northwestern corner of the Minnesota land office. While his survey confirmed the general land office. While his survey confirmed the general land office. While his survey confirmed the general land office. While his survey confirmed the general land office.

Indians Ready to Move.
Instead of coming to understand the Indians on the reservation on the head of the lake, they have parted from the matter in a more unaccustomed state, if possible than ever. Their report shows that the Indians on that had renewed congress to reimburse them for improvements made the rear. As for the 30,000 acres additional claimed by them, they would be left to congress. They refused to make a definite answer to Commissioner Hall's suggestions as to allotments for women and children at White Earth. They said they would consider that question when the 4,800 acres had been allotted. They further said that they would consider at their leisure the commissioner's invitation to make a visit to White Earth. When Mr. Hall alluded to the comparatively poor quality of the land in the 4,800 acres and intimated indirectly that it would be better for all to take allotments at White Earth, the Indians were evidently disappointed and some of them turned their backs on him.

Through a misunderstanding the council broke up without hearing the representatives of the settlers who were in attendance. Thus there was had feeling on all sides. Although it is a country far from being white, the Indians are fixed to their determination to have all unappropriated lands on the reservation allotted to bands of families. Of the land demanded by the Indians 30,000 acres are in what would be school sections. The state has already sold all pigs on those sections and 134 acres of land. Forty bands would have to be created to substantiate that intends to build a summer resort hotel, while C. A. Smith of Minneapolis and others have bought small lots for summer cottages. Besides this there are about thirty bonfire stillers who have built houses on the disputed land. They declare that they will not move out, and demand that the Indians shall be moved to White Earth.

ASSASSIN'S PERIOD.

THE NINETEENTH CENTURY NOTABLE FOR ITS ASSASSINATIONS.

Enacted Justice Has Been Often Paid and Irrevocable Punishment is Life—Tyants and the Butler of Free People Atlas Identified by Assassins.

The nineteenth is notable among centuries for the number of assassinations of rulers, prominent statesmen and public characters generally, whose lives have been attempted or who have actually perished at the hands of the assassin. Just before the beginning of the century two attempts were made on the life of George III. The last in 1800, while on Christmas eve of the same year that famous infernal machine designed to kill Napoleon was unaccountably fired in the streets of Paris. On March 24, 1801, the crazy Claude Paul sent his fan being strung with a military sash, twisted into a cord by the hands of a gigantic Chinaman, to the emperor Napoleon, who was on his way to the opera house. On Jan. 20, 1820, President Andrew Jackson was attacked while en route to his home in Tennessee. Louis Philippe, the "Citizen King," was murdered in the street on July 26, 1835, he was to attempt the same deed from a stand by Pignatelli. On June 26, 1858, Albinus assassinated him; Montezuma's son was slain by a soldier on the same day. In 1849 he was in deadly peril from Charles, emperor of Austria, and Emperor's life on April 14, 1846, and Emperor on July 29 of the same year. No ruler can be so far from the end of the century as finally getting out of his alive, for assassines that were detected and slipped in the bud ere they reached the stage of manhood attempt with more success than the actual assassin.

Ferry Runnng.
I desire to announce to the traveling public that the Mississippi River Ferry is now ready and in operation and that the following rates will be charged: Single trips 15 cents; over and under 30 cents. Four passengers in one. Special rates will be made to parties using the ferry daily. Barges will be received between the hours of 8 a. m. and 8 p. m. The ferry is located at the foot of Main street just north of the railroad bridge.

White Green Yellowstone Park.
"A mile and a half from the Fountain Hotel, and easily reached by bicycle, horse, or on foot, is a lovely spot, a hidden basin full of nature's caprices. At the entrance, as if on guard, stands the immaculate White Dome, whose crown is white with snow. As one approaches, he almost expects to be challenged and asked for a countersign. If such challenge is given, it is in courteous, in the form of a geyser eruption, for the white dome is a geyser. It is not unlike the Castle Geyser, or the White Fountains of the Upper Geyser Basin. The geyser is a very white hair dome-shaped mound, built up from the secretion of the waters, and is the most conspicuous feature of the locality. It is perhaps 25 feet high, with a circumference at the base of 75 or 100 feet. Its eruptions come at intervals of from twenty to forty-five minutes, being somewhat irregular, and the water is thrown to a height of from ten to twenty-five feet."

Every Teacher or Scholar

in the public schools of the United States, 15 years of age and over, should have a copy of the Northern Pacific's new and beautifully illustrated book, "Woodcraft '97." It is especially adapted for use in the public schools in the study of geography and history, and as an aid in the study of the Northwest and its varied and vast resources.

The book has a large amount of valuable data, but is not by any means a compilation of dry statistics. The beautiful Lake Park Region of Minn.; the Red River Valley of the North; the remarkable wheat land of the Northwest and its varied and vast resources, are described.

A chapter on several of the richest mining districts of the Northwest, telling how they were discovered and developed will be an interesting one to everybody. Some of these discoveries were made in very fancy ways. Four great snow mountains, old volcanoes on the North Pacific Coast, have a chapter devoted to them which gives much of their history. A new mountain range, one almost unknown in the Northwest corner of the United States, is brought to the reader's attention. It is a glorious region, with deep, beautiful lakes, full of new varieties of trout, made famous by a Bear and a Fisherman of the U. S. Navy. Alaska also has a place in its pages. The book has a handsome cover and is as beautifully and profusely illustrated.

Any teacher or scholar can have a copy by sending six cents in postage to the Northern Pacific Railway Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn. It is given gratuitously to those who are interested in the Northwest and who will be lost to obtain something of interest and value, almost for nothing, and our schools should reap the benefit of it.

Captain Nannie Ireland Weds.
The Minneapolis Tribune of Wednesday contains the following bit of interesting reading relative to the wedding of Miss Nannie Ireland, daughter of J. E. Ireland, of this city: On the second avenue south of Fifteenth street, in a modest little home, lives a rosy cheeked, blonde for whom this day dawns as her bride. A visitor at the door last evening found the family within were gathered around the supper table, brought Captain Nannie Ireland to the steps and she blushed charmingly when asked about her wedding. Tonight she is to be married in the Salvation Army Chapel to Staff-Captain W. Porter, and hundreds of their friends will come to the hallday wedding. There are romance in the Salvation army as in military life, and this is the case here. Captain Nannie has carried romance through the streets for some time. She met her future spouse at the fair, and her honey fate has involved some of the longers to make a friend before she left with her bundle of "War Cry" under her arm. An army wedding is at once simple and sacred, jolly and solemn. Captain Nannie will be attended in a new Salvation army dress which will be her wedding gown, with a wide collar and the band of red. As she stood in the fading light talking of her plans for the morning, her color came and went in her cheeks, and her eyes were filled with tears. She met her future spouse for a card of submission to the Citadel which she furnished her visitor for the wedding, and remarked half proudly that her wedding invitation had been sent to every corner of the earth. The plain "Admit One" cards are printed "Dated for the wedding of Miss Nannie Ireland to Staff-Captain W. Porter, at the Hallday Wedding" at the bottom.

Captain Nannie is a New England girl, and she did not see the West until she was 12 years old. Then she came to Minnesota with her family, and they made their home in Brainerd. Her parents were orthodox Methodists, and she was brought up in the books she found in the Sunday school library and indulged her taste for reading with the historical literature on her father's shelves. Five years ago the Salvation army invited the quest of Brainerd. A barracks was built and the army method in the streets singing their songs, beating their drums and shaking their tambourines. Nannie was only 17 and impressionable. She was stirred by the proposed establishment of the army, and after her father had taken her out to the barracks she went again to see the Salvation army. She came to Minneapolis and found a place where friends multiplied, and she grew to love the new life. Now she is on the threshold of another change, and many of the old duties will be dropped to be replaced by new ones. She smiled as she remarked that her work would be different, but she explained that she would be Captain Porter's assistant and she is to help him in his duties on the streets. Previous to her coming to Minneapolis Captain Porter was with the army in Chicago and Wisconsin, and in the Black Hills. The late Lieutenant Staff-Captain Porter has won his spurs in faithful service. He has been in the army 15 years, he has been an officer for seven, and he has traveled through 13 countries in the interest of spreading the work. He was ten months with the pioneer party in Japan, where he acquired the Japanese language, and in his present capacity is general secretary and assistant to rank to Maj. Gifford, in command of the midwestern division, embracing Minnesota, the Dakotas, Michigan and Wisconsin. So important is the wedding of two officers of the army will invite the attendance of many soldiers, and Major Gifford is to officiate in the marriage. The evening will be occupied with unique exercises, to which among others, Brigadier Halpin, of New York will give his presence, with his sliding troupe. This means music in the air and hallday for the bride, Captain and Mrs. Porter are to make their home at 1822 Hennepin avenue.

Couldn't be better. That's the opinion of the best dressers on the sale we make to your measure. We really do not see how there could be any improvement in fit, finish or style—they are so perfect in every way. When your suit is made by the great Chicago Tailors, M. L. M. Knox, Agent.
Black Sand Pool Yellowstone Park.
No person who visits the Upper Geyser Basin should fail to see Black Sand Pool. It lies to the south of the main Upper Basin, and is reached by a road leading past the beautiful Punch Bowl Spring. Black Sand Pool is an oval spring some 60 feet long by 20 or 25 feet wide. The water is of a light blue sapphire or turquoise color—it is not easy to name the precise tint in many instances—extremely beautiful, from whose surface the steam constantly rises. The great peculiarity about it is that the surrounding rocks, which are in places fifteen feet high or more, are composed of black, probably decomposed obsidian, sand.

The above is taken from "Wonderland '97," a new book published by the Northern Pacific Railway. Send six cents to Chas. S. Fox, Gen'l. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn., for it.

Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone.
On both walls thousands of pinnacles, towers, obelisks, and needles seem to be growing like the trees around them. On the north wall there are gigantic buttresses supporting smaller ones. The north wall faces widely and carries lobogogen-like areas, through which knif-like ridges and tongues of rusty rock are thrust, and almost aloof from the main wall, the forest pushes half way down to the river. Its dark green intensifies the vivid walls on each side of it.

It also shelters numbers of deer, that can be seen if one wishes to climb down into it.

The pinnacles of rock below are used by the eagles for roosting purposes. Their nests can be seen, as can also the young eagles.

Send for "Wonderland '97," a new book issued by the Northern Pacific Railway and read a long description of the Canyon. Send six cents for it to Chas. S. Fox, Gen'l. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

Notice to Water Consumers.
Water rates for the fourth quarter, 1897, are due October 1st, and must be paid on or before the 10th of the month. The company is particularly desirous that the rentals for this quarter shall be paid promptly. The water will be shut off from all consumers who are in default after the 10th of the month.

The first fabulously rich "find" in the Klondike was made by a daring miner in August '96, a report of which did not cross the boundary line for six months, or reach the outside world for nearly a year. It is noteworthy fact that the six French Canadians who inaugurated the present race were in every instance old and experienced miners, men who understood the country, its possibilities and eccentricities, like the natives, who had overcome peril by sea and peril by land, who had won the friendship of the Indians and become marred to the horrors of the climate, who were expert hunters and had found brains to regard them from other than ordinary standpoints.

The oldest of these men, who went out to the Klondike in '88, left Canada a vigorous, muscular man. He is now an old man, broken in health, gray-haired and crippled. During his nine years' stay in the gold region he saw three hundred graves dug for his comrades, most of whom died from starvation, and he himself went for weeks with scanty food and for days without any. He possessed, however, the "staying" quality, which every successful miner must have, and which alone enabled him, with the help of his comrades, to battle through to wealth and invalidism.—From "Gold Fields of the Yukon Valley," in Democrat's Magazine for October.

HE OPPOSES SILVER.

DIRECTOR OF THE MINTS CHARGED WITH INCORRECT ESTIMATES.

Overvaluing the Output of Silver and Undervaluing That of Gold—Contrary to Mr. Preston's Statement, There Is Good Demand For Silver.
The director of the mints has established a reputation for undervaluing the gold output of American mines and overvaluing the output of silver from the same sources. In dealing with the latter metal he always quotes a value, forgetting that the government's $1.29 per ounce is a larger measure than the miner or smelter, because it is not the measure of the silver product. The latter is fixed by a cotier of London bankers, who last year supplied Great Britain with 8,800,426 ounces of standard silver. The cotier value was $1,047,128. It cost the British government $270,698, so that a handsome margin was realized. In dealing with the wants of the people at home and in the colonies. We refer to this British cotier of silver to correct an error in Mr. Preston's interview of a recent date, in which he declared that there was "no demand for silver anywhere, not even for subsidiary coinage."
The annual report of the deputy master of the mint, however, corrects this impression. It shows the purchase of bar silver by the government for subsidiary coinage of 25,975,889 pieces at British account, 2,150,000 pieces for France, 1,700,000 for Hongkong, 815,000 for Newfoundland and 8,000,000 for the Spanish territories. There is a large difference between the value of the silver and the value of the gold. It is not in the least surprising that the mint is in his efforts to please the gold standardists, and the value of the silver is not in the least surprising that the mint is in his efforts to please the gold standardists.

With a silver in gold we can easily refer to the gold output of 1897, as given at the Director's report. In round numbers, however, for an increase of $7,000,000 in the United States over his own totals for 1896, which were approximately as follows:

Alabama	1,000,000
Arizona	1,000,000
California	1,000,000
Colorado	1,000,000
Idaho	1,000,000
Montana	1,000,000
Nevada	1,000,000
New Mexico	1,000,000
North Dakota	1,000,000
South Dakota	1,000,000
Utah	1,000,000
Washington	1,000,000
Wyoming	1,000,000
Total	15,000,000

Other states and territories bring the total for 1897 to $18,000,000. In this table for 1897 Colorado is at least $1,400,000, while California would be at least $1,800,000, the mint statistics at San Francisco are not in the least surprising, being one of the complainants.

But if, as the director of the mint, in his report for 1897 is only $7,000,000, how does the chief officer of the mint propose to supply 17,000,000 of the reports thus far received—no small task for a mint producing claims of the respective states to be paid as follows in the sum of their gold output for the year:

California	10,000,000
Colorado	1,400,000
Idaho	2,000,000
Montana	2,000,000
Nevada	2,000,000
New Mexico	2,000,000
North Dakota	2,000,000
South Dakota	2,000,000
Utah	2,000,000
Washington	2,000,000
Wyoming	2,000,000
Total	30,000,000

This is the estimate of last ten states and territories, whereas the director's gold total for 1897 is only $7,000,000. In Vermont to $475,000 in the State of Maine to $400,000 in Washington. We have limited our estimate to the $1,000,000 claim and $1,000,000 in the estimate of the director of the mint—$40,000,000—by the respective states $11,000,000, Governor News.
