Local Rates for Legal Matters.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1901.

MOOREHEAD dedicated new $5,000 Congregational church last Sunday.

The legislature has now got down to work, and the usual barking powder fight can be predicted.

SPEAKING about important notions what's the matter of Carré, she of Kansas saloon smashing fame. She has kicked up more excitement lately than any other girl we know of.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature to prohibit the marriage of the feeble-minded. Some people think that the act itself is an indication of feeble-mindedness.

A bill has been introduced into the legislature making the personal property exemption from taxation $500 instead of $300. This bill only affects those who are foolish enough to pay personal property tax.

Two bills introduced into the Wisconsin legislature are unusual to say the least. One provides for the payment of a premium to the mother of large families, and the other taxes bachelors. Wisconsin evidently does not propose to be beaten in the race for population.

JONES LEWIS, of St. Paul, has rendered a decision to the effect that owners of property redeeming from the clearance sale last year need only pay the amount paid by the purchaser with interest, and not the full amount of taxes, penalties and costs, as held by the attorney general.

The Cummings and Alexander company will give a performance in the opera house Friday Feb. 8th. They carry special accounts with trained bloodhounds and an excellent band and orchestra.

This company has gained a reputation in the large cities of being one of the best attractions of its kind traveling and deserves patronage wherever they may be.

UNJUSTLY DISFRANCHISED. Hoosiers Found Guilty of Selling Their Votes Last November.

Unwarranted Ind. Feb. 1.—In the Montgomery circuit court Willie Zieg, Dick Randall, H. A. Peterson and James Shaker pleaded guilty to selling their votes at the November election and were fined $100 each and sentenced to prison for six months.

TO RECOVER INTEREST. Iowa Will Press Its Claim Against the Government.

Des Moines, Feb. 1.—Iowa officials at a conference here decided to make an effort to collect from the general government from $250,000 to $500,000 which is claimed to be due this state in interest which it paid on bonds issued by it to secure money with which to equip the Iowa soldiers at the onset of the civil war. The government satisfied the original claim of the principal but no claim of interest was made.

STREET SIGN CONTRACT RECONSIDERED

At a Special Meeting of The Council On Saturday Evening.

A special meeting of the council was held on Saturday evening to reconsider the contract for putting up street signs. The contract was awarded to J. O. Congdon for 25 cents a sign for a metal sign with painted letters. For 25¢ cents a heavier metal sign with enameled letters could be obtained, and several of the aldermen, after thinking the matter over, considered their action in awarding the contract to Mr. Congdon ill advised, and asked that a special meeting of the council be called to reconsider the matter, and transact other business in connection with the work done at the power house. All the aldermen were present except President Crust, and Alderman Parry presided.

The special committee to whom was referred the matter regarding the contract reported recommending that the work be done, and the report was accepted, and the clerk was instructed to refer to Mr. Lang, of Eau Claire, Wis., and ascertain what it would cost to have an expert come and oversee the work. Also to Mr. P. L. Page, of Little Falls, and have him come and do the work.

On motion, the council then reconsidered its action by which Mr. Congdon was given the contract to install the street signs at the power house. On motion, all bids were then rejected, and the clerk was instructed to advertise for new bids to be submitted not later than 5 p. m., February 4th, 1901. An angle sign of iron with aluminum or enameled letters on metal, like sample on file with the city clerk, was adopted.

Going After Money Now. Mr. Towse says that he will return to his home town of Duluth and will settle down to the practice of law, which he has not practiced for six or eight years. He has been in active politics during that time and has not accumulated any money, but is now going to look after that.—Washington, D. C.

MAY CAUSE WAR

REPUBLICS OF COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA ARE AGAIN QUARRELING.

HOSTILITIES ARE FEARED

Band of Nicaraguan Soldiers Crosses the Costa Rican Frontier, Surprised the Garrison at La Cruz and Captured the Commandant and General Mens—Both Officers Taken to Managua and Imprisoned.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—A special to The Tribune from New Orleans, says: News has reached New Orleans, to the effect that the republics of Costa Rica and Nicaragua again have a quarrel which may possibly result in hostilities.

A little over a week ago a band of Nicaraguan soldiers, acting in said order, crossed the Costa Rican frontier, surprised the garrison at La Cruz and captured the commandant and General Louis Mens, the hero of the battle of San Carlos.

General Mens and the Costa Rican hero are now in prison at Managua and will doubtless remain there until the matter has been definitely settled.

General Mens has been a resident of Costa Rica since the failure of the revolution in March of 1895. Years before General Mens had fought against the ruling power of Nicaragua and when he was captured by General Reyes, then the governor intendente of Bluefields, he was taken to the city of Zelaya's rule, he at once went to his assistance. He subsequently escaped to Costa Rica, where he remained up to the time of his abduction.

REGARDED WITH ALARM. Jamaicans Fear the Reciprocity Treaty Will Fail.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 1.—The Jamaican government and public are much concerned about American negotiations in the reciprocity treaty, the prospect of Jamaica remaining outside while the other West India colonies get preferential treatment is regarded with alarm.

The Daily Telegraph, the paper which started the agitation resulting from the convention, says editorially with reference to the American charge of unfair practice against the Jamaica government:

"Our impatient government has put a powerful weapon in the hands of the opponents of the treaty. When the last bill was being considered the government insisted on raising import duties on articles which were not produced in the United States to guard against the general rate of increase. The government then stated this was done because under the probable reciprocity treaty a number of those duties would have to be reduced."

The article concludes: "If the treaty is rejected we shall have to thank our own government."

The commercial outlook is gloomy and splendid American cities and Democrit. It was improbable that he would accept to subscribe to the cardinal doctrine of the party—reciprocity in the will of the majority.

SEVERE FIGHTING. Venezuelan Revolutionists Completely Defeated.

Willmarstad, Caracas, Feb. 1.—Advices received here from Venezuela confirm the reports of severe fighting probably Tuesday last, at Agua Prieta, in which the revolutionists were completely defeated and abandoned their arms and ammunition. Two sons of General Anaco were made prisoners.

It is further asserted that the principal leaders of the revolution were subsequently made prisoners at Caripito, near Maracaibo, in Venezuelan government circles it was considered that the revolution was ended.

TO PURCHASE ARMS. Colombian Insurgent Leader on the Way to New York.

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Feb. 1.—General Uribe-Uribe, the Colombian revolutionary leader, is a passenger bound for New York on the Red D. The steamer Philadelphia, which left San Juan during the afternoon for the North. He goes to purchase arms and predict the success of the insurrection. Fighting, he says, is still in progress in the interior, where he has 5,000 men, though without ammunition. He declares the city of Panama is likely to be attacked by the revolutionists.

ARE EXAGGERATED. Stories of the Filipino Movement Towards Protestantism.

Manila, Feb. 1.—The cable states that the movement toward Protestantism in the Philippines is exaggerated. The Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal and British and American societies have received 1,500 letters and 1,000 telegrams in connection with the Protestant movement.

Coal Operators Gathering. Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—The coal operators of Ohio and Illinois are already gathered here in conference with the miners.

Confidence is being held by the miners and the indications are that there will be a lively fight if over important matters before the convention.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

And for His Organization Passed by the Philippine Commission.

Manila, Feb. 1.—The act organizing municipal government in the Philippines was passed by the United States commission today.

After the addition of amendments, including a provision disqualifying from voting and holding any office any person who after April 1 is in arrears against or aiding those opposing the United States authority. The power to review election irregularities is transferred from the governor of the province to the election judges.

A provision is added for returns and records of births, marriages and deaths. The president's symbol of office is designated as a gold-headed staff.

Prior to the passage of the act Judge Taft, president of the commission, said the greatest pains had been taken in the preparation of the act, because the municipalities were units upon which would be erected the general government.

The provincial government bill has been completed. The public convention will begin at once. Soon after its enactment the United States commission will visit the provinces and witness the organization of the provincial government and the election judges.

Later they will visit the Southern Islands.

DULUTH WILL BE CUT OUT. Plan to Change Route of Northern Steamship Company.

St. Paul, Feb. 1.—The Northern Steamship company has decided to withdraw its palatial steamer from the Duluth-Buffalo route the coming summer and run them between Chicago and Buffalo. The decision is understood to be the outcome of a general conference between President Miller and General Miller, Vice President of the Duluth-Buffalo company, located at Buffalo. The steamer line has been the summer route for the lake or Great Northern.

It has long been an open secret in passenger circles that the return from the two handsome steamships had come up to extend the route and the coming expedition to Buffalo is believed to have been a secret arrangement to try the experiment of a general conference between the Chicago-Chicago route and making other plans for the care of passengers destined northwestern transients.

PARTY REORGANIZATION. Lanham of Texas Discusses the Subject in the House.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Representative Lanham of Texas delivered an extended speech in the house upon the subject of the reorganization of the Democratic party. He said it was unnecessary to discuss the party of Gold Democrats to demand their return to the party that they should have no objection to the party reorganization was pure.

The efforts to shove Mr. Bryan, he urged, was premature. He had fallen through to the fact that he was a splendid American citizen and a Democrat. It was improbable that he would accept to subscribe to the cardinal doctrine of the party—reciprocity in the will of the majority.

COURT COMPLETED. International Peace Tribunal Ready to Begin Business.

New York, Feb. 1.—A special to The Tribune from Washington says: The permanent court of arbitration provided by the convention, signed at The Hague on July 29, 1899, is now ready to consider any international dispute that may be presented. Easly the highest tribunal in the world, with the most numerous and eminent members of any ever projected, this single tribunal is the only one of its kind.

Confidence is being held by the miners and the indications are that there will be a lively fight if over important matters before the convention.

FACTS COLORED. SETTLED OUT OF COURT. Title to Mines of which McKenzie Was Receiver. San Francisco, Feb. 1.—The Chronicle says a complete settlement has been reached out of court between Alexander McKenzie and the defendants in the suit upon the mines for which McKenzie was appointed receiver by United States judge Arthur H. Hayes of the district of Alaska, in which property valued at over $10,000,000 is involved. By this settlement, The Chronicle states, the rights to the famous Avell and Dexter Creek mines are vested in the Pioneer Mining company. This property includes the Discovery claim which has produced more than a million dollars' worth of dust. Itigation in this case is known as the McKenzie case. It is understood that McKenzie brought recently in the superior court of San Francisco for McKenzie to pay $100,000 by Lieberg, Lindholm & Bryntson against McKenzie for damages which McKenzie claims to have sustained by his charges while receiver. All the charges made during the attorney general and the president of the United States will be dropped and withdrawn. There will be no grounds for the proposed congressional investigation.

TROUBLE ABOUT OVER. Believed That the End of the Creek Uprising is in Sight. Peace among the warring Creeks has apparently been reached and all that remains to be done is to give Chitto Harjo, the chief Snake who has sullied all the trouble a preliminary hearing and send him to Muskogee for trial for treason. In the meantime a few more of the minority leaders will be arrested and the troops of cavalry under Lieutenant Dixon will probably remain here a few days longer until the last vestige of the uprising has passed. During the night the Indians burned signal fire on the hills surrounding the town at a distance of two or three miles from the camp, and, fearing an attack, the soldiers remained up until daylight armed and ready for instant action, but the Indians attempted no deception.

COMPLICATIONS FEARED. Some Alarm Regarding the Illness of the Duke of Cornwall. New York, Feb. 1.—A dispatch to The World from London, says: Considerable alarm was occasioned by the night's bulletin concerning the Duke of Cornwall and York. The duke's constitution is some two months at the best and an attack of this description is a severe strain on the strongest adult. Complications are feared and Mr. William Broadbent, a great lover of spectacles, is expected to be needed. It was an attack of General Messer's that first broke down Lord Rosebery's health, producing lameness from which he has never completely recovered and to which he has been constantly seeking a change of air.

Oldest Persons in the World. New York, Feb. 1.—After searching six months for the oldest persons in the world, the committee on vital statistics of the Hundred Year club of this city has prepared a report which shows that the oldest man is Isiah Rodofsky of Moscow, Russia, who is his 125th year, and the oldest woman, Mrs. Nancy Holbrook of Blue Creek, Mich., who is 117.

SHOCK MADE HER BLIND

Struck Accident to a Young Chicago Girl.

WAS KIDNAPED FROM HER HOME.

Carried Off by Two Men and a Woman—She Escaped and Notified Her Mother—She Was Found Three Days Later.

Dr. H. C. Welcker, an eye and ear specialist in Chicago, says no such extraordinary case ever before came under his notice. He has made two examinations of the girl's eyesight and has come to the conclusion that her eyes were injured by a shock.

PAINT ON INDIAN FACES.

Keenly All It Means Sometimes—These Indians.

The fact of the matter is that every Indian has a definite meaning which he attaches to his face paint. He does not paint only with his own individual honor and distinction, but by his own bravery, but also with the special honor of his family or tribe.

RICE THE FUTURE CROP.

Its Culture in Texas Promises Great Results—Mr. Wilson of Fortland, Tex., has been about Liberty investigating the rice business.

WOMAN'S EYES.

Very peculiar are some of the honorable symbols painted on the Indian's face. There are fish, fish and fowl of all kinds—dog, salmon, devilfish, eagle, raven, woodpecker, eagle, raven, wolf, bear, sea lions and sea monsters, muskoxen, frogs, mountain goats and all manner of foot, claw or beak marks—each with a special significance of its own.

WOMAN'S EYES.

"I've been trying to get work, but couldn't." "You wouldn't work if you could get it?" "Yes, I would, your honor."

WOMAN'S EYES.

"Do you think those two letters were written by the same person?" "I rather couldn't say," answered the handwriting expert.

THAT WAS DIFFERENT.

Page Said There Was No Similarity in the Two Cases.

"Page," said the little boy, "do you remember the first money you ever earned?"

"Yes," said papa. "It was a nice, new, shiny 5-cent piece that old Mr. Greese, the grocer, gave me for doing about a quarter's worth of work in carrying a load of potatoes into his cellar."

"And did you put it in your little bank?" asked the little boy.

"No, I got father's permission to spend it just as I pleased. However, I kept it for three or four days, just to have the satisfaction of having money of my own, earned by my own exertions. And if I could have bought all the things I thought of buying with that nickel, I would have had about $10 worth of books, toys, marbles and what not. Finally I gave up my mind. What do you think I bought?"

"I'm sure I can't guess," said the little boy. "What did you buy, papa?"

"I went to the bakery and bought a centard pie."

"Why papa! And you said grandma always had centard pie at home and let you have a slice if it was as you got home from school?"

"Yes, I used to get a slice, but not a whole pie, and she never let me eat it. Why I wanted to, too."

"You never allow me to eat centard pie, but you let me eat that centard pie, papa?" said the little boy.

"Oh, that's different!" said papa—indignant.

SAVED THE LIBERTY BELL.

New Edward VII Rescued the Bell From Oblivion.

David Beane, superintendent of Independence hall, Philadelphia, would have liked to tell the old bell to the station in New Edward VII's hands.

Mr. Beane's desire was not to celebrate the prince's accession to Alton's throne, but to commemorate the fact that the king, though a descendant of the bygone George III, rescued Liberty bell from a dirt heap and raised it to that position which it now occupies in the American people's hearts.

When the late Prince of Wales visited Philadelphia in 1923, some ironical citizens conceived the idea of taking him to see the old hall from which the Continental congress issued the philippic that aroused the colonies to free themselves from the British yoke.

It appears also that Albert Edward was a little embarrassed at the outset, but that he showed his bravery by following his guides through every nook and cranny in the historic structure.

"I saw the portraits of the men who saved up the Revolution, and he did not gaze listlessly at them, but made complimentary comments upon them."

"I looked with interest on the script of the Declaration of Independence, and then he turned to me and he had placed in his hands the sword of men who hewed down the tower of the royal power's pride."

Finally he came to a sorrow. This was when the bell was used when the declaration was read, he was told. Then he wanted to know what had become of the bell.

"The found it for him with the aid of my traveling bag," said the prince, "and he was a mass of penitential, orange peel, white paper and other debris."

No one seemed to mind what he said, but he was a mass of penitential, orange peel, white paper and other debris.

For the moment he forgot he was a Briton. He got up the poor cracked bell that hung at the station's birth, and then he spoke the words that were to be his motto for the rest of his life.

"This old bell," he said, "is the greatest relic this republic has today. Instead of being here covered with this unbecoming dirt, but his appeal for the moment he forgot he was a Briton. He got up the poor cracked bell that hung at the station's birth, and then he spoke the words that were to be his motto for the rest of his life."

Wants Aid to care for Her Son.

Little Falls Transcript: Mrs. Della Lakin, of Brainerd, is in the city Saturday to see her son, who is in St. Gabriel's hospital in this city. Her son, Alexander Lamplis, is suffering with epileptic fits, and was brought to this city last March and placed in St. Gabriel's hospital in this city. Her son is about 23 years of age, and Mrs. Lakin made an application to have him sent to the state hospital for the feeble minded at Parkhurst, but the application was rejected as he was not a subject for that institution or any other state institution.

Mrs. Lakin separated from her husband about two years ago on account of his cruel and inhuman treatment to her son, and has since been caring for her family, consisting of five in the city for the purpose of getting aid to care for her afflicted son, but states that she is a resident of Fort Ripley.

The judge of probate was asked to issue a writ of mandamus compelling the school board to admit unsectarian children. Mr. Fleming says the court was scattered and an immediate hearing was not possible, but he expects to get one soon. A similar case is before the court from St. Paul, and a decision in that case will decide the matter.
